How To Watch A Graduation

If you are planning to attend a college commencement exercise, take along a "score card" which will help you to tell the doctors from the masters, the masters from the bachelors. E. R. Moore, president of E. R. Moore Company, leading supplier of caps and gowns for such ceremonies, advises a short study for making the proper identification.

Dimensions of a graduate's hood indicate the degree to be conferred. Bachelor's hood is three feet long. Its binding or velvet trim measures two inches across at shoulder level. Master's hood is three and a half feet long, and binding measures three inches in width at the shoulder. Doctor wears a hood four feet long with a 5-inch shoulder width.

It's one thing to mistake a short stop for the second baseman at a ball game or fail to distinguish a defense man from the goal keeper in hockey. It's something very different watching exercises where graduates may even be distinguished by use of cap tassels in official department of learning colors. Black tassels, however, are correct for all degrees. Doctors, for example, wear gowns with three black velvet bars on each sleeve and black velvet facing and may wear gold tassels on their caps. College presidents, regardless of degree, are also entitled to wear gold tassels. The master's forearm protrudes from the traditional closed crescented sleeve, but now, marking the first official change in more than 60 years, is concealed in a sheath.

The bachelors gown has long pointed sleeves and women add a white collar if no hood is worn. School colors are used in the hood lining but the binding of the hood is of one of about 30 colors that indicate fields of learning — maize trim for agriculture, white for arts and letters, russet for forestry, pink for music, apricot for nursing, yellow-gold for science, scarlet for theology, etc. At most schools the cap tassel is worn on the left side, following the military tradition of wearing decorations "over the heart".

HERE And THERE:

by GLADYS JENNINGS-HI 5-3188

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Whitt of Eltinge Drive spent the weekend in Santa Susana where Ted rode in their rodeo.

Mr. Basil Spears of Olivewood Lane left June 10 by PanAmerican jet to Panama City where he will visit his daughter, Mrs. Lowell K Marcus and family. Mr. Spears and the Lowells will then fly to Medellin, Columbia, for an indefinite vacation.

Kenneth Jerney is recuperating at home after his automobile accident last week. Ken lost control of his car while going to work on Highway 395.

The Gamma Gammas held their Jewel Pin ceremony June 10th at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Grady Watton in El Cajon and they then proceeded to the Wagon Wheel for dinner and dancing. Receiving their Jewel Pins were Mmes. Bob McCaskle, Eugene Moats, William Hoffman, Ted Whitt, Knute Svenson and Harry Jennings.

Mrs. Knute Svenson of Highway 80 is home recuperating from the mumps.

The Alpine VFW Post 5233 reports that the proceeds derived from their Games Night July 8th was for the Sunbeam School for Mentally Retarded Children.

Mr. and Mrs. John Manley drove to Grand Canyon and toured Arizona stopping in Yarnell to visit former Alpiners the Wiewells who wish to be remembered to all their Alpine friends.

At the last meeting of Alpine VFW Post 5233 it was voted to close the club to the public. It will be open to any VFW member, families and guests of members.

Thursday the women of VFW Post 5233 Auxiliary worked cleaning the building in back of the VFW Hall so it can be used as a meeting room.

FOR AMERICA Without Apologies

Two weeks ago THE ECHO ran a front page editorial about the Castro ransom affair. We are glad to say that we received at least 20 calls commending us for our stand. However, we did receive one letter that disagreed with our viewpoint very sharply.

We quote the meat of the letter here in order to explain our stand. Remember that the following is a quote with which THE ECHO disagrees. It is NOT our opinion.

"It has been well proved that our CIA trained and equipped these men to invade Cuba. Castro is now trying to collect damage done by these men who were unable to create an uprising as they were expected to do."

All who read this should remember that it is the right of every American to have and express his sincere opinions. We of THE ECHO cannot agree that there was anything wrong with the actions of the United States in training the Cuban invaders. We only wish our actions had been more effective.

We are proud to announce the position of THE ECHO as follows:

We believe in the American System of Free Enterprise and individual incentive regulated by impartial laws. We believe in personal and property rights as tools that serve the community

LITTLE TOTS GRADUATE

Friday, June 16, is graduation for the children from kindergarden into first grade. . . wearing a cap each child will receive a diploma.

It had been voted that the Ladies Auxiliary of VFW Post 5233 will meet on the second Friday evening of the month at 8 p.m. in the building behind the VFW Club building beginning July 14th at 2538 Highway 80.

but never as chains that bind them in service.

We believe in justice, opportunity and fair play for all men regardless of race, position or creed.

We believe these are the ideals that lie at the core of all that is America and even as we acknowledge that Americans are far from achieving the American ideal we believe that our country has recorded more progress in 185 years than any other culture in history. We see American institutions and the American State as the best opportunity for future progress that is known to the world.

We see Socialism, Communism, and other forms of Statism as a return to Feudalism. Because Communist and Socialist states concentrate both the economic and political power in the government we believe these systems to have a natural tendency toward becoming dictatorial.

We do not believe that personal liberty and individual dignity can be safe under these systems and we regard such systems as the natural enemies of the American ideal.

We believe that it is the duty of the American Government in all its branches to protect the American System. To permit Communism to gain a foothold in Cuba is to permit a condition to exist that is dangerous to the American State and to true freedom everywhere. Therefore we believe that all Americans and every branch of the American government should seek to destroy the present government of Cuba and Communism and Socialism wherever they may exist.

We are well aware of the danger of being so outspoken but we see only ignominy and destruction in indecision and equivocation.

Here we stand proud of the Heritage that is ours.

Seniors are out of school. It's been a long haul and many seniors are sorry that the years have gone so fast.

This last week has been a busy one for seniors. Friday, Monday and Tuesday were spent on finals. Seniors attended baccalaureate practice on Friday morning. After practice caps and gowns were issued. Sunday at 3 o'clock baccalaureate was held in the Foster Gym. Rev. Charles Clark of the Santee Methodist Church gave the invocation. Scripture and prayer were given by Mr. John S. Morgan, El Capitan High School teacher. President Clifford Wallace of the Church of Jesus Christ of the Latter Day Saints gave the baccalaureate address. The El Capitan choir sang The Lord's Prayer and Cantate Domino, under the direction of Carl Tompson. The benediction was given by Rev. T. E. Roberts of the Lakeside Community Church.

Annuals were issued on Tuesday afternoon to all graduating seniors. The all black and gold annual contained 144 pages of memories. Virginia Michael and Ginger Palmer served as co-editors of the 1961 AHORA y SIEMPRE.

Dinner, dancing, and most of all, a last chance to meet with old friends was the purpose of the farewell party given for seniors on Wednesday, June 14, at the high school. The party started at 6:30 p. m. with a dinner served by the senior parents. The dress was informal, school-type clothes. There was no charge for this last get-together. Mrs. Dorothy Carlson was chairman for the event.

The merchandising class ran a contest on advertising layout. Each student was required to design an ad and lay it out on paper, writing copy and using matrix illustrations. They were judged by newspaper

Black: Yes, indeed. It's entirely cured his mother of bragging about him.

Once there were three men riding in an airplane. Unfortunately, one fell out. Fortunately, there was a haystack below him. Unfortunately, there was a pitchfork in the haystack. Fortunately, he missed the pitchfork. Unfortunately, he also missed the haystack.

WATER FOR POTTED PLANTS

When you grow plants in pots--or any container--keep a close eye to the water you give them. Many gardeners, when they find the soil in a pot is dry, merely dash a bit of water on it and call it a day. This treatment is apt to go for naught since a slightly dried root ball will shrink away from the pot and the water merely runs down the side and out. If you would enjoy potted plants and have peace of mind, too, water them often enough to keep the soil moist. If this means daily, so be it. If a plant has dried out, you can immerse the entire pot in a larger container of water and let set for several hours.

COASTAL FLIERS

On Saturday, June 17th 27 members of the Coastal Fliers Club will hold their first annual picnic at Shadyrock Ranch. This fliers club operates out of Gillespie Field where it provides its members an inexpensive way of flying.

Joe Fisher of the Cubic Corporation is the club president, Joe Matthews of Harbison Canyon is the secretary, and Clarke Irvine publisher of the ALPINE SUN is the picnic chairman.

Impatience can be an enemy of beauty. Trying to undo stubborn knots or pry up thumbtacks with the hand can split and break fingernails.

The smart homemaker does not attempt any job with her nails that can be done more easily with scissors or pliers or some other tool.

EYE-DEAS

Dr. J. Arbital, Alpine's new optometrist tells us that he often is asked certain questions and that he believes that many other people hesitate to ask although they too would like to know the answers.

Here is the first of a series of such questions and Dr. Arbital's answers:

Dear Dr. Arbital:

I have passed my vision test for driving. However, I get very bad headaches when I either read or watch television.

I do not understand this since I passed my driver's vision test.

Mr. O. H.

Answer: Although you have passed your driver vision screening, it is possible that you have a visual problem causing your headaches. Vision screening is not a complete and thorough analysis of your visual skills. It is therefore possible for many people who have visual problems to pass a vision driver test. Only a thorough optometric vision examination can uncover visual problems that may have been overlooked in a screening test.

STUDENT AFFAIRS COMMITTEE OF NEW GROSSMONT COLLEGE

The newly formed Student Affairs Committee of Grossmont College on June 11th toured the campus of Monte Vista High School on Sweetwater Springs Boulevard where their classes will be held beginning in September. The committee, formed under leadership of John Burdick, dean of student affairs, is made up of two seniors from each of the high schools in the District. The groups also met late in May to consider problems concerning site, curriculum, clubs, theme, faculty, registration, and the book store. They will also deal with colors, calendar, and handbook.

Special areas which have been selected for summer study by committee members include: social and interest clubs, campus relations, site problem and bookstore.

CANYON NEWS

by LUCY McCONNELL HI 5-3118
 Somehow I neglected to mention last week the television antenna project that is still in progress here in the Canyon. Good progress was made with one tower being completed. Only eight men helped the last time and one of those not only won't be there to finish it, but he has been unable to perform his regular jobs since. Bill Wallace was so unfortunate as to have a good size boulder fall on his hand breaking one finger and banging a couple more. The cast has been taken off now but he is still walking around with a scowl on his face because he can't do any work. Anyone who might happen to possess a mechanical hand, and willing to lend it, should replace the scowl with a smile for Bill. Just call your reporter and I will see that he gets it.

Tuesday, June 6th, was surely busy. The Scout Organization Auxiliary had a potluck dinner at the Community Hall for all the boys and their families. There was an excellent turnout which hustled the seating capacity. We all proved that one thing this Canyon has is a good appetite with almost everyone going around for seconds. Certainly hope all the men appreciate what good cooks we have. Bill Dessert, who is the institutional representative introduced all the adults who have been working to make the Scouting program a success with everyone receiving a nice applause. He also conducted the raffling off of two articles which had been donated. Hope we have another potluck before too long as it was a lot of fun. There was a fast clean-up at the conclusion as the Explorers had a meeting as well as quite a number wished to attend the final meeting of the PTA.

The last meeting of the Harbison

Canyon PTA was held in the Canyon School. We were fortunate, indeed, to have the Superintendent of Schools, Cecil D. Hardesty, as guest speaker. Anyone who has ever heard Mr. Hardesty speak knows he missed something by not attending and hearing his talk on "Pillars of American Freedom"

The Harbison Canyon chorus, directed by Miss Gloria Harris, presented several selections.

The sixth grade mothers served refreshments at the conclusion of the meeting. The PTA has been advancing steadily since its beginning last October. We all hope there will be still further progress this fall.

The local Teenage Club met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. (Dick and Dorothy) Ellis where the final arrangements were made for their dance. It will be held Saturday, June 24, 8 to 12 p. m. at the Community Hall. The theme will be "Summer Prelude". Donations are 50¢ stag, 75¢ drag. This dance is open to all who would like to attend. There will be door prizes and live music furnished by the Pharaohs. Good luck to you kids. (Sporty dress please).

The Harbison Canyon Boy Scouts and Explorers left on a campout last Friday night to Green Valley Falls. Additional cars had to be located to take them to the camp with the equipment and the excellent turnout of boys. Anyone who can make it should go down and watch our boys load up for their next campout. This was my first one and I'm sure that everyone could learn a lot from seeing even just the beginning. All of us are prone to be critical at times, especially about things we don't know too much about. These boys are attaining a fine organization under some excellent leadership. Everything doesn't always go as planned. Mistakes are made and on occasion we hear some gripes, usually by adults. How many could do better or would want the job all on their own? This isn't just true of the Scouting organization. I'm sure if you ask anyone here in a leadership position, he will agree. A big hand should go to each of them, a helping one.

Mr. and Mrs. Merlin Glynn of 414 Harbison Canyon Road feel they are very fortunate. Their home caught on fire Saturday and the basement was pretty well destroyed. Their son Vincent was only slightly burned but he lost all his clothing except those on his back. Mr. and Mrs. Glynn offer the highest praise to our volunteer fire department for their prompt response to their call and the excellent job they did in keeping the fire confined in the basement. They especially complimented the Junior Fire Department which, they feel, has received too little praise.

The fire is believed to have started from a defective water heater and caused about $3,000 damage which is covered by insurance.

Mrs. Glynn had a real shocker as she just returned by plane at midnight where she was met by a slightly dirty husband and a son not only dirty but hair charred or burned... not a pleasant sight to come home to. Mrs. Glynn had been to Denver to attend the graduation of their son, Steven, from high school and make arrangements for his admission to Fort Lewis A & M College this fall. Steven will be working there this summer and go to Durango in September.

Pat Sexton of 143 Frances Drive is at home now after undergoing an emergency appendectomy three weeks ago. Pat is an exceptional man for his age. He can put some of us younger ones to shame. Pat is liked by all the children and is never too busy to talk with them. Quite often one can see several boys and girls working in his yard and after a short time the same group, running down to Scott's Store. Keep improving, Pat! We all like to see you around.

Who is the oldest person in the Canyon? How about some nominations and backgrounds to go with it? There are a lot of new people who have moved into the Canyon the last few years including myself, and I think it should make for not only informational but also interesting reading... about those with whom we might not have come in contact. Anyone who can't call me need only drop me a card and I will come to see them. Let's see how many old-timers we really have.

Paul Doerring is going to spend the summer working in Oceanside. Mom and Pop will miss him; that's Ted and Alice Doering of 443 Harbison Canyon Road.

Mr. and Mrs. William C. James, daughter of Ted and Alice Doering, have been in the Canyon visiting their parents and friends as they (the James) are leaving for Alameda, California, for two years. Ted and Alice are going to be like two lost sheep with no lambs. Their granddaughter, Tommy, is going with her parents.

Mrs. Effie Dietrich, Gladiola Lane, daughter of Judy McCann, just come home from Navy Hospital with a broken ankle and foot. Hope she gets well soon and takes care of that other foot.

Al Neitheimer is making his yearly rounds for donations for the local fire department. Remember this is the only way we have fire protection in this Canyon so all donations are very desperately needed.

The VFW will hold their meeting Friday evening, June 16th, as will the Auxiliary. Come on, you veterans and wives, attend your meetings.

CAMPO NEWS

by FAY FARRIS-GR 8-5396

Mt. Whirlers danced on Sunday, June 4, at the Campo Club House, and guests were Bernadine Roese, her daughter and husband, Bill and Bernadine Hausman, their daughter (Sandy) and son, their niece, her husband and a daughter from Alaska, and Mr. and Mrs. Beckett. All of them belong to De Anza Dan Dees, and Sandy also belongs to Elk Horn Squares. Mrs. Roese is well-known in the Campo area, as she formerly owned the Malt Shop in Lake Morena, and she still maintains a home there. She now lives with her daughter and family in San Diego and is very active in square dancing and bowling. Hostesses at the dance were Bee Boyd and Alvina Blackburn. The guest caller was Mr. Hausman, and the club caller is Fred Geiser. Everyone had a wonderful time, and the guests promised to return real soon.

Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Meloche moved into their home in Lake Morena recently and were honored with a housewarming on Sunday, June 4, with each guest bringing a dish for potluck. The center of attraction was a scooped out watermelon half filled with fruit salad. Pat Meloche, the daughter-in-law of the honored couple planned the party and there were 30 guests. Many useful and beautiful gifts were presented to the Meloches.

Mrs. J. W. (Molly) Cozby who recently broke her hip came home Sunday, June 11. She has been staying at her son's house in San Diego since leaving the hospital. Lake Morena Woman's Club met at the home of Ruth Lawrence in Lake Morena on Tuesday evening, June 6. This was a potluck dinner, and the food was delicious. Officers for the new year were elected and they are: president Ruth Lawrence; first vice president Bobbie Hasenmaier, second vice president Flora Skonberg, recording secretary Fay Farris, corresponding secretary Ardelle Craft, treasurer Gertrude Haskell and historian Lucille Hoitt. There will be no more meetings until September.

The following women motored to Mexicali for lunch at the Shang-ri-la on Wednesday, June 7: Jane Ham, Bobbie Hasenmaier, LaVern Thompson, June Rinks and Dorothy Davidson.

Helen and Pete Cooper report the following news: Their colt was born on April 8, and as it has a perfect question mark on its face, it was named "Who-Dat". Helen fell from a scaffold outside their home while doing some painting, and she was pretty badly bruised, but luckily no broken bones.

Pearl Deines left the hospital Sunday, June 11, and as she had to rest quietly for two more weeks, she will stay with her daughter and husband Bob and Alice Liggett who lie in El Cajon.

Bonnie Seikert was honored with a bridal shower on Wednesday evenings at the home of Nona Zuelner, who was cohostess with Mary Robertson. The color scheme was white and pastel green. The refreshments were lime ice cream with white cake, and favors were green sugar bells with silver ribbon bows. Twenty-four guests were invited and the honoree received many lovely and useful gifts.

There was a Little League base-base game in Campo on Tuesday evening, June 6, and the "A" team of Campo lost to Descanso, but the "B" team of Campo won their game. Understand the pitcher of the "A"s had a sore arm.

THE KID AND ME

by JOHN MADSON

As a sportsman, I'm having a high time these days. As a sportsman-father, I'm not doing so well.

There's a ten-year-old boy in our house who is being sold short.

I have always prized my hunting and fishing time, and jealously resent wasting it. I don't care to hunt or fish with novices and dilettantes for they detract from the business at hand, intrude on my private ways and waste time. This feeling, I'm deeply ashamed to say, has even extended to my son.

It's pure selfishness, I know, and partly laziness. But I find that I covet my hunting and fishing trips more each year, and that I am taking them — and myself — much too seriously.

And so I'm gone a lot, and Chris stays at home and plays ball and watches television and waits for me. But I seldom return from hunting or fishing so late that he doesn't come out of his room to greet me, rubbing the sleep from his eyes and saying: "How was it, Dad? How did you do? Tell me how it was!"

And I cuss myself and make a firm resolution to take him along some time, and the next time I go it's with an old companion just as it has always been.

This is strictly one-sided, for Chris never lets me down. Anything he finds or sees, he shares with his old man.

All last winter there were chores around home that took up my spare time. But Chris pestered me constantly, asking me to "please come down to the crick and see Beaver Falls." That creek is a trickle that drains some hilly woods behind our home, and is much too insignificant for any grown man to bother with. Only boys know of it. And all winter long, Chris kept badgering me to see his private creek and his Beaver Falls. I finally grew angry and told him to shut his mouth, for couldn't he see that I was too busy to play and waste time puddling around in his blasted "crick?"

Last Sunday was a rainy, lowering day and I was obviously bored and had no excuse for him. Grumbling to myself, I slipped into a rainshirt and followed him down to the creek. Chris capered ahead of me all the way, proudly scouting the easiest trails and leading me into a deep valley.

I heard the falls five minutes before I saw them. Then we came around the shoulder of a timbered hill and saw the rain-swollen stream plunging over a great ledge of lime rock. It was a lovely place with the fifteen-foot waterfall roaring through a narrow gorge down into a hidden pool rimmed with rock walls and shattered ledges. Beside the fall pool was a deep overhang out of the rain, with moss inside to sit on. We loafed there while I smoked, and Chris showed me how to skip flat stones and climb, and we talked all afternoon. A perfect host and guide, he even shared half a rather dirty candy bar with me.

I asked him how many other fathers had seen Beaver Falls. Radiant, he replied: "Dad, you're the first one!" Then, wistfully: "I wanted awful bad for you to see it last winter when it was froze up, but you were too busy."

I won't be too busy next winter, Chris boy. And I won't be too busy for you this Saturday when the bass will be hitting, nor next autumn when the mallards begin pushing through. You showed me your Beaver Falls, the best and biggest thing you know. I hope you'll let me show you some bigger falls and bigger rivers, and perhaps a bigger dad.
