DISINCORPORATION ELECTION TO BE NEXT TUESDAY

The election for the disincorporation of the Alpine Heights MWD will be held next Tuesday. Polling places will be at the Alpine Youth Center for Special Election Precinct No. 1, which consists of portions of Alpine 1, Alpine 3, Dehesa 2, and Harbison 3. Special Election Precinct No. 2, which consists of portions of Alpine 2 and Alpine 4, will be at the Colby Garage at 1546 Tavern Road.

At the meeting of the Board of Directors of the District held on Wednesday of last week, the Board passed a resolution approving and recommending the disincorporation of the District.

Other resolutions passed at this meeting were one proposing and recommending to the Rio San Diego MWD that they consider and adopt an agricultural water rate for the district. The other resolution was to declare and acknowledge the Board's appreciation to Mr. E. L. Freeland, General Manager for the Alpine Heights MWD, for his meritorious services and contributions on behalf of the Alpine Heights MWD.

The Board of Directors of the Alpine Heights MWD has called this special election for the disincorporation.

Harbison Boy Bit

Richard Naylor aged 8 was playing Tuesday in the brush on the hillside near his home on West Noakes in Harbison Canyon when he was bitten, seemingly by a snake. He was taken to El Cajon Valley Hospital where he is being kept under observation. Other than low blood pressure, Richard shows no symptoms, and it has not yet been determined if he was bitten by a poisonous snake.

Resuscitator Restores Breathing

An emergency resuscitator case was reported this week. Mr. Clement A. DeLong from the Willows area required this all important device at 3 a.m., Tuesday.

Mr. DeLong suffered a heart attack in April of this year and to date had been getting along fine. He is now recovering in Grossmont Hospital and is able to be without oxygen. Mrs. DeLong hopes to bring her husband home in a few days. The DeLongs are formerly from St. Paul, Minn.

INTIMATE GLIMPSES

By BEA LA FORCE

Spring arrives to us all at the same time according to the calendar, but to each of us springtime, like other special pleasures, announces itself by some individual token. To me the smell of honeysuckle will forever be the signature of spring. This first scent of the sweet smelling vine is like a tender phrase of airy music delicate and enchanting as the season itself. My one honeysuckle vine, a nice thriving one, grows at the end of the car porte just outside my east-viewing kitchen window. This is the window from which I see Mount Viejas with the Catholic Church setting like a tiny ivory carving high on its west side.

When I go out my kitchen door now breezes from the west curve round the house and blowing through the vine, cover me with the scent of honeysuckle, saying spring is here with summer not far behind. For honeysuckle-spring is a full blown one, not the hesitant uncertain one of the first green days. Honeysuckle perfume promises warm long days of lovely summer with fragrant balmy nights. Its scent is the essence of long-term serenity linking spring to spring in a continuity of hope so that the other seasons seem to follow in better temper.

Honeysuckle belongs to summer too, blooming for months now, but never so profusely as in its first spring showing. I bought my plant, when it was about four inches high, at the Community Church bazaar about 10 years ago when Miss Pearl Foss was still in charge of the garden booth for the Women's Guild. Some of the plants were from the Foss place and were shoots of old, old plants. She said that the vine from which this honeysuckle was started was older than she was. She wasn't sure where the parent vine had come from. Perhaps it was one of the treasures the family brought from Martha's Vineyard in 1875. Or perhaps it arrived by some other route entirely, to grow and grace the corner of the porch sweetening air for decades.

Poets and herbalists have long found the honeysuckle stirring to the imagination. The old herbalists, to judge from some of the writings at hand, used the bark and berries of one variety, which they called sweet-briar, to make a drink to cure drunkenness. The recipe says it is to "be taken in

He was released on Sunday afternoon but is still convalescing from the broken ribs.

Sheriff O'Connor Addresses C of C

The Chamber of Commerce held their regular monthly members meeting last night and heard a very interesting talk given by Sheriff Joe O'Connor who outlined all of the functions which had been performed by the Sheriff's office in the fulfillment of their duties in law enforcement and the other activities which they are called on to furnish.

After his talk Sheriff O'Connor answered questions from members of the Chamber. He was asked whether the Sheriff's department would furnish a resident deputy for the Alpine area. Mr. O'Connor stated that a review of the coverage of the County by Sheriff's deputies indicated that at this time Alpine had a better coverage than several other areas. That in order to not too greatly increase the cost of his department which had

Descanso Realtors Open New Office

A new realty office has been opened in Descanso, and is the first and only such office in that community.

Mr. Elgin Bailey and Mr. Ted M. Brown have formed the partnership of Brown and Bailey. Both men have had considerable experience in real estate having been active in the El Cajon area for about 10 years.

Mr. Brown is a former Alpiner, and will be remembered, together with his wife, Temo, for the active part they took in the Gamma Gamma Sorority affairs while residents of Alpine.

Mr. Bailey has recently purchased the John Kirkpatrick summer home in Descanso, and is now living there with his wife and 18-year-old daughter. The office of the Realty Company is located on the lower level of this lovely home.

Both Mr. Bailey and Mr. Brown look forward to living and doing business in the Descanso area, and invite persons interested in property in that area to drop in and get acquainted.

SUICIDE AT PINE VALLEY

Last Sunday afternoon Mr. Royal Gould of Coronado checked into the Hobart House Lodge in Pine Valley.

About an hour later the Lodge received a call from the Coronado police requesting that they check his room. Mr. Gould had been talking to his wife on the phone from his room, and when he passed out, his wife did not hang up, but had the Coronado police trace the call.

Mr. Jerry Walker, manager of the Lodge, went to Mr. Gould's room and found him slumped on the edge of the bed with the phone still in his hand. The Pine Valley resuscitator was used for about 45 minutes while awaiting an ambulance.

Mr. Gould was dead on arrival at the hospital and the cause was reported as an overdose of a barbiturate.

Kiwanis Meeting

Mr. Warren Strohte will bring a group of young Civil Air Patrol students to this evening's Kiwanis Club meeting. They will demonstrate several facets of their program and work which is rated as both interesting and educational. The speaker for next week's program will be Lt. Col. Karl Tuttle, Air Force Reserve, former mayor of the City of El Cajon who will talk on a recent official tour he made to NATO installations in Europe.

Last Thursday's Ladies' Night program was very well attended and reported as being very successful with a program given by the Rev. Charles Richmond, pastor of St. Andrews Episcopal Church in La Mesa.

Living Room Scene by Mrs. Lillian Morris

UNIQUE ART DEVELOPED BY LOCAL WOMAN

A number of talented artists have lived in Alpine over the past few years, but the most unique work we have seen is that done by Mrs. Lillian Morris of the Log Cabin Trailer Park. Mrs. Morris does not paint or sculpt, yet her work is a combination of both painting and sculpture, and includes needlework as well as interior decorating and a bit of the story telling craft.

We think Cloth Sculpture best describes her work for she makes small very accurate figures of cloth, cotton, pipe cleaners and water color paints. But they are not dolls for children. They are characters from her imagination and from story books. Her creations are dressed by her in authentic costumes, for which she uses scraps of cloth, they they are placed in typical settings inside glass show cases which her husband, Ralph, builds to house them. Each case is approximately three and one-half feet long by two and a half wide.

Mrs. Morris has created figures and furnishings for a livingroom scene of the 1880's complete with the whole family present at 10 minutes past six by the old time clock. Grandpa sleeps in his rock-lap; grandma knits, another member reads by a lamp, another sews, a child plays with a doll, the cat stalks a mouse. Her figures show remarkably good facial expressions and body postures, and each scene tells a story.

Another scene is a kitchen one auso of the 1880's with mother in a long dress and big apron at the old-fashioned wood range while behind her a boy carries in an arm load of stove wood with snow on his shoulders and tracked in on his boots. The scene is complete down to the smallest detail. Mrs. Morris of this one:

"She's going to be mad when she sees he's tracked snow in on her clean floor."

A desert scene with an old prospector at his camp fire is very pleasing, as are her Mother Goose er, his false teeth fallen in his characters. The Old Woman Who Live In A Shoe is delightfully por-

Local Artists Exhibit In Bank

Alpine artists who will be the first to display their pictures in the Alpine Branch of the Security First National Bank on Arnold Way are Josephine Sturdivant, Jean McCullough, Justin Gruelle, Holger Nicolaisen, Dorothy Kuphaldt and Erna Earle.

The Security Banks and their branches make it a common practice to display paintings by local artists and they are indeed fortunate to have such a large number of local artists residing in the Alpine area. The paintings may remain as long as the artists desire or may be alternated. The new bank building was designed with the special grooved walls for this purpose.

Mrs. McCullough's painting is an oil of Sequan Mountain with a large ranch in the foreground which is the Jenny Ranch. Her picture was painted on the corner of Tavern and South Grade Road in Alpine looking south.

Mr. Nicolaisen's painting is a pastel of a seascape painted in Denmark and pictures three fishing boats pulled up on shore for repair at a small inlet. Mr. Nicolaisen has used broad strokes freely done in bright colors and painted this scene on one of his last trips to Europe in 1947. The little town depicted is located just outside Copenhagen, Denmark.

Mrs. Kuphaldt has painted an oil entitled "First Blue Ribbon" depicting a 4-H child winning his first blue ribbon at the county fair. Mrs. Kuphaldt's son was 11 years old at the time. She used a photograph of the child with the remaining work being done in a studio.

Mrs. Earle has an oil painting done several years ago of the old Torrey Pines Road long familiar to San Diego county residents. The picture is large and very colorful. Mr. Justin Gruelle's painting is an

ALPINE TAVERN

LOST LANDMARKS

If you have been around these mountains longer than eight years come September you have seen the Alpine Tavern, that wonderful old hostelry of stagecoach days which used to crown the corner of Tavern Road and Arnold Way.

Miss Katherine J. Dowd was the Tavern's last proprietress having run it for nearly 30 years. She loved the old place and was a gentle hostess to all who stayed beneath her roof or enjoyed her dining room. Her home cooked meals were really home-cooked. She made jams and jellies to serve her guests with delicious delicate little hot biscuits, and she cooked things like lima beans and ham, Irish stew, and fried chicken with milk gravy.

The Tavern was built in 1890 by Benjamin R. Arnold. The first hotel in this region, it at once became a popular resort and remained so for many years. People from the coast towns sought the Tavern to bask in Alpine's sun and escape the fog. In fog season the Tavern was always booked up weeks ahead. When it was first built some 70 years ago, guests were brought to it by horse-drawn stage coaches, which, they say, were welcomed by Mexican or hill-billy bands from the bandstand that stood opposite the front entrance. Later when these stages were replaced by motor busses, travelers stopped for the midday meal at the Tavern. For 65 years this first mountain hotel was a place to see in the back country, a landmark. Its first manager was Mrs. Rose Campbell to whom Mr. Arnold willed the place when he died.

As the Tavern got old and rickety and Miss Dowd aged and her health failed, people said that when she died the Tavern would die, too. It lasted only one year and a half longer. She died on May 23, 1953 and the Tavern was destroyed by fire at dawn on September 17, 1955. At that time of the fire the property was owned by Mr. Milliner and was being operated by Messrs. Lethbridge and Ramsey as the Viejas Jewelry and Gift Shop now of La Jolla.

The news of the Tavern's passing was received with real regret by many people and it can be truly said by countless former guests, "lost to sight, to memory dear."

Eddie Fordyce and His New "Project"

Horses! Horses!

By MARGARET LOWTHIAN

Two members of the Future Farmers of America, Rosemary Robinson of Lakeside and Eddie Fordyce of Japatul, were the lucky recipients of yearling colts offered by Willow Glen Farm. The conditions under which these horses were given were that they be used in either a 4H or Future Farmers horse project in San Diego County. Mr. Jim Dyer of Future Farmers of America arranged that a horse project be included in this organization's activities this year, and recommended the two children to receive the colts.

Both colts are well-bred Appaloosas which do not yet show the color pattern associated with this breed. Rosemary and Eddie are now working with their colts, training and grooming them in anticipation of exhibiting them at the Del Mar Fair next June.

The first breakfast ride sponsored by the Dinosaur Park last Sunday was very successful. A total of 25 adults and children showed up in the fog at 9 a.m. with their horses. Alice Irvine led off over some rough and interesting trails down into Peutz Valley and back up by the cemetery, thence down to Highway 80 and along the highway to the ring at Dinosaur Park.

The riders came filing in to the ring about 11:30, and although they were starving for their breakfasts, kindly took time to line up for pictures by Bea LaForce. As soon as the picture taking was finished, there was a made dash to tie their horses inside the ring, and rush to the snack bar at Dinosaur Park where breakfast of sausage and scrambled eggs was ready for them.

This first ride was so enjoyed by the participants, that others are being planned, and will be announced as details and dates are formulated.

The riders on this breakfast ride were Mrs. Aline Irvine, Cynthia, Celeste and Cecelia Irvine, Karen Kilpatrick, Nancy Sockwell, Bryan, Lisa and Dennis Pierce, Elaine Erickson, Mark and Susan Parsons, Margaret Radford, Tom and Jerry Judd, Bill Gault, Tom Harris, Pam Wiesbach, Tim Kramer, Charles and Harold Butler, Don, Donnie and George Archer, and Les Green.

Speaking of Les Green—he was upset a little last week when his nine-month-old Appaloosa colt tried to jump a barbed wire fence to go visiting the mares. Comanche made a good try. His front legs cleared beautifully, but he caught a rear leg in the fence and got a nasty barbed wire cut on the inside of the leg.

Method To Contact Grand Jury Outlined

Col. Frank W. Seifert, Foreman of the 1963 San Diego County Grand Jury states that "one of the functions of the San Diego County Grand Jury is to investigate any and all complaints received which fall within its jurisdiction. Many complaints which should be processed by the Grand Jury are not being received through proper channels and are not properly presented. Many people telephone various members of the Grand Jury asking for information as to the best way to contact the Grand Jury. The recommended method for a person desiring the Grand Jury to investigate an injustice or illegal act is to direct a letter to the Grand Jury, Room 7003, San Diego County Courthouse, San Diego 1.

"Anyone may submit a complaint by letter. Such letter should contain all the facts, dates and names of persons involved, and must allege the injustice or unlawful act upon which complaint is made. It is requested that the writer's name be signed to such communication. All correspondence is handled in a confidential manner."

Recent Alpine Sale

Mrs. Charlene Brown of Pierce Realty Company reports the sale of the Daniel E. Mansfield home on Sunny Acres Drive to Mr. and Mrs. Julius O. Koch of Idaho.

Mr. and Mrs. Mansfield came to Alpine in 1958 and purchased their home. They are planning to move nearer their children in the Los Angeles area.

Mr. and Mrs. Koch are planning many new improvements to their new home, having already purchased new furniture and carpeting.

North San Diego County Fair

The North San Diego County Fair will be held on June 1-2 at the former McCormick airport in San Marcos. It will primarily be an agricultural fair giving north county residents and organizations the opportunity to display their farm products and animals. Future Farmers of America and 4-H Club members are invited to enter exhibitions.

The organizers of the fair hope to make this fair an annual event.

Concessions Being Offered Locally

Mr. Bill Master, recreational manager of Dinosaur Park announces that several of the most important concessions of the park are now being offered, on a managership basis, to the residents of Alpine.

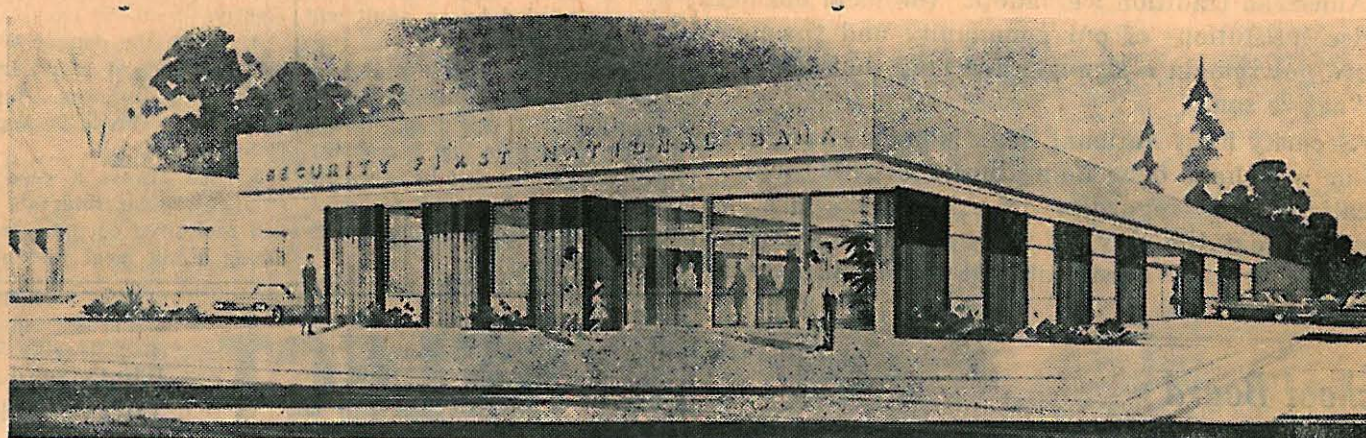

Mr. Masters said the park has and will continue to use local Alpine service, as they are the persons who would enjoy the greatest measure of profit and are anxious to see the park grow and prosper along with the rest of the community.

A nominal investment of $2750 is required which goes into the stocking of the various stands. However, this is returnable and the managers would be working for a percentage of the gross profit.

Concessions which are now available are the Trout Pond, Candy Kitchen and Novelty Shop. For further information, Mr. Master can be contacted at 445-3351.

'Our' Bank

Throughout the history of the world orderly progress and development is made one step at a time. Like the proverb, "A long journey begins with one step." But as the steps are successively made, comfort, convenience and ease of living develop.

Alpine for many years progressed slowly one step at a time until the advent of water and the development of roads which has increased the cadence to the point that we now have added a bank to our community for the convenience of the residents and business men of Alpine and surrounding areas.

By American tradition we "adopt" the local business and service institutions of our community and the newcomer does not remain a stranger for long, but soon becomes a "native son."

The Security First National Bank is not a stranger to many of us who have been doing business with them at other locations. But regardless of prior affiliations, we are sure that from the day of its opening the Alpine Branch of the Security First National Bank will become "our" Alpine bank.

The School Board

Well the School Board is at it again. Maybe they should hire themselves a staff of Philadelphia lawyers.

Not To Change The Subject

But—there appears in this issue a news release from the Grand Jury on how to contact them if you think there is any skullduggery afoot.

Freeway Driving Safety Advice

Freeway travel is convenient travel . . . so swift . . . so comfortable and smooth . . . but don't let your guard down, for "highway hypnosis" can lure you into a deadly accident if you don't watch out.

Commissioner Bradford M. Crittenden of the California Highway Patrol points out that for all their advantages wide, unobstructed highways can lull the motorist into a false sense of security.

"When the free-wheeling monotony relaxes a motorist too much, it will lead to inattention, drowsiness and a state of dulled reflexes. That's the calm known as "highway hypnosis."

But there are ways to break the spell and stay alert, according to Crittenden.

1. Change your speed and body position frequently. This prevents your reflexes and judgment from being impaired by the monotony.
2. At the first sign of blurred vision or heavy eyelids, stop your car and rest. Try to avoid sun glare which causes eyestrain, which in turn causes fatigue.
3. It's a good habit to look near, far and to both sides and to move the head and eyes constantly.
4. Since the danger of "hypnosis" increases at night, try not to drive long distances. Instrument panel lights should be kept low to reduce glare.
5. It's always a good idea to stop at regular intervals whether you feel tired or not. Instead of eating a big meal just before or large mouthfulls at a time and swallowed quickly." It probably doesn't taste as sweet as the flowers smell. Milton speaks of "twisted eglantine" in L'Allegro and it is thought that he meant the common garden honeysuckle which is known as eglantine in Northeast Yorkshire.

In English gardens honeysuckle is a great favorite and is sometimes called woodbine there. In the United States and Canada alone there are some 25 species, including some naturalized ones from the old world. The wood of one, the fly honeysuckle, is extremely hard and was once widely used for making teeth for wooden rakes. In the British Isles the wood of this one is still a favorite material for walking sticks. Here in our mountains the wild honeysuckle is very abundant and very pretty and it too, is blooming well now. Its flower is much smaller and a little pinker than the domesticated ones in the region, but this wild one scents the air with a fine spring-like fragrance. I'm grateful for this common hardy vine and its celebration of spring.

during a long trip, stop frequently and eat small amounts.

6. If your right foot goes to sleep, stop and remove your shoe. Vibrations from the accelerator will stimulate your foot.

7. By keeping fresh air circulating through the car and playing the radio, the motorist avoids the drowsiness that comes with all long trips.

For many local home makers the social whirl is currently centered around weed-pulling in their gardens and patios, along fence rows and every where about the home place. As Mrs. L. E. Peterson, popular local club woman says, until weed pulling time is over our daytime social life will be a bit curtailed. But think what nice tans we can get while improving our landscapes.

Mt. The Vice President Ladonna Muhlhauer was also absent. While the meeting was in process the President Mary Kerns arrived, and she gave a warning of her arrival by blowing her auto horn, which was very appropriate due to the fact that she had just returned from the Republican's Woman's Conference in Washington, D.C. She related her experiences on this trip, which was very exciting and enjoyed by all.

Mr. DeGroat, the Campo Community Church minister is now able to have visitors. He was first taken to the El Cajon hospital after his automobile accident a few weeks ago, and was transferred after a week to the U. S. Naval Hospital. In addition to the broken legs and arms, he received a gash in the back of his head, and on his forehead—he has a broken jaw and a crushed hip. He will be in the hospital for some time, and the hip will have to be operated on when he is able to stand same. His congregation wishes him a speedy recovery.

In the meantime, Mr. DeGroat had submitted his resignation from the church, to take effect on June 1 of this year. Mr. Russell, employed at the Air Force Base on Laguna Mountains, has taken over the job of minister at the church. He and his wife are very good with the young people, and they hope to build up the church. A good many people in the area have been interested in a good church, and he should secure lots of help. Mr. Russell and his family lived in Pine Valley at one time, but moved to Escondido where their son could attend school. They commute to Laguna and to the Campo church.

Club Announces

New Members Day

New members will be honored at the next meeting of the Alpine Woman's Club to be held on Tuesday, May 14, at 2 p.m. in the club, according to Mrs. Harold Johnson, president. Mrs. Emil Sachse is new member chairman. All members are urged to attend to greet the new members, all of whom are also urged to be present to meet and get acquainted with the other members of their club.

Since there was no business meeting at the last regular club session, as it was reciprocity day with many guests present, Mrs. Johnson says there will be a long business meeting with several items. The nominating committee will present their new slate of officers.

Josephine Upset But Not Upset

When is an upset not an upset? When a serene and charming lady refuses to let the matter of her car over-turning upset her usual composure. The car in the story is a nice little electric run-about and the lady owner and driver of it is Mrs. Josephine Sturdivant, well known local citizen often seen driving into Alpine to church, and post office, and shopping in her car. Last Monday she was leaving the parking lot of the new bank when, through what she termed casually as "just carelessness," she ran off the curb and her car turned over with her under it.

Some strong men lifted the car off and helped Josephine to her feet, and offered to drive her home, but, declining their offer with her usual graciousness, Josephine walked home and is just fine.

"The car has to be fixed, though," she chuckled.

Library Has Special Shelf

The Alpine Library under the auspices of Mrs. Elizabeth West has many new and interesting books for its readers. Branch libraries are prohibited in their display of murder mysteries and love stories so in place of these books on shelves located by the door, Mrs. West has a lovely display of flowers and art objects which is changed each week. These "native volunteers" are grown in the garden of Mrs. West or supplied by a friend, Mrs. Michals of the Willows and each flower is cataloged for the information of the visitor.

In case you have wondered the names of these delicate flowers, drop in for a visit to your Public Library and this "special" shelf and return home with an interesting book for your reading pleasure.

For newcomers to Alpine, the library is located in the Alpine Woman's Club building, Highway 80, open Tuesday, Thursday from 1 until 5 and on Saturday from 10 to 2.

Women's Guild Aids Church

The Women's Guild of the Community Church has once more proven their worth, if any further proof were necessary. Both of these improvements were paid for out of funds earned by the Guild.

Alpine Gardener

By JEAN McCULLOUGH

I had a pleasant surprise this past week, having received three bulbs from friends in Connecticut who spent the winter next door to where I live here in Alpine. These were bulbs of wild flowers growing on their place in Connecticut. Two were Jack-in-the-Pulpit and one was of a yellow Lady's-slipper, the flowers of which I have not seen since my childhood days back on our farm in Ontario, Canada. Nothing could have pleased me more, needless to say and I am concerned as to how they will react to such a change of climate.

I decided to plant them in two five-gallon cans, not taking any chances on exposing them to greedy gophers, using as a planting mixture well rotted leafmole, and handful or two of commercial planter mix and coarse sand, planting them so the tops of the bulbs would be an inch below the top of the soil. I set the cans in partial shade, so here's hoping.

I was talking with Mrs. Inez Stearns since I received the bulbs and she told me the Lady's-slipper is the flower of her home state, Minnesota.

You know as there are so many out-of-state people living in and around Alpine making their homes here, it would be interesting to send or have a friend or relative send one of your cherished plants or shrubs to start a memory corner in your garden. Think about it.

Alpine Jr. Baseball Starts Season Play

The Alpine Junior Baseballers began the 1963 season with the kick-off last Sunday afternoon. All teams played at least two innings before a full stand of bleachers packed with parents, relatives and friends, according to Mrs. H. E. Spires, acting secretary.

The first week of regular play started Monday, May 6 with Kiwanis playing the Youth Center. Next week's schedule matches the following teams:

Monday, Youth Center vs. Alpine Merchants.

Tuesday, Dairy Mart vs. Fleet Reserve.

Wednesday, Youth Center vs. Kiwanis.

Thursday, Dairy Mart vs. Casino. Games begin at 5:30 p.m.

Mr. Al Lennon, who had volunteered to manage one of the minor league teams, has withdrawn due to illness. His assigned coach and helper, Dick Greathouse has been selected as the new manager for the Casino team. Dick has selected Jim Woolridge as his new coach.

The concession stand is being handled this year by Mr. H. Woolridge and it appears she will get her greatest assistance from Mrs. Bell. Both were working the first day selling coffee, cokes, hot dogs and other goodies.

Mr. Bell deserves credit for the concession stand being open for the kickoff. He worked most of Saturday night and early into the morning hours building screens around the food serving area. This was necessary to meet with the requirements of the county health code.

Mr. Fuller has been working strenuously moving the flagpole and scoreboard to a more convenient location on the field. He had some very good help from Ken Broeker, Jim Woolridge, Dick Greathouse, Jim Boles and Dave Bell. Additional work was done to replace the locking devices on the front window of the announcer's booth by Mr. Mosier and Jerry Mosier. Mr. Harold Woolridge was at the field Sunday morning hauling rubbish from the field including weeds, etc., that had been chopped and raked by a number of other volunteers.

Del Sur Kennel Club Holds Match

For their first qualifying match the Del Sur Kennel Club drew 261 entries. The match was held at the El Nadadero Club in El Cajon last Sunday and reports from members indicate they were pleased with this match as they feel it was exceptionally well run and was a step forward in their program of becoming an all-breed Kennel Club qualified to hold point shows in this area.

Local members of this Kennel Club are Mrs. Virginia Key, Miss Margaret C. Lowthian and Mr. E. L. Freeland. Mrs. Key was unable to exhibit her dogs at this match because of expectant litters and Miss Lowthian and Mr. Freeland were disqualified from participating as Mr. Freeland is a director.

The Best in Show award was won by a Whippet "Stringnere Yours Sincerely," owned by Bob Davis and Frank Kubisch of North Hollywood. In the sporting group, an Irish Setter "Sean Prince of Aragon" won, owned by Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Swallow of San Diego. The winner of the Hound Group was the Whippet named above as Best of Show.

Winner of the working group was a German "Sandsetts Aladin," owned by Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Ellis of Reseda. The Terrier Group was won by a White Bull Terrier,

Civil Defense Group Organizing

Last Friday night Mr. Harry Masters, head of the County Civil Defense for unincorporated areas, conducted a meeting at Fuller Hall to start the organization of a Civil Defense group in Alpine.

To date, the leaders of the various services performed by Civil Defense have been named as follows: Mrs. B. E. Darnell will be the leader of the Emergency Care Group; Dr. Frank Bornowski, will lead the Communication Group; Dr. E. C. Woodall will lead the Medical Services Group, and Mr. Wallace Waite will be the head of the Radiological Defense Group.

Mr. Bill Marty of the County Civil Defense office spoke to the group explaining the purposes and activities of Civil Defense. He further explained the importance of local groups organizing to take care of local needs in case it becomes necessary.

Most of the Alpine fraternal and local organizations were represented at this meeting. Future meetings will be held to further develop the groups necessary for complete Civil Defense services.

"Imperial Snow White," owned by Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence McArthur of San Marcos. Winner of the Toy Group was a Pomeranian, "Sungold's Jessie," owned by Anna La Fortune of Spring Valley.

Installation Of H.C. PTA Officers

Officers elected at the regular meeting of the Harbison Canyon PTA on April 2 were installed in ceremonies held Tuesday evening at the Harbison Canyon School.

The following named persons were installed in their respective offices by Mrs. Myretta Snyder, installing officer: President, Mrs. Virgie Presley; vice president, Mrs. Hazel Foster; recording secretary, Mrs. June Flinn; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Patty Jones; treasurer, Mrs. Shirley Dana, and historian, Mrs. Marlene Galligar.

The highly interesting program for the evening was led by Chairman Mrs. Alice Day. Different groups of parents and teachers were divided and each group discussed various subjects such as school and community relations, encouraging the attendance at PTA meetings and also discussion of disciplinary problems. Both parents and teachers felt that much had been accomplished by this discussion program in the interest of better schools.

Refreshments for the evening were served by Mrs. Virgie Presley and the kindergarten room mothers.

Plans are now being made for the next meeting of the Harbison Canyon PTA in which they will hold a pot-luck supper. This will be the closing meeting of the current year. The above named officers will take office July 1.

Mrs. Morris had no training except home study and experimentation. She says she began modeling with clay one day and made the figure of a sailor. Bue she does not make her figures of clay now. They are the result of clever needlework. The bodies are made of bits of fine knit underwear like cotton T-shirts. She uses water color for the faces and hands and puts real hair on the heads, mostly from old doll wigs. She says it takes her a good three steady work to complete one figure.

Mrs. Morris began her work some years ago while convalescing from an illness. She has suffered ill health most of her life and has tried several climates, including Arizona and Colorado. Alpine has helped her most of all, she declares. The Morris's have lived here 10 months. Both are natives of New York State. They have a married son in Fairbanks, California and a married daughter in San Diego. Mrs. Morris has given her creations to her children. In addition to the scenes mentioned she says she has figures put away to make up an old Chinese laundry scene, a cannibal scene, and a Mexican scene to name a few. Mr. Morris is very proud of her work and shares in it by making the showcases to order.

Following the passage of this motion, the Board passed a vote of confidence for Miss Isom.

After Chairman Reynolds had convened the special meeting last Monday, he stated to the audience, which included approximately 100 teachers and residents of the District, that speaking before a legislative body is not a right, but a privilege, and that according to Section 16701 of the State Education Code, any person who willfully causes a disturbance can be fined not less than $10 or more than $100.

Chairman Reynolds then criticized Supt. Clyde Gilley for not having informed the members of the Board regarding the complaint of the teachers regarding the Anne Hume incident prior to the executive session held the week before, stating that the superintendent must have known about it, that the press and everybody else knew about it except the Board, and it was not fair to the Board. Chairman Reynolds stated that such incidents as reported to the Board by the teachers in the executive session were very rare, almost non-existent, but referred to one that happened several years ago which no one heard anything about where a male parent cursed the teacher and did him bodily harm in front of the class. He stated that this incident was more serious than the case a week ago.

Board member Charles Kildgore, stated that the school situation is extremely deplorable at this time. That the Board is at fault, the teachers at fault, and the community at fault. He outlined his opinion of the reasons for the situation and requested that the situation be worked out.

Trustee Laurence Wilcox stated that criticism has been directed towards him, and that the school situation gave Alpine a bad name.

Trustee Stuart Day then called attention to the agenda and asked whether the remarks that had been made by Mr. Reynolds, Mr. Kildgore and Mr. Wilcox were in reference to the business to be conducted. Chairman Reynolds stated that he thought they were. Mr. Day then stated that during the executive session the week before, the Board had directed that a letter be sent, a rough draft of which had been approved by the Board, and that the letter should either have been sent or be in the process of being sent, and would be sent unless further action was taken by the Board in reference to this letter.

Chairman Reynolds read a letter from an attorney for Mrs. Hume requesting that an executive session of the Board be held on the matters of the charge of Patricia Isom regarding Anne Hume. Chairman Reynolds stated that in his opinion the Board would have to obtain an opinion from the County Counsel regarding the legality of holding such an executive session and would advise the attorney when such an opinion had been obtained. During the discussion that followed, it was intimated by some of the members of the Board that there was a question of the legality of the executive session held by the Board the week before.

Mr. Schaeffer, who is the spokesman for the teachers, advised the Board that speaking for the Alpine Teachers Association he would like to again request that the Board direct Mr. Gilley to write a letter to Mrs. Hume asking for an apology, and that the action of the Board as of last Monday night stand. This would indicate that the letter referred to by Mr. Day was to Mrs. Hume asking for an apology and that the action of the Board as of last Monday was in regard to the Board policy voted upon at their open session.

Chairman Reynolds stated that he thought the incident had aroused so much publicity that the whole matter should be dropped. After lengthy discussion by the members of the Board, the Board voted that action should be withheld on the letter and on the executive session requested by the attorney for Mrs. Hume until an opinion could be obtained from the County Counsel, and authorized Mr. Day to obtain such an opinion.

After the meeting adjourned Supt. Gilley was asked by a representative of the Echo whether he had been directed to send the letter referred to, and he stated that he had. When asked whether he had sent the letter, he stated that Chairman Reynolds had told him not to. He further stated that he did not think Chairman Reynolds had the authority to countermand instructions given by the School Board.

to be paid for by the taxpayers that it was the present policy to attempt to provide better coverage for these other areas first.

President Richard Harris, who presided, welcomed representatives from several of the local organizations and invited them to take out membership in the Chamber for their organizations.

The Chamber established a contest for persons in the Alpine area to submit designs for an emblem for the Alpine Chamber of Commerce with a prize of $50 for the emblem selected and adopted by the Chamber as their official emblem or seal. The Chamber had previously appointed Harold Lutz and Doug Fordyce as a committee to conduct the contest and instructed them to proceed with the contest to last for 60 days and with the committee authorized to select the judges, and that the emblem bear the inscription "Alpine Chamber of Commerce, Alpine, California." The committee states that designs will be accepted until July 10 and that all members of the community, including pupils in the schools, are eligible to participate except the members of the Board of Directors of the Chamber of Commerce.

corporation of the district as they feel that now that the area encompassed by the district is in an Improvement District of the Rio San Diego MWD, the additional taxes necessary to keep the Alpine district in existence are an unnecessary burden. All voters are, therefore, urged to vote at the election next Tuesday and to vote FOR the disincorporation of the District.

The citizens and taxpayers of Alpine owe a vote of thanks and appreciation to the Directors of the Alpine Heights MWD for the work they have done in getting an assured water supply in this area, and that the time and effort they have expended has been given without remuneration.

Also, they are to be commended on their action in calling for this disincorporation of a district no longer needed. This is the first case in the history of San Diego County where the Board of Directors of a public agency has requested an election for disincorporation.
