'ALPINE' OPENS DOORS TO PATIENTS; CONVALESCENT CENTER IN FULL OPERATION

With the first patient, Mrs. Irene Hague, almost 100 years of age, the beautiful new Alpine Convalescent Center swung into action as a full time hospital last week. The move was completed Friday, August 30th, when Mrs. Patricia Mitchell moved all her patients and staff from her former place, Mallicoat Nursing Home on Highway 80, to the new address.

Sunday afternoon we found Mrs. Mitchell playing the piano for patients in the beautiful lounge. Her oldest guest, Mrs. Hague, watched a ball game on TV. Everyone looked very comfortable and pleased with the surroundings.

Mrs. Mitchell spoke with enthusiasm of the dietician in charge of the menus, and said another registered nurse, Mrs. Marie Yost, of San Diego, would join the staff this week.

Three new patients have been

Alpine C of C Annual Membership Meeting September 11

The annual membership meeting of the Alpine Chamber of Commerce will be held next Wednesday evening, September 11, at 8 p.m. at the Youth Center.

The election of the members of the Board of Directors is held at the annual meeting. The by-laws provide for a Board of Directors consisting of nine active members, four of which are elected in the even numbered years and five in the odd numbered years. Consequently, five positions on the Board will be voted upon at this year's annual meeting.

The members of the Board whose terms expire this year are Auren Pierce, Clyde Gilley, Jack Hoistad, Al Hinkle and Doug Fordyce. The members of the Board who carry over until next year are Mrs. Katherine Black, Dick Harris, Harold Lutz and Orville Palmer.

All members of the Chamber are urged to be present. Any member may bring any matter to the meeting which they believe would be of interest or benefit to the Chamber in carrying out its activities.

INTIMATE GLIMPSES

By BEA LA FORCE

Work and soap are a native American team. We are told that our first settlers believed "cleanliness is next to Godliness," and we know they had to work to make the soap that kept them and their households clean. Lye soap it was, made by the housewife as one of her regular duties. If we are to believe all the singing commercials pushing modern cleansers and detergents, then the old lye product that grandma made must have been fearful stuff, ferocious to the skin of man and beast. Women got dishpan hands from it, children got wash-pan feet from it, and it refused to lather in hard water. It did not smell sweet or leave perfume in the laundry. Work was required to use it as well as to make it. Still and all it served a stout line of Americans for a long time.

Now both soap and work are rapidly becoming dirty words. It's fairly easy to understand what's wrong with lye soap and how the new products may be more humane, quicker, sweeter smelling, sudsier, foamier, and more inclined to make the TV housewife smile ecstatically. But what's wrong with work? This country was built by hard work by men and women who didn't mind creating their own lather both with soap and work. There are still many such people here, but there is a growing number of another kind. One old employer calls them the 5 times 1 type. He says it takes four such to do one good man's work, and another to keep track of the problems created by their demands.

A job, he says, is supposed to supply a good wage, coffee breaks, rest periods, sick leave, coffee breaks, all inclusive insurance for the entire family, coffee breaks, regular stated raises free band-aids, annual vacation with pay, special chairs to sit in, special floors, special lighting, free aspirin, coffee breaks, Christmas bonus, annual office party, five day week, 8-hour day including coffee breaks, rest periods, toilet periods and blank periods when job holder stares into space waiting for coffee break. They also want equal status despite differences in training and ability. He says this over-emphasis on privilege goes hand in hand with the under-emphasis on responsibility.

naturally such a tribe would scorn soap. They could not bear the strain of creating their own lather with a bar of ordinary soap. They must have something easy, something which foams at the touch of a push button, in cold water, or hot water, or lukewarm water, that bubbles like girlish laughter, that froths like romance is said to froth in Paris in the spring. It's not enough that the stuff cleanses the skin. It must also sooth, enchant, excite, youthify, beautify, and assure the user social superiority and economic success. Above all, it must be easy, no work required.

PRESS, RADIO AND TELEVISION ENTERTAINED AT TECATE

Last Saturday, August 31, the business men of Tecate, Baja California, under the leadership of Cervceria Cuauhtemoc, S. A., producers of "Carta Blanca" and "Tecate" beer, entertained representatives of the press, radio and television from throughout the southwest.

The purpose of inviting representatives of the new media to Tecate was in order to acquaint them with the community and outline the possibilities of developing commerce and industry since the highways have been completed from Tijuana through Tecate to Mexicali and from Tecate to Ensenada.

The entertainment included a reception in the morning in Hidalgo Park which is located in the center of Tecate, where the guests were greeted and entertained with musical numbers by a Mexican band. A conducted tour through

H. C. HOME RANSACKED

Rev. Otto H. Reese, pastor of the Linda Vista Baptist Church, reported that a home owned by him at 644 St. George Drive in Harbison Canyon was ransacked over the weekend.

Furniture valued at $700 was stolen including two single beds, complete with mattresses and bedding, two chests of drawers and a small organ. Windows were broken, closets were ransacked and drawers were thrown about the rooms. Books out of the bookcase were strewn over the floor.

The home was unoccupied and is used by church groups for recreational outings.

Rainstorm Visits San Diego County

An exceptionally heavy rainstorm for September fell generally throughout San Diego County last Tuesday night and Wednesday morning despite the weatherman's previous prediction of clear weather with sunshiny days.

The Alpine Echo rain gauge measured 1.98-inch for the storm, which is more than was measured in San Diego where the weatherman said it was the heaviest September rainfall for the past 42 years.

The last previous precipitation measured in the Echo gauge was .12-inch in the early part of August.

The rain was sufficient to reduce the forest fire hazard for the next few days, but did not result in any runoff. No damage has been reported in the Alpine area.

State College Classes To Start Sept. 23

Nearly 3000 new students have been invited to participate in Orientation Week, Sept. 16-20, at San Diego State.

The purpose of the week is to provide an opportunity for new students (freshmen and transfer students) to gain knowledge of the college curriculum, from the academic program to campus social life, according to Janet Bucknell, student orientation chairman.

More than 14,550 students are expected to be enrolled at San Diego State when classes formally open Sept. 23, President Malcolm A. Love said today.

This will represent a gain of more than 800 students over last year's final fall enrollment of 13,696. Based upon past figures, the science-engineering field is expected to attract the largest number of students with education and business administration rating a close second and third.

There will be some 900 persons on the total faculty including librarians, Air Force ROTC instructors, administrators, and full and

Truck Loses Load Of Pipe On Hiway 80

A large flat-bed truck and trailer traveling along at about the middle of Viejas grade on Highway 80 lost its load of pipes at about 5:30 a.m. last Wednesday.

The State Highway Patrol state that no accident was involved, but that the pipe was scattered along the highway for a considerable distance, and that the reloading of the pipes took approximately 10 10 hours.

Traffic control was maintained by the State Highway Patrol during the time that the reloading was taking place.

LETTER FROM GUADALAJARA

This is part of a letter to her parents, from Alice LaForce Cordtz, while in Guadalajara, Mexico. She and her family visited in the city two weeks. Are now in Cuernavaca.

... "The shoe shop was about eight feet wide and who knows how deep! The shoemaker looked like a nice old fellow. He had a bushy grey mustache and was rather fat. His complexion was ruddy, not olive. He sat all day on a backless stool and worked away. He had two special friends, one who rode a bicycle, and one who walked. The one who got there first sat on a box on one side of the door, the other squatted down and leaned against the other side of the door. When the two friends were not there, little children came and watched. The shop was very cluttered, and customers would come and take off a shoe and lean against the wall while the old shoemaker fixed it.

Three doors down the block there was a tortilleria. Double doors opened onto the sidewalk. Eight or 10 women stood for 12 to 14 hours each day and slapped out tortillas for people who came in a steady stream and waited, holding out baskets or dishes for the hot tortillas. The girls kept a loud radio going all day long and laughed and chatted and were the gay center of the block.

Street vendors and paper boys were about very early each morning. The vendors pushed two wheeled carts piled high with bananas and pineapples. Men walked with baskets balanced on their heads loaded with sweet rolls and greens. Later I found out that the green stuff was large alfalfa. Many people keep cows and chickens in their patios here, so I guess the alfalfa was for them. The milkman was the most prosperous. He had a fine horse and a nice

Pink Ladies To Hold Program

The Edgemoor Geriatric Hospital Auxiliary at Santee will hold an Indoctrination and Orientation program at the hospital chapel on September 17 and 24, and October 1 and 8, from 9 to 11 a.m.

Direct patient services, recreation, arts and crafts, and beauty care are among the many activities that Pink Ladies do to help the 500 patients at the hospital.

Plans for Christmas are now being discussed and new Pink Ladies would be completely trained by that time to assist in this worthwhile program.

The Auxiliary invites anyone over the age of 18 who would be interested in volunteering for work at the hospital in Santee, or at the Auxiliary Thrift Shop in El Cajon, to contact Mrs. Tisue at the hospital, or to attend the first program on September 17 in the hospital chapel.

Old Globe Reports Successful Summer

Craig Noel, producing director of San Diego's Old Globe Theatre, reported the current summer season has attracted 33,492 patrons since the opening June 18 of the 14th National Shakespeare Festival. Two final weeks, concluding September 15, will entertain an additional 6,480 theatre-goers. If capacity attendance continues, a total of 39,972 patrons will have viewed productions of "A Midsummer Night's Dream," "The Winter's Tale," and "Antony and Cleopatra."

Noel stated that all remaining performances of "Midsummer Night's Dream" are sold out through the end of the season, but good seats are still available for some performances of the other two plays.

EAST WIND

By LARRY

You know what? We lit out north again, on 395. Last Sunday, it was. And here we'd swore off Sunday driving. Too dangerous. Roads too crowded. Holiday come, some time we go. Any how. Spent the day driving. Enjoyed every minute of it, too.

This time we headed to Riverside. Never made it into that town, those darn Freeway cloverleaves, you know. Got twisted. Next thing we knew, we were on U. S. 91. No map with us either. Only way we could find out where 91 went to keep going.

Soon we comes to Pomona exits. Next Prado Dam exists. Then looms up a sign that says "Anaheim city limits, population 116,000." Now there's really something. Once lived in that town, we did. Population 4500.

As the old boy says, atalking to the lady on the street car: "there's been some changes." In Anaheim, that is. Progress sure has rared its ugly head in that town. Busy as all get out. Even come on Sunday.

But we paid it no stopping. Shoved on, just loafin' along. Comes to Cypress. Ain't this something. Got a new cemetery there, "Cypress-Forest Lawn," they calls it. Some joint to be dead in. The statues alone would be worth the price of admission. Water fountains yet. And colored lights. Why, it gives a guy a hankerin' to kick the bucket right off.

They've got enough green grass laid out there to stock two golf courses.

Enough of the hereafter. The weather was hot, smoggy. Traffic light hereabouts. Soon we comes to a Long Beach Municipal Airport. Begins to look like our old stamping grounds. Here's that tin building that used to shelter that big gambling club that somehow the powers that be never could locate to raid. Somebody oughta write a book about that one.

Took the beach road south. Slow traveling. Getting a mite hungry, too. Scads a skimpy clad dames scooting across the highway sure slowed us down. A guy can look, can't he?

Just about right along here we sees an accident. Somebody did look too long. No one hurt. Cars ruint, though. One of those deals where one car stops, asudden. Two or three cars in back, traveling too close and too fast telescope into each other. The last driver hitting the gang the hardest. Right in front of a cafe, it was. With aforesaid skimpy clad females scampering about.

Wonder if they had anything to do with causing that accident? Seems like a driyer ought to be able to stop his crate in plenty of time to avoid such accidents.

It was at Hof's House we ate. Good grub. Reasonable, too. Plenty of parking. Besides watching the girls, we got an eyeful of the traffic cops trying to straighten out traffic around that accident.

It was late afternoon when we left. Following the beach road. Surfside, Sunset Beach, Newport, Huntington Beach, Balboa, Laguna Beach, and name it, we saw it.

Traffic was just right for us. Going north, we met a regular parade of cars going south. And now on 101, we meets lots of traf-

Seminars Offered For Business Men

San Diego State's school of business administration will offer two basic seminars and one advanced seminar in management this fall for owners and managers of small businesses.

Sponsored in cooperation with the Small Business Administration, the seminars will spotlight problem areas common to small businesses. A pre-enrollment fee of $45 will be charged for the basic seminars; $50 for the advanced seminar.

Basic seminar, section one, will begin September 25 at 7 p.m. to 9 p.m., for eight Wednesdays. Basic seminar, section two, will begin September 26 at 7-9 p.m., for eight Thursdays.

The basic seminars will deal with management framework, financial needs, business loans and credit, accounting cost control, taxation, work simplification, human relations, and the economic and political climate of San Diego.

An advanced seminar is scheduled to meet from 7 to 9 p.m., beginning October 1 for eight Tuesdays.

This seminar will cover long and short range plans, sales forecasting, financial planning, cash budgeting, decision making, and policy formulation.

The basic seminars will be held in Room 108 at 1333 Second Avenue, San Diego. The advanced seminar sessions will meet in Japatul Valley since 1920, the school was new and in use when she and her husband moved to their home nearby. Mrs. Little recalls that her husband took a sincere interest in the school, donating his time to looking after it, even cleaning out the well when this needed doing.

The small neat building served the children of the area, including some from Lawson Valley, until 1947, when it was abandoned in favor of the Union school system. Then the children began riding the bus to Alpine. Mrs. Gertrude (Fred) Brown was teaching at that time. Another teacher, now living in Japatul Valley with her husband and children, is Mrs. George Snyder.

For a time the little school house stood vacant, and was occasionally usurped for parties by strangers. Once it was even un-

Miss Escondido Of 1888 To Be Chosen

A Diamond Jubilee queen will be selected at Escondido's Grape Day Park Sunday, Sept. 8 but the contest will not be a bathing suit affair.

Four contestants are seeking the title—all of them are more than 75 years of age and were born in Escondido—known then as Rincon del Diablo.

Entered are Mrs. Clara J. Brisco, 77, of 331 West University, San Diego; Mrs. Stella Brady Roberts, 79, of Montrose, Calif.; Mrs. Emma C. Nack, 77, and Mrs. Helen Hendershot, 77, both of Escondido.

Selection of the queen will be the highlight of an Old Timers picnic at Grape Day Park. The Parks and Recreation Department and Senior Citizens Center are co-sponsoring the day.

The contest will be at 3 p.m. It will be preceded by a band concert to be presented by the Camp Pendleton Marine Corps band.

A barber shop quartet sing will be held afterwards.

All of the activities are admission free.

The four contestants will be featured on the Regis Philbin Show, KOGO-TV (Channel 10) Saturday night.

They will be attired in the costume of the period.

CARNIVAL HELD FOR BENEFIT OF MUSCULAR DYSTROPHY

A carnival was held last week in Alpine for the benefit of muscular dystrophy. Jerry Judd, son of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Judd of Victoria Drive, wrote to Johnny Downs offering to hold a carnival with the proceeds to go to the fund which Mr. Downs is promoting. All of the supplies and ideas for the carnival were then sent to Jerry.

For over a week, Jerry, his brothers, Tom and David, and a number of their friends worked to put up booths on their parents' property. There were booths for shooting candles with water guns, throwing a wet sponge at a head poked through a sheet, a trap shoot, and a pie tin throw. The head that took the brunt of the wet sponges was that of Tommy Judd. Arline Dun, Tommy Harris, Martin and Melinda Roth, and Jimmy, Doug and Billy Ingalls were given the jobs of running these various concessions. Pony rides were also available with Ar-

C.A.P. Holds Dance

The Alpine Civil Air Patrol Squadron 129's fund raising dance, mass formation, will be held September 7 from 7 until 11:30 p.m. in the Alpine Youth Center.

Admission for students will be 25c, adults will be asked to contribute a donation. Music will be provided by the Pharaohs. The dance will be chaperoned and refreshments will be available.

Young Airman Is Injured In Alpine

Walter J. Burdick Jr., 23, an Air Force man stationed at the Mt. Laguna Radar Station, received facial and chest injuries in an accident that occurred in Alpine at 5:40 p.m. last Saturday.

According to a report from the California State Highway Patrol, young Burdick, eastbound on Highway 80, swerved to avoid hitting a car which was backing out of the U-Wash into his path. He sideswiped the backing car, driven by Harlow W. Hem, 48, of Alpine, and his car traveled 150 feet over the berm, jumped a ditch, and stopped just short of the building which houses Cindy's and Pick's Watch Repair Shop on the opposite side of the highway.

Mr. Burdick was taken by ambulance to the Naval Hospital. Mr. Hem was not injured according to the report.

New Water Tower Going Up

A second water tower next to the present one on Katherine Place, Fletcher Hills, will soon rise to change the skyline view. The new tower is needed for water service to the new Grossmont College and the planned 550 acre residential development north and west of the college site. "There is no gravity flow as in other utility lines so the water must be pumped and stored under pressure to serve the area," according to Gordon Smith, School Planning Director for the local junior college district.

The new tower will be larger than the Helix Irrigation District tower now in service. The Santee County Water District will expand their services to enable the development of this large county area. The tower will be initially over-sized for adjacent property. The cost, now principally borne by the college needs will be reimbursed as the residential development goes forward. Telephone lines are already in. Gas and electric services are again a shared cost between the college and the general area developers.

Junior College Supt. Resigns

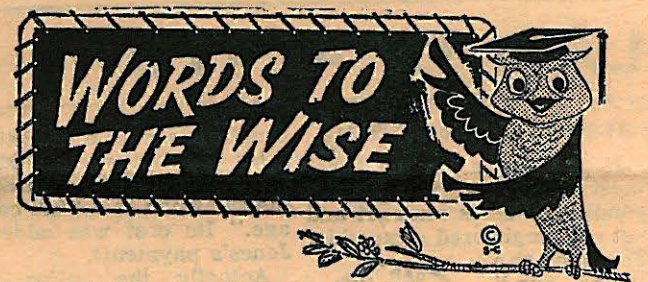

Harold G. Hughes will succeed Lewis Smith as superintendent of the Grossmont Junior College District. Meeting this week, the district board of trustees, accepted the resignation of Smith, who will remain as superintendent of the high school district. Hughes will remain as deputy superintendent of the high school district.

On July first Smith asked to be relieved of his duties for the college, pointing out that most of this work concerned business affairs, building and building plans. Hughes has been working with the college in these fields.

Smith has been superintendent of the junior college district since it was formed in January 1961. He has been high school district superintendent since 1945. Hughes has been with the Grossmont schools for 27 years. Both he and Smith have received $1 a year for their junior college services. Just when Hughes will take over his new duties has not been announced.

The man with the big happy smile is fisherman Jack Blankenship, local Alpine merchant. He, with his daughter and Malcolm Huey, Jr., had a most successful fishing trip the other day. The 129 pound marlin shown with them is their prize catch. It battled them for 40 minutes before being landed.

A-Ban

Great to-do throughout the country regarding the proposed Kennedy-Kruschev A-ban agreement.

Statesmen, scientists, military authorities, former Presidents, college professors, and just most everybody else are having their say as to the value of any such agreement if made and approved by the Senate.

Many are all for it—best thing that could ever happen. Many others are opposed.

Who is so naive as to believe that Russia would live up to any agreement? Why don't we shut up and saw wood right here at home with a few of those paltry billions we are scattering throughout the world?

Tit For Tat

The head of a certain foreign government has been asked by our government to bounce his relatives off his government's payroll.

We have read editorials and newspaper commentators' columns which intimate that maybe this would be a good idea in this country.

LAW IN ACTION

BUYING A CAR ON TIME

If you buy a car on time, most likely you will sign a conditional sales contract and get only registered ownership. Through the "pink slip," the seller or the financier will hold the legal ownership.

You become full owner by meeting all "conditions"—timely and full payment.

Since the seller keeps legal title, he can repossess the car if you fail to meet the terms. Should he do so, you get a notice that the car will be sold to pay off your contract, and have five days to pay it off yourself. Otherwise, you may lose your equity.

When you buy a car, check your contract with care. Are the blanks filled in? Did you get a copy? Do you know all you have signed? The law says that no dealer may deliver a car unless you get a complete copy of the contract. Check the payment schedules. See that your down payment is credited, and that interest and other changes are as agreed. Leave nothing to word of mouth.

In a recent case, Jones bought a car on a conditional sales contract which said the car was covered by insurance; the salesman said "full coverage." Its cost was added to Jones's payments.

Actually the seller only bought some insurance for the car but no public liability coverage.

Jones got into an accident. Lacking insurance, he had to give up his driver's license. People filed many claims against him.

Jones sued the seller and won. The court said "full coverage" means at least minimum public liability insurance.

This was all fine and dandy but Jones might have saved much trouble had he checked his contract and his insurance when he bought the car and not waited until he was in trouble.

State College Classes To Start Sept. 23

part-time teaching persons. This compares to a similar total of 843 one year ago.

The number of available college degrees will be increased this year. While the number of undergraduate degrees stands at 62, the number of graduate degrees moves from 32 to 36.

Three of the four newly approved master's degree programs will begin instruction this September for the first time. They are: a one-year master's degree program in astronomy, a one-year master's degree program in German, and a two-year master's degree program in business administration. The fourth, a two-year master's degree program in social work, now in the planning stages, will begin instruction next year, September 1964.

It will be the initial year of the campus abroad program in France, Germany, Sweden, Spain and Formosa as sponsored by the California State College. The program began in late August and includes Five San Diego State students who are attending year-long studies in France, Germany, and Spain.

OBITUARIES

THEODORE C. GIMMEL

Theodore C. Gimmel, 62, died early today, Thursday, September 5, at his home at Willow Glen Farm on Alpine Heights Road, Alpine. Mr. Gimmel had been a resident in Alpine for 26 years, and of California for 35 years. He was a native of Kentucky.

Mr. Gimmel was formerly in the Armed Forces, having served in the U. S. Navy for 30 years prior to retirement a few years ago. He was a World War II veteran, and a member of the Fleet Reserve and the VFW posts in Alpine. He worked for the past two and a half years for Willow Glen Farm in charge of the kennel.

Mr. Gimmel is survived by his wife, Helen T., and a sister, Julia Vann of Newport, Kentucky.

Services will be held at 10 a.m., Monday, September 9, at El Cajon Mortuary, with graveside services at 11:20 a.m. at Fort Rosecrans. Fr. J. M. Lax of the Episcopal Church in El Cajon will officiate.

LESLIE LEE CARPENTER

Leslie Lee Carpenter, 78, died today, Thursday, September 5, in his home at 2337 Highway 80, Alpine. He had lived in Alpine for the past two years, and in California for 30 years. He was born in Kentucky.

Mr. Carpenter was a retired salesman. He had worked for 15 years for the Don Snyder Co. of Long Beach.

He is survived by his wife, Ethel May.

Services will be held in Long Beach, with interment at the Sunnyside Cemetery in that city.

It's In The Library

By ELIZABETH C. WEST

There are two matters which the Alpine Branch Librarian is eager to talk about. The first is "Westward Tilt—The American West Today" by Neil Morgan with a foreword by James A. Michener. The second is our Summer Reading Club which is reaching its finale this coming Saturday.

As for the book, it is a 400-page volume containing vast amounts of information about the 11 states between the Rocky Mountains and the Pacific Ocean. This region is a new sub-nation, according to the author—a large area which is forging ahead of the rest of America in tackling—and solving—many of our national problems. It is an extraordinarily readable survey of the political, social, economic and cultural forces of California, Oregon, Washington, Idaho, Montana, Wyoming, Nevada, Utah, Colorado, Arizona and New Mexico.

As for the second matter of interest, one half of those children who signed up for the Summer Reading Club, have completed their assignments. Those in grades one to four, read and listed 10 books; those in grades five to eight, read five fiction books and wrote reviews of them. These 13 young people will attend the Awards Meeting, Saturday, Sept. 7, at 11 o'clock in the old library hall back of the El Cajon Branch Library. Folk Singer Sam Hinton, and authors Winifred Bromball and Rick Richardson, a teenager, will be the speakers. Alpine is privileged to be invited guests. The following have received tickets of admission from Mrs. Cooley, children's librarian in El Cajon; Linda Haddock, Morgan Homesley, Kim, Lori and Michele Gildgore, George and John Kochel, Donna Osborn, Pat Phelps, Peggy Jean Ralston, Robert and Steven Weeks and David Weisbach.

ALPINE

By DEBBIE MARSHALL

Mrs. R. M. Dillworth and her son, Robert, visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Trail of Alpine Terrace Road, over the Labor Day weekend. Robert went hunting with his grandfather in Imperial Valley. They report no luck, but enjoyed the outing together. Mrs. Trail expects to visit the Fontana area for a few days to visit her granddaughter, Mrs. Paul Tash and her family.

Labor Day was just that at the Allen Ingall's house on Arnold Way. All the members of the family worked on reroofing their home.

Mrs. Anita Wright of Peutz Valley and Mr. Louie Silva were married last week in Las Vegas. Mrs. Wright was formerly a teacher in the Alpine school and is now teaching in El Cajon. Mr. Silva is an uncle of Al Adams of Alpine Heights Road, and a long-time resident in this area. They plan to make their home in Peutz Valley.

Frank and Josie Ball and their family visited with his parents, Dr. and Mrs. Howard Ball, and with Leata and Tom Judd over the holiday weekend.

Eugene Freeland of Rancho Santa Fe with his wife, Mary, and their three children, visited his father at Willow Glen Farm over the long holiday weekend. They enjoyed the fine weather and spent many hours in the pool.

Mr. Chester Gibson, new eighth grade teacher at the Alpine Elementary School, is making his residence in a rental on the property of Mr. and Mrs. J. Clinton, on Arnold Way.

Mrs. Bobbie Whitt of Eltinge Drive, Alpine, and her three children left last Tuesday to visit with friends in Hawaii.

The four Pierce children from Palo Verde ranch recently spent a week at Newport Beach on a vacation with their grandparents. Their parents, Jeanne and Auren Pierce, were vacationing at the mouth of the Klamath River in Oregon where they enjoyed the salmon fishing. They caught six large salmon and had them canned to bring home.

admitted. The latest is Mrs. Joe Foss (Bertha), a long time resident of Alpine.

There are no restriction on visiting hours, Mrs. Mitchell said. Guests are welcome any time.

Tecate Entertainment

Cervceria Cuauhtemoc, S. A., which is Tecate's principal industry at the present time, was followed by an excellent luncheon of Spanish dishes which was served on picnic tables under large oak trees in Los Encinos Park, a municipal park situated in the south-westerly section of the city.

The guests were entertained by their hosts in the typical cordial and friendly Mexican manner.

The Hidalgo Park will be the center of the activities during the Tecate Fair-Exposition which will be held in Tecate September 7 through 16, with Saturday, September 14 set aside as good neighbor day. Booths and shops were being erected on three sides of Hidalgo Park to be used by the merchants and residents of Tecate to exhibit their wares during the Fair-Exposition. Some of the booths and shops can be seen in the background in the picture of the entrance to Hidalgo Park.

Intimate Glimpses

no-work-easy-clean cult is a new powdered product smelling like Oriental incense in a baby blue box and bearing the proclamation: SOAKS CHILDREN CLEAN WITHOUT WASHING. Attached to the box is a plastic toy for the parents to play with while the children soak in the bubbly, smelly, no-work suds. Of course, someone has to dry the kids, but this is soon to be corrected. They're making a new kind of bath stuff from which the user dries automatically the moment he steps from the tub. He comes out covered with rosy bubbles which, bursting instantly, create a perfumed warm breeze that dries him. All that's holding up distribution, says the old employer, is what kind of toy to give with it.

and Mrs. Ablott, school nurse, were guests also. The bus drivers, one custodian, the returning teachers and the new teachers were the other guests.

"Going ahead with the PTA" was the general theme of the day. A fried chicken luncheon was served by the PTA ladies. Entertainment included group singing and a short skit after which Mr. Clay introduced the teachers and other members of the school staff.

Mrs. Virgie Presley, Harbison Canyon PTA president, introduced Her board members, Mrs. Hazel Foster, Mrs. Cole, Mrs. Shirley Dana, Mrs. Dorothy Ellis, Mrs. Doris Green, Mrs. Carol Palthe, Mrs. Irene Pipes, and Mrs. Leona Buell, hospitality chairman.

Mrs. Mary Alice Griggs, President of the Alpine PTA introduced Mrs. Bert Sutton, Mrs. Jane Meade, Mrs. Woolridge, Mrs. Mimi Wilson and Mrs. Moxey, of her board.

Sara Smith Wedding Plans

Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Smith of Alpine Terrace Road are announcing the engagement of their daughter Sara Ellen, to Ensign Beasley Leffew, USNR, of Franklin, Kentucky. The wedding will be performed in the St. Francis Chapel in Balboa Park on September 21st at 2 p.m. with a reception following in the Loggia Room in the House of Hospitality.

The young couple will leave immediately for a wedding trip following which the groom will report for duty in Seattle where they will live.

CAMPO

By FAY FARRIS

Have just learned after all this time that Mr. and Mrs. Frank Thomas of Morena Village welcomed a baby daughter on July 22. She weighed five pounds. They also have a small son.

The Altar Society of the Campo Catholic Church met at the home of Pat Chase in Potrero on Monday evening of last week. Present were Helen Pate, Babe Johnson, Mrs. Krause, Marie Martin, Marie Lindemann, Mary Hutchinson and Father Keller.

A bobcat 30 inches long and 16 inches high was killed on the Fisher property northeast of Cameron Corners by George Fisher on Monday night of last week.

Mt. Empire Woman's Club enjoyed a delicious luncheon and pleasant meeting at the home of Mrs. Hawkins in Descanso on Wednesday of last week, 23 were present. Orleta Coppage was co-hostess. Mrs. Wolfe assisted in serving. The next meeting will be the quarterly card party at the home of Elizabeth Johnson in Descanso on September 11.

Fay Barrish of Lake Morena received word week before last that her mother was very ill, and she left immediately for Pennsylvania to be with her.

The mother of Connie Jones of Potrero underwent surgery last week, and Connie spent a few days in San Diego so she could be near her.

The potluck dinner at the Old Oak Inn at Cameron Corners was reported in this column in last week's issue, and this is to state that sufficient funds were collected at the dinner to buy the needed resuscitator, extra oxygen tanks and supplies for the Campo area.

Mr. and Mrs. Dick O'Day of Rancho del Campo have transferred to San Bernardino and they left Campo last week. Mr. O'Day will teach at San Bernardino High.

The Board members of the Lake Morena Woman's Club met at the home of Dell Neilsen in Lake Morena week before last for the purpose of planning the program for the coming year. This information will be incorporated in a Year Book which will be given to each member. A delicious dinner was prepared by the President Daisy McCoy, and was enjoyed before the meeting.

New teachers at the Mt. Empire Junior and Senior High Schools will be Mr. Austin, mathematics; Mr. Coffin, English and library; Mr. Hoard, industrial arts; Mr. Knutsen, mathematics; Mr. Shearer, P. E. coaching and general science, and Mr. Wasail, biological sciences and P. E. coach.

DEERHORN VALLEY

By ROY WALLIN

Don't forget, friends and neighbors, that the Deerhorn Valley Civic Club meets down at the Deerhorn Lodge this Friday at 8:30 p.m. W. L. (Jim) Wolf announced that this would be an important meeting to all the members of our community in that the major item on the agenda will be a discussion on the naming or renaming of the present Honey Springs Road as well as that portion of the new road from Bratton Valley to Lyons Valley Road. On this issue, the main speaker for the evening will be Mr. Theo L. Yaker, office manager for the Building Inspection Department for the County of San Diego, who is in charge of street naming and house numbering for the county. It is strongly urged that all Deerhornites be there, especially those owning property adjoining Honey Springs Road, and the new road from Bratton's to Lyon's Valley Road. See you all at the meeting.

Well, it's just about time for the school bell to ring for the children again. Next Tuesday, September 10, marks the opening day for the Jamul-Las Flores School. If you haven't already registered a new student, make sure you do, by next Tuesday, at the latest, no registration Monday as it's a legal holiday, Admission day. Bring his or her birth certificates and a record of the three polio vaccinations. Our bus driver up here will remain the same, Ronnie Beidler, and the bus schedule will be about the same, leaving the end of Honey Springs at 7:15 a.m. and arriving at 4:07 p.m.; leaving Deerhorn Lodge at 7:20 a.m. and arriving at 3:57 p.m. Other stops can be gauged from these two. It is requested that the children be there five minutes before the bus is scheduled to arrive to avoid delays or missing the bus. All grades will have full sessions, including the kindergarten, for purposes of the bus schedule.

The new district superintendent (principal) is Mr. Rodney R. Raymond, who was formerly principal of Edgewood Junior High School in the Bassett Unified School District, La Puente, California. The teachers for the Jamul school this year are as follows: Kindergarten, Mrs. Gertrude Amster; first grade, Mrs. Mary Ellen White, second grade, Mrs. Helen M. Tuve; third grade, Mrs. Velma Cole; fourth grade, Mrs. Louise Harvey; fifth grade, Mrs. Adele Nelson; sixth grade, Mr. Nelson B. Palmer; seventh grade, Mr. Floyd Piper, and eighth grade, Miss Justine Mathis. A sigh of relief from the mothers, and a welcome from all of us to the new teachers and Mr. Raymond.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cook of Deerhorn left on a month's vacation last Monday to visit his mother in Redwood City, California, and then on to Lake Tahoe, Nevada, and Utah to visit friends and places of interest—have a good time, and we'll see you both soon.

"Cec" and Win Sellers returned early this week from a long Labor Day vacation holiday in the Palm-dale area—good to have you back.

DEHESA

By KATHRYN HEINZ

Mrs. Dorothy Avery and children, Mark, Cookie and Barbara visited the Wax Museum and Knotts Berry Farm over the Labor Day holidays.

Mr. and Mrs. Carlton E. Blake of New York are the new residents of Poker Flats on Dehesa Road.

Welcome to Dehesa Valley.

Mrs. Marshall Sweet and family accompanied Mrs. Walter Thompson and family to Mission Bay Park Tuesday for a picnic and swimming.

Mrs. J. McElrath and daughter, Sheri arrived in San Diego Tuesday from Sacramento. They will visit her sister, Mrs. Wayne Brown and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanford Linzey attended a fellowship meeting and dinner at the Baptist Church in Harbison Canyon Sunday. During the afternoon the men painted the inside and flower boxes of the church.

The Dehesa Valley Riders went on a Moonlight Ride Sunday night. Members attending were Kathy Vockrodt, Evelyn Gregg, John and David Heinz, Wayne Fields Jr. and Katie Novak. Riders were chaperoned by Kenneth Jefferies and Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Newmann.

Mr. El Tift has returned to work after a two weeks' vacation.

Sgt. Don Smith entertained his three sons over the Labor Day weekend. They reside in Riverside.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Brown and children spent Friday at Silver Strand State Park. Late in the day they visited Mrs. Brown's mother in San Diego.

Mrs. Byron Moore and children were visitors at the John Heinz residence Friday evening.

Sycuan 4-H leaders appointed at the August meeting are as follows: Beef and horse activity, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Neumann; bees, Wayne Brown; crops, Wayne Brown; clothing, Mrs. Bill Hamilton and Mrs. Ira Denton; dairy, Mr. Donald Vockrodt; electric, Mr. Bill Hamilton and John Heinz; entomology, Mrs. John Heinz and Mrs. Wayne Brown; food preparation and food preservation, Mrs. John Bennett; goat, Mrs. Wayne Brown; home furnishing and grounds beautification, Mrs. Walter Thompson; plant propagation, Wayne Brown; poultry, Mrs. Alden Willis; rabbits, George Budurin; tractor, Raymond Harvey; swine, Mrs. Donald Vockrodt; sheep, Mr. Donald Vockrodt. The Sycuans wish to take this opportunity to invite all children in the El Cajon, Dehesa, Harbison Canyon and Alpine areas that are interested in 4-H to call 444-0185 or 445-2427.

Mrs. Stanford Linzey's granddaughter, Mrs. H. P. Drake of Bellflower, Calif., visited their home Saturday.

Stephen Hasbrouck, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Hasbrouck left for Pepperdine College Monday.

Mr. Vernon Rutherford is a patient in San Diego County Hospital due to a heart attack suffered while undergoing therapy.

Mrs. John Heinz and sons, John and David were Friday visitors at the San Diego Zoo.

Prayer meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Stanford Linzey for 10 members of the Baptist Church. Prayer and singing was led by Mrs. Rolland Butler of Grossmont, wife of Rev. Butler, pastor of the Baptist Church of Harbison Canyon. Mrs. Linzey served refreshments at the close of the meeting.

Deeann and Billy Hamilton, new Sycuan 4-H members of Harbison Canyon have purchased their 4-H stock. Billy has a heifer calf and Deeann has three doe rabbits and a buck. Billy is vice president and Deeann a song leader of the club.

Mail boxes and road signs on Dehesa Road from the Sycuan Indian Reservation to the Singing Hills Country Club were knocked over by vandals Thursday night. This is the second time this has happened in this area.

Interesting reading for horse lovers. Horse shoes have been known since the Second Century B.C. but did not come into regular use until the Middle Ages. It was only in the 19th Century that horse shoeing was introduced to Japan. The Japanese had formerly attached straw slippers to the horse's feet and renewed them when necessary.

DESCANSO

By ETHEL WHITE

Mr. Harper, of the Road Maintenance Station here, is in Grossmont Hospital recovering from a stroke he suffered at his home earlier this week.

Margo Faulconer has been visiting the Kendall family in the San Francisco area and plans to return home Sunday after joining Lynn who has been visiting friends in Anaheim.

Mildred Van Oort, Billie Hills, Mary Hinericksen, Beth Winkelman and Jackie Thompson went to Los Angeles Tuesday evening to hear Evangelist Billy Graham speak.

Gloria and Janice Elliot are visiting friends in the Descanso area. They plan to return to their home in Stockton at the end of the week.

The Al Richardson family has just returned from a camping trip at Minaret Falls and Devils Post Pile camp grounds in the Mammoth Lake area. They also spent a day in Yosemite Park, especially to see the Fire Falls.

A family reunion was held at the home of Don Perkins, entertaining about 50 of Jody's and Mrs. Blank's family. A big barbecue was followed by a hay ride with Lyle Doers as chief wrangler, and the highlight of the day was a "hootenanny" with an organ, a fiddle and two electric guitars furnishing the music.

Margaret Smutz was honored at a wedding shower given by Pat Richardson at Richardson's. Games were played and then the guest of honor opened her many gifts. Jean and Pat furnished the guests with coffee, iced tea, punch and cream puffs. The rest of the evening was spent visiting. Those attending were Lola Wick, Florence and Rita Schak, Kay Baker, Mrs. and Rev. Meier, Jean, Jan and Lesnia Johnson, Paula Herbertson, Kathy Faulconer, the Hinericksen girls, Jody Perkins, Robin Isbell, Gloria Elliot and Ethel White.

The teachers from the Mountain Empire School District attended meetings in Campo Tuesday with Dr. Milton Tyler and Dr. Richard Bannister as special speakers. Wednesday they will attend a physical growth day with the San Diego County teachers in San Diego. Thursday and Friday will be spent at the grade school attending staff meetings and getting ready for school to start on Sept. 10. New students may be enrolled that day also.

Dulzura - Barrett Junction

By LAVERNE POWELL

Mt. Empire Farm Bureau held their meeting at Camp's Grove last Wednesday. The menu featured "Sir Red" Holcomb's barbecued hot dogs on Tecate buns. Lovely salads were also served and the ants "crashed the party" when the cakes and cookies were served. After the meeting, a film was shown on cattle raising—the pros and cons. For my secret recipe on cattle raising, start with about 20 inches of good rainfall. The meeting was attended by 25 adults and two children.

Mrs. Gennie Walker has a lovely new little niece, Florencia, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Thing.

The Dulzura Home Department will be holding their meeting at the Dulzura Community Building September 10. It's kind of early, but they will be planning the County Farm Bureau Women's District luncheon. The meeting will start at 10:30 and its potluck.

Mrs. Juanita Thayer returned from a vacation in Pennsylvania, where she visited and became acquainted with a new grandson.

clean cart. He put his dark serape over a big milk can and sat on it to drive.

The trash men have a very fine arrangement. Two men walk rapidly along the gutters, one on either side of the street. In one hand each carries an old auto license plate, in the other hand they carry a cowbell and a half license plate. They ring the bell loudly and the women run out with their baskets of trash. A truck follows the men a good 20 yards behind and scoops up the gutter trash which has already been swept up into neat piles by some other person. Then when the truck comes alongside them, the men hand up the women's trash baskets to be emptied, then hand them back to the women who wait on the sidewalk. It seems to be a well established ritual which everyone concerned enjoys.

Dress Designers Needed; Dress Dolls

Every year the Salvation Army buys several thousand dolls and then searches for volunteers to dress them in time for distribution to needy children in the metropolitan area.

Brigadier Howard Sloan, senior Salvation Army officer in the county, said that last Christmas the organization gave 3,000 dolls to tykes who otherwise would have had none. All were clothed by volunteers.

"Our most productive workers last year," Sloan said, "were Mrs. Iva Brown, 83, who dressed 300 dolls, and Mrs. Clara Riggins, 88, who dressed 28, and Mrs. Ann Whiting, also 88, who costumed 21."

The Women's Auxiliary, under the direction of Mrs. Howard Sloan, has started its annual search for needle-and-thread artists and is canvassing clubs, organizations, and individuals.

Thus far 816 dolls have been assigned for dressing, but "reinforcement troops"—both groups and individuals—are needed. Details concerning the "Dress a Doll" project may be obtained at Salvation Army headquarters, 830 8th Ave., San Diego, or by telephoning BE 9-8027.

Brigadier Sloan said the volunteer effort will wind-up with a public showing of finished products at an annual "Doll Tea" two weeks before Christmas.

An added attraction was the gypsy fortune teller. Jerry's aunt, Mrs. Betty Isaacs, was drafted for the job and she came through with flying colors. Her costume was unique and she did a fine job of answering all the questions and foretelling everyone's future.

All of the children in the area who have been playmates of the Judd boys during the summer were invited to attend the carnival, and 44 showed up to make it a complete success.

It cost from one penny to a nickel to participate in the various concessions, and to buy the cookies and soft drinks which were furnished by some of the mothers. Jerry's carnival made $22 which he has sent to Johnny Downs to add to the fund to help combat muscular dystrophy.

lawfully sold by a man who did not own it, for $100, land and all. In due course of time the truth came out and the seller had to give back the money to the duped buyer. The Littles later sold the place to Harry and Jack Carlin, who sold it to the Olsens who still own it.

The first Japatul Valley school was about five or six miles beyond this second one on the same road, and was built on the property then belonging to Hugh Griffin. It stood for years and served many well known old families including children from the Flynns, the Carizosas, the Browns, the Ellises. One of the first teachers and one who taught for years, was Christine Ellis Groom. The people of the community used to have dances in that building. Monty Brabazon remembers playing for those dances. Elections were held there and other community gatherings. Every trace of the building disappeared long ago, weather and vandals doing their work. All that is left now is the grove of trees where it once stood. Mrs. Little says the grove looks much the same.

ALPINE GARDENER

By JEAN McCULLOUGH

If your garden is beginning to look somewhat seedy just pull up those brown stocks but don't throw them away, for you might have the makings of an unusual dried bouquet such as some of the ones I saw up in Julian the other day.

Those ladies had fashioned the most artistic arrangements out of dried Queen Anne's lace, statice, honesty (money plant) baby's breath, dock, both green and brown, eucalyptus pods and just a world of other dried weeds and grasses that most of us just pass by without seeing possibilities of making such lovely home decorating pieces in them. Just see what you can do about your garden cast-offs.

You can perk up your garden so that it will look bright and gay for two or three months yet by getting and planting several flats of zinnias, petunias, marigolds, dianthus, vinca, nasturtiums, sweet alyssum, etc. and there are lots of other plants you'll see, but these are quick growing ones and are bright and gay.

Remember to collect and save all the weeds from your garden and also a lot of wild flower seed. Scatter the wild flower seed where you want it just before the fall rains come.

COKE'S KITCHEN

Cabin owners are usually very friendly people who not only enjoy their weekend retreats alone with their families but share their peaceful surroundings with many friends. Such is the family of Mr. and Mrs. Austin Potter, which includes Sherlyn, Terri, Carolyn, Linda, Gretchen (their pooch) and even a small black guinea pig affectionately named "Surfer Girl."

Shirley graciously offered the "Kitchen" two good recipes she serves to large gatherings. Try them, we know you will come back for seconds.

HUEVAS RANCHEROS

- 2 2½-size can whole tomatoes (cut up)
- 1 can Ortega whole chiles
- 1 can pimiento
- 1 large Bell pepper
- 1 medium onion
- 2 small cans tomatoe sauce
- 1 can chopped black olives

Chop the above seven items then add one tablespoon of sweet basil, salt and coarse ground pepper. Cook together in large frying pan, and let simmer. Second step: Beat whole eggs, put approximately one ladleful in small greased frying pan. Cook slightly, flip over, cook until omelet-like. Place these small omelets on top of sauce. Serve, especially good served with polish sausage boiled in water to which a small amount of beer and white wine has been added. Rancheros Huevas makes a tasty brunch or a midnight meal for sudden "dropper-in-ers."

POTTER'S LEMON DELIGHT

One package of Lemon Chiffon pudding using egg whites exactly as shown on Lemon Pudding package. Set aside to cool. Prepare one package lemon jello (using pineapple juice in place of water with one No. 2 can crushed pineapple (drained) added, when slightly thickened, whip one carton whipping cream, add quarter cup sugar, one tsp. vanilla. Whip pudding, jello and cream together until fluffy. Set in freezer and serve partially frozen. Makes a large dessert—fine for a crowd.

Amateur Actors Attention!

The Grossmont Griffin Players under the direction of Martin Gerish announce Tryouts for Samuel Beckett's intriguing tragi-comedy Waiting For Godot. The cast includes four male actors and one boy eight to 12 years old.

Tryouts will be held September 9, 10, 11 and 12 in Room 315 at the temporary college facilities on the Monte Vista High School campus at 3230 Sweetwater Springs Blvd., Spring Valley. Tryouts are open to community participants of all ages, as well as college students. Anyone interested in drama is welcome to try out.

Rabies Reappears After Short Lull

Early in August a dog described at biting everything in its path was captured in Coronado. After his death, tests confirmed that the dog was rabid. This was the second case of rabies to occur in Coronado in 10 months. The first was reported in a dog last October. The latest case ended a four-week lull in San Diego County's rabies epidemic which began a year ago. The total number of laboratory confirmed cases of animal rabies in the county is 87.

In the Tijuana area during the last three months, 71 rabid dogs have been reported. In the same period there were 12 laboratory confirmed cases of rabies in dogs in San Diego County. How soon the rabies epidemic will end depends on the continued cooperation of dog owners on both sides of the border.

Unvaccinated stray dogs roaming wide areas are the most serious obstacle to the control of rabies. These strays are a possible source of infection to unprotected dogs in the community. Of the 82 rabid dogs reported in San Diego County since September, 66 were strays.

Dogs four months of age and older not vaccinated against rabies since October 1, 1961, must be vaccinated. All dogs must be confined to the property of their owners or leashed when taken from home. The roundup of stray dogs is essential to the elimination of rabies. The danger of this disease cannot be overemphasized. Once it develops in animals or in humans, rabies is always fatal.

Area Stations Receive Radiological Kits

The County Civil Defense Organization has delivered kits of radiological monitoring instruments to three more stations in this area.

One station is at the San Diego County Road Department on Tavern Road in Alpine. Edward L. Hughes and Raymond E. Pierce are qualified to operate the meters at this station.

The San Diego County Road Department in Campo has James R. Looney and Eugene A. Okey qualified and available to operate the kits at this station.

Four persons are qualified at Jacumba at the Jacumba Volunteer Fire Department. They are Frank Chaffee, Sam K. Shoemaker, Dorothy Chaffee and Alfred H. Dart.

A certificate of graduation was issued to Frank Ferguson of Pine Valley upon the completion of the 15-hour course in radiological meter operations. This course is offered once each month at the County Civil Defense Center at Gillespie Field. Each graduate is qualified to operate the radiological equipment in the monitoring kits.

Schrade Reports On Legislation

Every California motorist has a pocketbook interest in the new highway tax law, passed at the 1963 regular session, which raises the gas tax from seven cents to eight cents per gallon on October 1. Purpose of the new law is to provide more funds for local streets and roads.

More than three years ago the Senate, at the request of its Transportation Committee, directed the Public Works Department to make a complete study of deficiencies in local streets and roads on a state-wide basis. When the report was issued, it shocked many people because it concluded that more than $12 billion dollars would be needed over a 20-year period to bring such roads up to par, to say nothing of meeting growth needs.

This conclusion promptly raised the tough question of how to raise the money for such an enormous improvement program. No quick answers were available, so it was not possible to act at our 1961 session.

The Senate Committee kept working at the problem, however. It appointed a citizens' advisory group, made up of representatives of all organizations interested in highway matters, to study the fiscal angles involved and to come up with some acceptable recommendations as to how needed money should be raised. The group unanimously recommended increases in highway user taxes.

As a result of all this study and effort, a bill was introduced in our 1963 session, embodying the advisory group proposals. In summary, it called for a one cent increase in the gas tax as of October 1, a similar raise on liquified gas motor fuel, and a parallel increase of 19 percent in truck tax fees. Proceeds of the added revenues were to be allocated to cities and counties for road purposes, and state grants were to be matched by these agencies.

As you will recall from my other recent columns, tax measures seemed to encounter a few difficulties along the way during our 1963 sessions. This highway tax measure was not much different from the rest. It passed the Senate without difficulty, and was referred to the proper Assembly Committee. Nothing too definite was heard about it for weeks. Rumor was that amendments relating to urban rapid transit systems were being studied.

Late in the session, the Assembly group heard the bill. Two important amendments were approved. The first gave individual boards of county supervisors power to enact ordinances levying an additional one-half percent in-lieu tax on motor vehicles, proceeds to be collected by the state, but to be used only for rapid transit purposes in the particular county. The second required that cities and counties must request allocations of funds from the added highway user taxes before the state can grant them. In this form the bill was passed and signed into law.

Cities and counties now spend over $300 million per year, from their tax revenues and state grants, on streets and roads. It is estimated that the additional highway taxes will produce about $60 million more. This will raise the average motorist's highway tax bill about $6 per year over the some $42 he now pays. The rapid transit tax, if adopted, would produce an average of about $3.60 per vehicle. Since counties are given only a short time to approve the tax raise for this purpose, no immediate action is foreseen.

EAST WIND

fic heading north. Had it made, we did. Only wished we'd taken a longer trip.

At San Juan we hit the freeway again. Fast driving now. But it's good road, and as we said, traffic was light coming south.

We can say this: the northern highways, outside San Diego County, are far more modern than ours. Very noticeable, our highways are, with uneven paved highways vibrating the car something fierce.

Not so in Orange and Riverside counties. There oughta be a law. San Diego needs a better break from the State Highway boys.

94, but Gennie Walker's new Rambler christened "the Bug."

Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Hunsberger and children have returned from a combination business-vacation trip to Denver, Colo.

Mr. Mark Powell will get a new red bicycle as a reward for learning to swim this summer. After all, how can one keep one's dignity on your cousin's girl bike? The new bike is complete with new basket, lights, horn, and mud flaps.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Reid and children have returned from a three-week vacation to Michigan.

I don't know how it was in the rest of the back country over this past weekend, but from the looks of the traffic of the campsters and trailers it seems us folks out here in the country will have to go to the heart of town to get away from it all. I can imagine what the camp sites and trailer parks looked like.

HARBISON

By BETTYE CARPENTER
Mrs. Judy Mize visited her parents, Capt. and Mrs. William New, during the holidays. The weekend was spent aboard the yacht Muriel H. docked in the yacht harbor at Oceanside. Mrs. Mize left on Labor Day to join her husband, Stanley Mize, in New London, Connecticut.

Final negotiations are being made with the Park and Recreation Department for the use of the Community Center in the canyon for youth activities, according to Bill Dessert. A committee is being formed with representatives from the two churches of the canyon, the PTA, the Scouts, the Fire Department, and any other interested persons of the community, to organize the activities and get the program under way. Among the activities being planned are square dance classes, leathercraft and woodworking classes, ping-pong tournaments and dances for the canyon young people. Anyone who would like to work with this group is urged to contact Bill Dessert, 445-2703 for further details. A meeting is being planned for the very near future and workers will be needed.

The Harbison Canyon Volunteer Fire Department is sponsoring a dance for adults only in the Fire Hall on Saturday, September 14 from 8 until ? Live music will be provided and the donation will be $1 per person. Y'all come.

Mrs. Lynne Crissman and her daughter, Janet Lynne, of Long Beach, were houseguests of her parents, the Glenn Carpenters, over the Labor Day weekend.

Newcomers to the canyon are Bill and Shirley Meeks, formerly of Wintergardens, who have moved into the Beeson place on Almyra. They have five children, Rosemary, Buddy, Sandy, Billy and baby Susan.

A membership drive for PTA members will be starting shortly and we would like to urge all parents to join this year and support this very active group in both the Canyon and the Alpine schools. We also solicit those who do not have children in school but whose membership fee will benefit the area children. The fee is small but the return on the investment can be great.

Bill and Irene Pipes and Jeanette were joined by Mr. and Mrs. Ed Imhoff of San Diego on a deer hunting trip to Los Padres National Forest in Ventura County. Guess they'll just have to go out again as they came home empty handed.

There has been a "birthday week" at the Jennings home. Charlie, you'll just have to guess his age, and Corinne, 8, had a joint birthday on August 26 and Clyde turned 9 on September 1. Imagine Zuma can turn out a birthday cake with no hitch at all though. Happy birthday to all of you.

The Scout Mothers are planning another rummage sale but this one will be bigger 'n better. It will be held on Saturday and Sunday, Oct. 5 and 6 in the Community Hall. Clothing, furniture and bric-a-brac donations are being solicited and you may call 445-3118 if you wish to have your donation picked up. Be sure and come in and browse around during this sale, you're bound to find something you want and every dime in the cash box goes a long way in helping with scouting activities.

Lucy and John McConnell spent a nice long weekend at Lake Arrowhead. They took their camper and enjoyed most of the comforts of home.

MT. LAGUNA

By KATHY McMANUS
The Boiling Springs Association met on August 18, and voted to merge with the Mt. Laguna Association. To do this they met in joint session with the Mt. Laguna Association on Sept. 11 at the Mt. Laguna Elementary School. This action will allow the expanded association to represent the entire Mt. Laguna area. Officers of the association are, Mr. William Neilson, president; Mr. Richard F. Cross, vice president; Mrs. Neil Phillips, secretary; Mrs. Jeanette Barringer, treasurer. The directors are, Mr. Frank Dunton, Mr. John Cook, Mr. E. Schafer, Mr. Adams, and Mr. Miller.

On Labor Day weekend all of the Mt. Laguna camp grounds were filled. But, for the many people visiting the mountains it was a relatively quiet weekend.

The Pine House pool owned by Clay Stuart was finally opened this weekend Aug. 30 through Sept. 2 for business. The pool has been in use for many weeks but due to a hold back, the dressing rooms were not finished until Aug. 28. The rates for the pool are 75 cents for adults and 35 cents for children under 12.

The Wagon Wheel Square Dance Club from San Diego, camped and danced at the Pine House slab over the Labor Day weekend. It was very nice to hear some good old country music.

PINE VALLEY

By AMY N. HARVEY
A grass fire of unknown origin broke out last Thursday on Lebanon Road and was discovered by Harold Gilbert as he was driving past about 7 p.m. He quickly backed his truck off the road, jumped out and began smothering the fire with what tools he had with him while James Harvey who lives nearby and was out strolling with his dog hurried to a telephone to call the fire department. It was just a very few minutes before two engines arrived along with half a dozen cars with our ever-alert volunteer firemen who immediately went into action to control the blaze. It was the first time I had seen them in action and, believe me, it was an education in the efficiency, knowledge and know how of men willing to give their time and energy to keeping our valley safe from the terrible havoc that an uncontrolled fire can accomplish. They receive no pay or compensation whatever. They are well trained and equipped and must surely be dedicated men and be civic minded enough to be willing to leave whatever they are doing when the fire whistle sounds.

Our hats off to them.
Linn Howell left August 30 to jet for her home in Birmingham, Alabama, after spending a month with her grandmother, Mrs. John Clarke. Her uncle drove her to the airport in Inglewood and ended up in Hollywood. On his return he remarked that they both ended with "wood" so he guessed he became a bit confused. He finally made the Delta airline office with a bare 10 minutes to spare. Linn made a wild dash for the plane while Jim had her luggage weighed and they hoped it got on the same plane with her.

Edna Maleski spent the weekend with her sister, Ruth, in San Diego. Others taking advantage of the long holiday to see friends and relatives were Chuck and Edith George. They also drove to San Diego to see her sister, and the Ed Giesbrechts spent Sunday with their son and daughter-in-law and with Mrs. Geisbrecht's sister and brother-in-law in Santee.

Conrad Muhlhauser is busy these last days getting ready for his first year at Grossmont Junior College.
