GEOLOGY PAPER

Dr. Gordon Gastil of Alpine will present a paper on mineral age dating at the International Geological Congress to be held in Copenhagen. He and his wife left today; they also plan to tour England and study the Alps in Switzerland. A teacher of geology at San Diego State College, Gordon is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Gastil of Victoria Drive. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Manly of Alpine Heights Road will keep their nine month old baby while they are away.

HOSPITAL AIR

Infections are expected to be at a minimum at the new El Cajon Valley Hospital. This hospital will be the world's first to make full use of a newly perfected system for filtering and sterilizing the air.

The hospital, scheduled to open the first week in August, will have the new system in two major surgery rooms, recovery room, emergency room and nursery.

Another hospital, Mount Sinai, Los Angeles, is using the system but only in its surgery units, according to Harold Gano, hospital administrator.

"Infants will be protected," Gano said, "from possible infection by sterile air during their stay in the nursery. Portable canopy units will be available for patients if there is a danger of secondary infection." These special canopies will also be provided for patients who are suffering from burns.

According to Gano, the sixty-four bed hospital will cost about $1,750,000 when completed. It will be completely airconditioned and it will also be sound proofed

TOTAL FIRE LOSS

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Blakley was leveled by fire last Tuesday. According to Chuck Mills, assistant foreman of the Descanso Ranger Station, both Federal and California State crews were at the scene of the blaze. Although they were able to confine the blaze to the Blakley dwelling by wetting down adjacent homes, they were not able to save even the Blakley car which burned in the garage. Some trees were also damaged.

The home was located on Hulbard Grove Road and your editor understands that there are no children in the family, but has not been able to locate the Blakleys to confirm any other details.

PRAYER

FOR MOTORISTS

O Heavenly Father, Who knoweth well our limitations, send forth Thy Spirit to stress the tremendous responsibility of the steering wheel in our hands. Remind us, before starting the motor, too often an engine of sudden death, to make the Sign of the Cross so that the trip may begin with Thy blessing and by it be happily ended.

Sharpen our wits to keep our eyes on the road, ever mindful that the safety of human lives -- so very precious in Thy sight -- depends on our alertness and sobriety. Enlighten us to drive with patience, vigilance and consideration for others in cars and on foot.

Mulching A MUST

In the summertime, there are many shrubs in your garden which depend upon you to give them a mulch to protect them from old Sol's rays. The California Association of Nurserymen explains that a mulch is any loose material used to cover the soil for protection against extremes in weather. It also supplies additional nutrients to the soil, as well as aids in controlling weeds.

Hibiscus, hydrangea, fuchsia and Princess Flower are but a quartet of the many summer blooming shrubs which will thank you for "air conditioning" their bases with a mulch. It will keep the roots of these shrubs comfortably cool, while the tops bask in the filtered or full sunshine needed to promote best blooms.

Mulching is a must for the acid-loving plants: azaleas, camellias and rhododendrons. While these shrubs like moisture in the soil, they have shallow roots, and the surface soil from which they feed dries out readily in summer heat. A feeding of acid fertilizer can be mixed in with the mulch and applied at the same time. Thus, the mulch will help provide two necessary conditions to give peak performance: an acid soil reaction, and an always-moist top soil.

The rose garden is another area which will benefit from summer mulching by conserving water and controlling weeds. Peat moss makes an ideal mulch for roses (as well as for many other plants) as it looks well, is easy to apply, stays in place, and improves the soil as it decomposes -- incorporating with it.

Mother Nature mulches wildflowers in open fields by grasses and weeds; and on the floor of the forest, by leaf mold. In your garden, the type of mulch you use will depend upon the plants you wish to cover, your soil, and your climate. The C. A. N. nurseryman will be glad to tell you the specific proportion of materials to use for most efficient mulching. Commonly used mulches are peat moss, bark or sawdust, manure or shavings.

And don't be stingy in applying the mulch. For example, a layer of from 2-3 inches of peat moss, manure or bark around the base of shrubs will pay off in more luxuriant plant production. And the gardener benefits, too -- since his weeding and watering duties are considerably easier.

The Price of Folly

Several fires have already occurred near Alpine although the dry season has months to go. Few if any of these fires need to have occurred. Besides the tremendous cost entailed in hiring fire fighters, buying equipment and maintaining a trained and disciplined fire fighting force including the aircraft that so effectively water-bombed the recent fire near Lake Loveland there is a much greater cost in natural resources.

Every fire that denudes part of Southern California destroys organic matter that is difficult or almost impossible to replace in the near desert conditions of this area. When this organic material is destroyed our soil becomes less fertile and because the roots and matted vegetable debris no longer hold it, the soil washes away. Even worse than this when the rains come there is nothing to hold the water long enough to permit it to soak into the sunbaked surface. The life giving water runs away and the water table becomes lower every year.

All of this is the result of carelessness. A little caution on the part of someone could have prevented most fires.

The lack of reasonable care is costing us millions and perhaps some day may cost us the lives of our children or their children's children for we are bequeathing to them a wasted heritage: this is the price of folly.

Louie's Birthday Party

PEOPLE AND THEN MORE PEOPLE

For Barney and Agnes Ratliff it was unfortunate that the crowd at their cook's birthday party was not a crowd of paying customers.

It was in July that Louis Banang received his American citizenship papers and it was also in July that he was born. For this reason he has a party to celebrate and to this party he invites his many friends. Many is almost inadequate for such a host descended upon the Log Cabin last week that there were times when guests stood four deep around the bar. It seemed that half of all Southern Californians must number themselves among Louie's friends.

Much credit for the success of the event should go to the Ratliffs who permitted Louie to hold the party at the Log Cabin after their usual closing time and who were busy hosts serving Louie's guests from all over Southern California. Besides the host of old friends many new friends from Alpine were present.

Look who is squawking. An atheist who has lied habitually, and has been caught at it, blatantly says, at the Summit Meeting, "Before God I swear my heart is pure and my hands are clean...."

 by Vant Neff

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Staulding of Tavern Road were pleasantly surprised last Sunday when their friends in the neighborhood gave them a house warming party. They have just finished building their new home.

Mrs. Myrtle G. Hoffelder has rented the Clayton's place, 1200 Alpine Heights Rd. from Mrs. Pinkerton's sister. Mrs. Hoffelder was in the real estate business here in 1954 using the business name "HI 5". She and her husband, John, moved into San Diego. He passed away in 1956. Welcome back to Alpine, Myrtle.

INHERIT THE WIND

GROSSMONT THEATER PRODUCTION

"Inherit the Wind," a three act drama based on the famous "Monkey Trial" in Dayton, Tenn., 35 years ago, will open a six performance run in two weeks at Grossmont High School, it was announced this week by Richard S. Dunlop, director. A production of the Grossmont Summer Theatre Workshop, "Inherit the Wind" will be staged semi-arena style in the school's little theater.

The historical "Monkey Trial" resulted when John Scopes, a biology teacher in Dayton, taught his students the evolution concepts developed by Charles Darwin. Uninformed and bigoted public opinion was brought to bear against Scopes, and later he was tried for violation of a Tennessee law which forbade such teaching. William Jennings Bryan led the prosecution, and Scopes was defended by Clarence Darrow.

The Grossmont production of "Inherit the Wind" is slated for opening on July 28, at 8:15 P.M. Other performances follow on July 29 and 30, and August 4, 5 and 6.

Over 40 Grossmont students and recent graduates are involved in rehearsals for the play. Among them are Robert Boye and Larry D. Anderson, who portray the defense and prosecuting attorneys, and Gary Lee Parks, in the role of Hornbeck, a journalist presumably to be identified with H. L. Mencken, who covered the original trial for numerous newspapers. John Dinsmore will appear as Bertram Gates, who in the play represents the teacher, Scopes. All of the principal actors have had extensive theater backgrounds at Grossmont, having been formal students of drama, and having participated in such productions as "The Crucible," "See How They Run," "Bad Seed," "The Glass Menagerie," and others.

Production of "Inherit the Wind" is said to reflect the Grossmont policy of presenting only the finest in contemporary American theater. It is thought to be the first high school production of this play in the San Diego area.

The Summer Theatre Workshop is new to the Grossmont District curriculum. It is designed to allow trained drama students additional opportunity to participate in plays of high calibre, as well as to enable students who are unable to fit drama training into tight academic schedules

ALPINE UNION SCHOOL

In regular session, July 11, the Governing Board of the Alpine Union School District revised slightly the tentative budget for 1960-61. It will now be returned to the County for publication as required by law.

In other matters the Board approved inter-district attendance agreements with La Mesa-Spring Valley and Cajon Valley to take part in activity of this kind during the summer weeks. Over half of the students involved in the workshop will receive academic credit for their work; the others are already carrying two or more courses during the summer session.

Tickets for "Inherit the Wind" are available in the Grossmont High School administration office. They will also be available for sale at the door on performance nights. Proceeds will go toward the purchase of books for the Grossmont Drama Library. General admission is one dollar.

Campo seems to be having its share of weddings this nuptial season, and this is to announce the wedding of Sonja Webb and Fred Summers on July 2nd, and on July 9th Alice Ortega and Walter Glenn were wed. Understand there are two more weddings to be announced later.

The Shoemaker house in Lake Morena has been sold to Mr. and Mrs. John I Brown for a weekend home. We welcome them and their children to the area.

The Mountain Whirlers Square Dance Club held its regular dance on Saturday evening, July 2, at the Club House in Campo. It was nice to see the young people after their busy school year. Al Schaeffer called, and everyone had a wonderful time. Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Thompson were host and hostess.

The Round Dance class met as usual on

Mr. and Mrs. Abe Stueber of La Mesa were the dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Alden Farris on Sunday, July 10. They are associated in connection with the "House of Fuller" products.

Linda Ison entertained several of her college friends at her home in Rancho del Campo over the Fourth of July weekend. They spent a good deal of their time at the pool at the high school.

Mattie Brown of Azle, Texas, and her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. James Brown, of Fort Worth, Texas, have been visiting Bee Boyd and Mollie Wilson of Campo. Mrs. Mattie Brown and Mrs. Wilson are sisters. Mr. Brown is superintendent of the Fort Worth Zoo and will soon retire.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Cozby of Lake Morena are moving back to San Diego after living here for about two months, although they have owned a dwelling here for quite some time. Seems Mr. Cozby does not like being idle and is going back to his former position with a milk company. Sorry to lose them.

Mr. Wm. Wordley formerly owned the Cozby dwelling and the two families have been living there together while Mr. Wordley builds his own dwelling next door. The Wordley's will move into their new home in about two weeks.

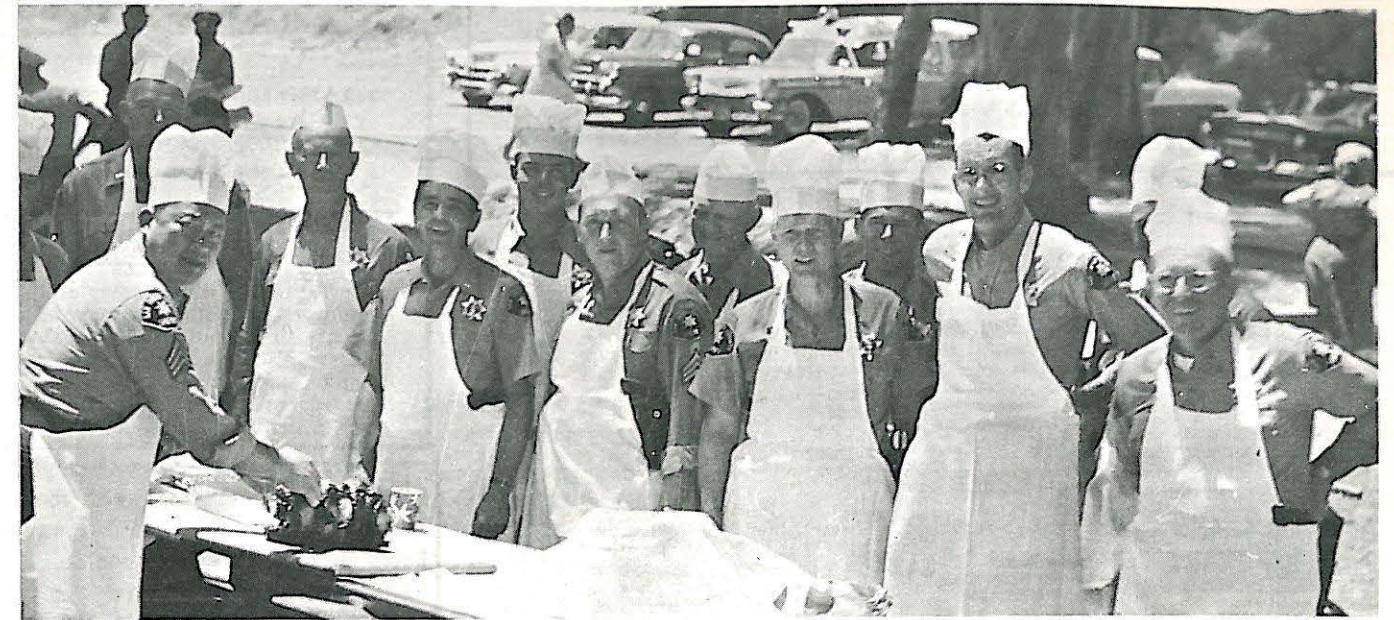

Mr. and Mrs. Warren Chase of Potrero will soon move into their new home in Potrero, which was built by Wm. Wordley and Junior Rinks.

Gardener's Checklist

- by the California Assn. of Nurserymen
1. A good list of vegetables can be planted now for fall, many of them as easy-to-transplant seedlings from nursery flats.
 2. Give azaleas and camellias another feeding of acid food if it has been over a month since the last feeding.
 3. How often should you spray roses? For mildew, before it shows up --- for aphids and other pests, the day they do, say most nurserymen. Some rosarians follow a weekly spray program.
 4. Begonias are shade plants, but don't overdo it. Deep, dense shade makes for spindly, lacklustre plants that often drop their buds.
 5. Spiking a shabby and compacted lawn makes all the difference. And spiking is easiest with modern equipment. Ask your nurseryman about it.

HELPING HAND

Investigating a burning automobile near Hanford, a California Highway Patrol officer found a mother and father standing with their eight children watching all their worldly belongings go up in flames. The officer, moved by their plight, started a drive for assistance. Results: 17 boxes of clothing, 7 boxes of groceries, 2 bed-springs, 3 mattresses, 1 chesterfield, 1 cooler and $58.00 cash for the needy family.
