Ellis Memorial

Tremendous improvements have been made at the springs and turnoff on Viejas Grade known as the "Ellis Wayside Rest". This work at the memorial has been accomplished through the combined efforts of the U. S. Forestry Service, Viejas Honor Camp, and the local citizens.

Donations to date have been received from Mrs. Hook and her son, Lester; Granville and Mollie Martin, Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Orbon, Green Gates School, Bert Bangs, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Cheeseman, J. D. Stewart, Mr. and Mrs. George Carlson, Mr. and Mrs. Donald V. Perkins, First National Bank of San Diego, Walter Harung, Fred Walker, Homemakers Club of Campo, Mountain Empire Farm Bureau, Rosecoe Hazard, the Stille's, Ed Walters and Sons, Mr. and Mrs. Mike Martin, Earl Shepherd and Hilltop Lumber.

You may help by sending your contribution to "Ellis Memorial Fund", care of Mrs. Mollie Martin, Rt. 1, Box 484, Alpine.

The memorial honors a pioneer family of this area. William Edward Ellis, a retired rancher now living in Whittier, was born March 18, 1878. His birthplace was about midway between the present Ranger Station and Perkins' Store in Descanso. His wife, Clara, was born in San Diego February 23, 1889.

Mr. Ellis spent fifteen years with the State Highway maintenance division, and it was during this time that he was responsible for the excellent stone work at site of the wayside rest. He states that the stone walls were built about 1930.

The Ellis' have three children; Gordon Ellis lives in San Diego and is with the State Highway Department; Mrs. Glen Cheeseman of Whittier; and Mrs. Gertrude Dougal of Newhall. They also have four grandchildren.

Mr. Ellis' father was a sailor from Norway who came to California in the days of the gold rush. He operated a Stage Coach Station at Coyote Wells in the 1860s and came to the Descanso area about 1867. His mother was born in San Juan Capistrano, and her parents later owned a ranch in the Descanso area. Although they were ranchers most of their lifetime, they owned and operated the then-famous "Ellis Ranch Resort" from about 1900 to 1920.

Impossible is a word found only in the dictionary of fools. -Napoleon.

NEW Fence USUAL TEACHERS

On June 13 in regular session the Governing Board of the Alpine Union School District opened bids submitted for the erection of a chain link fence across the north property line at the Harbison Canyon School and for some additional grading and paving on the playground. Twelve bids were received. Low bid for fencing was submitted by Aztec Fence Company, San Diego, in the amount of $1548. Low bidder for grading and paving was Nelson Equipment Company, El Cajon, with a bid of $5813.

Resolutions of intent to award contracts to these two firms were adopted and have been forwarded to H. F. A. in San Francisco. As soon as approval has been received contracts will be let and work will begin.

Funds for this project have been provided by the Federal Government.

In other action the board:

Ratified contracts for the following teachers; Mary Rita Brooke, Margaret Cannon-Margaret Coombs, Helen Crawford Shirley DeLong, Robert Griswold, Robert Fredrickson, Gloria Harris, Hazel Hohanshielt, Lawrence Jarrett, Nell Johnson, Mary Jane Legler, Betty Ruth Miller, Marjorie Santoro, Henry Schaefer, Eliza bath Setser, Myretta Snyder, Warren Strohte, and Genevieve Thompson.

Also, twelve-month contracts were issued to Virginia Lee Spires, Evelyn Peterson, and Mark Schaeffer.

Contracts were signed to continue the County mobile shop program and to lease a classroom to the County for a special training class.

It was decided to purchase a piano, now in the kindergarten room, from Mrs. Haskins, former teacher, for $100.

FLY-CONTROL

The County Board of Supervisors heard discussion both for and against suggested fly-control requirements last Tuesday.

Poultry raisers and residents presented their opinions. Another hearing will be held in two weeks.

PRAYER

For those who believe in prayer it is a great source of personal comfort and strength. There are many however who cannot really pray because they do not really believe their prayers have any meaning. Because there seems to be so much confusion about this and because prayer can be such a great help I offer a few thoughts that may help.

As I see it prayer is any sincere effort of man to communicate with the Infinite Power that we call God. Some men are skeptical about certain ideas about God but all are aware of the existence of a power infinitely greater than mankind. All men seek to draw strength from this power in times of personal stress although they may never say any formal prayer and all men have had the experience of having their prayers granted although some skeptics dismiss the whole thing as coincidence.

But prayer has some limitation. Certainly God is good and fair.

Thus no prayer that comes out of hate can be answered because there is no hate in God and the man who prays with hate in his heart has shut himself away from the spirit of God.

And if God is fair then certainly all men must be able to depend on His laws. Thus when a man prays he must seek harmony with God and he cannot expect to have his prayers answered if he is so selfish that he asks God to upset natural law to please or convenience him. Such an act would also upset the lives of others and certainly God is not selfish or inconsiderate.

To be answered prayers must be right in spirit. Man must seek harmony with the Infinite Power but more can be accomplished than most men dream. For the power of God is like a river from which parched spirits drink the water of life

Your Legislator At Work

by Assemblyman Jack Schrade

It's been obvious for a long time that autos are still clogging our California highways despite all our progress in building new freeways. It's been equally obvious that California courts have been just as badly clogged by suits caused by mishaps occurring in the operation of those same autos. Every car owner and rider has a big stake in efforts to break this logjam in the courts in such a way as to give equal justice to all parties concerned.

A recent suggestion is that a new commission, similar to the industrial accident commission, be set up to decide the issues and make awards in disputed auto accident cases, thus keeping most of them out of the Courts. The industrial accident commission is the semi-judicial body which decides disputed cases under the workmen's compensation law, and its decisions can be appealed only to district courts of appeal or higher courts. Under the law, full medical care and specified monetary awards are granted in all industrial accident or death cases. Most cases are handled automatically on the basis of previous commission decisions. The proposed auto accident commission would function along similar lines. It is hoped that improving the machinery by which accident cases are decided will do something to alleviate the harsh results of the existing system.

Groups interested in auto accident litigation have been invited by the committee to name representatives on an advisory group to assist in its work. Insurance carriers, automobile clubs, safety groups, the state bar association and the judicial council, to name only a few, are all cooperating.

The development is part of the nation wide "Operation Outdoor".

FOR DAD

ON FATHER'S DAY

A GIFT FOR THE GARDEN

Whether or not Dad has a green thumb, a growing gift is perfect for Father's Day. For the man who 'has everything' and has given everything to his family--you'll find the answer as to what to give him at a nursery belonging to the California Association of Nurserymen.

If Dad enjoys barbecuing (or simply is a gourmet), start an herb garden for him. If he has one, add to it. Rosemary is one of the most popular herbs. With its fragrance, leaves like small pine needles and pale blue flowers, it has a beauty all its own. The same can be said for all varieties of marjoram. Some of the other herbs which Dad will appreciate for use as seasonings for salads, casseroles and meats include: parsley, thyme, chive, garlic and sage. These are obtainable as established plants. For summer drinks, mint is a rampant grower.

And speaking of drinks, one of the numerous varieties of citrus trees growing in containers at C. A. N. nurseries can provide him with a delectable treat for years to come. A fine type winter orange for home plantings is Robertson Navel; while Valencia Orange is summer ripening. Both of these varieties are popular for providing sweet, plentiful juice. If Dad is partial to lemonade or limeade, he will especially appreciate a lemon or lime in a decorative tub for the patio. Meyer Dwarf Lemon is ideal for such a gift, because besides being exceedingly decorative (with lovely, fragrant blossoms) it has high quality fruit. Rangpur Lime is also an attractive citrus plant with pure white, perfumed blooms and top quality limes.

For Dad's den or office desk, there is an indoor plant to fit any budget. The youngster with a limited allowance will make a big show with a pot of philodendron or ivy succulent. Potted gloxinia, hydrangea or chrysanthemum in bloom will be sure to brighten his room. For the lanai, anthurium will provide spectacular color with its tropical looking blooms and dark green arrow-shaped leaves. Rubber plants, diffenbachia or room-tolerant orchids may suit his fancy--and your pocketbook! You will find countless plants growing in containers which will serve as a constant reminder to Dad of your growing admiration for him.

Gardener's Checklist

by Calif. Assn. of Nurserymen

1. June is an ideal month to put in dichondra, because this dense ground-cover thrives in heat. For quickest coverage, buy dichondra in flats and divide into small clumps.
2. Fuchsias planted now in hanging baskets will provide decorative relief this summer for porches and patios. Two or three plants to a basket offer best show of color.
3. Remove side branches from tomato plants to conserve plant strength for the fruit on main stem.
4. Cut off the old flowering spikes of delphinium, and they'll bloom again in the fall.
