Serving a Growing Area of Homes and Ranches

Well, they did it again! Those intrepid, expert fishermen from Alpine, Jack Blankenship and Mace Bratt, caught another big one! Here is proof of their skill, a marlin weighing in at 168 pounds on the Marlin Club scales. The wide smile indicate that they had a lot of fun and are pretty proud. Observant readers have noticed that Jack's boat, the Enipla, is Alpine spelled backward.

PART OF US 80 FROM EL CAJON JOHNSTOWN TO BE IMPROVED

Bids will be opened November 7 in Los Angeles for the construction of four miles of four-lane divided freeway on Highway US 80 (Interstate 8) easterly from East Main Street in El Cajon to Harritt Road in San Diego County, Jacob Dekema, Assistant State Highway Engineer for the California Division of Highways in San Diego, said today.

The proposed project consists of constructing four lanes of an ultimate eight-lane divided freeway to Interstate standards on new alignment. Included in the project are under-crossings at Broadway and at Los Coches Road, and an interchange at Greenfield Drive.

Completion of this project will extend US 80 as a full freeway from near US 101 in San Diego to Harritt Road approximately 4 miles east of El Cajon, a distance

Alpiner Wins In Sweepstakes

Jerry Funk, owner of the Alpine Rexall Pharmacy, announced today that Mr. Charles Shorter of Alpine was one of the lucky prize winners in the National Westinghouse Jubilee Sweepstakes held recently.

Mr. Shorter filed in an entry blank obtained from the local pharmacy and stated that he had never been luck enough to win anything but he'd put in the entry anyway. Much to his great surprise he was the winner of one of the merchandise gift certificates given as part of the sweepstakes.

Mr. Dick Lane, also of Alpine, was the winner in the local drawing for the 40-cup percolator given away last month.

INTIMATE GLIMPSES

By BEA LA FORCE

One of the best things about living in these semi-desert mountains is the night life. City folk accustomed to such dull entertainments as gala balls, murky bars, expensive clubs and premieres simply could not stand the pace out here. Why, take night before last. I was up till sunrise with an unforgettable experience, a spectacular show. It was performed in our front patio by one well known local native-by-adoption, Night Blooming Cereus.

Beginning at sunset, Cereus announced the show by sending a subtle perfume in through the open front door. In its container in the patio, I found Cereus presenting 12, one even dozen, pale pinkish buds each measuring four inches in length and poised on beautiful deep pink stems graceful as swans' necks, ready to blossom that night. So I sat down to wait, fascinated. For you can actually see these magnificent, mysterious flowers bloom. As dusk deepened the buds fattened a little, their tips straightening perceptibly, outer petals bending slightly back at the points. Slowly, very slowly, the buds became flowers. Their perfume deepened, scenting the air, and though the night was still, those great white flowers unfolding made harps play softly in the starlight.

It was exciting, and awesome, and in a way, sad, because a whole crowd of people was not there to see and appreciate the flowering. I thought of the poet's line, "waste their beauty on the desert air."

ALPINE KIWANIS CLUB WILL SPONSOR KIDS PARTY ON SATUR.

The Alpine Kiwanis Club will hold its annual Kids Party this coming Saturday, September 28, at Shady Rock Ranch in Alpine. All Alpine kids are invited to come out and have fun playing games, swimming and winning prizes.

According to Ray Partridge, who is in charge of the program, these parties in the past have pointed out the difficulty of planning a program of games for kids of all ages simultaneously. Therefore, this year the age groups will be divided with the kids from the first to fourth grades being in the morning from 9 a.m. until noon, and those from the fifth grade through junior high from noon to 5 p.m.

Many of the members of Kiwanis will be on hand during the day to help Mr. Partridge in conducting the various games, and competent lifeguards will be on duty at the swimming pool at all times. No lunch will be served, but free pop and popsicles will be given to the kids.

This is the fifth Kiwanis Day

El Cap Copes With Overcrowding

El Capitan High School this fall has cut three of the portable classrooms on its campus in half, in an effort to cope with 300 more students than the school was built to serve. Each portable, originally meant to serve as a standard classroom for 35 students, now serves in two small classes ten more students than were there before. Such courses as advanced language or those in the remedial or experimental program can use this space and free a regular room for use of a large class.

Laboratory space for biology students has been doubled by conversion of a standard classroom into 28 lab stations. This space doubles as classroom and study space when not in use by the biologists.

A major problem of overcrowding occurred during lunch time. Students at El Capitan have always been on a double lunch schedule and gathered in the patio, which is far enough removed from classrooms so that lunch time noise has not been troublesome. However, now, the patio is overcrowded, and arrangements have been made to let overflow

Two Areas Desire To Incorporate

Residents in the Spring Valley and in the Lemon Grove areas filed notices of intention to incorporate as cities with the Board of Supervisors last Tuesday.

The filing of the notices is required by law before petitions can be circulated within the district to obtain signatures requesting that a vote be held on incorporation.

Alpine Republicans To Hold Rally

John R. Reynolds, temporary publicity chairman, announces that the recently chartered Alpine Republican Club will hold a meeting, open to the public, featuring several outstanding speakers, at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, October 8, 1963, at the Woman's Club.

The following speakers will cover topics that are currently of vital importance to all concerned citizens: Admiral Les Gehres, (ret.), Chairman, San Diego Republican Central Committee; Mr. Richard Vail, Executive Director, San Diego Republican Central Committee, and the Rev. Mr. Alex Milmine, inspirational speaker of Southern California.

The Alpine Republican Club was organized after several meetings during recent months and the following temporary officers were elected: Balfour Darnell, president; Bonnie (Mrs. Claude) Clerk, Vice President, and Jack Berg, Secretary-Treasurer. Permanent officers will be elected at a meeting in November 1963.

Under a new rule San Diego County Clubs are now chartered by the San Diego County Republican Central Committee. The Alpine Republican Club is the first, and so far the only, club to be chartered under the new rule. A result of prompt and efficient organization of the local unit, and a source of considerable satisfaction to Alpine Republicans.

Elementary School Plan For Potrero

The Board of Trustees of the Mountain Empire Unified School District is calling an election to be held on October 29 to vote on a bond issue in the amount of $40,000, to provide the funds to construct new elementary school buildings at Descanso.

If funds are provided the new buildings which include two classrooms and administrative offices will be constructed on the present school property.

District Superintendent, Bruce Halliday, states that all registered voters within the District may cast their votes on the proposition and that a two-thirds majority is required for approval.

He also states that meetings will be arranged with various organizations within the District to explain the need for the new facilities.

Local Hunter Bags Three-Point Deer

Zane Dana of Galloway Valley ventured forth last Saturday morning and at 6:15 a.m. got himself a nice three pointer that weighed 155 pounds.

It is reported that when Zane left home at 5:30 a.m. he told his wife he'd be home at noon with a buck. She laughed at that silly remark but he was back at 7:30 a.m. with his three-pointer and explained that he was delayed on account of having to walk back a ways to get his car.

VANISHING LANDMARKS

★ ★ ★ The First Parsonage ★ ★ ★

Here is one landmark which is not vanishing but stands almost as firmly as the day it was built. This was the first parsonage, standing on the corner of Tavern Road and Arnold Way, and it was built about 1899 by Mr. Benjamin Arnold who also built the Alpine Tavern, the Town Hall and a school, among other buildings.

The Old Parsonage, as it is still called by old timers, was built over 30 years before Alpine had a church. Sometimes the town had a preacher who lived here and sometimes it did not, but whether or not a preacher lived in the parsonage, one came to preach almost every Sunday in the Town Hall.

The parsonage has belonged to a number of people in its more than six decades of existence. The present owners are Mr. and Mrs. Arthur J. Cesario, who lived in

County Health Dept. Recommends Shots

Dr. J. B. Askew, County Public Health Director, recommends that flu shots be taken at this time. He states that outbreaks of the flu may show up in December and that shots should be taken well in advance to be effective.

Dr. Askew states that booster shots may be sufficient for those who have had the flue series but advises people to consult with their family physician.

Forest Service To Provide Employment

Contracts which will provide over 300 man-months of employment are being initiated in San Diego County as a result of recent allocations of Accelerated Public Works funds to the Cleveland National Forest, according to Forest Supervisor Stanley R. Stevenson. $450,000 will be spent to alleviate unemployment as well as to accomplish projects which will be of long range benefit to national park users, he said.

The allocations are part of $20,255,000 being administered by the Department of Agriculture's Forest Service nation-wide under the Accelerated Public Works program. This program, signed into law in September, 1962, was designed to help in the initiation and speed up of State, local and Federal public works projects that would help provide immediate useful work for the unemployed and under-employed in labor surplus areas.

Stevenson said that the construction of buildings, campground facilities, roads, and erosion control dams lead the list of projects. Most of these will be contracted, but the manpower must come from San Diego County.

The present allocation, added to the $325,000 spent last year under the program brings the total of APW funds allotted to the Cleveland National Forest since last September to $775,000. The U. S. Forest Service is one of several government agencies administering the funds. The Area Redevelopment Agency in the Department of Commerce is coordinating the program.

Other California National Forests involved in the Accelerated Public Works are the Eldorado (Eldorado County), Inyo (Inyo and Mono Counties), Klamath (Siskiyou

Navy Opens Seven Ships To Public

Southern California residents will have a chance to see a big slice of their Navy in San Diego this weekend.

Seven ships, an attack aircraft carrier, two guided missile destroyers, two submarines, a dock landing ship, and a drone recovery ship will be open to the public from 1 to 4 p.m. Saturday and Sunday, September 28 and 29.

On Saturday morning, San Diego youngsters will be enjoying Kiwanis Kid's Day, and will visit the seapower fleet.

All seven ships will be moored to either Navy or Broadway Piers, located at Harbor Drive and Broadway.

The USS Ticonderoga, an attack carrier, is the first carrier to be open to the public on the San Diego side of the harbor in several years.

The guided missile destroyers USS Henry B. Wilson and USS Berkeley are two of the newest ships in the Pacific Fleet.

The USS Salmon and the USS Razorback are the submarines which will be open to the public. The USS Salmon has distinguished herself in winning six consecutive battle efficiency awards. The RAZORBACK was in the headlines recently after rescuing the survivors of the sinking yacht Freedom II.

The USS Monticello is a unit of the Pacific Fleet Amphibious Force, and is used to transport Marines and equipment.

The USS Targeteer is unique in that she is the only drone aircraft catapult control ship in commission in the Navy. This little vessel is sometimes called the "world's smallest aircraft carrier," since she carries several of the bright red remote-control target drones for use in fleet exercises and operations.

This weekend's profile of seapower is one of the largest collections of ships ever open to the San Diego public.

Visiting hours are from 1 to 4 p.m. Saturday and Sunday, September 28 and 29 at the foot of Broadway.

Highway Patrol Lists New Regulations

If you are an auto driver or a bicycle rider, last Friday, September 20, was a very important date for you.

On that date, more than 300 changes in motor vehicle law became effective, according to the California Highway Patrol.

Among the most significant changes—those with an immediate effect on your everyday driving or using the highway—are those dealing with speed laws, Right of Way laws, laws affecting bicycles, and equipment changes on vehicles.

The changes as noted by the California Highway Patrol dealing with speed laws and with Rights of Way laws are as follows, those affecting bicycles and equipment changes on vehicles will be published in next week's issue of the Echo.

The basic speed law now requires drivers to use weather conditions and visibility as guides in setting a safe speed—in addition to the already established factors of road surface and width, and traffic conditions.

The amendment emphasizes the necessity for extreme caution when visibility is limited by such condition as fog, blowing dust, rain, snow, etc.—conditions which greatly increase the chances of multiple, chain-reaction collisions.

California's basic speed law, though often misunderstood, takes precedence over all other speed laws. At no time may a driver proceed at a speed which endangers persons or property, no matter what the posted or existing limit may be.

A related measure which bears on the same problem is the redefining of darkness to include periods when visibility is insufficient to make any vehicle or person clearly discernible at 500 feet. At such times, vehicle headlights must be turned on.

The maximum speed law was amended to provide for raising the limit to 70 miles per hour (from 65 mph) under certain conditions and in specified locations.

The limit can only be established on freeways where access is fully controlled and there are no crossings at grade—and then only after an engineering survey by the Department of Public Works determines the 70 mph limit is both reasonable and safe, and the California Highway Patrol concurs.

The limit becomes effective only after signs are posted indicating a 70 mph maximum, as well as signs indicating that slower traffic must keep right.

Thus California's maximum speed actually remains at 65 miles per hour. Only in locations where 70 mph is actually posted will the higher limit be effective.

Other measures dealing with speed:

School buses, cars pulling trailers, and farm labor buses, all of which are limited to 50 mph or less, are required to drive in the right-hand lane of multi-lane highways. The only exceptions are when they are preparing to make a left turn, when they are entering a highway, when they must use a designated lane, or when passing. In the latter case, the law permits these vehicles to use the lane immediately to the left of the right-hand lane.

The speed limit in an alley is now 15 miles per hour.

Trucks with three or more axles now have a maximum speed limit of 50 mph. Previously, trucks were restricted to 45 mph on two-lane roadways.

Right of way violations year in and year out have been the second leading cause of accidents in California.

In an attempt to clarify the responsibility for taking or yielding the right of way in certain turn

This statistic was one of several on the student body disclosed today in an analysis of enrollment figures.

Grossmont men outnumber women, 1,830 to 925; married students, primarily in the Evening Division, represent more than one-third of the student body, and 1,532 students of the total enrollment of 2,755 are under 21 years of age.

HORSES! HORSES! HORSES!

By MARGARET LOWTHIAN

This past weekend was a busy one for us. On Friday afternoon, we picked up Jerry Evans and drove to Lancaster for the annual Calizona Appaloosa Horse Club show held on Saturday and Sunday. Early Thursday morning Frank Evans took off with five of our Appaloosas and Mrs. Eloise Stark's young mare.

A number of San Diego County appaloosas competed in this show. They were the young stallion of Ronnie Johnson, Ken Johnson's stallion from Johnstown, Leo Reed had two entered, and the gelding, Ace of Diamonds, owned by Pete McLean of Oceanside.

San Diego horses did very well at this show. The Stark's two-year old filly, Pecos Papoose, won her breeding class. Ken Johnson's three-year-old stallion, Gregg's Pancho Villa, was fifth in a large breeding class. Leoma Reed rode her good gelding, Zia Bravo, to a third in Trail, and fourth in both Owner to Ride Western Pleasure, and Junior Western Pleasure.

We here at Willow Glen Farm came home with 20 ribbons and six trophies. R. H. Blue Bonnett was first in aged mares and Champion mare. Cahava's Hyu Skukum was first in yearling fillies, and the pair, Bonnett and Skukum, won first in produce of dam of our mare, Baby Blue. Cahava's Joker B-Plus won a good second in a large yearling stallion class. R. H. Marvell II was third in her breeding class, and Missoula Arrow was fourth in the aged gelding class.

Pete McLean's Ace of Diamonds was high-point gelding, winning the prize saddle. Missoula Arrow was a close second in this race with only two points less than the winner. This contest between the gelding at this show was the highlight of the two days, with the points varying considerably. Going into the last two classes on Sunday afternoon, Arrow was in the lead with four points. The last two classes were calf roping and a stump race, neither of which Arrow had ever tried before. Ace won enough points in these two to win the handsome saddle given to the winner.

All in all it was a great show and the Appaloosa people had a good time. They even got me riding again, and believe me I'm still a little sore after riding in three big pleasure classes on Sunday.

Entries are closing this week for the Appaloosa and Open show being put on by the Appaloosa Breeders Association at the Los Angeles County Fairgrounds in Pomona on October 12 and 13. I got stuck with the secretarial work as usual, but the entries are coming in well, and it looks like it will be another top show for this organization.

Terryl Armor, 13-year-old daughter of the owners of Bright Valley Stables in Galloway Valley, has taken over the ownership of a

SD State Has All-Time Enrollment

Fall semester classes formally opened at San Diego State this week with an all-time enrollment high.

Student enrollment has climbed to about 14,545, Dr. Melvin A. Anderson, dean of admissions and records announced. Some 2500 freshmen have enrolled for classes with 2500 students registered in late afternoon and evening courses, he said. Anderson issued his report after compiling results of four days of registration held Wednesday, Sept. 18 through Saturday, Sept. 21.

Although detailed breakdowns are not yet available, past enrollments indicate that science-engineering field will attract the largest number of students.

San Diego State's fall enrollment a year ago was 13,696. Ten years ago in the fall of 1953, it was 5077. Twenty years ago, in the fall of 1943, it was 958.

SD State Theatre Opens Season

San Diego State Theater opens a season of European plays on October 18 with "Rhinoceros," a comic fantasy by playwright, Eugene Ionesco.

Performances of "Rhinoceros," under the direction of Norwegian-born Kjell Amble, who joined San Diego State's faculty last year, will be presented in the campus Little Theater on October 18 and 19, and October 23 through October 26.

"Rhinoceros," one of Ionesco's latest full-length plays, presents this large, ugly pachyderm as a symbol of conformity. The play is set in a small town in France. Its three main characters are Berenger, a clerk in a law office; Jean, Berenger's friend, and Daisy, Berenger's girl friend. In the first scene of the play, as a number of people go about their everyday activities, two rhinoceri are seen running down the street. More and more rhinoceri are seen about the town and it soon becomes painfully apparent that they are (or were) some of its respected and beloved citizens.

Director Kjell Amble says that the play's hero, Berenger, emerges as a reflection of everyman, the person who strives to keep a measure of virtue and dignity in a world which is increasingly conformist, devoid of values, and ultimately chaotic.

The experimental "Rhinoceros," will be followed by Oscar Wilde's perennially popular and elegant farce, "The Importance of Being Earnest," on November 29, 30, December 4, 5, 6, and 7.

Season tickets for seven productions are $5.50 and may be purchased through the speech arts department, or from Richard Harris, assistant professor of speech arts. Individual performance tickets, at $1.25 each, may be purchased through the speech arts department, or from the college book store.

Chargers, Chiefs Battle For First

The San Diego Chargers and the Kansas City Chiefs fight for Western Division supremacy on Sunday, September 29, when the Chargers host the midwesterners in Balboa Stadium. Kick-off time is 1:30 p.m.

San Diego is presently on top in the AFL's Western Division with a 2-0 record, having defeated Buffalo, 14-10, Boston, 17-13. Kansas City is also undefeated with a 59-7 trouncing of Denver and a 27-27 tie with Buffalo. Oakland is right on their heels with a 2-1 mark.

The Chargers, coached by Sid Gillman, and the Chiefs, under the tutelage of Hank Stram, have provided some of the most entertaining and hard-hitting attractions ever seen in the AFL. Quarterback Lenny Dawson, AFL "Player of the Year" in 1962 and currently leading in passing, will lead the Chiefs. With him in the backfield will be Abner Haynes and fullback Curtis McClinton. Dawson's favorite target are end Chris Burford, flanker Frank Jackson, and end Fred Arbanas.

The Chargers have such dependable veterans as linebackers E. J. Holub and Sherill Headrick, tackle Tim Jyrer, defensive tackle Jerry Mays, defensive end Mel Branch and corner Dave Grayson, and fullback Jack Spikes back. New rookies are defensive end Bobby Bell of Minnesota, guard Ed Budde, Michigan State, defensive tackle Junious Buchanan, Grambling, and halfback Jerrell Wilson of Mississippi Southern.

Gilman has announced that his opening backfield will be quarterback Tobin Rote, halfback Paul Lowe and fullback Keith Lincoln.

KFMB will broadcast the game throughout the Chargers' radio network. Tickets are on sale at any of the Chargers' 22 ticket outlets throughout San Diego County.

Fire Closure Restrictions Eased

Forest Supervisor Stanley R. Stevenson, announced today that, due to the recent rains, the fire closure restrictions on the Cleveland National Forest will be temporarily eased. Stevenson said that hunters and other forest visitors were allowed to enter the "closed areas" from 8 a.m. last Thursday, until midnight last Sunday, September 22, by obtaining a written permit at any Cleveland National Forest Ranger Station. He also noted that weather permitting, the temporary easing of the closure will continue after Sunday on a day to day basis. In all cases a written permit must be obtained before entering the "closed area." Stevenson said the temporary easing of the fire closure was in keeping with Forest

Car Smog Law To Be Considered

The County Board of Supervisors will hold a private meeting to discuss among themselves the desirability of adopting an ordinance that will require the installation of crankcase devices in older automobiles that would reduce the dissemination of smog.

This meeting will precede a public hearing of the proposal at which all interested persons will be admitted and be given the opportunity of expressing their views.

These meetings are the result of a new state law which requires that a determination be made by the Board of Supervisors whether such devices should be installed and if no determination is made by them the state law requires that the be installed.

This Is Dog Week

This week has been set aside as National Dog Week. The dog fanciers who sponsor the setting aside of a week to honor man's best friend have as their slogan the question, "Do I deserve to be called my dog's best friend?"

Each person who owns a dog should be sure that their canine friend has the best of care throughout the year, including proper food and living accommodations and also obey the "leash" law to be assured that your faithful friend does not wander and get into trouble or possibly run over by auto traffic.

Shooting At The Moon

Shooting at the Moon used to be an expression used to indicate that a person was endeavoring to do something for which there was a very remote or no chance at all of success.

Nowadays this expression has an entirely different meaning to the extent that J. F. Kennedy, President of the United States of America, proposes that the United States and Russia join forces in a mutual program of developing the means and equipment necessary for the making of a trip to the Moon sponsored by both countries.

In reviewing this suggestion we are wondering whether it was made by our President with the feeling, first, that we were so far ahead on this program that we felt sorry for Russia, or second, whether the race was so close that why build two space ships when one would do, or third, whether we were so far behind that we would like to go along on a ride with the winner. Or maybe it is for some other reason of which we are not aware.

INTIMATE GLIMPSES

Stars came out, my two favorite constellations in their places—the Big Dipper above El Capitan, and the Little Dipper tipping its cup over Japatul Valley. A pair of bats flicked two and fro in the patio, slucing the air for bugs. And the 12 white buds gradually released their flawless petals towards their one night of glory.

Though under the porch roof, the flower's glossy whiteness caught the starlight. I brought out my camera and took pictures of them from time to time. At last along about 2 a.m., the blossoming was complete—12 superb white flowers each measuring eight inches from tip to tip, each a perfect blossom, inspiring reverence. Their thick petals are curiously cold to the touch, like the cheek of death. They seem not to belong to the earthly family of flowers. In the semi-darkness, a pale light shone from them. No wind moved them, yet they gave the impression of gently whirling, each one in its place. By dawn they began to droop slightly, and when the first sunlight reached the mountain tops, their petal points bent inward. By 8 a.m., petals closed, their one night was over. Mid-morning found their necks limp, heads hanging down. They looked like dead white swans, but they had not been entirely "wasted on the desert air."

The very next night our Ephyllum, gave a similar show of 11 four-inch white blossoms. Although they bloom more quickly than the cereus and without the same quality of drama, they have their own fascination. So of course, sleep was again interrupted. Two nights later, the barrel cactus in the back yard flashed out a divine five-inch blossom, pink in the center, round and dazzling as a heavenly diadem. Then, as if determined to make confirmed night-hawks of us, the other big cactus, another cereus, I think, put out the biggest, most fabulous flower of all. White also, this one, growing on a half-dead looking length of vine, was a seven-inch bud and a full 12-inch flower when fully opened, it's perfume vague and haunting. It had no more than two and a half hours of flowering before the hot sun made it bow its gorgeous head. Taking most of the night to bloom, it kept this watcher awake until dawn. But the experience was worth the loss of sleep. It is intoxication without a hangover, a gala opening without tight shoes and traffic hazards. Yes, night life out in these hills can be quite a pace.

Southern California Hit By Sharp Quake

A sharp earthquake was felt generally throughout Southern California last Monday morning. The quake occurred at 7:42 a.m. and is reported to have registered four on the Mercalli Scale of 12.

The quake was more severe in Los Angeles, Orange, Riverside and San Bernardino Counties and the center established at a point approximately 70 miles southeast of Pasadena.

Letter To Editor

Letters must have signature and address, be subject to being condensed and will not be returned. The opinions expressed are the opinions of the writers and may not necessarily reflect the opinions of the Alpine Echo.

Dear Editor:

I enjoyed your timely editorial of September 12th. As a matter of fact, I had been trying to write a letter, of a million words or less, to say just about what you did in only two sentences. I believe your notes were too brief, however.

For instance, you touched on business accomplishments, but you did not cite exciting examples. Allow me. Remember the Alpine School sewer repair job that was estimated to cost $7000 last May? It was recently disposed of at a cost of $200. Another example is repair of the "black-top" at Harbison Canyon School. Estimated cost last May was $4000; actual cost as reported at the last board meeting was $750.

Less spectacular but equally important is the face-lifting that has been taking place at Alpine and Harbison Canyon schools. Washing and painting of buildings that has already been put off too long, wedding, clean-up, and landscaping preparations are examples of this.

Most important, however, is to know the reason for this unusual success in getting the job done. And I'm just rash enough to express my opinion: This success is due to leadership. The organizational nature of the so-called board is such that only the superintendent can assume leadership. By his cheerful willingness to hear problems and the decisive manner in which he tackles them, Mr. Clay, the District Superintendent, has clearly demonstrated his executive ability.

The most casual observer at any one of the last three regular board meetings would most surely have noticed the sincere, business-like, and yet pleasant attitude of the individual members of the board and the Superintendent in conducting business. May they continue to deserve the respect and goodwill of the community.

Sincerely,
Zane Dana

Overcrowding

lunchers use space between empty buildings. The campus has been divided down the middle to assure that students occupy only the space near empty classrooms. Lockers for 1900 students must serve 2300, so the ninth graders double up.

The crowded library has been expanded by opening a wall into a room previously used for book maintenance and library storage. The "new" area will accommodate 30 students, and the occupation previously carried on there has been moved into the librarian's office.

Office space for the new dean of students was created by having a bookkeeper and program clerk double up in one office, freeing space for the new administrator.

The traffic problem at El Capitan increased, too, and faculty parking space was filled until an unsupervised area of the campus was opened to ease that problem. Student traffic is handled by 23 buses, five of which make two runs. Some students arrive at 7:20 a.m., although classes don't open until 8:25. Some of the afternoon runs are as late as 4 p.m., and cause problems for job-holding students.

The new residence being built by the Manuel G. Moya family on Tavern Road begins to take shape as framing goes up. Mr. and Mrs. Moya and their three boys, Ricky, Ronnie and David, expect to be living in their new home in December.

Grossmont Election To Be Publicized

Arthur Elliott, Cajon Valley Elementary School District associate superintendent, met with members of the Grossmont District Committee for Good Schools at Grossmont, Tuesday evening, September 17, to discuss plans for a merged bond and tax-limitation election set for October 29. The Grossmont Union High School District group is headed by Jack Mayer and Mrs. Lou Morrow.

The Grossmont District is asking voters to authorize bonds for a new high school in Santee because of crowded conditions at El Capitan, will ask in a second proposal on the same ballot for a 5-year renewal of the $1.50 tax limit set by voters two years ago. Grossmont District this year uses $1.23 of that tax rate. Cajon Valley is also asking a tax limit be renewed. There is $1.99, of which

Fitness Program For Adult Men

A program aimed at maintaining adult fitness for business and professional men between the ages of 35 and 60 will begin at San Diego State, in September.

"The purpose of the program is to help these men relax, and to improve their general health, physical fitness and resistance to fatigue," Dr. Fred Kasch, professor of physical education said.

"Our goal is to assist them toward greater efficiency, more daily energy and a delay in their aging processes," Kasch said.

The group will meet Mondays and Thursdays in the Peterson Gymnasium at San Diego State from 5 p.m.-6:15 p.m. It will be limited to 40 participants. The semesterly cost will be $30.

Advance physical examinations by family physician are required.

Kasch said the program was designed for participation by normal persons and by sufferers of cardiovascular ailments. Careful programming and constant observation, he said, could help both groups toward self improvement.

Information on the program is available through the office of the coordinator of extended services at San Diego State.

Poodle Lost From HC Home

Mrs. Dorothy Stallings, a newcomer to Harbison Canyon, and a resident on St. George Drive, reports that a newly acquired dog bolted out her front door and is now missing. The dog, a silver gray miniature poodle was a gift to her son and had not had time to become acquainted with her new home before she left the premises. She was wearing a turquoise collar with rhinestones but was not wearing her tags. She has been spayed and is considerably overweight and should be on a special diet. Anyone with information regarding this dog can call 445-2031. Help in locating this lost poodle will be greatly appreciated by the worried owners.

Portion Of Route 78 To Be Completed

The State Highway Department has received bids for the completion of State Route 78 between Oceanside and Escondido to four-lane freeway standards. There remains to be constructed 1.9 miles for which the State received a low bid of $1,729,533, from contractors Pentaco and Rados Constructors of El Monte, California.

This section of State 78 is a connection between U. S. 395 at Escondido and U.S. 101 at Oceanside and the State has planned that this section will ultimately be six lanes of freeway.

Mr. B. V. Sturdivant, his sister, Mrs. Maureen Gantee and friends, Mrs. Carolyn Kushell, all from the Yuma area recently visited their mother, Mrs. Josephine Sturdivant of Olivewood Lane. The visitors left for home during our wonderful rainstorms and ran into landslides and water up to the humps of the car but arrived safe and sound.

A little bird told us that Edith Cromarty celebrated a birthday last week, belated wishes to this lovely lady.

Miss Jean McCullough and her sister Edith have had out-of-town visitors visiting them from Windsor, Canada and Detroit, Michigan. Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Farrow of Canada are planning on attending a Police Chief's Convention in Houston, Texas and detoured to spend a few days in California. Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Laforet of Michigan are traveling with the Farrow's and have taken side trips around our beautiful state. The nieces and their husbands are enjoying their visit in Alpine.

Mrs. William Sansoucie this week put out a call to anyone wanting to donate their old magazines and newspapers to a worthy cause. The Cub Scouts of Alpine are undertaking this project to make a few cents for their treasury. Don't burn these items, call and a Cub Scout will gladly pick them up.

Mrs. Phyllis Shephard, Sunday School teacher at the Alpine Community Church, along with other teachers are busily preparing for the potluck to be held at Fuller Hall, at 5:30, Saturday, October 28th. All parents and friends are invited to attend and join in this fun affair.

Alpiners were happy to see Robert Hayes on T.V. this past week. Robert is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Willard Hayes of Willow Road. He was being congratulated on his promotion to sergeant in the Sheriff's Department of San Diego.

This is the kind of news we're not too fond of printing but Mrs. Claire Duffield, mother of Mrs. Ray Partridge of Alpine Terrace had a bad accident Tuesday evening. Mrs. Duffield was doing her daughter a favor by finishing a small piece of housework when she missed the steps on the foot ladder and fell cracking her pelvic bone and receiving numerous other injuries. She is now in Heartland Hospital recovering and at this time has no idea when she will return to Alpine. We wish her our very best in her recovery.

Mrs. Harry Colby, Southern District President of the Federation of Woman's Clubs, entertained Mrs. Rodney D. Talcott, speaker at the Alpine Woman's Club meeting last Tuesday, at luncheon before the meeting. Leon and Daisy McCoy of Lake Morena recently returned from a three-week motoring trip to the Canadian border, Glacier National Park, Yellowstone, Cheyenne, Wyoming, Denver, Colorado, Bryce Canyon, Zion National Park in Utah, and Daisy's home town Phoenix, Arizona. They came through a snow storm over the Wolfe Creek Pass in Colorado, but had good weather the rest of the trip.

Lake Morena Woman's Club held its first fall meeting on Tuesday evening of last week. Each one brought their own steak which was cooked on the barbecue, and several other dishes were furnished by members, and the dessert was French apple pie and ice cream furnished by Daisy McCoy, Gwen Leach and the hostess. Cards were played after dinner. The party was held at the Farris home, and 14 were present in spite of the rain.

Gertrude Haskell entertained the Lake Morena Card Club on Wednesday of last week. Those present were Marie Martin, Ardelle Craft, Margaret Rolland, Gwen Leach, Dell Nielsen, Phoebe Thompson, and Fay Farris.

Willard and Leona Hafeman of Lake Morena have purchased a home in Carlton Hills, San Diego, and expect to live there most of the time. However, they will keep their home here, and will be up from time to time.

Norma Molchan of Morena Village has returned from her stay in Pasadena with her daughter while her broken arm was healing. The arm is coming along very nicely.

Sallie Middleton of Lake Morena had to be brought home from the High Sierras recently, as she suffered a blackout while there. She seems to be all right now.

Joe Davis, the Campo postmaster is home recuperating from an attack by three Marines in San Clemente last week. They beat him up and threw him over an embankment along the highway. They also took his wallet. A person walking along the highway discovered him and secured help. Mr. Davis had taken his Campster to the dealer near Los Angeles for some adjustment, and stopped for coffee when he was overcome by the Marines.

The Tri-Chem (liquid embroidery) art class met as usual at the Farris home in Lake Morena on Thursday of last week, and eight members were present, including the hostess of the day, Dell Nielsen. One of the guests was the sister of Marie Martin from Fresno. Her name is Helen Garrett, and she and her husband were house guests at the Martin home.

Of interest to the Campo area is the marriage of Mary Atzet to Doyle L. Burrows on September 7. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Atzet of Mentone, formerly of Campo. Mr. Atzet was a teacher at the Mt. Empire High School a few years ago, and Mary attended that school. Doyle is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Burrows of Descanso. The wedding was performed in St. Mary's Catholic Church in Redlands. A reception was given after the ceremony in Mentone Woman's Clubhouse, and another one was held the following day in Descanso. The young couple will live in Long Beach.

DEERHORN VALLEY

By ROY WALLIN

Accompanied by Charley Bratton, Mrs. Dorothy Clark Schmid, authoress of "Pioneering in Dulzura," paid our valley a surprise visit last Sunday. Her book covers the early history of our local as well as neighboring areas, and is due for distribution next month.

As a postscript, Jim Wolf, president of the Deerhorn Valley Civic Club, has invited Mrs. Schmid to speak at the October 4th meeting of the club, and she has graciously accepted the invitation.

Mike Wiman, announcer at the Caliente track and local property owner in Monte Robles Acres, is now living on Mr. and Mrs. Joe Eaton's ranch, while he prepares his own place for permanent occupancy. Good to have you up on the Hill permanently, Mike.

Jim Wolf's step-son, Don Fread and his family, visited Jim this past weekend to open the hunting season together. How many did you get, Jim, and how big were the ones that got away?"

Profile—(another in a series of thumbnail sketches on one of our friends and neighbors). Residing in a very handsome home on the corner by the Lodge, Ray Campbell, his wife, Ruth, and their adopted daughter, Susan, joined our community some three years ago. A familiar figure, tending his trees and plants, waving to us as we drive past, studying the bird life in our local area, Ray and his family came to Deerhorn Valley from Chula Vista. A native, born in San Bernardino in 1897, and graduated from Colton High School, Ray married Ruth Adams of Riverside who had just graduated from L. A.'s Normal College to embark on a teaching career. He entered the U. S. Customs Service and was stationed in Sweetgrass, Montana in 1928 (on the Canadian border about 60 miles east of Glacier Park). He still remembers the temperature of minus 40 and 50 with a shiver. In 1940, Ray was transferred to the San Ysidro Border Station. He lived in Imperial Beach and Chula Vista until he joined our community. He retired from the service in 1957. Ray and Ruth adopted a little Korean girl, Susan, in 1956 who has recently become Mrs. Russell Proud of Jamul. Their other children include Allan Campbell, Gordon Campbell, and Joy May, all living in the local San Diego area; Rev. Robert Campbell of East Weymouth, Massachusetts and Mrs. D. G. Henry of Springboro, Pennsylvania, both of whom they visited on a trip back east this summer. Ray and Ruth have participated in community and civic activities. Ruth initiated the Sunday School in her home for the children of our community—of people such as these, our community is built.

Japanese Folk Art Now On Exhibit

A 500-piece collection of Japanese folk art, including pottery, textiles, woodblock prints, woven baskets, toys and other items indigenous to Japan, is on exhibit in San Diego State's Art Gallery, through October 18. Gallery hours are 9 a.m. until 4 p.m., Mondays through Fridays.

Martha Longenecker, associate professor of art at San Diego State, gathered most of the pieces in the exhibit while working with some of Japan's foremost potters. Work by master potters, Shoji Hamada, Kanjiro Kawai and Kenchichi Tomimoto and woodblock prints by Shiko Munakata are in the exhibition.

Fire Closure

Service policy of permitting full use of National Forest land when conditions permit.

The closure easing is temporary because October, November and December are traditionally the worst months of the fire season in Southern California.

Stevenson stated that fire laws prohibiting open fires and smoking in brush covered areas are still in effect and will be enforced. He said that smoking is permitted in areas posted for this purpose and at places of habitation. Campers may stay at regular Forest Service camp grounds or at one of the 35 temporary camps set up for deer hunters by personnel of the Cleveland National Forest.

COKE'S KITCHEN

Two good cobbler recipes for you this week. One recipe, pictured above, has the dough cooked right on top with a crumbly topping. The other recipe which we know as "Ruby's Cobbler" is quite different as the cake rises to the top during baking period. It can be made with any fruit, sugared to taste the only secret is be sure you have at least one cup of juice (especially when using boysenberries). If you are short, add water to make up the difference. With the many apples now in the markets, why not try a cobbler for a little different dessert?

CRUNCHY APPLE COBBLER

- 1/2 cup raisins
- 4 cups thinly sliced cooking apples
- 3/4 cup water
- 3/8 cup sugar
- 1 tablespoon flour
- 1/2 tsp. cinnamon, dash of salt

Combine raisins, apples and water, heat to boiling. Blend sugar, flour, cinnamon and salt. Stir into boiling fruit and boil one minute. Turn into baking dish, cover with dough and sprinkle with topping, 400 degrees, 30 minutes. Biscuit dough: 1 cup Biscuit mix and 1 tablespoon of sugar. Stir in 1/4 cup milk and 2 tablespoons melted butter, roll to fit top of dish. Topping: 2 tablespoons Biscuit mix, 1 tablespoon sugar, 1 tablespoon of butter, mix until crumbly.

RUBY'S COBBLER

- 1 cup flour
- 1/2 cup sugar
- 1 tsp. salt
- 2 tsp. baking powder
- 2 T. oil
- 1/2 cup milk

New Regulations

ing and entering movements, California law now places a great responsibility for making the movement safely upon the turning or entering driver.

Amendments to right of way laws are among more than 300 changes in motor vehicle legislation which became effective September 20, according to the California Highway Patrol.

The laws involved deal with making left turns, entering a through highway, and approaching a "yield" sign.

In each case, the driver making the turn or entry not only must yield to approaching traffic, but continue to yield until such time as he can complete the movement with reasonable safety.

Previously, the turning or entering driver was required to yield to approaching traffic close enough to constitute a hazard; then he could proceed and oncoming traffic was required to give him the right of way.

The change actually puts the force of law behind what has become practice: The driver attempting to make a left turn or enter a through highway does so only after oncoming traffic has passed, leaving him a clear space in which to complete his turn or entry.

Another problem plaguing many California travelers—whether or not the pickup truck on which they mount a camper unit is a commercial vehicle—has been solved with the definition of the term "house car."

A house car is a motor vehicle originally designed or permanently altered to accommodate human habitation, or to which a camper unit has been permanently attached. A house car is registered on the same basis as a passenger car. If the camper unit is only temporarily mounted on the motor vehicle, the latter must be registered as a commercial vehicle, subject to weight fees.

Other changes in law:

No one may open the door of a vehicle on the traffic side unless it is reasonably safe and the door can be opened without interfering with the movement of traffic.

The driver of any vehicle which collides with an unattended vehicle must notify without unnecessary delay the California Highway Patrol or the local police department, depending upon jurisdiction. Previously, the driver had 24 hours in which to make this notification. (Such notification is required only if the operator of the unattended vehicle cannot be located. In addition to notifying the police authority, a written note must be left on the vehicle).

the house for some years, but now live in Lakeside. The Cesarios bought the place from the Larsons who found it converted into two or three small apartments. The Larsons did some remodeling in an attempt to put the place back in its original condition, but left in some of the modernizing.

When the Cesarios took the place, they tore out all the new features and restored it to its old-fashioned beauty according to the original plan.

It is now rented to Thoman Gelknop, D.V., and his wife and small daughter.

good five-year-old brown Thoroughbred gelding, Defensive Eagle. When she fell in love with this fine horse, she convinced her father to let her keep him for her very own. For the past six or seven months Terry has been working him and now feels she has him ready for showing which she hopes to start very soon. Defensive Eagle has a half-sister, Sabina Louise, who has been doing some winning on the race track at Tijuana. Terry does not intend to race Eagle, however, but keep him for her own personal show horse.

ALPINE GARDENER

By JEAN McCULLOUGH

The weatherman seems to have relented and sent more rain our way which makes the ground fine for getting ready to plant all those bulbs, renunculus, anmones, tulips, narcissus, crocus, and many others. Oriental poppies and those gorgeous lilies one sees advertised can go in now, too. Be sure to work lots of humus into the ground where you intend to plant your bulbs. Also, a small amount of bone meal worked into each hole where you set each bulb. It is a slow acting fertilizer and will help boost the bulbs along without burning them.

Perennials of most kinds and bedding plants of the shrubbier varieties may be planted now while the ground is warm. Also, fall is the ideal time to set out trees, both evergreen and deciduous forms which will soon lose their leaves, but you may get some color from maple, ginkgo, red oak and liquidamber. These all have lovely rich red and gold color.

The experts tell us this is the best time to start a hedge while the ground is warm and wet. Some reliable choice are privet, boxwood, pittosperm, English laurel, natal plum, and certain roses which make a beautiful hedge. These last may take a little more care, but the color and beauty they provide will be worth the extra care. The gardner never, never has time to relax, even when fall arrives.

Salvation Army Asks For Salvage Material

School children, for the most part, now being newly clothed for the fall and winter school semester, what about the outgrown duds?

This was the question posed yesterday by Brigadier Howard Sloan, senior Salvation Army officer in San Diego county, who is interested in acquiring salvage materials from households and business houses.

"With children settling into new routines," Sloan said, "now is an excellent time to examine the back of the kids' bureau drawers, look into closet corners, and sort out outgrown and worn clothing.

"The market for used clothing is good, and worn fabrics are readily saleable by the ton as rags," he said.

Sloan added that almost anything except paper can be salvaged by the Salvation Army. Proceeds finance the Army's Men's Rehabilitation Center, managed by Capt. Robert L. Keene, in San Diego. The value of salvage material may be deducted from federal income taxes.

"Captain Keene's work," Sloan said, "is two-fold. By means of nine retail outlets throughout the county we offer many necessities at small cost for low-income families. This enables us to help men with personality and character disorders, including alcoholics and paroled and released prisoners, become useful members of society."

Ten radio-controlled trucks are available to make pickups throughout the county and may be called through any Salvation Army Thrift Store or the Rehabilitation Center in San Diego.

Newly-installed radios have increased the operation's efficiency by at least 25 percent, Sloan reported, and are particularly useful in responding to calls from service families requiring immediate attention because of emergency transfers.

County) Lassen (Lassen County, Mendocino (Mendocino and Lake Counties), Modoc (Modoc, Siskiyou and Lassen Counties), Plumas (Plumas and Lassen Counties), Sequoia (Fresno and Tulare Counties), Shasta-Trinity (Shasta, Trinity, and Siskiyou Counties), Sierra (Fresno and Mariposa Counties), Six Rivers (Del Norte and Humboldt Counties), Stanislaus (Tuolumne County), and Tahoe (Sierra County).

Stevenson reports that in addition to the Accelerated Public Works Program, the Forest has awarded a contract for the construction of a 5.1 mile section of the South Main Divide Road on the Trabuco District of the Cleveland National Forest. It is scheduled for completion in November, 1963. This new section replaces a six-mile section of old road which had greatly limited fire control access and resource development in the area. The contract for construction of the project was awarded to Einer Brothers, Inc. of Escondido for $204,718.56. Work began on June 10, 1963, and is nearing half completion.

Part Of Expressway Nearing Completion

A portion of the proposed South Bay Expressway is nearing completion and will be opened for travel after the final inspection and acceptance of the work from the contractor. The finish of the work was delayed a few days by last week's rain.

The Expressway will be a 15-mile freeway between Chula Vista and Highway 80 east of El Cajon. The portion nearing completion is a 4.8-mile section between Chula Vista and National City.

Interesting reading for horse lovers: Horse shows date back as far as the domestication of the horse. From the earliest times horses have been used in warfare, and in this connection a review of mounted troops may be regarded as a horse show. Many equestrian events in the game of Classic times, such as Olympic games.

DESCANSO

Ena Leigh was honored at a surprise birthday party at the Kenneth Kendall home Tuesday, Sept. 24. Eighteen well wishers were on hand to wish Ena many happy returns.

This community extends its sympathy to the Phibbs family in the loss of Mr. Sanderson. He passed away at his home Thursday and the funeral was Saturday with Rev. Meier officiating.

The officers of the Methodist Youth Fellowship attended a workshop in Encinitas to plan their program for the coming year. They returned in time for rally day at church Sunday.

The Telephone Company has been putting up cable in this area due to the extensive growth of the mountain area and the demand for better service. The linemen performing the work from the El Cajon garage are Mel White and Sweetpea Barnes.

The Descanso PTA held its first meeting Sept. 24. Pros and cons were discussed of the feasibility of a new school at Potrero. An election will be held in late October and if approved, the building will be started in the near future. The proposed building is a prefab factory finished school costing about one half the price of a regular constructed frame type school. The kindergarten class under the direction of Jean Richardson gave a short program of songs and poems they had learned. Discussion was held on a community carnival to be held on Halloween. More to be heard about it later.

I would like to take this opportunity to thank all the people who helped make the WSCS Fashion Show a success. The committee women, the merchants of the area who donated the door prizes, Montgomery Ward for the clothes, the models who were lovely, Mrs. Lusk and the Alpinettes for the songs they so ably sang, and Ruth Woolman, the commentator.

HARBISON

The canyon Scout Mothers have planned a two-day rummage sale to be held in the Community Hall on Saturday and Sunday, October 5 and 6. They will open the doors each morning at 8 a.m. and hold them open as long as people come in. Donations of usable items including clean clothing, bric-a-brac, furniture and "what have you" will be greatly appreciated. Your rummage may be left with Bert Camacho at 144 Frances Drive or call 445-3118 if you have things you wish to have picked up. Please donate—please show up to browse and buy and from all the scout mothers—thanks a million.

Last Saturday evening Bill and Jean Wallace, Gordon and Shirley Carbaugh, and Alvin Jackson spent the evening at the 19th Hole in Santee. The main attraction as far as they were concerned was the featured singer of the evening, Ruth Jackson of the canyon. She plays the electric steel guitar, piano, and belts out a really good rendition of western tunes. She appears in various spots around the county and puts on a fine show according to her admirers.

Of interest to their friends in the canyon is the news that Al and Alice Fuller, former canyonites now living in Sonora, California, are the proud new parents of Albert Lee who was born August 26. Alice is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hoval Bostwick who are also former canyon residents now living in Sonora. Local grandmother is Mrs. Fuller who resides on Frances Drive with daughter, Bonnie, proud new aunt of the infant.

Bill and Joanne Pipes visited the canyon last weekend and according to proud grandma, Irene, the baby is growing like a weed.

Charlie and Zoia Cobb are entertaining friends, Mike and Shura Michili, from Santa Rosa who are visiting with them this week.

Marge and Jim Whitehead have returned from their vacation and one of the nice things they did was visit with former canyonites, Barbara and Ed Betterton at Gardnerville near Topaz Lake.

Lonnie Hettinger turned 21 today (Thursday) but he didn't have much of a party and there was no birthday cake with candles. (With this many candles he'd need a burning permit in this kind of weather, anyway). He is still in his training period at the Training Center and won't be seeing his folks for another few weeks yet. He would enjoy hearing from his buddies so here is his address: L. J. Hettinger, SR 688-86-63; Company 358; U. S. Naval Training Center, San Diego, Calif. 92133. Drop him a line.

Bert Camacho has just received a license from American Kennel Club to operate the Tiny Tot Chihuahua Kennels at her home on Frances Drive. After she learns to spell chihuahua she can put up a sign. This teasing is because when I asked how to spell it she stammered and said I'd better look it up.

A person or persons unknown "mowed down" the five hydrant at Rosalie Way and Frances Drive about 11 p.m. last Monday night and left water spurting in all directions. It was soon reported and taken care of by our around the clock water maintenance men.

A "don't bring a gift" birthday party was given for Billy Hopkins last Saturday night and his canyon friends helped him celebrate the occasion.

Friends honored Del Svoveland at a miscellaneous bridal shower on Tuesday night in her parent's home. Mrs. Sharon Rioux, of San Diego, was hostess. Many lovely gifts were opened and after a fun-filled evening, cake and coffee and soft drinks were served to the guests.

The Wharff family received a scare Saturday evening when they returned home between 7:30 and 8 to find that someone had poured used motor oil on the floor of their feed room and then spread hay over it. Investigators from the forestry service and the Sheriff's Department stated that it appeared to be a serious malicious prank or a deliberate arson attempt. Needless to say, the family is watching very closely to see that it doesn't happen again.

JAMUL

By HELEN VAN NORMAN

A surprise visit was paid to the Van Norman family by Mrs. Doris Cota, a friend, from San Diego, who had a student from Hong Kong, China with her. His name is Daniel (Linry) Hsu. He graduated with his A.B. Degree from Chung Chi University in Hong Kong. Now he is working towards his Masters Degree in accounting. After finishing his studies at San Diego State he will return to Hong Kong to teach at the University there.

It is too bad that there isn't more of this in all countries, where the future teachers have a chance to go to universities in other countries so they will have first hand knowledge of the government workings in countries other than their own.

All the luck to Linny in his studies in this country. I hope the good will he takes back home will help in cementing our two countries a little closer together.

Mrs. Maud Boles, a long time resident of Jamul, was found Friday morning, Sept. 20, 1963 lying on the floor of her home by Mrs. Mary Henry, who called an ambulance and rushed her to Grossmont Hospital. As of this writing she is still in critical condition and no visitors are allowed except the immediate family. We all wish Mrs. Boles a speedy recovery.

Friday Otay Water District had its open house for the dedication of its new headquarters. Mr. Bert Whitacre the director from the Jamul area was one of the guides. We of the area want to say another "well done" to Bert.

The first meeting of the 4H was held Wednesday night at the Community Club House. Anyone interested in joining the 4H are urged to attend the Achievement meeting that will be held Oct. 16. Dulzura 4H is the Jamul invited guests.

MT. LAGUNA

By KATHY McMANUS

Pat and Millie McEvoy went to Los Angeles, Lake Arrowhead, and Big Bear for a six-day business trip and vacation. Although it rained all the time they were gone they still enjoyed themselves.

Hunting season officially started September 21, at 6 a.m. The deer season will continue daily through November 3. Normally Mt. Laguna's Sunrise Highway is jammed with hunters but the opening weekend was only lightly decked with red shirts.

One lucky hunter, Gary Duncan of La Jolla, gunned down a handsome 130-pound four-pointer. The buck was shot down off of Burma Road here in the Lagunas. Though Duncan, a San Diego policeman, has hunted often in this county this was his first trophy. Many hunters in the deep woods saw no animals. On the other hand, three road hunters glassing the open country between the Laguna Junction and the 5,000 foot marker were home by noon with fine bucks. From those who saw no deer or even does, there rose a cry that the recent special antlerless hunts had trimmed the herd too closely. Not so said county game manager Ed Green. "The absence of deer is the natural outgrowth of the long drought we've experienced," he said. "Check the State Parks and the fire closure areas. They haven't been hunted, and the deer are absent there, too."

Friday, Sept. 20, Mt. Empire Redskins beat San Diego Military Academy's football team, 18-7 in the first game of the season. Gary Sanborn of Pine Valley ran 65 yards for a touchdown. Quarterback Bill "Mousie" Prince hit Stephen Sanchez on two plays. Sanchez scored on both plays, one a two-yard pass from Prince another a 41-yard pass from Prince. Prince and Sanchez are both from Jacumba.

Mrs. Dora Holmes of Holtville passed away in a Los Angeles Rest Home. Mrs. Holmes was the beloved grandmother of Jack Holmes of Mt. Laguna. The funeral will be held Monday in Holtville.

PINE VALLEY

By AMY N. HARVEY

Mr. and Mrs. Homer Peterson motored down from Long Beach to visit their son, David and his wife, Jeannie and the new granddaughter. They brought with them an old Norwegian custom of bringing their dinner, which in this case consisted of delicious fried chicken, potato salad and a number of Norwegian goodies.

Mrs. Evelyn Browne has as house guests this week, her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Hagerty and family from Lancaster. They drove down, arrived last Saturday.

The John Straubs are back with us after a week or more taking in the latest shows and seeing relatives and friends in Los Angeles.

One of the very busiest women in Pine Valley is Mary Kerns, active in so many civic affairs. This week she is attending a two-day conference in San Francisco of the Republican State Committee. By the time this goes to press she should have returned and be getting ready for the Women's Club which is to meet at her home on Buckthorne Trail Wednesday, the 25th.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ferguson are well on their way to Pennsylvania by now, that is another couple that finds so much enjoyment in traveling these days. Edith's and Frank's smiling faces may be seen around here again the latter part of October.

The fashion show drew many favorable comments from the excellent crowd that turned out for the event last Saturday. It was held at the clubhouse, which was filled to capacity with residents from Alpine, San Diego, Descanso and Santee. The models from Pine Valley included Judy Mullins, Sandy Walker and Shirley Winkelman. All of the models did a marvelous job. It was a pleasure to watch them as they promenaded across the stage and among the assembled guests.

Wanda Fuquay, of Wand's Beauty Shop in Guatay is leaving with her husband on a hunting trip that will take them into Montrose, Colorado, while they are on vacation they will visit with Wanda's mother and family. They are planning on leaving October 13 and will return on November 12. Her shop will be closed while they are away, so ladies be sure to get prettied up before our excellent beautician deserts us for greener pastures for a month. We will miss you but have fun on a much-needed get-away-from-it-all vacation.

Edith George is home now and manages to get around on crutches but must be very careful not to overtax her strength.

Mrs. Giesbrecht has returned from her trip to Beaumont, Texas. She said she was happy to be home again. She arrived at her mother's just 30 minutes before the storm broke and before she left they had had over 16 inches of rain with extremely heavy winds and the mud and dirt were inches thick in some of the homes. She also says that one hurricane is quite enough for her in a life time.

Dog Attacks Alpine School Girl

Grossmont Election

they are using $1.96 this year. "Since the Cajon District is about one-third of the Grossmont District, it seems practical to join forces in this election," Dr. Elliott said. The merger will allow shared costs and provide unified campaign effort on the part of the workers.

Also discussed at the Grossmont meeting were plans for precinct work, for a speakers' bureau, materials to be used in the campaign. Twenty people were present.

The Alpine Union School District is a part of the Grossmont Union School District.

Kids Party

Kids party held by the Alpine Kiwanis Club. A crowd of about 300 kids from Alpine are expected to attend, weather permitting. Last year it rained on the day of the party, but 200 kids attended anyway, so if the weather is good this coming Saturday, Mr. Partridge expects the party attendance to break all records for Alpine.

Remember all kids in Alpine are invited to this big party, and everything is free.
