Victoria Civic Assn. Elects Officers

A Board meeting of the Victoria Area Civic Association was held Wednesday, July 3, 1963, at the home of Mrs. Winifred Erickson at 7 p.m. The following business was transacted: The ballots for the 1963 officers were opened and counted with the following results: President—S. Emmett Van Note; Vice-President—Richard Robinson, Recording Secretary—Winifred Erickson; Corresponding Secretary and Treasurer—William F. House.

The Board voted unanimously to join the Alpine Chamber of Commerce and elected Mr. Halvor W. Hem as the Association representative to the Chamber meetings.

The Board voted to keep the Association funds in the local Alpine bank.

Youth Center To Entertain

The Alpine Youth Center will be the host of the Women's Cabinet of the United Community Service on Tuesday, July 16th.

Mrs. Grace Wilcox, who is a member of the Women's Cabinet representing the Youth Center, will be the hostess. She reports that approximately 30 members of the Cabinet are expected to attend. A picnic lunch will be included in the program for the day.

INTIMATE GLIMPSES

By BEA LA FORCE

NOTES MADE IN THE LIGHT OF THE FULL MOON: Here from the edge of the hill the broad mesa below in the moonlight looks like a silvery river flowing smoothly to the sea. Geologists tell us these 'dobe mesas are the bottom of a gigantic prehistoric river bed. At this hour, in this light, the river flows again. Did the stars look the same then as now? Did the big dipper poise over El Capitan so? Was El Capitan an underwater mountain then? It must have been. They tell us that even Viejas, 4200 feet high, was underneath that torrent. Rocks matching those on top of Viejas have been found on the mesa floor. Imagine them carried down the water currents these ten or so miles. They must have ridden high in the waves above the town of Alpine. How long did the water cover the land? How many centuries were our hills and valleys a river bottom? Authorities place it as many thousands of years. But only last week I found, down on the mesa, a rock bearing sea shells in it. And not long ago I found a spearhead estimated to be at least 5000 years old. Did the maker of that spear once sit here on the hill and watch the river in the moonlight?

The silence is intense now. Not a twig moves. The moon rides high and serene, the man-in-the-moon familiar and dear. I remember a story told me long ago about the pattern on the moon's face. An Indian chief was said to have become angry with his wife for making his moccasins too small, so he picked her up and threw her so hard she landed on the moon with a deer skin in her hand and there she stuck. I like better the image of the benign moon face with round eyes and a smiling mouth. Moon-madness was once a common term for people who sat like this in the moonlight enchanted with the night. Some superstitious folk still say it's dangerous to sleep with the moon on your face—makes you moon-crazed they say. Wonder how many moon-struck lovers wander hereabouts tonight? Grandpa told about a moon-eyed mare he once owned. This poor beast, according to gramp was just fine in the dark of the moon, but was blind on moonlight nights. So he traded her to a man who was afraid of being bewitched by the moon and never rode then anyhow. Wonder what gramp got in trade? I don't believe he ever said. Maybe he was moon-mad himself.

Ah! A concert over Dehesa Valley way. Coyotes singing to the moon. Shriill and eerie their song goes to and fro on the wind, coming near, then fading away. Must be six or eight in that pack. They say the coyote is an expert ventriloquist. They've stopped abruptly and the night seems too still. Now the voice of an owl sounding like a low clandestine word of warning. There he is! His eyes flash round and white in the moonlight as he settles on the corner of the porch roof. He's a big bird, looks plump and strong.

ALPINE SCHOOL BOARD RATIFIES PRINCIPALS, TEACHERS SALARIES

The School Board, at its regular monthly meeting last Monday night, ratified the principals and teachers contracts for the next school year.

The principals and teachers will receive salaries based on a new salary schedule which was adopted by the

Emergency Landing At Baron Long

Late Monday afternoon a small plane landed in an open field at the Baron Long Reservation.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren Young, who observed the landing, reported that the plane made two sharp turns over the Rancho Viejas Resort and flew low over the field. It then came around again and landed out in the field.

The plane was a small double-wing two-seater. Two men emerged from the plane after landing and checked over the plane. They then walked across the field to Willow Road where onlookers, including Mr. and Mrs. Young, were standing. The pilot, who remained unnamed, said they were from National City. He explained that the landing was caused by the fact that the fuel gauge was stuck and it showed that they were out of fuel. They came down over the reservation to look for a safe landing spot. On checking, they found that they had ample fuel to go on.

The pilot stated that the field was not too bad, and that he had landed in others which were a lot rougher. The two men then walked back to the plane, and took off for parts unknown.

KOGO Winner Resides In Alpine

Mrs. Gordon Wilson of Alpine, California in addition to being a first place ribbon winner at the San Diego County Fair in the Cooking Division, this week won an additional award.

A local radio station in San Diego, KOGO, held a contest for good recipes which used San Diego's product, tuna. Mrs. Wilson entered with her recipe "Hot Tuna Dish" and won a lovely strand of cultured pearls from Mr. Frank Thompson, KOGO disc jockey.

Mrs. Wilson has used this recipe many times for luncheons and receives many compliments. Don't miss "Coke's Kitchen" for the recipe of this delicious dish which will appear in the very near future.

Lecture Scheduled On Middle East

Reverend Roger Larson of the Alpine Community Church will speak to the Kiwanis Club this Thursday evening at 7:00 p.m., in Fuller Hall on the subject of his ten weeks' tour of Europe and the Middle East. He will show colored slides and will concentrate on Egypt and Jordan.

Reverend Larson traveled with a group interested in archaeology and much of the time were on off the beaten paths for tourists. He will share some of these unusual adventures.

Board at its June meeting. The new salary schedule provides for an increase in pay for the teachers over the amount received by them during the past school year.

Mr. Paul Clay, District Superintendent, reported in detail on the summer cleanup and maintenance program required in order to bring the school buildings and grounds in proper shape for the next school year. He stated that he was short custodial help that would be required to accomplish the work, and the Board authorized him to employ two additional part-time employees to work until September 1.

Mr. Clay further reported that it would be necessary to make a revision in the preliminary budget which had previously been adopted to provide that at least 60 percent of the budget would be spent for teachers salaries as required by State law. He explained that some of the teachers who had been receiving salaries in the higher brackets had resigned and would be replaced with teachers in lower salary brackets which would reduce the amount required for teachers below the 60 percent.

The Board set August 5 at 8 p.m. as the time for the final hearing on the budget.

The Board instructed Mr. Clay to interview bus drivers and award contracts to those to be employed. A policy was adopted by the Board regarding attendance to conventions. They instructed the Superintendent to recommend whether the convention in question would be of benefit to the District and if so, who should attend, and the Board would take action on each individual attendance when such reports were made by the Superintendent.

Mrs. Mary Alice Griggs, president of the Alpine PTA, requested permission from the Board for the use of the school auditorium on July 27 for the showing of a film for the students in the Alpine and Harbison Canyon schools. The Board granted permission with the provision that the request be submitted in writing so that the Superintendent would have a record of the request.

Letters of resignation from Mrs. Bousquet, one of the teachers, and from Mrs. Marjorie Cooper, one of the office secretaries, were read

C of C Emblem Contest Closes

The Emblem Contest sponsored by the Alpine Chamber of Commerce for the purpose of establishing an emblem closed last Wednesday evening at the monthly meeting of the Chamber.

Mr. Harold Lutz, chairman for the contest, reported that 10 entries had been received. He has appointed a panel of judges who will meet this week and decide the winner of the $50 prize for the emblem.

Starlight Presents The Desert Song

SAN DIEGO — Sigmund Romberg's "The Desert Song" will open at Balboa Park Bowl on Thursday, July 18, as Starlight's second production of the 1963 season.

Long considered one of the great classics of American musical theatre, the romantic story of spies, adventure and intrigue will star Mildred Lamb as the vivacious Margot, and Gene Clark in the role of the swashbuckling Red Shadow. Seen as Bennie, the comical newspaper correspondent, will be Ole Kittleston, a San Diego musical comedy favorite.

Set in the mountains of Northern Morocco, "Desert Song" is the story of the Riffs and their battle against French domination of the Arabic country. In his dual role as Pierre and the Red Shadow, Gene Clark runs the complete gamut of theatrical emotion and adventure. As Pierre, the seemingly dim-witted son of the French general, he plans his strategy against the French forces. And as Red Shadow, while leading daring forays as leader of the Riffs, he steals the beautiful Margot away from her legionnaire fiancee.

Yvonne Green is cast in the role of Azuri, the curvaceous, tiger-tempered harem dancer. Martha Gene, long a top Starlight comedienne, will be seen as Susan, whose chief aim in life is to capture a husband—namely Bennie, the reluctant correspondent.

To be heard among the songs from Romberg's timeless classic which have become American standards are "Desert Song," "One Alone," "The Riff Song," "Eastern and Western Love" and "One Flower."

Starlight's initial offering of the season, "Around The World In 80 Days," will play its third and final week Thursday through Sunday, July 11-14.

County Fair Sets Attendance Record

San Diego County Fair officials could look back today upon the most successful fair in county history.

The 10-day county fair, which closed Sunday, set a record breaking attendance standard of 338,144, smashing the old mark by 45,569, far beyond pre-fair estimates.

"We were surprised by the great acceptance of the fair by San Diego county residents. We had expected to break the 300,000 barrier, but did not dream we would exceed it so much," D. Robert Jones, fair manager, declared.

He said the 22nd District Agricultural Association board, headed by Harry B. Sugarman, had given him and his staff the necessary backing for a successful fair as early as last fall.

"With that support," Jones said, "we had the first element. After that it was months of planning and working to produce the kind of fair that San Diego county residents would come to see and enjoy."

He pointed specifically to the outstanding entertainment provided by Andy Williams, the Christy Minstrels, and Don Ameche and

Calexico Reunion To Be Held

Each year for more than 35 years, a reunion is held in San Diego of persons who used to live or are now living in Calexico, California.

The picnic, this year, will be held in Balboa Park at Sixth Street at Maple, Sunday, July 28th, 1963.

Many past residents of Calexico now live in San Diego County and all are invited to attend. The hours of the picnic will be from 10:00 a.m. until 4:00 p.m.

Turkey Breeder Attends Meet

Mr. and Mrs. Al Adams, of the Adams Turkey Ranch on Alpine Heights Road, attended a number of the sessions of the combined summer meeting of the California Turkey Federation and National Turkey Federation, of which they are members.

Mr. Adams had the privilege of meeting turkey people from all over the United States. Some are breeders to whom he has sent his turkey breeding eggs. Meetings were held on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday at the Stardust Motor Hotel in Mission Valley.

The Adams' turkey operation has become famous in turkey circles for the high percentage of fertility of their eggs. A number of turkey men attending the convention visited the Adams Ranch to learn his method of attaining this high percentage of fertility. Mr. Adams raises Nicholas white turkeys which were developed by Mr.

What To Do With The Circus Wagon?

In the parking lot on the east side of the Alpine Woman's Club last week there suddenly appeared a big long trailer painted in loud colors and pictures indicating its relationship with a travelling circus. The name of the circus is Sutton's, according to Mr. Lutz whose garage now has the vehicle in storage.

The wagon, or trailer, was simply dumped there, apparently by the circus which was travelling east on Highway 80 when the truck hauling it broke down. No permission to leave the trailer was asked, according to Mrs. H. H. Johnson, Woman's Club president. Since the object was large and had been parked caty-cornered across the lot, it had to be moved so that the Lutheran Church members could get in to park their cars for the Sunday services.

California Highway patrol came to the rescue and had the abandoned property hauled down to the Lutz Garage west of town on Highway 80. There it remains. Mr. Lutz says he has not heard from the owners. Reports have it that the circus has broken down all along the highway. Seems sad somehow, a final chapter in the end of such small travelling shows, once so vital a part of small town life. Perhaps the town now has a circus wagon to ponder. Right now no one knows whether it will ever be called for and claimed by its owners.

Airman of the Month Chosen

An enlisted man from the Mt. Laguna Radar Base, Airman 2/c Kenneth O. Broeker, has been bestowed the title of "Airman of the Month."

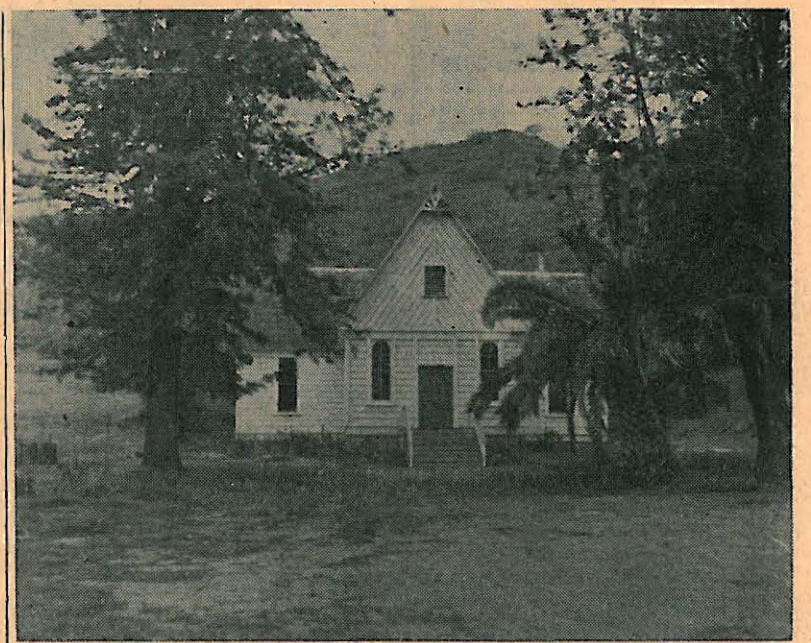

The selection of this coveted award is made by each supervisor, in this case, of the Mt. Laguna Radar Base who recommends a man in his division, deserving of this award. He is further interviewed by a board of officers before the final decision is made.

Airman Broeker will be honored guest at a luncheon given by the San Diego Chamber of Commerce. He is on his second enlistment and resides in El Cajon.

VANISHING LANDMARKS

San Pasqual Valley north of us just over the hills past Poway, is one of the richest agricultural regions and one of the most beautiful pastoral ones in San Diego County. Since the 1880s it has been primarily a Seventh Day Adventist community.

The only church in the valley in those early days was a small Catholic Mission, so the Adventists met on their Sabbath in each others homes. When their number became too large for this, they used the adobe school house for their services. Then in about 1895, according to Mrs. Mary Pete, Valley native and Historian, a group of the Adventists built the church in the picture. The land was donated by Charles Hill, who owned a big ranch there, and construction was supervised by L. O. Johnson and S. T. Bancroft with much of the labor donated by the local men.

Setser's Enjoy Recent Vacation

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Setser of Alpine Terrace enjoyed a recent vacation to Hurkey Creek Campgrounds, which is located 25 miles east of Hemet. The Setser's enjoyed fishing in Hemet Lake and after camping for a couple of days proceeded to Wilmington to board one of the large steamers to Catalina Island. Their connections were perfect as they were able to go on three tours available to really see the Island. One tour was the glass-bottom boat which included viewing the undersea gardens located just a few feet off shore. While their glass-bottom boat anchored to a large barge, skin divers equipped with pieces of frozen fish, swam deep in the ice blue water. A large gathering of fish of all shapes and sizes accompanied the divers to where the viewers could enjoy them.

The Setser's ended their visit to the island by taking a bus tour which included viewing the large estates of Zane Grey, Jean Stratton Porter and of course, the home of Mr. Wrigley (of Spearmint gum fame). This tour also included the added enjoyment of visiting Bird Haven, a aviary well stocked with rare birds.

To make their "close to home" vacation complete, the Setser's stopped at the County Fair on their way back to Alpine.

OUR TOWN ON THE FOURTH

Anyone traveling through Alpine on the Fourth of July would surely have noticed how patriotic our little town can be. "Old Glory" was waving from every nook and cranny. Dinosaur Park had a lovely display of red, white and blue banners leading into the picnic area. The Alpine Cleaners had gone "way out" in decorating the front of their establishment with colorful streamers.

The most patriotic sight of all was a charming little gentleman, sitting on a bench located on Highway 80, with his faded army cap complete with medals, watching the passing cars.

Main Street, Alpine, California was quite a sight on July 4, 1963.

For many years Sabbath services, conducted by visiting ministers, were held in the church. They never had a resident minister. Church meetings were sometimes exchanged between the Valley Center Adventists and those in San Pasqual. Mid-week prayer meetings were a regular church feature as was Sabbath school attended by all the children. Mrs. Rebecca Judson, a valley native, remembers many happy hours spent in the church with friends and relatives in worship.

Tuesday, July 16 marks both the long awaited San Diego debut of the world renowned conductor Andre Kostelanetz and the opening night of the 1963 Summer Season of the San Diego Symphony.

Mr. Kostelanetz comes to San Diego fresh from his triumphant, sold-out Promenade concerts in Lincoln Center in New York.

A great musical treat is in store for San Diegans—Mr. Kostelanetz proves once more that he is a master program planner and for his debut in San Diego, he has chosen music designed to appeal to the taste of every listener. He will conduct the San Diego Symphony in the Overture to "The Abduction from the Seraglio" and Symphony No. 23 in D Major by Mozart; William Schuman's "New England Triptych"; "Afternoon of a Faun" by Debussy; "Cambodian Suite, by His Royal Highness Prince Sihanouk of Cambodia; "Etenraku" (Coming Through Heaven) by the Japanese composer Hidemaro Konoye; "Francesca De Rimini" and "March Slave" by Tchaikovsky.

There is still time to take advantage of the remendous season ticket discount, tickets are available at Thearle Music Company and special bus services have been arranged from La Jolla, Coronado, South Shore, Mission Hills and Point Loma. Information may be obtained by calling the Symphony Office BE 2-3078.

Shakespeare Rates High This Season

If their third production maintains the high values of the first two, A Midsummer Night's Dream, and the Winter's Tale, the annual Shakespeare Festival at the Old Globe Theater in Balboa Park will have an altogether fine season.

Midsummer Night's Dream is the best we have ever seen. Funniest in the funny parts, tenderest in the tender parts, and costumed to perfection. The nature Sprite, Puck, is dressed in sleek tanned skin (his own), and looks and acts more like we have imagined Puck that any we have seen. The fairy court is minus the gauzy wings usually tacked onto them and awkwardly batted around the stage. These fairies give the impression of flight by their grace of movement. Only Titania is a bit hefty for her part, but most of the time she makes you forget this.

The Winter's Tale is tragedy with tenderness and is very well spoken and acted. Here again the costumes bear special mention.

Entertainment on the green before each show is something not to miss. Before the "dream" costumed players give the old Cries of London, and there is appropriate music. Queen Elizabeth and Essex appear before The Winter's Tale, with court attendants who dance and sing. The Queen and Essex speak sonnets by the Bard and prepare the audience for the show to follow inside. Don't miss the Globe this summer if you like Shakespeare.

Freeway Driving

Your San Diego County Traffic Safety Council reminds you it takes all kinds of interchanges to get drivers off freeways. That's why drivers should keep a sharp eye for advance information and directional signs. Drivers should move to the right hand lane far in advance of the deceleration lane, signaling intention to turn and reduce speed when entering deceleration lane. Observe reduced speed limits on exit ramps. When off the freeway, chances are good you'll be exceeding the lower posted speed limits—check and recheck your speed.

San Diego County residents who look directly at the eclipse of the sun during the afternoon of July 20 may cause serious and permanent damage to their vision, San Diego County Medical Society officials warned today.

"There is no safe way to look directly at a solar eclipse—even for a few seconds—and children will be particularly susceptible to vision damage," Dr. George Tabor, president of the Ophthalmological section of the Medical Society said.

"Sun glasses, smoked glass and exposed photographic film are not adequate protection," he said. "Many who have used these during the past to view an eclipse have suffered serious and permanent eye injuries."

Medical Society ophthalmologists (eye specialists) have pointed out that the human eye has a local power of more than 55 units or some five time greater ability to concentrate light into a point of focus than most magnifying glasses.

"It would not take more than a few seconds of viewing of a partial eclipse for the visible and infrared rays shining around the edge of the moon to etch a hole through the sensitive tissue inside the eye and to cause permanent damage at the point of focus," Dr. Tabor said.

"Because the intensity of solar radiation is misjudged in the apparent twilight and because the retina of the eye is not sensitive to pain, the victim does not realize the injury has occurred until it is too late. Such retinal burns are incurable and the victim has a blank spot in his field of vision where the burn scar remains in the retina."

Widespread cases of damaged vision were reported in western states from the 1960 eclipse. In the state of Washington alone more than 75 children suffered retinal burns and in the state of Utah all but five of 31 serious eye burn cases were children. In Australia 170 people suffered permanent visual damage and some had looked at the eclipse less than 10 seconds.

"Only by indirect viewing methods, such as on television or through use of simple projection devices, can the eclipse be observed safely," Dr. Tabor said.

One simple projection device can be made by using two pieces of white cardboard. The viewer stands with his back to the sun and holds one piece of cardboard with a pin hole in it above his shoulder with his right hand. This cardboard and the pin hole serves to project and focus the image of the eclipse on the second piece of cardboard, which is held by the other hand at a lower level. The size of the image can be changed by altering the distance between cardboards.

A similar device can be made for children by placing a box with a pin hole in it over the head with the pin hole above the back of the head. With the child's back turned toward the sun, the eclipse image is projected through the pin hole, over his head and on to the opposite side of the box. Extreme care must be taken to see that the child never looks through the pin hole at the sun.

"A solar eclipse has a deservedly popular appeal," Dr. Robert T. Plumb, president of the Medical Society, said. "The physicians of San Diego County hope this will be an opportunity for everyone to observe a great astronomical phenomenon but not an occasion for precious vision to be damaged."

The eclipse on July 20 will cause complete darkness in parts of Alaska, Canada and the state of Maine and partial darkness in all other areas on the North American continent.

AUTO CLUB MOTORLOG

San Luis Obispo County Coast Offers Traveler Rugged Beauty

A taste of Southern California's most spectacular coastline, plus its most lavish State Historical Monument, is offered any motorist who follows State Highway 1 from San Luis Obispo to Piedras Blancas Pt.

At the starting point of the tour, one should not miss San Luis Obispo de Tolosa Mission. Founded in 1772 by Fra Junipero Serra, the town has since grown up around it.

In an area devoted to vast grain and livestock ranches, San Luis Obispo is also the site of California State Polytechnic College. Five miles out of town, straddling State 1, is Camp San Luis Obispo, home of California's National Guard.

Morro Bay is a lovely seaside resort famous for abalone. The landlocked bay is ideal for pleasure craft and there is an excellent beach, a complete state park, good clamming and fishing.

Surf and deep sea fishing, boat launching facilities, clam beds, abalone rocks and a fine beach combine to make Cayucos a popular vacation community.

Cambria, a quaint old village, nestles among the pines as they meet the sea. This is the home of red abalone, and deep sea and fresh water fishing are available to the visitor. Semi-precious stones are found along the shore north of Cambria.

San Simeon Beach State Park includes three miles of rocks and beaches, offering facilities for swimming, fishing and hiking. The village is a unique fishing community with a protected harbor and beach. It is also the departure point for a trip to another world—the late William Randolph Hearst's legacy to the people of California.

Hearst-San Simeon State Historical Monument contains the home, outbuildings and 130 acres of the publisher's famed estate. The mansion, a huge Hispano-Moorish castle called La Casa Grande, is open to visitors throughout the year.

After visiting the castle, continue on State 1 a few miles to Piedras Blancas Pt. Here a picturesque old light house guards the coast at San Luis Obispo County's most northern point.

The same route is used to return to San Luis Obispo. The round trip covers a little more than 100 miles, and every bit of it is well worth the time spent.

GIBRALTAR OF PACIFIC — Morro Rock, a sheer piece of granite, rises 576 feet above entrance to Morro Bay.

HEARST ESTATE — La Casa Grande, now opened to the public, holds an estimated $50 million in art treasures as well as many valuable antiques. Buses transport visitors from San Simeon to the hilltop castle.

Written history records that in many periods of time there were conditions of unrest, discord and chaos, brought about through the efforts of either one individual, or a relatively few number of persons, who aroused the populace to action, often times very violent, over issues that should have been settled in a peaceful, humanitarian way.

In most of these instances such conditions could not have existed had there been a dominate, powerful nation with leadership that would have either prevented such conditions from starting or settled them in short order after they got underway.

We seem to be in that sort of a period at the present time. Rightly or wrongly, there are two governments which are generally considered to be the two most powerful governments in the world, but that have vastly different political, philosophical and ideological standards, and are at the present time acting like two boys with chips on their shoulders instead of tending to business establishing order in their own houses and maintaining peace throughout the world.

This worldwide situation has incubated major and minor conditions in most of the countries of the world where under the leadership of unscrupulous "leaders," the populace has been aroused to consider that a state of rebellion, revolution or war over some issue or another (any issue will do) is the normal way of life. Where intelligence, ability and wisdom are out the window and only where the shrewd and unscrupulous who care nothing about any of their fellow human beings, can succeed.

We now have a minor situation in San Diego where there seems to be an attempt to arouse the populace over the issue of racial segregation and discrimination. However, a careful reading of their propaganda by any intelligent person will prove by their own statements there is no cause for alarm and it should be stopped by whatever means are proper.

LAW IN ACTION

BUM CHECKS

Thelma, a "girl Friday" for Smith's cafe did the book-keeping, answered the telephone, sent out billings, and, in all, ran the office. She could make bank deposits, and also withdraw up to $1,000, mostly to make change. She had to redeposit this money next day.

Thelma liked nice things, alas, and figured out a way to get them. Each month Smith's would get a big check from the Credit Card company for meals charged. Because of different accounting periods, it was hard to tell just what was due from the Credit Card people.

Taking the big check of about $5,000, Thelma would show the bank clerk five $1,000 deposits. It would look as if she were depositing $1,000, the amount used for change, (and, incidentally, unbeknownst to the clerk, keeping the rest of the $5,000 check for herself). Thelma told the bank clerk that she did this for "book-keeping purposes." And he believed her.

Smith discovered the thefts, but Thelma was broke. She could not pay back the $11,000 she had taken. Smith sued the bank, saying that it should have detected and reported to Smith: It was partly their fault that he lost his money.

The court agreed. The bank should have detected Thelma's phony deposit slips. The bank had to pay Smith's losses.

The bank owes all of its depositors a duty to handle deposits with care and show accurately the banks transactions. Otherwise it will be liable for damages. A bank has an absolute duty to know a depositor's signature. If a bank permits money to be taken out of your account because of forgeries, the bank is responsible even though the forgeries are hard to detect.

Of course, there are times when a depositor is alone at fault for a loss. His failure to check his monthly statements or his negligence in giving an employee power to write and cash checks, for example, may have brought on his own loss. Then he's out of luck.

Note: California lawyers offer this column so you may know about our laws.

Intimate Glimpses

Waiting to catch some small rodent slipping through the grass below him. Other eyes glisten fleetingly in the petunia bed. A rabbit, ears up, alert, sees the owl and vanishes with a whisper of sound. "OOOow!" says the owl and waits. Does he make the sound to announce his presence in a sporting sense, to give the game a chance, or to frighten the rabbit and thus warm its blood for the midnight dinner? I've heard that predators like the chase because it heats the victim's blood making it tastier to the hunter.

A faint noise in the shadows. What's there? Why, Miranda, the big garden spider, spinner of the large round web in the corner. All day she sleeps hidden in the rafters of the porch. In the cool after-dark she comes out to her web for the night's catch. The wind rises and swings the filmy thing too much to suit her plans. Miranda drops down with a long thread and skillfully fastens the thread to a rock on the ground, mooring her web against the slight wind. Now it can't blow into the bushes and be torn. She hurries back up the thread and takes her place in the web. Now. Let dinner fly in. A moth will soon oblige.

The petunia's perfume is sweet, their blossoms nodding in the breeze. Coyotes again, singing high, the wild song of the western night. May it never be silenced. And the silver by-gone river flows on have a trophy to the first place winner and ribbons.

The Prize List for the show is now in the hands of the exhibitors in the area and the interest shown indicates that this will be a "big" one for San Diego County. The show is approved for points by both the American Horse Shows Association and the San Diego Professional Trainers Association.

A "Ride at Will" class will be of special interest to exhibitors and spectators alike. This is the class that everyone in Alpine can enter. All entry fees will go to the California State Professional Trainers Benevolent Fund. Find yourself a horse, or a pony, or a donkey, or a mule, or whatever, any kind of a costume you like, as long as it is decent, and joint in the fun to help this worthy cause.

At its regular monthly meeting last Wednesday evening the Chamber made the final plans for the Horse Show to make it top attraction in Alpine this summer. Everyone is urged to come to the show and join in making this event a whopping success.

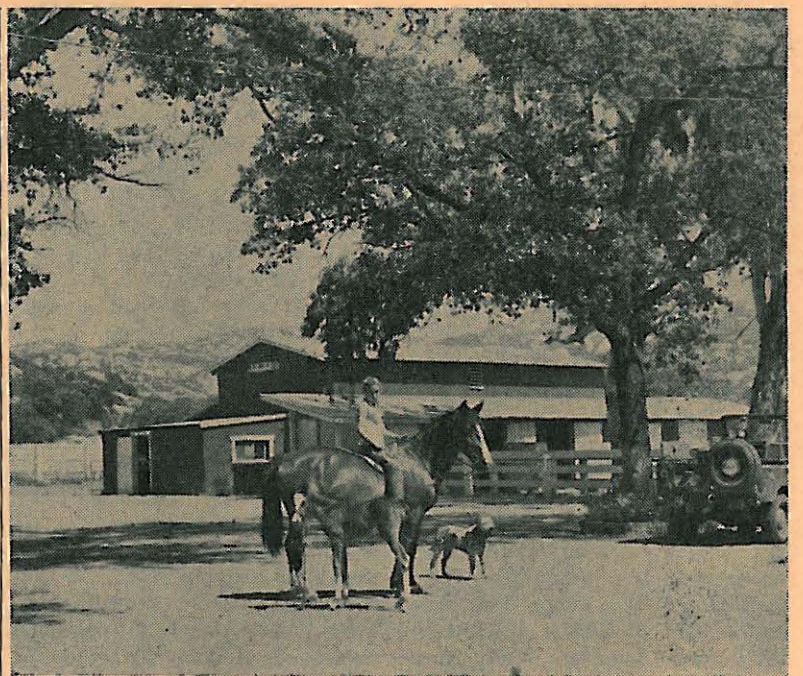

Other business at the meeting this week included the appointment of Al Hinkle as chairman of a committee to investigate the type of brochure to be published by the Chamber. September 11 was the date set for the annual meeting of the Chamber of Commerce, at which meeting new officers will be elected.

Harry Snashall

Passes

Word has come from London, England of the death of Harry Snashall, the nice little Englishman who made his home at Sky Mesa Ranch for the past five years. Harry was not known to many local people but those who knew him liked him very well.

He leaves his widow in their former home town, Gravesend, Kent. He died in Guy's Hospital, London, too ill for the surgery he was scheduled to have had.

HORSES! HORSES! HORSES!

By MARGARET LOWTHIAN

Marsha Manning, age 11, started saving up her pennies at age 4 to buy herself a horse. About two years ago she purchased the nice mare, Red Wing, from the Daley ranch for the sum of $100.00. Since that time Red Wing has produced two colts for Marsha, the one born last year was sold for $60 as a weanling, proving that Red Wing is a sound investment for this young business woman.

The colt born this spring is a son of the illustrious Ahlrin, son of Stage Hand. He is a handsome youngster, and the ranch hopes that he has combined the talents of his father with the cattle sense of Red Wing. This aged mare is the best working horse at Winnetka, and Marsha uses her to help bring in the cattle.

Marsha's interest in horses started at age four when she started drawing pictures of horses. Today she is an accomplished artist with horses still her main subject.

Mrs. Edith Bishop of Harbison Canyon Road can be seen these days riding her good Appaloosa gelding along the Alpine roads and trails. She is getting him in condition for riding at Cuyamaca this summer by working him on short rides. Edith estimates that he is about 20 years old. He is still going strong, partly thanks to the excellent care he has received. For many years he has been a top trail horse for Edith, and she has been particularly careful of his wind by not running him up and down hills; and of his legs and hoofs, as a riding horse is only as good as his legs and feet. It is always a pleasure to see this well colored Appaloosa on the trails and recognizing his wonderful ability as a fine trail horse.

Yesterday a group of riders from the Wednesday Riders Club trailed their horses into Alpine to the George Archer place on Eltinge Drive. Three of the local children joined the group for a trail ride from Archers, through Palo Verde to the California Riding and Hiking Trail, and up it to the Willows. They picnicked under the big oaks at the Willows, and returned to the Archers by the same route.

The riders were Marvel Kling and her granddaughter, Susie Cooper, Meryl Brown, Irene Brauer, Dan Young, Byrnie Gray, and Carl Short. The local children were Lisa Pierce, Dennis Pierce, and the Archer's grandson, Donald Archer.

Harold Archer of El Cajon, son of the George Archers, has been riding with the Wednesday Riders, and invited them to come to Alpine to ride. Harold was unable to join the group this week. The group so enjoyed their ride that they plan

Johnsons Celebrate 37th Anniversary

The Fourth of July and their 37th wedding anniversary which fell on the 3rd of July, were the dual reasons for a gala party given on the 4th by Mr. and Mrs. H. H. (Connie) Johnson at their home on Victoria Drive.

For the occasion Mr. Johnson made a pit barbecue of 24 pounds of beef while Connie fixed all the trimmings for about 32 guests, friends and relatives. Among those enjoying the feast and the fun in the Johnson's patio were Mr. and Mrs. Ted Keeler of San Diego; Mr. and Mrs. Richard Keeler and four children of Spring Valley; Mr. and Mrs. Don Keeler and two children of Poway; Mrs. Verna Bishop and daughter, Coleen, of Alpine and son, Clive, of National City; Mr. and Mrs. Lee Riggs and three children; Mr. and Mrs. Bob Wilson, and Mr. Van Loo, all of Alpine; Mr. and Mrs. Sam Coffman of Clairemont; Miss Deanna Langley of Pacific Beach, Chet Kereluk of El Cajon, and the Johnson's son, Steve, and his family. The Johnson's confessed to being very tired after the event, but said it was well worth the effort.

and accepted. Mrs. Cooper has accepted a position with the Santee School District to begin on July 12. The Board authorized the District Superintendent to employ a secretary to fill the vacancy created by Mrs. Cooper's resignation.

The principals and teachers whose contracts are ratified are: Mark Kirby, Leo Ryan, Helen Crawford, Shirley DeLong, Patricia Isom, Nell Johnson, Marian Kilariski, Elizabeth Lab, Mary Jane Legler, Ruth Meier, Clifford Owens, Elizabeth Setser, Mary Lou Shoemaker, Myretta Snyder and Lily Swenson.

The Board adjourned the meeting to meet again on Monday, July 22, to review the District Handbook which had been prepared by a special committee composed of members of the teaching staff and members of the School Board during the past school year.

Butter and eggs, cherry pie, Chinese watermelon, egg fruit, hog peanut, horse sugar, Indian potato, corn salad, little pickles, marmalade box are all common names of flowers.

George Campbell of South Grade Road, left Wednesday by air with four men friends from San Diego to visit Wm. Evans in Acapulco. The men are old time friends and this jaunt is an annual one when the men gather at the Mexican home for a stag party. On other occasions Mr. and Mrs. Campbell have both often been guests of Mr. and Mrs. Evans. It's a wonderful place to visit, Mrs. Campbell says. Mr. Campbell will be gone two or three weeks.

Commander and Mrs. John Gault have as their house guests, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Truman and daughter, Linda. Formerly of El Cajon, the Trumans now live in Mount Vernon, Missouri.

Commander Gault, recently retired from the U. S. Navy, is happily employed selling Oldsmobiles with the Tipton Company in La Mesa.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Wilson and their family all met at the home of their son Stanley in La Mesa. Stan has a pool and nice cabana where the family had a very pleasant Fourth of July picnic and swim. Mava made one of her delicious berry cobblers for the lucky feasters.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Funk have had word from their daughter, Patricia Ann, who has joined her husband Richard Cannon, U.S.A.F., in Japan. She finds the Orient interesting, Bea Funk says, but having only just arrived has not told them much about it, as yet.

Mrs. Wallace Coppeck was hostess to the Fortnightly Bridge Club which meets in members' homes every two weeks, for luncheon and play. Present were Mrs. Clarence Stearns, Mrs. Dallas Lore, Mrs. Harry Colby, Mrs. Homer Spear, Mrs. Nettie Mack, Mrs. Paul Clay and the hostess. Mrs. Stearns will entertain the club at its next meeting.

Another card club which meets once a month will be entertained next week by member Mrs. Willard Hays at her home. Players are Mrs. John Vitalich, Mrs. George Butcher, Mrs. Carl Schweiss, Mrs. H. H. Johnson, Mrs. F. W. MacInnis, formerly of Alpine now of Vista, Mrs. Marcus Schaeffer, and Mrs. Wm. Smith, formerly of Alpine, now living in Escondido.

Mrs. Hays entertained on the Fourth of July with a patio dinner, four couples, the men of which work with her husband at the San Diego Naval Station in San Diego. Present were San Diegans Mr. and Mrs. John Crittenden, and Mr. and Mrs. Holden Brock, and Alpiners, the A. L. Moores.

On Saturday evening, July 6th, Mrs. Hays entertained her birthday dinner club with another patio supper. This happened to be the birthday's of the Hays' son Bob, and of Naomi Dowdy. Guests were, the Dowdys, George and Naomi, Lt. Comdr. and Mrs. John Tanner, and Bob's wife Marti. The Tanners are leaving soon for duty with the U. S. Nav in Morocco.

DEERHORN VALLEY

By ROY WALLIN

This Friday will mark one of the more important meetings of the Deerhorn Valley Civic Club. The meeting will be held at 8:30 p.m. at the Lodge. Jim Wolfe, the club's president, announced that Mr. Taylor of the county's Engineering Department will be the featured speaker on an issue vital to all the land-owners in our community; namely, the preliminary surveying, straightening and reconstruction of Honey Springs Road from Bratton Valley to the Mother Grundy Truck Trail cut-off. We strongly urge all our community members to be present.

Pattie Boyd of our Valley, and recent graduate of Monte Vista High School, started work this past Monday as a Trainee Operator in the Traffic Department of the telephone company in Las Vegas, Nevada.

"Diamond" Jim and Frances ("Giggles") Welker, and the children paid a surprise visit to Deershorn over the long 4th of July weekend. The heat and sand of Vegas made our climate here look purty danged good!

Bob Snyder and Eva Strayer played hosts to a group of amateur radio operators in an international "Ham" hookup exercise conducted in conjunction with Civil Defense authorities.

"Freddie," Tom Wiggins' 3-year-old gelding, conducted a "one-hoss" campaign last week against being replaced by the automobile. He dutifully chewed the hood ornament off Jim Hicks' Sprite, and firmly implanted his hoof several times on the hood . . . enuf "horsing around," Freddie!

the International Showtime as one key element.

Equally as important were the new features, such as the moon-landing display, and the junior fair exhibition, the perfect weather, and the newly inaugurated "student's day," Jones said.

Five new records, besides the attendance, were set. Total attendance at the grandstand shows approximated 90,000, entries hit a new high of 22,000, premiums distributed to exhibitors totalled $127,000, the junior auction produced an all-time top price of $5 per pound for the Grand Champion Lamb of the Show, and student's day set a record for regular weekday attendance of 45,045, on July 3.

"It's hard to see how we can make next year's fair better, but that will be our goal," Jones concluded.

Interested in an expanding and rewarding field of social work? In a recent survey conducted by the American Foundation for the Blind, it was noted that there was a dire shortage of qualified personnel in work for the blind.

was built about 1948, services were gradually transferred from the old church to the new chapel in the Academy. Within a year or so the old church was closed and retired.

On occasion it is still used, as when about six years ago, some of the girls from the 8th grade graduating class at the school, cleaned the place up and persuaded their elders to allow them to hold graduation exercises in it.

There is now talk of moving the building to the Academy grounds where it will be preserved and cared for as the first and only Protestant church ever to be built in the valley.

AID TO TRAVEL

According to the American Foundation for the Blind, Western Michigan University and Boston College are two institutions of higher learning that have initiated a program in peripatology. It is designed to develop professionally trained instructors to teach modern travel techniques to blind people.

OPEN TO PUBLIC—Visitors to the July 13 open house at General Dynamics/Astronautics, San Diego, will see Atlas and Centaur space vehicle production lines, a manned space station under development, simulated rendezvous of spacecraft in orbit, and many other marvels of the future. The joint Air Force, National Aeronautics and Space Administration, and General Dynamics affair will mark five years of progress since the plant was dedicated. The monument above is symbolic of the 129 Atlas missiles now on station across the nation. A space launch vehicles version of the Atlas successfully boosted astronauts John Glenn, Scott Carpenter, Walter Schirra, and Gordon Cooper into orbit.

ALPINE GARDENER

By JEAN McCULLOUGH

In case, with the arrival of hot weather, your garden may look a little wilted and you might feel like giving up on the irrigating you have to do. Take a trip to the nursery and look around for junipers. There are so many varieties that will fill your need to fill a spot or two where blooming plants are fading. If it's a low growing type you need, there are the Tamarix prostrate and the Wilton Carpet prostrate which would spread a low carpet of green and the wonderful part about junipers is that they demand so little care and no special soil needs.

There is the Meyer juniper, medium height of irregular type growth which would be a nice foundation specimen, the Holly-wood twisted juniper, the Armstrong, the Pfister, these last ones all medium shrubs and can be planted anywhere.

The Abelia is a very nice shrub which stays green the year round. It is hardy and has small white or pink flowers that give off a pleasing woodsie smell. Then there is the Plumbago, a spreading type shrub also evergreen and is covered with a cloud of light blue blossoms a good part of the year. It is subject to frost but with a little pruning, it will bounce back.

In case you are planning a vacation and are worried as to what to do about some of your choice potted plants, here is a tip that has just come to my attention.

Get a container a little higher than your pots of plants. Group them around the container which you fill with water, take some lengths of wick about 18 inches or so long, insert one end in the water and the other end into the soil of the pots of plants. For a two weeks' supply, allow one quart of water for every two six-inch pots. This should keep the plants from drying out too much. Try putting the plants in as cool a place as you can, good luck with your plants and have a nice vacation.

COKE'S KITCHEN

Good cooks, most of the time, run in families. These recipes, this week, have been given to the "Kitchen" by a sister, living in Southern California and a brother, living in the northern part of our State. Although they are miles apart, they still maintain their interests in special dishes to serve to their family and friends.

I was tickled to receive these vegetable recipes because so often you are inclined to fix the usual "run of the mill." The vegetables used in these recipes, although old stand-bys, are more delicious dressed up a bit. Hope you enjoy them.

BROCCOLI PARMESAN

- 1 bunch fresh broccoli
- 3 tablespoons butter or margarine
- 2 tablespoons minced onion
- 3/4 tsp. salt
- pepper to taste
- 1/2 tsp. marjoram
- 1/2 tsp. dry mustard
- 3 tablespoons flour
- 1 chicken bouillon cube
- 2 1/2 cups milk

1/2 cup grated parmesan cheese
Cook broccoli in boiling, salted water until almost tender (about 20 minutes). Drain and arrange in shallow baking dish. Melt butter in saucepan. Add onion and saute until tender. Blend in seasonings and flour. Add bouillon cube and milk. Cover over medium heat stirring constantly until mixture thickens and comes to a boil. Add cheese and stir until melted. Pour sauce over broccoli—sprinkle with paprika and about two tablespoons additional parmesan cheese. Bake 375 degrees for 20-25 minutes or until browned.

ZUCCHINI SPECIAL

- 5 medium zucchini squash
- 1 large green pepper
- 1 large onion
- 2 cups stale bread crumbs
- 1/2 tsp. sweet basil
- 1/2 cup grated sharp cheese
- 1/3 cup salad oil
- Salt and pepper to taste

Grind zucchini, green pepper, onion, bread crumbs and basil together. Add remaining ingredients. Bake in buttered casserole at 350 degrees for 45 minutes.

Grossmont College To Have Busy Summer

Two hundred and seventy-six returning students have enrolled for summer courses at Grossmont College and new students number 156, according to the admissions office. Dean Laurence Coons, admissions officer, warns that prospective students must have verification of polio immunization with them when they apply for registration.

A new two-year program in dental assisting will be inaugurated at the college this fall. First year curriculum will include an introductory course in dental assisting and intensive laboratory work in dental science. Practical courses and work experience will be offered in the second year when the college has moved to its new campus in Fletcher Hills.

Women and men of the college district are urged to contact the admissions and guidance office at the College soon for details on enrollment in the program. The curriculum has been designed and approved by the Grossmont College curriculum committee, the San Diego Chapter of the American Dental Association, and the Grossmont College Board of Trustees.

In addition to having the largest ice cream plant west of the Mississippi, Southern California is the largest cottage cheese and butter-milk producer.

and earl yin the evening there will be Vesper Services led by Rev. Floyd French. Everyone is invited to join with this group for this family fun day. For further particulars call Leona Buell, 445-2235.

Ruth Scott and Alice Doering returned Monday from a lively vacation from all reports. They visited Ed and Barbara Betterton at Topaz, Lake, Nevada, just over the border, for a week, then on July 2nd they drove to Lake Tahoe and then around to Sparks, Nevada, for a "double" birthday dinner for Alice and Ruth. They particularly enjoyed the evening in Sparks where Eddie Peabody, Peter Lind Hayes and Mary Healy were featured on the program. They then spent several days in Los Angeles and had dinner in a lovely French restaurant Saturday night. They wandered through Olvera Street and took in a fine floor show while there.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Ochoa drove down from Los Angeles with the girls and are spending a week as houseguests of Alice Doering.

Bob and Claudia Scott and their two little ones spent the week with Bob's parents, Wayne and Tinnie Scott. While there, they all drove out to spend the day with Eva (Scott) and Ralph McGuffie in Campo.

On the 4th, Wayne and Tinnie visited friends in Imperial Beach and then took in the modified races in El Cajon which were attended by a record breaking crowd.

Understand that Vincent Betscher and Freddie Osley were visiting in the canyon over the holidays but couldn't get details. Have the feeling that it would have been a "canyon" reunion if we could have gotten all the out-of-town visitors together at one time.

Shirley Wharff received a lovely diamond bedecked watch from her ever-lovin' Henry on their 11th anniversary, July 4th.

She's also pretty excited because her son, Ed Rashleger, may drive in with his new bride any day now. On Saturday, the 6th, he was married to Miss Linda Missen of San Francisco. They will reside in San Francisco where they are both employed.

If any of you are in El Cajon next Saturday, the 13th, be sure and stop by the front of the Uni-mart Store. The Harbison Canyon Scout Mothers are having a Bake Sale from 9:30 'til 3:30 and would appreciate your patronage.

JAMUL

By BOBBI GILBERT
Mr. Dan McEwen, resident of Jamul for 17 years, passed away June 27, 1963.

The Daschues of Proctor Valley Road are proud parents of a baby girl named Diane.

This past week at the Del Mar County Fair, the following 4H children from Jamul received these honors in Beef Showmanship: Kay Benington, second; Jim Chapple, third; Gary Gilbert, fourth; Bobby Thompson, sixth.

Those receiving blue ribbons for fat steers were Jim Chapple, Kay Benington.

In lambs, Steven DeFrate, Ronnie Mangels received a trophy for his champion dairy goat; Paul Kistrup received a trophy for his breeding lamb.

Jamul's judging team won a first place trophy for judging in the junior division and seventh place in their exhibit booth.

The 4H of Jamul will have a picnic in the Grove to turn in their record books to complete their projects for this year.

The St. Pius X Church of Jamul, is having their first country pit-barbecue and gala festival on Sunday, July 21, from 12 noon until 8 p.m. There will be many attractions and fun for all.

MOTHER GRUNDY

By OLIVE WOOLDRIDGE

The El Cajon Farm Bureau Center is holding their annual barbecue for members and their friends on the evening of July 18. They will gather at 6 o'clock and eat at 7. For information, one should call Burton Bryant in Jamul.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. McNutt celebrated their 32nd wedding anniversary with friends by having dinner at the Bahia. This is the same place they celebrated their 25th anniversary. We would like to wish them many more happy anniversaries and compliment them for their success.

Folks on the Mother Grundy Truck Trail would like to welcome their new neighbors, Mr. Duane Campbell, his wife Laura and their two teen age daughters, Darlene and Marilyn. The two girls go to college back east, so they won't be around much during the school year, but we hope to get better acquainted before the summer is over.

Dick and Gerry Ambrose recently returned with their children, Gray and Royce, from a delightful fishing trip south of the border. It was a five day trip to Kino Bay which is 68 miles toward the Gulf of California from Hermosilla in Baja California. Gerry says the water was hot and the fish seemed to like it that way for there were many of them there. She said they saw lots and lots of sailfish among the hosts of fish in the Gulf, that it was hot, and that it was a lot of fun.

John Gregory of Dulzura came along on our trip to the Colorado River. We took the youngest children, Kathy, Marsha, Bill, Davey and Jesse, along with John and Michael Broido who is boarding with us for the summer. The fish over there didn't like the hot weather so much but the kids took over the river and swam all day. From there we moved up into the mountains and enjoyed the more moderate weather and hike up Stone Wall Peak.

Among the prizes brought home from the Del Mar County Fair was a first place for Mrs. Ed Leonard for her glasswork. She does some fascinating things with glass. I haven't seen very much of it but what intrigued me most was the process of melting old bottles in her kiln to form ashtrays and such into unique shapes.

On Monday night, July 8, the board of the Jamul Las Flores School met and picked out six possibilities for the new superintendent out of 40 applications presented to them. These six will be interviewed on Saturday, July 13, and the decision about their choice will come sometime next week.

MT. LAGUNA

By KATHY McMANUS

July 4 brought a lot of fun to Mt. Laguna. After the Ice Cream Social the teen-agers organized a dance at the Pine House Slab. Sue Stuart provided for the entertainment with records and record player. Many visitors from the campgrounds and cabins were in attendance.

Bob Stuart is one of many in the surrounding area who is home with the mumps. We hope he will get to feeling better soon.

Square Dances were held at the Pine House Slab July 5 and 6. The dancers were the Star Lighters from Yuma; Stoggy Miller was the caller. Stoggy, and his wife, Besie, are old friends who have visited us many times in the past summers.

Communion Service will be held at the Mt. Laguna Community Church on July 14. All are welcome to come and take part in the Lord's Supper.

The Robert Shearers are moving. They will be leaving Mt. Laguna on July 15. Their new home will be on Corte Madera Road in Pine Valley. We will surely miss them.

Bill Jones and Terry McEvoy of Mt. Laguna attended the Ramona Rodeo and tried their hand at riding the broncs. Bill broke his arm when he was thrown off of the horse. He was taken to Escondido Hospital, there he had surgery and had his arm set.

The Harold Johnson's and their four lovely daughters are up for the summer. They are from Cal-exico, where they make their winter home.

Another family that are up for the summer are the John Cook's and their eight children. They make their winter home in El Centro.

We are very nappy to see so many familiar faces, and are glad that they will share our summer months.

Pine Valley

By AMY N. HARVEY

Mr. and Mrs. Hyder, who have successfully operated the Bible Conference grounds (located on Pine Creek Road), for the last three years, under the auspices of Independent Fundamental Churches of America, will be leaving this fall for a much needed vacation.

The summer months at the camp grounds are busy ones, as groups of young people from various churches move in and out. Starting the 6th of July until the 13th the Juniors will be having fun there, enjoying the activities this wooded area has to offer. A few are swimming, crafts, hobbies, shuffleboard, ping pong. This goes along with the Bible study period.

The Conference grounds are surrounded by the natural beauty of beautiful pine trees. The leaders have permanent homes situated on the grounds. Large dormitories dot the area to accommodate the guests, also kitchens and dining rooms.

They plan to have the grounds open the year 'round in the near future.

While the Hyderys are on leave Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Foster will take over for them. These two young people have dedicated their lives to the welfare of younger folks. Doug and Kathy came here from Whittier three months ago. He was born in Oklahoma and was assistant minister in Minnah Church Youth Work for five years. He spent three years at Bialu College, majoring in Bible and Christian Education.

Kathy is from West Virginia, although she has spent most of her life in Vista, California. Before her marriage she was a dental assistant, also an instructor in horse-back riding. Kathy will be in charge of the Conference grounds office. They both realize it is a big challenge with lots of responsibilities. But after meeting these two people I feel they will be fully capable of handling the job.

Mr. and Mrs. Max Belovich attended a family reunion in San Fernando on the 23rd. Along with 40 other guests were Mr. and Mrs.

Martin Lock from San Diego and Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Bailey from National City. Mr. Bailey is the National City firechief.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles George entertained Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hatch and Patricia Hatch, from Ann Arbor, Michigan, over the holiday. Mrs. George's sister and her brother-in-law Mr. and Mrs. James Jeck and Mr. and Mrs. Donald Petersen and their son Dennis, from San Diego along with Mr. and Mrs. David Petersen from Cameron Forestry Station joined in the occasion of celebrating the double birthday for Mrs. Donald Petersen and her son, whose birthday falls on the fourth of July. On Sunday the George Elbens and son Ben from Anaheim joined in the festivities.

Visitors from far and near continue to arrive to gladden the hearts of friends and relatives alike. The very latest ones are from the east, from Billerica, Massachusetts. They are the house guests of Dick and Honey Wellband, and are their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Franz and their four children. They left Billerica June 30th stopping along the way to enjoy the national parks. They plan to be here about two weeks.

Roxie and Wanna Stewart are happy in having a college chum of Wanna's staying at their place, from Corona Del Mar, Charlotte Clark arrived last Friday and will stay until the last of this week or longer.

Over the weekend Mr. and Mrs. Gratus Roe also had out-of-town guests as well as out of state. From San Diego came Mrs. Haughawout and from Tucson came the Ray Lewis's.

The community club held its monthly meeting the first Saturday in the month. Mr. Pingley, the president, stressed the importance to the owners of property in the area that now is the critical period for fire and all of its hazards and that it is a "must" to have the area cleaned of weeds and brush. He pointed out that most of the residents have already taken the necessary precautions but there are still a few that have not heeded the warnings and that it may become necessary to take action if the property owners do not take the steps to rid their place of hazardous brush and weeds after the second notice in writing has been ignored. Among other things taken up in the meeting was the necessity of securing fire permits for camp fires and to burn brush.

The new officers to be installed next month were voted upon, and elected were Albert Daniels, President; Jerry Bilyeu, Vice-President. Muriel Utt was re-elected as secretary and Mrs. Paul Hatter as treasurer. The directors will be: Bob Kemp, Jim Bird, Dick Wellband, Art Preston and Maisy Houck.

After the business meeting a happy singing fiesta took place. With Bess Warne doing the honors at the piano and Jean Major, Edith Ferguson and Jim Warne leading the singing. Host and hostess for the evening was Maisy and Norman Houck.

We are happy to be able to tell you that Alaine Strand is over the mumps, but sorry that Jane Perna has contracted chicken pox.

A few weeks ago we told you that Vesta, the daughter-in-law of the Ed Giesbrechts, was in the hospital undergoing a major operation. At this time it is nice to be able to say that she is fine and spent the weekend with her husband James and three children with James' parents in Pine Valley.

Don Wooldridge of Winnetka Ranch discovered that he was in the picture recently published in this column of the horse show in 1948 at the Elm Tree Farm. Olive says she didn't recognize Don, but he knew he was there, and found that he was right in the center of the scene.
