ECONOMICAL ADMINISTRATION

A study of comparative costs in large high school districts for 1958-59 school year indicated that the Grossmont Union High School District cost per pupil was $414 as compared with the state average of $493. These were a part of a research study on comparative costs presented to the district governing board.
The district ranked 22 in assessed valuation per pupil among the 23 largest high school districts in the state and 22nd in current expenditures for education. Superintendent Lewis Smith pointed out that salaries paid in the district ranked well above the average, but that teaching loads were also heavy. The District's business administration indicated below average cost for operation and maintenance.

EL CAPITAN GRADUATION

CONTINUATION SCHOOL PROGRAM

Search for an off-campus site for the Continuation School program was approved by the Grossmont Union High School District Board of Trustees when it was learned that enrollment next year may range between 50 and 100 students.

The Continuation School provides opportunities for working students who desire to complete their high school education on a part-time basis and also provides an opportunity for rehabilitation of students whose adjustment in regular high school has been unsatisfactory. Most of the enrollment now comes from students who have failed to adjust for some reason or another in the regular school. An opportunity is provided under an individual instruction plan to regain a sense of success with possible transfer back to the original school. Seven students will earn graduation through the Continuation School program this year.

ALPINE BAND CONCERT

MUSIC FOR LISTENING

Music for all to enjoy will be presented this Friday evening in Alpine. The program will be from light to serious... from "The Arkansas Traveler" to a small symphony in three movements by Handel.

Alpine School Band will make its first appearance on Friday, June 3, 8 P. M., in the Alpine School Auditorium. The band is under the direction of Lawrence Jarrett, sixth grade teacher.

The El Capitan High School Band, under the direction of Arthur Schwuchow, and the Alpine Elementary School Chorus, directed by Hazel Hohanshelt, will also be on the program. Proceeds will start a choir robe and band uniform fund.

Alpine school children are competing in a ticket selling contest. The winner is to receive a new bicycle. Admission is 50¢ for adults and 25¢ for students.

YOUR VOTE?

Heads You Lose - Tails They Win!

by Vant Neff

You know how it is. You go down to the polling place on Election Day. You wouldn't miss it on a bet. It is your duty, you tell yourself. And so it is. You insist that your wife be a registered voter, too. So far so good.

What happens when you draw that curtain around the voting booth. You vote Row A or Row B, or maybe C or D or a combination of candidates. You leave the booth feeling pretty darn good. You are a citizen who takes his civic duties seriously. Now here is the $64,000 question.

How did those candidates get their names up on that machine? Who decided which men to offer up to your choice? Did you? Did your neighbor? Did I? Or were they put up there by a nameless group you never heard tell of?

A nameless group did it... unless you voted in the primaries. Yes, the primaries! Primaries are held from time to time and they don't get nearly the publicity the big elections get. Of course, you've heard about primaries. But maybe you usually skip them because they seem to be unimportant. Chew on this for a minute: It is in those primaries where the list of candidates is chosen!

If you ignore the primary election you really don't have much to say about who gets elected in this country.

If you give up your vote in the primaries, your approval isn't needed. You may find a good man on the ballot, it's true. Or you may not. But if any of us gives up our vote in the primary election, we negate a fundamental fact of the democratic process. It's this: The health of democracy is based on the assumption that you and I are always interested, that we always exercise our rights and duties.

You have nothing to say about the candidates --- unless you take an interest in the primaries where the candidates are selected. If you don't you're likely to get the short end of the stick, any way you vote. Heads you lose, tails they win.

Learn who the people are that are running for the nomination. Find out which ones are most likely to have the public interests at heart instead of those of some pressure group. Look into their backgrounds. Have they promised allegiance to some sinister self-seeking group or special interest? The

Dear Neighbors

We are now the owners of a proportionate share of a $32,000.00 water bill. Our taxes will be increased by an as yet undetermined amount. Approximately 1/3 of this $32,000.00 is for attorney's fees alone.

Don't be startled. Just be concerned. To most of us increases in tax rates are downright distasteful, even though they are sometimes an admitted necessity. Increased taxes are inevitable, so is the need for an ample and economical supply of water.

My concern over this essential need for water has led me to accept the request from some of our neighbors that I seek the seat on the Board of Directors of the Alpine Heights Municipal Water District now held by the incumbent, Mr. Frank M. Wilson. I have filed my candidacy and now seek your support.

My qualifications for this position include 35 years of business experience in the merchandising field and in motel operation. The past 15 of those years have been spent as a resident business woman and property owner in Alpine, the most of them (1944 to 1956) were in the motel business in our community. I was a member of Alpine's Chamber of Commerce and for several years served on its Board of Directors, and am now serving as vice-president of the Alpine Woman's Club.

How much the water will cost us, and how much of it we are going to get, will have a vital influence on the future of this community. If I am elected I will do my best to see that no commitments are made until facts and figures are available. I will work consistently for a fully informed public on all matters pertaining to our essential water needs, and you will be represented by a realistic and and out-spoken Director on the Board.

Dave Bird, Second District Supervisor, today wound up his campaign for reelection on June 7th by stating, "It's been a truly gratifying experience. Old friends and new faces combined have reflected the enthusiasm and trust which inspires a public servant."

"I'm looking forward to another four years of hard work," continued Bird, "and if I didn't find it so self-satisfying I'd never have campaigned so hard."

Bird concluded by asking everyone to vote on Tuesday, June 7th.

Bird is finishing his fifth term. He is the Chairman of the Board of the National Association of County Officials.

CALIFORNIA STATE LEGISLATURE

YOUR LEGISLATOR AT WORK
by Assemblyman Jack Schrade

Growing pains can pester governmental units just as much as they do rapidly developing youngsters. This troublesome fact is especially evident here in California, where our soaring population is producing all sorts of aches and pains for our cities, counties and other local agencies.

A good example from the lengthy list of causes of such miseries is annexation of additional territory by cities. The Assembly committee on municipal and county government recently held a series of hearings on the problem relating to such annexations, and was given some pretty vigorous opinions as to defects in existing laws as well as forthright suggestions for improvements.

It's an inescapable fact that new residents are free to settle wherever their desires and resources permit. Therefore, it can be no surprise that in their settling they are not particularly respectful of city, county, or other governmental boundaries---until after they have become somewhat familiar with their new surroundings. As a result, many California cities are experiencing heavy pressure, not only from new residents within their existing limits, but also from urbanized fringe areas in adjacent unincorporated territory. Counties can be affected by similar situations.

Gardener's Checklist

- by the California Assn. of Nurserymen
1. Set out new hibiscus plants in a warm, protected spot. You'll get a bountiful crop of blooms all through summer, fall and early winter.
 3. Now that the first period of growth is over, June is a good month to trim evergreens. The ideal is to keep their natural habit of growth intact by pruning to laterals, etc.
 3. Protect lovely June blooming roses by spraying or dusting at the first sign of trouble. With improvements in equipment sprays and dusts, it is comparatively easy to have clean, healthy looking plants and flowers.
 4. Guy newly-set trees so that they don't sway with every breeze. Run a cord or wire through an old garden hose so it won't damage the tree; then tie it to a stake. This prevents root damage while trees are getting established.
 5. This is an excellent time to aerate your lawn --- making for more effective watering. Available at many C. A. N. nurseries are water spiking devices with which the aeration holes may easily be punctured. For best results, fill holes with a mixture of peat moss, steer manure, sand or similar materials.

TUBEROUS BEGONIAS

Given proper shade, moisture and enriched soil, tuberous begonias offer some of the most colossal and cool-looking blooms in California summer gardens. They're showy in borders, potted, or as carpets under trees. Be sure the tree is high branching to let in light for good flower production. (Begonias don't thrive in COMPLETE shade.) Neither are they at their best under trees which constantly drop leaves and twigs. Wooden planters are popular for growing begonias since they retain moisture better than clay pots. Also, there's a pleasing compatibility between the wood and the dark, rich soil (containing leafmold) which is required to coax begonia blooms to their full-blown beauty.
