SWIMMING PUPILS OF TWO-WEEK TERM GRADUATE AT SHADY ROCK

The Alpine Youth Center sponsored swimming class held the past two weeks at Shady Rock Ranch pool was graduated last Friday by teacher Mary K. Bousquet. Fifty children between the ages of 2 and 14 years of age participated in the classes.

Mrs. Bousquet, who volunteered her services, divided the group into four sections according to age and swimming ability. She gave them a very thorough course in the art of handling themselves in the water. This included diving in some groups. The lessons were given daily and most of the children remained at least for a short while after the conclusion of the teaching sessions for practice in the pool.

Each Tuesday all summer the pool is opened to the Alpine Youth from 1 to 4 p.m. under sponsorship of the Youth Center. The young swimming students will thus be able to keep in practice and perfect what they have learned in the two-week course.

INTIMATE GLIMPSES

By BEA LA FORCE

Well, this is the last straw! Or maybe I should say the last sniff. My favorite scouring powder has been perfumed. It's been on the cleaning shelf in my family ever since I can remember. My mother and my grandmother considered it downright immoral to use any other brand and it once had a nice sort of cleanser smell to it. Slightly boraxy and a bit caustic. It smelled like a cleanser should, giving the conviction that it could scour the pots and pans, and the sink and bathroom shining clean. Things smelled fresh and clean, too. But this perfume that's been added takes all this away. You scour with something that smells like bath powder and you just can't get the right feeling about it. It seems to do the work all right, but the old conviction is gone. When you've finished at the sink there's a boudoir smell about the kitchen. Doesn't seem decent somehow.

The dish washing detergents all smell cosmetic, too. The perfume lingers in spite of careful rinsing. You can smell it on the cups when you drink your tea. The laundry powders have lost their virtue, too. They all smell like they're trying to romance the washing machine, to glamorize the

Accident Causes Power Failure

Low voltage and then total darkness in Alpine last Saturday night was the result of an accident which occurred at Marshall and Eltinge Roads at 9:50 p.m.

According to the Highway Patrol investigating officer, a car owned by Mike Merrill and driven by Henry C. Bohannon, 16, went out of control and struck and snapped a power pole guy wire causing a power failure. It then hit a palm tree in the backyard of the Thomas Dally residence at 1428 Marshall Road and halted after shearing off a corner of the house.

The youth, an Alpine resident, was cited for hit and run property damage.

Security Bank Gives Report On Business

Southern California's business activity continued at record levels, reaching another new high during the month of July, M. Ross Mallette, manager of Security First National Bank's Alpine branch, reported today.

As in previous months, strong advances in real estate sales paced the economic uptrend. The local economy is operating at a level of more than seven percent over the corresponding period of last year, Mallette said.

Bank check clearings also registered substantial gains during July, while building and construction activity and department store sales dipped slightly below their record highs set in June.

As of the week ending July 26, Security Bank's business index stood at 133.4 (preliminary), compared to the June reading of 132.7, Mallette stated.

The employment picture in the Southland continued optimistic. As of June, the latest month for which figures are available, employment in the 14-county area totaled approximately 3,897,000. This represents an increase of 43-

The Church is adding a large assembly room to the front of their present building and new restrooms at the rear. The work is being done by a San Diego firm and is expected to be completed in the near future according to Pastor Eva Bailey.

A large four-bedroom home is under construction for Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Jimenez on a 3½ acre parcel which is a part of the old Dr. Mercer property on Tavern Road. The contractor is the D. F. Morrison, Inc., of San Diego, and they estimate completion date about October 1st. Upon completion of their new home Mr. and Mrs. Jimenez and their three children will move to Alpine. Mr. Jimenez is an accountant and is now working for Dr. Howard Ball.

A fabulous large 12-room home is being built by the Chetla Construction Company of El Cajon on Palo Verde Ranch for Mr. and Mrs. Earl Howell and their two children. The lot is a handsome corner lot overlooking the lake at Palo Verde. The home will be completely surrounded by raised decks, and every room will have a sliding door opening onto a deck. This home will be a beautiful showplace in Alpine upon completion, which date is not yet

Fire In Deerhorn Valley

Relaxing in her home at approximately 6 p.m. last Thursday, Mrs. John Knapik noticed an oppressive heat which alarmed her and sent her scurrying through the house until she noticed the ceiling of the back porch aflame. Her first thoughts were of the safety of her children; then, of extinguishing the flames. Low water pressure in the hoses thwarted efforts to halt the fire racing through the wooden structure. John Knapik, returning home from a day's work, cleared the rise of the road to be greeted by a sight he'll not soon forget—the roof of his home aflame. He rushed home to help his family, then attempted to call the Forestry fire-fighters on a neighbor's phone which unfortunately was out-of-service due to being a party on his own line. Roy Meyers, a property owner in Monte Robles Estates, drove down to Deerhorn Valley Lodge and telephoned the fire alarm into the Forestry Service, La Mesa Office, at 6:23 p.m. Another call was placed to the Lyons Valley Forestry Station at approximately 6:30 p.m. to confirm that help was on the way.

Units of the Forestry Service and from Camp Minnewawa arrived on the scene at about 6:45 p.m. and took charge of the operations. In the meantime the Knapiks had been able to salvage only a few items of clothing and an upholstered chair—all their other personal belongings and furnishings were lost.

Although the house was a total loss, no loss of life or injuries were sustained, and the fire-fighters saved all the outbuildings and confined the fire from spreading throughout the country side. Neighbors on the scene to lend a hand included Tom Wiggins, Jack Redmon, Joe Eaton, Win Sellers, the Fauts, the Walkers, and the

EAST WIND

BY LARRY

The day was just plain hot. The smell of mown hay hovered strong over the mountain meadows. Insects were buzzing, making whoopee, doing whatever. For the Maker had blessed us with a hot spring day.

The birds and the bees. Yep, there you have it. The bees.

For this particular early June day is just so happened that old man George Ritchie comes puttering by in his old Ford Model T. Decked out for the trip, he was. Down into Borrego. George kept bees. Had stand ever which where. He wanted some help in extractin', he said. What were we doing? "Nothing," we said. And how's about going along?

Slapping some bedding in the back, we hopped in. To be gone about a week. What a week! Down the old Banner Grade. George had bees down there somewhere. Don't remember just where it was. But he got out his gear and looked over his stands. While we stood well back. Planned on giving them there bees plenty of room, we were.

This was all back in 1919. The road to Borrego was something. Crossed that valley in due time. Put-putting up one wagon road after another. We guessed George knew where he was going. We sure didn't.

Them days Borrego had little to recommend it. A good place to be from. And man, after a couple of days camping by George's bees, we sure were ready to be from there, fast.

Extracting honey is quite a stunt. First you put the frames in a sort of holder, lower the rig into a big tin drum, and start turning. A Rube Goldberg sort of gear speeds those whirling frames inside the drum and the honey comes out of the comb by gum, right now. Oozing down the sides of the tin.

C.A.P. Units At Deerhorn Valley

Alpine Civil Air Patrol Squadron 129 and National City Civil Air Patrol Squadron 83 held a joint bivouac at Capt. Donald Young's ranch in Deerhorn Valley last weekend. The commanding officer for the training mission was 1st Lt. C. M. English of the National City Squadron with Senior Member Hilda Naylor, commanding officer of the Alpine Squadron, acting as Executive Officer.

The cadets arrived at 6 p.m. Friday evening and immediately began clearing for their campsite. They set up tents, some quite large, and then ate the sack lunches they had brought. Each cadet had a 2-hour turn at guard duty. At 5:30 a.m. Saturday they turned out to clean their tents and grounds and then some before-breakfast drilling. They prepared their breakfast, cleaned up, and then had more drill practice, followed by classes. They hiked 3 1/4 miles over quite rough terrain to Honey Springs. After more classes they shared a potluck picnic lunch, followed by swimming until 5 p.m.

They hiked back to camp, prepared supper, cleaned up, after which a very strict inspection was held. They then trekked down to Deerhorn Valley Lodge for an evening of dancing. They shared the patio with the Mountain Star Twirlers square dance group and joined them as well as doing the twist and limbo.

The commanding officer of Squadron 83, Major R. B. Ferguson, and his family paid a visit to the group during the festivities of the evening.

They arose at 6 a.m. Sunday and were presented a fifteen minute open air vesper service by Chaplain Van Horn of El Cajon. They then donned their work clothes and prepared breakfast, did k.p., and then more drilling. A test, followed by lunch, and then the cadets broke camp and prepared for the trip home.

He Mined For Air In 1901

LURAY, Va. (CFN) — T. C. Northcott was not one of America's famous inventors, but he was probably the coolest.

In 1901 Northcott lived in a house completely air conditioned from a hole in the ground.

Northcott, a heating and ventilating engineer, had his house built on a hill above Virginia's famous Caverns of Luray. He sunk a shaft into a cavern chamber and installed a 42-inch fan to suck cool underground air into every room of his house.

Keeping cool wasn't Northcott's only aim in mining 8000 cubic feet of air per minute. He had heard that air filtered through limestone was practically dust and pollen free—a good thing for a family of hay fever sufferers. Subsequent tests showed this to be true.

Ironically, it was a cool blast of air that led to the discovery of the Caverns of Luray.

For many years the local townsfolk took refuge from searing summer heat in a small cave in an area known as Cave Hill. In August 1878, three men who were exploring "the Hill" when they were suddenly enveloped in a refreshing breeze streaming from a fissure in the rock.

They enlarged the opening and lowered themselves into a huge underground cavern. There, by candlelight, the adventuresome trio gazed on what has come to be known as some of the most beautiful cave formations in the world.

A busy man, Northcott had little time to spend cooling off in the caverns. But if Northcott couldn't go to the cool air, the cool air would have to come to Northcott.

He built his large white frame mansion on a hill which formed the roof of one of Luray's cavern chambers. The entire caverns system consists of nearly three miles of passages opening on large rooms hung with colorful stalactites.

He had a five-foot wide shaft sunk from his backyard lawn into the ceiling of the cavern, 35 feet below. Over the top of the hole he built a housing for the fan and over that, he erected a shed. The shed was connected to his house by a 150-foot enclosed passageway.

Northcott then divided the passage into upper and lower ducts. Air drawn through the upper duct was warmed by the sun and used on chilly days. On sizzlers, cooler air was sucked through the lower duct directly from the cave.

Doll Museum At Frontier Land

Mrs. Lillian Morris, creator of the unique historical dolls in their authentic home settings, has moved her cases from Dinosaur Land in Alpine to Frontier Land over Dehesa Valley way.

In her new locatoin Mrs. Morris has an entire small building to herself for the display of her delightful creations. In the larger quarters at Frontier Land, she can display her entire collection and perhaps add a new one, she said.

There is no charge for viewing the dolls, and the public is invited to see them whenever Frontier Land is open.

The Civil Air Patrol and their officers have been frequent visitors on missions and bivouacs in Deerhorn Valley over the past few years and have invoked many favorable comments from the local residents concerning their conduct and general behavior.

NORTHCOTT MANSION

INTERIOR VIEW OF LURAY CAVERNS

Humidity was regulated in a large chamber in the basement of the house where air could be mixed from both ducts. From here the air went to every room in the house through smaller shafts.

In winter, the air was heated by steam coils placed at the base of each branch shaft.

Yet Northcott was as much interested in the quality of the cavern air as he was in its temperature. In addition to remaining at a constant dust and pollen free 54 degrees, the underground air contained fewer bacteria than a hospital operating room.

Many of the 350,000 visitors who pass the Northcott place each year on their way to the caverns are puzzled by the shed and passageway attached to the main house.

Some think it's an odd kind of chicken coop and others chuckle, believing it to be a clever way of getting to and from the outhouse on rainy nights.

All are usually surprised to learn that here in the rolling Virginia countryside once lived a man who loved cool comfort and did something about it a generation before city slickers ever heard of air conditioning.

Woman's Club To Baptist Church Vote On Topping Protests Decision

After considerable discussion among board members of the Alpine Woman's Club it was decided to defer the decision about the topping of the eucalyptus trees along the Victoria Drive easement and the removal of dead trees there, until the membership can have a chance to vote on the matter. This will be possible at the first meeting of the club on September 24th.

Said Mrs. H.W. Johnson, President, "We decided that, since this matter entails spending a considerable sum of money from the club treasury, it would be best to wait for discussion and a vote of the entire membership. We hope everyone turns out for this first important meeting of the club year."

Mark it down on your calendar, ladies. September 24 at 2 p.m. The bids for this tree work ran from $600 to $1,000.00 This would mean going into club savings account.

Hot Rod Show Scheduled

The International Hot Rod show is scheduled to open Friday evening, August 16, for a three day run in Balboa Park's Electric Building. It will feature more than seventy cars displayed recently in the Los Angeles International Custom Car and Boat show.

More than a hundred customized entries worth over one million dollars will make this the biggest hot rod show ever to be held south of Los Angeles. Featured will be Roth's Outlaw, three International Champions, seven National Champions, three World Record Holding Dragsters and an Indy 500 racer.

Stage entertainment will include Bobby Vernon, Hollywood's newest Folk Song sensation.

In protest to the recent decision by the Supreme Court that Bible reading and praying The Lord's Prayer in Public Schools are unconstitutional, the First Baptist Church of the Willows has formed a committee to "Keep God In American Heritage." According to the Pastor, the church sees this decision and the decision of June 25, 1962 as progressive steps toward the final goal of removing Christianity and Christian influence from the education of the nation's children for the purpose of destroying our essential Freedom of Religion.

In a business meeting of the church a recommendation of the Board of Deacons was accepted.

"The Board of Deacons officially opposes attempts being made to remove a consciousness of God, particularly from children and young people; specifically in banning the reading of the Bible and praying The Lord's Prayer in public schools, and in the attempt to remove "Under God" from the Pledge of Allegiance. The Board recommends that the church take whatever action it feels necessary to halt the current trend of Godlessness and restore Christian Principles to our Constitution."

As a result of the adoption of this recommendation, the Keep God In American Heritage was formed. At the present time this committee is distributing petitions for Christian people to sign and return so that the words "Under God" will not be removed from the Pledge of Allegiance, and "In God We Trust" will remain as a slogan of our coin and currency. The committee also urges Christian people everywhere to take a few minutes to write their Senators and Congressmen to protest these recent decisions and to state their desire to keep these two important phrases.

These petitions and letters are being sent to churches throughout the county.

Wait Until Next Year

It appears from statements made by some of the Legislators from San Diego County that ground work is being laid by the "Robinhoods" to bring up the County-wide tax for school purposes at the next session of the Legislature

In this year's session the Sheriffs won out over the Robinhoods and the rich school districts, this year, will not have to help support the poor school districts. But, it is rumored the Robinhoods are going to lay the ground work to convert some of the Sheriffs by dangling additional State aid for the school districts in their areas as inducement to vote for the County-wide tax.

It will be interesting to watch their political maneuvering.

INTIMATE GLIMPSES

suds and seduce the blueing. To combat this, I bought some borax the other day, and so help me, it's perfumed now too. Personally I like a good soapy smell in the wash house like fels naptha, the kind that doesn't leave any lingering scent in the sheets, the towels and things, but just a clean washed freshness.

Some people I know always have the coffee pot on and, it used to be when you went into their house you were greeted by the fragrance of hot coffee. To me this is their house smell more than it is other peoples. But now they've become addicted to a perfumed spray that makes their house smell like a busy funeral parlor. It makes me feel like tiptoeing around and speaking in a sorrowful tone of voice. It really does make me sad. For this once individual house has been mass-scented.

My aunt's house always smells of cloves. She is inordinately fond of the spice and uses it often. Not long ago I opened a present she sent to me and from it drifted a delicate scent of cloves bringing a fond picture of my relatives. I sure hope they don't start perfuming horse liniment. If they do I'll lose one of my dearest memories of grandpa. He used the stuff on his old horses and also on his own rheumatism. We got used to the smell and really, it wasn't so bad. All who knew grandpa feel a bit sentimental when they get a whiff of Simmons Liniment.

It's fine to be rid of the disgusting stinks, of course, but it's got so people seem to be afraid of every normal smell. Furniture polish is scented; floor wax is perfumed. Nothing but artificial sweet smells is allowable it seems. If you went blindfolded into a hundred different places, public and private, you could hardly tell them apart by the smell. It all came out of a similar spray can. This is a kind of deceit as well as boring. You can't guess what the neighbors had for dinner, or whether they've house broken the cat, or cleaned the bird cage. Every household odor is masked in cloying sweetness, including the nice smells—of fresh flower bouquets, of green growing plants, of cookies baking, dinner simmering in the kettle. Insecticides give perfumed death to bugs and make it easier for human beings to breathe deeply of the poison. You're just plain tricked. Your sense of smell, one of your most valuable pieces of equipments for detecting the little secrets of life among the natives, is defeated and denied its rightful education.

What's going to happen to our sense of smell if this raid on the nose continues? As they said about the bubonic plague in Old London—where will it end?

School Trustees

At the time that Mr. Day submitted his resignation a petition was presented to the Board, signed by a number of residents of Harbison Canyon and Galloway Valley, recommending the appointment of Mrs. Carolyn M. Palthe, who resides in Galloway Valley. At last Monday night's meeting Mr. Louis Landt who was active in the campaign prior to last spring's School Board election, suggested to the Board the name of Mr. Pike Meade who as a candidate in that election was given more votes for School Board member than any other candidate but the vote was split between votes for a two-year term and votes for a four-year term, which resulted in his not being elected to either position.

At last Monday night's meeting contracts were offered Mrs. Wilma Fordyce as secretary and Frances Walden and Elwood T. Haney for custodian positions. These persons are currently employed and the contracts were made effective as of July 1st of the current school year.

The Board also adopted a tentative bus schedule which they hope will provide for transportation for all of the pupils within the District and will eliminate the necessity of any pupils having to cross Highway 80.

The Board stated that there may have to be adjustments made in the bus schedule after school has started and the exact number and location of pupils has been determined.

The tentative bus schedule is published elsewhere in this issue. Parents are urged to review the schedule to become familiar with the route and time proposed for their children in the tentative bus schedule.

Editor:

Very few people in this community have any idea of how much time and energy the Board has spent within the past year in bringing the school program to its present promising stage. In view of this, we feel it is appropriate at this time to acknowledge a sincere debt of gratitude to Trustee Stuart Day, who has just resigned because he and his family are moving to San Diego.

While Stuart has been dynamic, he has always conducted himself with dignity, with sincerity of purpose, with gentlemanly respect for the rights of others. Only those who have been interested in matters pertaining to the school program can appreciate the service rendered this community by Stuart Day.

We want to be sure you know that we are proud of you, Stuart.

Respectfully,
Friends and Constituents
for Stuart Day

Goldfish Owners Warned Of Chlorine

The Descanso Park Water Company recently cleaned all its reservoirs in the water system. They also added new water mains to improve water service to customers.

Mr. George Walters, local Manager for the Company, issues the following warning to persons who are being served by the service. Whenever new mains are added, or any work is done in a water system that interferes with the flow of water, The San Diego County Health Department requires that upon completion of the work the system must be chlorinated.

Persons owning goldfish ponds, or fish ponds of any type, should draw water ahead and let it stand 24 hours for the chlorine to evaporate before filling the pond. Chlorine, although harmless to human beings, is very dangerous to fish.

Veterans Hospital For S. D. County

A 1,040-bed Veterans Administration Hospital facility has been approved by President Kennedy and now awaits approval by Congress. The hospital, which would be more than twice as large as the standard VA hospitals, could employ as many as 3,000 persons. The Veteran's Administration is expected to seek funds for the hospital in the 1964-65 budget.

Site for the hospital has not been named but it is believed that the new hospital would be built near the proposed University of California Medical School. This would indicate that Torrey Pines campus or the County Hospital in Hillcrest could be possible locations.

At present the nearest such facility is in Long Beach.

Ernest Azar Buys Alpine Property

The sale of one acre of commercial property on Highway 80 formerly owned by Forrest A. Wood of Tacoma, Washington, has been made to Mr. Ernest Azar. Mr. Azar purchased the property as an investment. The sale was negotiated by Bill Brown of Pierce Realty of Alpine.

Horse Show Committee be appointed immediately to obtain all the necessary information to enable the Board of Directors to establish a policy regarding future horse shows. A special meeting of the Board and the Horse Show Committee for the past show was set for Thursday evening, August 22, to discuss the recommendations.

Mr. Clyde Gilley, Secretary to the Board of Directors, reported on new stationery for the Chamber to include the use of the new emblem recently adopted by the Chamber.

A Nominating Committee consisting of Mr. Al Hinkle and Mr. Henry McKie were appointed to provide a slate for the annual election to be held at the regular meeting of the Chamber on September 11th. Five of the present Directors are up for re-election.

The question of a recreational activities program for the retired persons of Alpine was brought before the Board by Mrs. Collard of Shady Rock Ranch. The Chamber will review the situation to see whether such a program could be developed either at the Youth Center or some other location.

known. Mr. and Mrs. K. W. Claybaugh are building their new home at the corner of Foss Road and Arnold Way. It will be a two-bedroom house, with a carport breezeway dividing the house proper from a specially designed workshop where Mr. Claybaugh will pursue his hobby of building things. Mr. Claybaugh is a retired construction engineer, and after living all over the world, he and Mrs. Claybaugh chose Alpine for the ideal spot to spend their retirement years. Mr. Claybaugh designed their home himself and incorporated all the ideas for both his hobbies and those of Mrs. Claybaugh.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Whitt and their children plan to move into their new home on Victoria Drive in the Victoria Heights subdivision by September 1st. Their three-bedroom home is being constructed by Ron Riley and is very close to completion. The home is on the West side of Victoria Drive just above the Alpine Cemetery and has a magnificent view in all directions.

DEERHORN VALLEY

By ROY WALLIN

We're all saddened by what happened to John and Rose Knapik and their family a week ago. The fire just about wiped them out completely. The Deerhorn Valley Civic Club contributed $40 from their treasury after an emergency meeting of the directors last Friday. For those wishing to contribute further financially, there's a "kitty" down at the Lodge last weekend and this weekend. The Knapiks plan to move into Boyd's place this weekend. In discussing their needs with John, he expressed a need for clothing, bedding, furniture, linens, tools, kitchen-ware and utensils, etc. We might suggest that you rummage around the house and locate those items that are too good to throw away, but you'll never really use yourself; pack 'em in the car or pick-up and bring them down to Boyd's (Doc Wegee's) place any time after this Sunday. With regard to clothing, the Knapik family consists of John and Rose, a daughter, 8; and two sons, 15 and 19.

Let's all absorb the lessons taught by this fire, and further; realize, to some degree, that oftentimes, in times of dire need, when "the chips are down" your best friends are your neighbors and your Civic Club, leastwise, here in the back-country!

John Knapik and his family wish to extend a very sincere "Thanks" to his neighbors, community, and the Deerhorn Valley Civic Club for their efforts on their behalf, help and assistance (unfortunately a somewhat rare commodity nowadays!).

Perhaps this recent tragedy on the "Hill" might indicate the need to reactivate Frank Gute's "Volunteer Fire Department," once organized by the now defunct "Vigilantes," by our Civic Club.

The "Fall In's," "Right Face's," and "The the Rip Harch's" echoed through the valley again last weekend, with the Civil Air Patrol Squadrons from Alpine and National City conducting a training mission up on Don Young's place.

The Mountain Star Twirlers shared their square dancing last Saturday night at the Lodge with the C.A.P. cadets and officers, with a good time resulting for all. Ed Leonard, the caller, graciously called it a "party night" and donated his services.

A reluctant farewell (at least temporarily) to Birdie Boyd and her children, Larry and Linda. They'll be moving from our valley this weekend, and renting their place to the Knapiks. A "So long and we'll miss you-all!" from all of us.

"It's a small world!" was proved to Jim Wolfe last Sunday night at the Lodge when he ran into Mr. and Mrs. Carl Wayne whom he hadn't seen since 1935 — what's more, the Wayne's are neighbors of Jim's on Mother Grundy Truck Trail. In the ensuing conversation, it further developed that John Curry, a close friend of Jim's back in the 30's, is a property owner up on Monte Robles Acres.

Deerhorn Fire

 Wallins.

John Knapik stated he thought the source of the fire to be in the electrical wiring in the ceiling of the porch. However, this is unconfirmed. John, Rose, and the children have been staying at their daughter's home in Chula Vista temporarily until this weekend when they plan to rent the Boyds' place.

The house which was destroyed by the fire was one of the older structures in Deerhorn Valley, having been built in the early 30's by Mr. and Mrs. William Dennison.

The day following the fire, Mr. Walter Wolfe, President of the Deerhorn Valley Civic Club, called a meeting of the Board of Directors to outline and pass upon plans to assist the Knapiks. Jim presented a cash contribution from the club to John last Friday afternoon, and set the wheels in motion for a drive to collect clothing, cooking utensils, linens, bedding, etc. Roy Wallin, operator of Deerhorn Valley Lodge, Nalso set up a fund for further financial contributions from patrons, neighbors and friends.

Many "Monday morning quarterbacks" and "arm-chair generals" have and will voice their opinions on what should have been done, but the people involved acted as best they could dependent upon experience, emotions, knowledge, conditions, etc.; however, there are lessons to be learned here for all of us. First, call the fire-fighting services immediately. Second, throw the main power switch "off." Third, have a reservoir or tank of water, gravity-feed, to fight the fire. Fourth, eliminate potential fire sources in and around the home. Fifth, make the use and location of potential fire-fighting equipment and tools around the house common family knowledge. Last, but not the least important, insure your home and belongings adequately.

 drain the honey into five-gallon honey tins. Filled lots of them, we did. Two days hard work and we packed up, loaded up, headed back to Julian.

As we say. Had quite a load. So, it wasn't long before we hit something and busted the front engine hanger on the Ford. What to do? Fixed it, of course. Took some doing. With baling wire. More Fords were repaired with baling wire in that country than enough.

Starting up again, toward evening now. That was hot work, fixing the Ford. The old radiator was a little low on water. Heated up. We made it to a creek bottom where there was some water. The engine knocking told us we'd threw a con rod. So we stayed there a night and day. Got out and under. Propped up that old loaded down Ford with rocks. Took off the pan after draining the oil. It was a front bearing. Wouldn't you know? Couple pieces of harness leather it was we fitted for the bearing. Slapped the pan back on, poured in that awful stuff that George said was good oil. But there wasn't enough oil to take a chance on running that engine. So we added water to the oil. Some say a guy might short out the magneto doing this. Old-timers will know what we're talking about. The younger folks won't read this nohow. Why go on?

The short of all this fixing was we got up the Banner Grade, heavy load and all.

George Ritchie, bless his soul, gave us a five-gallon tin of honey for helping him out. Yep, we had honey on everything from then on out. Even used it in our coffee. And how's about hot biscuits and honey? Felt well repaid, we did, for that week's work.

George, well, he didn't have to take anything out for Social Security. And us, heck, we didn't have to pay any income tax.

What about that Ford? Far as we know, the baling wire held up the front end of that engine for the rest of the Ford's life. The water in the oil? That was bad. The garage man bewled us out as he scraped that emulsified oil out of the engine's inners.

"Oil and water," he said, don't mix so good." But it did out on the desert that day. Way back when.

LET WANT ADS WORK FOR YOU

ALPINE GARDENER

By JEAN McCULLOUGH

During the month of August you might well spend sometime in deciding what and where a lot of your new flowers and shrubs should be placed after having seen how your present garden looks.

You might want to venture out with a lot of different plants and shrubs or trees, like perhaps something you saw while on your vacation. Did you manage to collect anything different for that mystery garden you started last spring?

It's time now to prepare that bed for iris and you'll find many new varieties in the nurseries now and August is the month to select tuberous begonias, but be sure to provide them with shade and as much humidity as you can find in our dry climate. It is also time to prepare that bed for sweetpeas. Make sure you get the winter variety and plant them deep. The birdies love those tiny tender green morsels so protect them with strips of old window screening til they are up several inches.

In case you might need a tree or two for a new location and if you have room in your garden, here are a few suggestions and these are evergreen. For sheer toughness and tenacity you can't beat the olive in our climate. California pepper and the Brazilian pepper, then the Kafir plum, a smaller tree which bears small red tart fruit which is edible.

The old Southern magnolia is a favorite with everyone and there is the St. Mary's magnolia, a smaller tree which bears huge blossoms and last, but by no means least, is the St. John's bread tree or Carob which dates back into history long before California was ever heard of. It is spoken of frequently in the Bible and its pods were the "husks" referred to in the parable of the prodigal son. This tree grows 40 to 50 feet high, produces dense shade and its resists all manner of drought and thrives on sandy soil which should make it a prime contender for attention. Give it a try.

Top Matadors At Plaza El Tereo

Three, exciting, top Mexican matadors will be featured this Sunday, Aug. 18, at 4 p.m. in Plaza El Tereo, the downtown bullring, in Tijuana.

Luis Procuna, called the "Mexican Gypsy" for his colorful personal style, will demonstrate his art with the banderillas and muleta.

Alfredo Leal, the tall, dark torero of Arab extraction, will vie with Procuna in placing banderillas, and will display his classic style with the cape and muleta.

Humberto Moro, the complete artist in all phases of the "fiesta brava" will round out the card. Moro is making his first appearance this year at the downtown plaza.

The trio face six, huge bulls from the famous ranch of Torrecilla.

COKE'S KITCHEN

My question this week from the "Kitchen" was—How do you cook your favorite vegetable? Vegetables are delicious prepared various ways but once in awhile you wish for one just a little different.

The "Baked Deviled Eggs and Asparagus" might sound a little fancy for a family dinner but after you prepare it once, you'll fix it again, we're sure.

The Roy Tomlinson family of Spring Valley have three active children whose second nature these days is eating. They were not too fond of carrots until Mom discovered a most unusual way of preparing carrots which we would like to share with our many readers.

BAKED DEVILED EGGS and ASPARAGUS

Wash 2 lbs. of asparagus fresh or frozen. Cut in 1" pieces. Cook in salted water. Slice 10 hard boiled eggs lengthwise, remove yolks and mash. Blend 2 small cans of deviled ham, 1/2 tsp. Worcestershire Sauce, 1 tsp. grated onion, 3/4 tsp. dry mustard, 1 T cream, salt and pepper to taste. Fill egg halves with mixture. In saucepan, melt 6 T butter, 6 T flour, gradually add 3 cups milk stirring constantly until thickened. Add 3 cups cheddar cheese, 1/4 tsp. dry mustard, salt and pepper to taste. Stir until cheese is melted, put asparagus in bottom of shallow casserole, arrange deviled eggs on top, pour cheese sauce over top. Crush 1 cup corn flakes with 2 T melted butter and spread over top. Bake in hot oven 400 degrees, 20 minutes and top is brown. Good anywhere or anytime . . .

CARROTS SLICED JULIENNE

Very simple recipe, cut carrots in strips and instead of boiling in salted water, simply add 2 bullion cubes (beef) and gently cook. For a "pretty as a picture" vegetable dish, sprinkle a little parsley on top.

It's In The Library

By ELIZABETH C. WEST

Every week several new books are added to Alpine's collection. Here are three: "Portrait of An Artist With 26 Horses" by William Eastlake, an amusing and astonishing novel about the Southwest. "Gold Camp, Adler Gulch and Virginia City, Montana" by Larry Barsness, a brawling, rowdy story of prospectors in the 1860's.

"There's Yeast in the Middle East" by Willie Snow Ethridge, a lively description of travels through Iran, Egypt, Israel and Iraq. The author's husband was in charge of the Ford Foundation projects in the Mediterranean area and she accompanied him on his inspection tour.

The library is a cool place these hot summer days! Why not form the habit of dropping by Tuesday or Thursday from 1 to 5 and Saturday from 10 to 2.

Young members of the Summer Reading Club should turn in their folders this week; the deadline is August 20th. The Awards Meeting is to be held at 11 o'clock, Saturday, September 7, at Library Hall back of the El Cajon Library Building, 202 Lexington St. Winifred Bromball, author of several children's books, is the sponsor of the younger group in grades 1 to 4. Sam Hinton, scientist and folk song enthusiast, is the sponsor of the older children in grades 5 to 8.

some other Clerk, if he had one helping at the time, would call back to him, "Charlie how much are potatoes (or whatever the item was) today?" Charlie would reply, "Who is it?" On being told the name of the customer he set the price.

The stage driver in this picture is Albert Greenleaf, then just a teenage boy, son of the owner of the stage line at that time. Other drivers working about the same time, were Angel Smith, Jimmie Ames, and Paul Shuts. All are dead now except Greenleaf who lives in Japatul Valley. The western cowgirls sitting their horses so admirably, are two of the Hancock sisters, Anna, left, and Elizabeth, (Liz) right. They were old time settlers here from Oregon whose ranch used to adjoin Neil Galloway's. They had been here a long time when he arrived. Fabulous horsewomen, they did all their own ranch work led by Liz, who could also drive a team of horses to a plow or wagon with great skill. The woman beside the driver on the stage is unidentified, as is the photographer. Lost also are the identities of the passengers in the stage, and the event of the day which must have been special to rate a photograph. Unchanged is Mt. Viejas in the back ground. Is that an olive grove behind the fence?

DESCANSO

By ETHEL WHITE

Ted Polzin is in the El Cajon Valley Hospital recovering from an accident that happened Wednesday, August 7th. Ted was driving his Rockgas truck on the Sunrise Highway and due to the rain and slick road, the truck slipped into a bank. Ted suffered seven broken ribs, a fractured skull and many cuts and bruises.

Ted is in room 110 in the hospital.

The Leroux family from down Boulder Creek Road have just returned from a month-long trip to the east coast. They drove to Rhode Island to visit friends and relatives.

Several students from the Mountain Empire School District are planning to attend a cheerleading training session at the Tamarack Lodge at Big Bear the last week in August. They are Jamey Campbell, Judy Fullerton, Jane Richards, Arthur Clark, Carolyn Beal, Sue Blaylock, Ed Herbertson, Patsy Polzin and Cheryl Van Fleet. Groups from San Diego county have been attending these classes all summer.

The friends of Jackie and Mickey McCarthy wish to extend their sympathy in the death of their loved one. Bruce was known by many people in this area. His funeral was August 13th.

Evelyn Howell, Mountain Empire Area chairman of the Theatre Arts Foundation attended the "Day at the Races" luncheon Thursday at the La Valencia Hotel in La Jolla with other area chairmen to complete arrangements for the coming event, scheduled for October 26th at Caliente. Marie Wilson and Margaret stars of the current play "Fallen Angel" by Noel Coward were guests of honor at the sherry hour and luncheon.

Dulzura - Barrett Junction

By LAVERNE POWELL

Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Hunsberger had as their guests, Mr. and Mrs. John Russell and daughter Jayne, of Indianapolis, Indiana.

Mr. and Mrs. "Red" Holcomb had relatives to a family barbecue, honoring their niece's father, retired Commander Charles Clark of England. Those who attended were Mr. and Mrs. Oswald Carson and children, Gevin Gibson, Mrs. J. Oswald, Cecil Shook and children, Tex Rampley and Mr. and Mrs. Clay from Texas. It was a real treat for Commander Clark to sample some of Red's famous cooking, and no doubt Red gave the Commander some of his homemade hot sauce as a little remembrance of Dulzura. Little does that custom inspector know, that when he'll gaze upon that harmless looking liquid in that old medicine bottle with the label "from Red's Kitchen" that what is in that bottle can be used for coughs, clearing adenoids, cure sinus, heal snake bites, and no doubt, once it finds its way to England, it will indeed melt the Iron Curtain.

Mr. and Mrs. Jay Pittman had potluck and western music for their friends. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Gist of National City, Homer Allen of Chula Vista, Leonard Gist and children of Lemon Grove, Bennie Scott and son Steven of San Diego, Joe Gist and daughter of East San Diego, and Darrell Allen and daughter of Chula Vista.

Mrs. Lilian Camp and daughter, Mrs. Charlotte Holcomb, attended a surprise bridal shower for their prospective grand-daughter and niece, Miss Carol Larson. Miss Larson will become the bride of Garth Camp on September 14th.

Garth is well known in this area for he is interested in farming and livestock as well as being in Dulzura 4-H for years.

Mr. Thurin Eaton has put his albacore fishing boat up for sale and is going to go into the rabbit raising business full time.

Last Saturday night the hills were ringing with the music from "The Grapevine." Bud and Neva Miller gave a wonderful party which included swimming, dancing, and a pig on a spit, no less. Quite a few of Bud's old acquaintances who are musicians were there, and they really had quite a session going. Those who were there were Mr. and Mrs. Tom Dierdorff, Roy Haptenstall, Joe Morse, Joe Powell, Charles Richardson, Harold Rowland, Bill Gregory, Red Holcomb, Webb Clover, Ralph Waters, Vic Spoes, Joe Rasmussen, Herb See Sr., Major Herb See Jr., Sam Kelly, Al Niche, Dick Cole, Vi Averill, Ed Camp and Betty Horton and "Moe" Moesher.

The Dulzura 4-H is having its annual Turkey Shoot Aug. 18th at Camp's Grove. There will be shoots for the ladies, children, and a varied program. Any caliber pistol or .22 rifle can be used. A mistaken idea is that actual turkeys are used for targets. This is not so. The proceeds from this affair will be used to send a 4-H representative to Davis, California. The Dulzura 4-H invites you all to come out and have a good time, with the chance of winning numerous prizes.

HARBISON

By BETTYE CARPENTER

Next best thing to a family reunion must be a "part of the family" get together. Mrs. Pearl Riddle was hostess last week to her sister, Mrs. Jewel Myers of Oklahoma, who stayed through Sunday. Another sister, Mrs. Bertha Smith and her daughter came up from Yuma to spend some time with the visitor. Others of the sisters and brothers, Mrs. Zona Peabody, Mr. Ben Wyly and Mr. E. O. Wyly, all of the San Diego area, came out to join in the family get together. With all the families of the brothers and sisters who turned up it turned out to a sizeable group and a pleasant time was enjoyed by all. It was the first time in 21 years that Mrs. Myers had seen most of the group.

Eddie Galligar spent last week in Los Angeles with his grandmother, Mrs. Frank Brown, formerly of the canyon.

A double happy birthday to the Fergusons. Don's birthday was Saturday and Lorna's was Sunday. They celebrated Saturday night by entertaining Mr. and Mrs. Bill Mockler, former canyon residents now of Ocean Beach, and Mr. and Mrs. Al Gentry of San Diego. Gabbins', eatin', and card playing made the evening pass too quickly according to Lorna.

Sammy Reece of Dunbar Lane who is celebrating his 19th birthday, and Tony Allain of the canyon, who is leaving to join the Air Force the 26th of this month, were given a combined birthday-farewell party Monday night by the Naylor's. The guests included Carolyn Beal from Jacumba who is spending a few days with the Naylor's, David Parker and Bill Palance from Los Angeles, Richard Bond and Cathy Davies from Santee, Cecile Allain, and Gilda and Wanda Naylor, the hostesses. Good luck to both boys.

Beulah Culver just returned from another of her "jaunts." This time she left the driving to them and bussed up to Huntington Park to spend two weeks with Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Newell. While there she visited the Huntington Library and toured through beautiful Forest Lawn and the Mausoleum. She also visited with a cousin in Burbank while in the area. Now she's planning a really big trip for next fall. That scrapbook should really be something, when she gets it all together.

Canyon residents, particularly those who reside on Frances Drive, are happy to see that the road is being widened in some of the bad spots. Several of the "bottle-necks" are being eliminated but please note, this will not make this a speedway as some travelers have sadly discovered.

The Scout Mothers are holding a rummage sale in the Community Hall on Saturday, August 17th, starting at 8 a.m. Donations of furniture, bric-a-brac, and clothing will be gratefully accepted at the home of Mrs. Shirley Wharff, 210 Frances Drive. If you have things you wish to have picked up, please call 445-2998 and Shirley will make arrangements to do so. Proceeds will go to the scouting activities of our canyon boys.

Another scouting event coming up will be the Father & Son Banquet which will be held Saturday, August 24th, in the Community Hall. This will be a Court of Honor affair and awards will be presented.

Mrs. Janelle Vaughn, Mrs. Bert Camacho and Mrs. Cathy Spiry have taken on the task of preparing and serving the banquet to the fellows.

MT. LAGUNA

By KATHY McMANUS

Mr. and Mrs. Robert S. Lewis and their two children, Margaret and Dick, were at their summer cabin last week-end, August 9 to August 11. It sure is nice to see these former residents of the Mountain visiting us again.

Mr. Ted Polzin of Descanso Junction had an accident on Sunrise Highway August 7. The first person to arrive on the scene was Mrs. Marleen McManus Gee. When Mrs. Gee arrived Mr. Polzin was bleeding and was unconscious. Mr. Polzin was taken to El Cajon Valley Hospital with multiple injuries including seven broken ribs. The exact cause of the accident is not known.

Mrs. Harold Johnson, along with her daughters, left the mountains and have gone to the beach. The Johnsons are staying in Pacific Beach and will be there for the duration of the summer.

Sgt. Cuhn and his family are moving into the Carin cabin on Boiling Springs Tract. The residents of Mt. Laguna would like to welcome this new family to the community.

PINE VALLEY

By AMY N. HARVEY

Last Thursday a tragic accident occurred on the Poway road that claimed the life of Bruce McCarty who operated the Laguna Junction Cafe with his wife. Bruce was alone in his truck when it went over the cliff. Services were held August 13 in El Cajon Mortuary Chapel.

Mrs. Leila Carleton of Los Altos spent last week with Mr. and Mrs. Max Belovich. When she returned home, Mrs. Belovich and Mrs. J. C. Bailey drove back with her spending a couple of days in Laguna Beach with mutual friends.

Last week the Pine Valley Bible Conference grounds had sixty members of the Linda Vista Baptist Church attending their sessions. It was a family group and one of the very nicest groups they have had. The director of the Baptist Church camp was Glen Rembo. A very able and inspiring young man who before coming south was connected with church work in Tulsa, Oklahoma.

The antique shop in Pine Valley is about to open again under the management and owners, Mr. and Mrs. M. G. Mample from St. Paul, Minnesota. I peeked into their store Monday and saw many pieces of beautiful old-fashioned cut glass fruit bowls, candy dishes and platters. The ruby colored hanging lamps and hall lights took me back in memory to my grandmother's home. They are still in the unpacking stage and very soon will have everything in shape for a grand opening. The Mamples are planning on returning to St. Paul in November for more antiques they have in their shop there. August 22nd to the 24th they will put on an antique show in Laguna Beach at the Elks Club. In the meantime there will be a yard sale at their new store which is directly across the street from the grocery store, on the 17th from noon until?

Bert Kendrick, the very popular young man about town and son of Harry and Tootsie Kendrick, also efficient assistant to Sam Jones at the park, has undergone surgery in Mercy Hospital. Friday he looked hale and hearty but Saturday it was a different story. Latest reports are that he is doing fine and should be home by the end of the week. From all your many friends, Bert, "Get well real quick."

The Fred Schultz family are merrily on their way on a ten-day vacation trip driving to San Francisco the leisurely way, stopping along the route to inspect and enjoy the many things our country has to offer to the traveler.

This time a snake tried to charm the Giesbrecht family, but failed miserably. Mary took a shovel and Margaret the hoe. And I sat there too frightened to move. The first one I have seen out of captivity. It had only three rattlers.

The Jim Birds are almost finished with the remodeling of their house and it is lovely. But the doll collection is the topic of conversation. Over sixteen hundred of them: small ones, tall ones, short, fat, blond, brunette, all types. From all parts of the globe. Dolls that were made as long ago as 1830. Mrs. Bird first became interested in this hobby many years ago. When her mother first had her hair cut, she put it in tissue paper and stored it in a trunk and several years later she gave it to Mrs. Bird, who instead of keeping it in paper, bought a doll and then took her mother's hair to a wig maker and had them make a wig for the doll. Some of the dolls are worth over $350. A few of the dolls are from the Grace Norton collection. Among the many brown and blue-eyed beauties there is a stunning one that was the pride and joy of Mrs. Max Belovich when she was a little girl. The collection is worth around fifteen thousand dollars. Mrs. Bird takes a lot of time making dresses for her "family." Later they may show their private collection to groups and organizations, donations going to the Birds' favorite charity.
