GOOD GOLF

Control "Killer" Instinct BY SAM SWING

Distance with woods is desirable but walloping the ball with all your might won't achieve it. Distance is translated power which, in turn, is caused by clubhead speed.

A good rule is to hit all golf shots with about three-quarters of your strength. Clubhead speed is generated through the hands by the big muscles of the body—back, thighs, calves.

The hands must decelerate to co-ordinate with the slower, big body muscles. Practice this and the long, straight ball is yours.

ALPINE SCHOOL BUDGET

Tentative budget for the fiscal school year, 1961-62 in the amount of $268,265. was adopted Monday night by the Governing Board of the Alpine Union School District.

This is approximately $14,000 less than the 19-60-61 budget, a reduction made necessary by an anticipated reduction in State Aid resulting from a decline in pupil average daily attendance from the previous year. The A. D. A. in 1959-60 was 577; this year it is expected to be about 543.

Several steps have been taken in order to make the budget balance. The number of teaching position will be reduced, a practical move since the number of pupils per teacher has declined.

The principals will do some teaching and the superintendent will assume some duties normally assigned to principals. Funds allocated to other expenses of instruction, maintenance, and capital outlay have also been reduced.

Alongside these economy moves an effort is being made to grant an increase in teachers' salaries. Our salary schedule is considerably lower than in other school districts of comparable size.

WATER SCHEDULE

Charles Price, president of Rio San Diego Municipal Water District, announces the following schedule of events leading to water in Alpine homes and businesses on or before April 1, 1962.

During June bids for pipe, pumps and for construction will all be called for.

July 7 the bids for pipe and pumps will be opened.

July 11 the District expects to adopt its budget for the next year.

July 21 bids on construction will be opened.

July 25 construction contracts will be awarded and the District will call for bids of 30 year bonds. These bonds are now planned to have a 2 year period when only interest will be paid and some of the bonds will be callable.

August 22 is the day on which it is planned to open bids on bonds. The District now prefers private financing as the federal financing seems to have many strings attached.

September 1 is anticipated as the date for the beginning of construction.

It is anticipated that construction will take about six months. Allowing one extra month water should be in the completed system by April 1, 1962.

Although decisions have not been made about all of the distribution lines, it is anticipated that most distribution lines will be ready for water when it arrives.

This will include hookups to existing systems and distribution needy family of four in Alpine.

A $50.00 Treasury Bond is to be offered for the best design for the memorial and flagpole the VFW will erect on the plot of land donated by the Cemetery Board. Watch next week for full information.

CHURCH GROUND-BREAKING SUNDAY MORNING IN ALPINE

Sunday, June 25, will be another red letter day in the history of the Alpine Community Church. The ground will be broken for the new educational building. Ceremonies will be held on the land next to Fuller Hall (behind the parsonage), starting at 10:30 a.m. Those attending the 9:30 service can remain and those attending the 11 o'clock service are asked to come a little early. The Sunday School classes will also attend.

Percy Foss, only surviving charter member of the church, will turn over the first shovel of dirt. There have been many church activities with Mr. Foss on hand--from the church's first organization in 1894 the erection of the present sanctuary in 1953, the mortgage burning 1958, and now the start of this building to contain six classroom built of red brick to match the church, designed by George Hatch, architect.

The 78 by 33 ft. building will be built strong enough to hold a second story eventually.

lines on all paved public roads in the Flinn Springs, Blossom Valley areas and along Highway 80.

In Alpine it is expected that distribution lines on Alpine Terrace, Highway 80 East of Alpine, Tavern, Alpine Heights Road and at least part of Victoria Drive will be ready as well as the main line which will come into Alpine along Arnold Way. (This is only a partial listing. Do not become excited if your street is not included in the list. Plans are not yet complete).

Mr. Price also announces that the Rio District expects to have a full time girl on duty in the Lakeside Irrigation District Office after July 1, 1961, and they will also have their own telephone number.

LIVING

Are you really living? Are you happy, confident, secure and yet vitally alive enjoying every moment of life? Or are you half living, afraid of yourself and the world about you, worried, and uncertain?

One thing can make life good, the lack of this same thing will darken every moment of your existence. That one thing is a realistic religious philosophy. A personal belief that explains and relates the great things of life that gives to each of us a sense of purpose and a guide for living. Such a philosophy can only be attained by personal effort, by study, by courageous acceptance of the truth even if challenging.

It cannot be obtained without personal effort but it is the only known means by which men have ever known a full life free from the tyranny of others and the uncertainty of personal doubt.

ANNUAL JUNE PIANO RECITAL

George C. Lee cordially invites the public to attend his "Annual June Piano Recital" to be held on Sunday, June 25th, 3:30 p. m. at his home, No. 16 Old Veijas Grade Road, Alpine. The following pupils will participate: Anne Clancy Dana, Anna Lee, Lisa LaFors, Mary Lee, Jan Johnson, Jan Elliott, Gloria Elliott, Pat Richardson, Dave Richardson, Paul Richardson, and Jimmy Lee.

Included on the program will be Mozart's "Sonata in C Major," Chopin's "Waltz in A Minor," Preludes in E Minor, D Major, and C Minor, "Scherzo in C Minor," and "Polonaise in A Major," "DeBussy's Claredelune," and Lecuona's "Maleguena".

Following the recital, those attending are invited to stay for refreshments and a reception for the young participating artists.

If you need directions, call HI 5-3602 or HI 5-2923.

When I see the number of families where happiness is destroyed by untruths, especially foolish ideas about sex; when I see hundreds destroyed by worry, nervous breakdown, heart disease, and high blood pressure; when I see lives destroyed by excessive alcoholism, sexual lust, gluttony, and even the use of drugs; when I see communities and the nations of the world at each other's throats; then I know that no price would be too much to pay for an adequate religious philosophy.

Yet such a philosophy can come to every person who wills to find it.

It takes personal honesty, individual effort, and to most of us the help of other sincere people who have the courage to face life with all its challenge.

IF YOU'RE GONE ON GARDENIAS

By reputation, the gardenia is a garden fussy budget. But is the reputation deserved? Most any member of the California Association of Nurserymen will give you an argument if you answer, "yes."

The gardenia demands a certain amount of fuss and bother on the part of the gardener; but the results in beautiful fragrant blooms to worth every minute of extra care.

Like camellias, azaleas, fuchsias or any number of other prized shrubs, the gardenia has definite cultural needs. The gardener need only supply them and he will have blooms to match the best he could buy in any florist shop.

In the first place, gardenias are heat lovers. They thrive in sun and and sulk in shade, though in the extreme heat of a valley summer they can be happy in open or high shade. Near the east, they are best grown against a sun-baked wall where heat can be reflected during the day and stored for some added warmth at night. A south or west wall will give the best results.

The soil should be on the acid side, made loose and porous by the addition of humus, especially leaf mold or peat moss. Moisture should always be present and conserved by a mulch of pure peat. Yellowing indicates a lack of iron and is seldom evident when the soil is properly acid or a semi-state of dormancy. If you think this sounds like something a camellia might like, you're right. The only difference is in the matter of heat.

There are many ways to get maximum use from gardenias. In fact, it's hard to go wrong with them. A single, well-tended shrub will yield masses of fragrant blooms. Two or more are that much better. Try an informal flowering hedge or gardenias, or tub them in sunny pockets on the deck. In or out of bloom, the glossy foliage is lovely to look at.

Gardenias don't live forever and should be replaced after a few years if they start to decline. There's no point in keeping them past the point of perfection.

1. Shop for container grown roses in bloom and enjoy their color through summer into fall.
2. A late and final planting of dahlias will give you fall bloom when early-planted tubers are dying back.
3. Spray tuberous begonias to prevent mildew. Be sure the spray is recommended for mildew on begonias.
4. Chrysanthemums bought in bloom this month can be cut back when the bloom is gone and encouraged to bloom again in fall.
5. Prune back leggy growth on camellias. Some more than others seem to grow rangy and need restraint. Let your eye be your guide.

HAPPY VACATION TRIP
Fifty weeks a year you work hard at a job, help out with community projects, attend church and service group meetings regularly, prod the youngsters through homework.

Then comes vacation. You have only two, perhaps three weeks, so you plan carefully. You are going to see California this year; drive all through the state. When you start, everything has been well prepared. The car has new tires, luggage is stowed, milkman has been notified, the kids are all in the car. No worries—you can leave them all behind for those 14 short but relaxing days. Now, as you wheel out of the driveway, could the California Highway Patrol have one minute of your time? Could we ask you, in these few moments before you hit the open highway, to consider two things?

First, let driving be part of your enjoyment. Don't make it a chore by trying to push too far each day, by letting minor traffic delays destroy your patience, or by giving in to anger when someone else makes a mistake. Allow the extra time you will need for meals sightseeing and refueling. Second, observe traffic laws and highway control signs. They are designed to help, not hinder. Let them do their job; then you can more easily do yours—operate the care safely.

Finally, have a safe, pleasant vacation. The Patrol is sure you will if you devote those few moments at the start of your trip to consideration of the simple requirements for carefree, yet cautious, driving.

We have no quarrel with the good citizens who are intent on building back yard bomb shelters. They would certainly be an improvement on caves if mankind ever chooses to embark on another prehistoric era.
