Neighbors and Fellow Citizens:
 I wish to correct a misleading advertisement that was published in the Alpine area a few days ago. It was only after publication that Charles Price, president of the Rio San Diego Municipal Water District called my attention to the fact that the information I had approved could lead to misunderstandings.

The statement appeared March 3 (not in the ALPINE ECHO) and should have read:

"Only one connection charge will be made for each CONNECTION no matter how much LAND a person owns."

Two new aspects of the matter have now been brought to my attention.

1. Where the expected water usage is such as to require a larger than average meter the connection charge would be higher to cover the cost of the large meter.

2. The number of houses or living units that are on an owner's property does make a difference. The reasons for this are presented in the following statement by Mr. Price.

Cecil Lewinson

"Rio representatives have repeatedly told the people in open meetings that every property holder pays his fair share and that no one gets a free ride. Obviously were an owner allowed to include his entire holdings, no matter how many rentals or houses he has, under one connection fee he would be receiving preferential treatment over the owner of one house and would be getting a free ride.

The Rio speakers have said that "No matter how much land a person owns he will pay one connection fee for one meter connection

A VOTE FOR WATER CAN SAVE YOU MONEY

It is common knowledge that insurance rates are reduced when whatever is available from fire plugs as will be possible when the water system is built.

If you plan to sell or build being in a water district makes land more valuable, financing easier and financing costs lower.

CONNECTION FEES CAN BE FINANCED

Several lending agencies have stated that funds to pay connection fees will be available as home improvement loans.

VOTE YES ON MARCH 21ST

and that it is sometimes permissible to allow one additional living unit on the same lot to be served by the one meter. Multiple housing such as courts, apartments, rental houses, trailer parks, etc., will be charged a connection fee plus a unit fee for each living unit." The unit fee has not been fixed but you may be sure that it will be one that is fair to all concerned."

Charles C. Price, President Rio San Diego Municipal Water District.

SORRY

As chairman of your Citizens Committee I assume complete responsibility for the error made in the March 3rd issue of the ALPINE SUN which we have corrected in this week's issue.

We have tried to give you honest and truthful information throughout this entire campaign. I believe this is our obligation to the people involved and I believe we have accomplished this.

  2. Plant annuals for spring and summer color. The more the merrier.
  3. Plant roses while they are still available in bare-root stock.

Lake Morena Mexican Canasta Club met at the home of Marie Lindemann in Campo on Wednesday, March 1; and the following were present: Marie Martin, Ardell Craft, Helen Ulrich, Phoebe Thompson, Gertrude Haskell, Dell Nielsen and Fay Farris. Prizes were won by Phoebe Thompson and Gertrude Haskell. (All of the meetings are being held at the Lindemann home for the present.)

The Mt. Empire Republican Women, Federated, met for breakfast at the Hobart House in Pine Valley on Thursday, March 2. The next meeting will also be a breakfast on April 6, at the same place, when Eleanor Ring, County President, will speak. After breakfast the members will go to the home of Mary Griswold in Pine Valley to hear the talk. A card party and luncheon is being planned for later in the summer, probably in June.

The next meeting of the Mt. Empire Masonic Club will be held at Live Oaks Springs on Friday evening, March 10, when a Smorgasbord ham and beef dinner will be served. Jacumba members Mrs. Wm. W. Ketchum and Mrs. Geo. S. Blaylock will be hostesses. A Disney film, "A Trip to Outer Space," will be shown after the dinner.

On Tuesday, Feb. 28, several people from Juvenile Hall in San Diego came up to Rancho del Campo to practice for the basketball game played on Friday, March 3. The women gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Pfeiffer for tea. Everyone went to dinner together at the Camp, attended the practice game that evening, then went back to the Pfeiffer home for an evening of fun.

The game referred to above was between the Rancho staff and the Mt. Empire High School staff, which was played at the high school gymnasium. The Mt. Empire staff were victors, as must have been expected, as the Rancho staff came onto the floor with their arms and legs bandaged and with crutches in their hands. This, of course, caused considerable hilarity.

The high school girls' basketball team played the boys' "C" team immediately preceding the above mentioned game, and the boys won. Refreshments of hot dogs, chili dogs, chili, coffee and soft drinks were sold.

The Rancho group were again entertained at the home of the new Camp Superintendent Dean F. Matthews and Mrs. Matthews on Saturday evening, March 4. Dancing and cards were enjoyed.

Lenore and Maurice Skillman, of Phoenix, Arizona, visited the home of Daisy and Mac McCoy of Campo the weekend of Feb. 25-26. Mrs. Skillman is the sister of Mrs. McCoy.

A reception for Mr. and Mrs. Donald C. Geddes (Linda Ison) was given by Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie Ison in the Officer's Club at Rancho del Campo on Sunday afternoon, March 5. Delicious refreshments and dancing were enjoyed by those present.

Mr. and Mrs. Dick Looney are the proud parents of a baby daughter born on Monday, Feb. 27.

Jerry Thompson and his wife and new son have moved from El Centro to Riverside. He is now employed by the Arlington City Fire Department, a short distance away. Tommy and Lavern Thompson of Rancho del Campo are the parents of Jerry Thompson.

The father of Mrs. Max Orrell of Lake Morena passed away on Saturday, Feb. 25, in the northern part of the State, and Mr. and Mrs. Orrell motored there for the funeral.

Gene Wilcox, Bill Spineto, and Chet Brown worked on the Alpine Ballfield Saturday doing electrical work. Bert Fuller, Ken Jerney, and Harry Jennings worked Sunday putting up railing on the stairways. A vote of thanks from all boys who will be using this field in the near future.

If you didn't go to the El Capitan basketball game last Friday, you really missed something. The first game was Varsity vs. Alumni. It was a very close game with a tie score of 35-35 at the end of play. The game went into three minutes overtime. At the end of that three minutes, the score was again tied -37-37. They then played for the next basket which would determine the victor. Final score was Varsity-39; Alumni-37. The second game was Varsity vs. Faculty. Feature attraction was the hilarious cheerleading of faculty members, dressed as old-time cheerleaders. Final score was 54-32-- favor of the faculty, no less!!

Results of the election for the Alpine Fire Department are as follows: Weldon Wilson, chief; Malcolm Huey and Jack Blankenship, assistant chiefs; Mace Bratt, captain; Robert Wilson, lieutenant; and Clark Haney, secretary and treasurer.

Harry and Gladys Jennings' dog, "Lady," had 8 pups on Sunday. They are German Shepherds and will be available to good homes in about six weeks. If you would like one, call HI 5-3188.

FROZE FER MEAT

It started at a high school picnic when we were teasing the girls with a big bullsnake. One of the girls screamed: "Why did you catch that horrid thing?" and Simp hollered back: "We're gonna eat it!"

Simp only said that for effect, but there was no turning back. We were committed. So we skinned the snake, cut it up, and spit it on a stick to roast beside the marshmallows. Reveling in the girlish shrieks, we ate it.

It wasn't bad. Roast bullsnake, as I recall, gets bigger with the chewing and tastes something like a setting hen that's drowned in horse trough. But it isn't bad eating when you're sixteen, hungry, and girls are watching you be brave.

For the next two years -- more from wanting to be mountain men than from being hungry -- we went on a binge of Injun cookery. If it walked, crawled, flew, swam or ran, we ate it. We chewed our way through a regiment of blackbirds, crows, robins, bugs, muskrats, skunks, groundhogs, bobcats, mussels, hawks and salamanders. Some of this eating was a little rank, but much of it was pretty good and we learned a lot.

To this day, walking in from a hungry fishing trip, I may catch large grasshoppers, deleg them, nip off the tips of the large thighs, and pull out the delicate slivers of meat. We never did learn to like freshwater clams, but maybe we weren't handling them right. Crawdads are delicious, but mean a lot more cleaning than eating.

One of our big surprises was skunk. Older skunks tend to be a bit beetley in flavor, but a young animal tastes a lot like prime possum which, in turn, is sort of like pork. A man can do worse than eating young skunk.

Same thing with muskrat, beaver and groundhog. I still think the finest wild meat I've ever eaten was a young muskrat done to a turn over a slow hickory fire in a trapper's camp. It's sweet, delicate, tender, and goes mighty well after you've laid fifty drown sets in a November river.

Eating crow, blackbird, starling or hawk is just eating bird, and that's about all you can say for it. It's O.K. for a change, but it's nothing you'd get addicted to.

To capture the spirit of all this, we never put these critters into pies or stews. We took them straight, turned over a slow fire, for two reasons: 1) we owed at least that much to Jim Bridger, and 2) our mothers wouldn't allow the stuff in their kitchens. These experiments were so successful that we started calling each other "O! Hoss", and saying "Waugh! This chile is froze fer meat!" We were budding mountain men, ready for anything, and so it was that one day we tried eating fox.

It was a big old dog fox, trapped in mid-February with romance on his mind and a winter's hard hunting behind him. He smelt like a wet civet cat, and under the thick fur we could feel the bands and packs of winter-hardened muscle. He promised to be about as toothsome as a belt knife, but we took him home anyway and butchered him and fried him on the laundry stove in the basement.

I'm here to testify that foxes taste just like they smell.

That was the rankest, meanest, sorriest meat that ever soured a frying pan. But it accomplished what scolding mothers and shuddering girl friends could never do -- it converted us from mountain men into normal, smalltown boys. We knew when we were licked. That old fox was stronger and tougher than the best of us.

MEMO TO TREE LOVERS
 If anyone needs an excuse to plant a tree, he'll find it this week on his calendar. March 7 is the birthday of California's famed Luther Burbank, and since 1909,
 the state has celebrated it as Arbor Day.
 Traditionally, Arbor Day has been observed by school children who study about conservation and occasionally plant trees. Many's
 the weathered old tree that stands today as a living reminder of some class project on some long-gone Arbor Day.
 The California Association of Nurserymen recently suggested that Arbor Day today can also serve as an impetus to beautify our cities. What better reason for getting together with neighbors to plan a street planting, or for organizing support of a project to plant trees in the business district?
 If such a project is lacking, propose it yourself as a club or association project.
 Trees--in the garden, along the street, in city squares and parks-- provide a background of serenity
 to the fast pace of modern living.
 They are enduring and reassuring.
 They shade us in summer and protect us from the glare of high noon. They are mighty nice to have around.
 Since a tree's performance depends largely on the start it gets in life, the gardener should take extra care in planting one. Whether it's a towering shade tree or a flowering fruit tree, you should provide an adequate planting hole. One C. A. N. nurseryman told us how to determine the proper size of a planting hole. Dig one that seems plenty big enough;
 then make it bigger.
 This is not to say that it takes a potential swimming pool to plant a tree, but the hole should be a foot deeper than the root ball and a foot wider all around. Mix the

EL CAPITAN CHORAL MUSIC

The El Capitan High School
 Music Department is hard at work these days, and the residents of our local communities will have an excellent opportunity to hear the progress of one of our newest and finest high school choral groups.
 Many famous works will be presented in "An Evening of Choral Music" by the Bel Canto Singers,
 A Capella Choir and Mixed Glee,
 under the direction of Carl Thompson.
 Selections chosen which are most timely to this Lenten season are "Alleluia, Lord God" by Palestrina, "Ave Maria" by Vittoria,
 and "Christ Rising Again" by Byrd.
 A highlight of the evening will be
 "Kyrie", "Sanctus", "Benedictus"
 and "Agnus Dei" from Hans Leo Hassler's Mass, "Missa Secunda",
 featuring the Bel Canto Singers.
 Several spirituals, including "Amen", with Dave Lindstrom as soloist, a few folk songs, a calypso,
 and a delightful "Country Style" surprise are being planned to round out and enhance a wonderful spring evening of music.
 Curtain time is 8:15 P. M. on Thursday, March 16 in the Foster
 Gym at El Capitan High School,
 Lakeside. Donation is one dollar for adults and fifty cents for students.
 MILITARY INFORMATION
 Representatives from Army,
 Navy, Marine, Air Force and Federal and State Civil Service groups
 will meet with El Capitan parents
 during the regular PTA meeting
 to be held this evening, Thursday,
 in Foster Gym, 7:30 PM.
 This program is designed to provide the parents with an opportunity to discuss the boys military obligations and also to learn about service opportunities for girls.

All that is necessary for the triumph
 of evil is that good men do nothing.

Now Open

We want all our neighbors to know that the garage which we have been building during the last six months is now ready for business.

With the completion of our rest room facilities and final approval of the County Inspectors we have now been able to have our power line connected so that we can operate our grinders, arc welders, wheel balancing and other machinery.

WE NOW HAVE COMPLETE GARAGE FACILITIES INCLUDING OUR NEW TOW CAR.

Watch us grow. Our next project will be filling the big hole in front of our garage. After that we expect to expand the garage building.

REMEMBER --- WE HAVE TO TREAT YOU RIGHT. WE OWN OUR OWN GARAGE AND EXPECT TO BE IN BUSINESS HERE FOR A LONG TIME.
