BOARD REVISES COFC BY-LAWS

The Board of Directors of the Alpine Chamber of Commerce reviewed a report of a special by-laws committee on December 20, and adopted a new set of by-laws for the Chamber which included several changes from provisions contained in the former by-laws.

One of the changes provides that revisions to the by-laws must be voted upon by the entire active membership. The old by-laws provided that the Board of Directors could revise the by-laws as they chose.

Under another provision in the new by-laws, all nine directors are elected from the active membership at large, four being elected for a two-year term in the even numbered years, and five elected for a two-year term in the odd numbered years. The old by-laws provided that four of the directors be elected from areas designated in the by-laws and the other five elected at large.

The new by-laws also provide that the fiscal year and the term of office for the members of the Board be the same. The Chamber year for membership on the Board and for the payment of dues will commence on October 1 of each year and end on September 30 of the next year. The old by-laws provided that the directors' terms began on October 1 and ended the next September 30, but that the fiscal year for the payment of dues commenced on January 1 and ended December 31 of each year which caused confusion regarding the establishment of budgets.

Another provision in the new by-laws is for a change in classes of members. The new by-laws provides for two classes of membership, active and honorary. However, an honorary membership is conferred for extraordinary service.

Subscription Drive Adds 2 in Germany

The drive for new Echo subscribers being conducted by the Alpine Woman's Club adds two from Germany. Mrs. Don Wooldridge of Winnetka Ranch sent in the names of two persons whom she met in Germany on a recent visit in that country. She is sending the Echo to these friends as a gift in order to keep them acquainted with the activities of both the Winnetka Ranch and the surrounding community. She made these subscriptions through the Woman's Club drive in order that the Club might benefit by getting additional funds for its charitable works.

The two persons in Germany who will now receive the Echo with the complements of their friend, Olive Ball Wooldridge are Miss Erika Fischer of Karlsruhe and Mr. Range Cloyd of Hamburg.

Other new subscribers are:
Mrs. Mary Ball
Mr. William Britton
Mrs. James Thompson
Mr. W. E. Wooldridge

Grand Jury Issues Final Report

The 1963 San Diego County Grand Jury issued its final report to the Presiding Judge of the Superior Court of San Diego County.

In transmitting the report, Col. Frank W. Seifert, foreman of the 1963 Grand Jury, called attention to a situation in regard to the indictments which had been returned against 90 defendants during the year which the Grand Jury felt should be of interest to the Courts. Col. Seifert stated as follows: "In addition to the functions performed as appears in the reports of the various committees, this Grand Jury during its tenure returned indictments against 90 defendants in cases brought before it by the District Attorney of San Diego County. A statistical breakdown as to the nature and types of case would be lengthy, but of interest is the fact that of these cases 26 indictments were for violations of Section 288 of the Penal Code, Lewd and Lascivious Acts (involving crimes against children); 20 had to do with possession and sale of marijuana, and 15 indictments were returned on charges of murder, voluntary manslaughter and involuntary manslaughter. The remainder were for various other crimes."

The Grand Jury, in its final report severely criticized the new

Rabies Clinics Scheduled in County

The San Diego County Veterinary Medical Association in collaboration with the County Livestock Department has scheduled rabies vaccination clinics throughout the county during the month of January.

All dogs four months of age or over, kept in the unincorporated area of San Diego County, must be licensed and, before a license can be issued, the dog must be vaccinated against rabies. The following is the schedule for the clinics in this area:

Wednesday, January 8—Alpine School, Alpine, 7 to 9 p.m.; Los Flores School, Jamul, 7 to 9 p.m.

Thursday, January 9—Shell Station, Jacumba, 9 to 10 a.m.; Forestry Station, Campo, 10:30 to 12 noon; Fire Station, Pine Valley, 2 to 3 p.m.; Descanso School, Descanso, 3:30 to 5 p.m.; Potrero School, Potrero, 4 to 5 p.m.; Junction Store, Barrett, 2 to 3 p.m.

Mountain Barracks To Hold Election

Veterans of WWI Mountain Barracks and Auxiliary 2716 will elect officers for the ensuing year at their next regular meeting on Monday, Jan. 6, at 1:30 p.m. at Fuller Hall. The Barracks will be presided over by Sr. Vice Comdr. William W. Gamble in the absence of Comdr. Reynolds who is still confined in the hospital.

The Auxiliary meeting will be conducted by President Goldie Vancil. All members are urged to attend this important meeting.

INTIMATE GLIMPSES

By BEA LA FORCE

What did you most enjoy about the holiday festivities now ending? My first answer is: the food, especially the sweets. How I do enjoy the luscious displays of Christmas cookies, the plates of fruit cakes, sweet breads, pastries, candies. Served with a tasty punch, or hot delicious tea and good conversation at a holiday party they win first prize with me. I can skip the turkey and stuffing, and all the rest. Give me plenty of cookies made in the Christmas traditions of many lands, carols, and talks, and laughter, and this is celebrating the social side of the holidays for me.

As usual, I find a good many other people in accord with my feelings. Asking around among friends, I discovered that most of them name sweets as first choice among the holiday goodies. Next are those who prefer to drink their calories in cocktails accompanied by salted nuts and crackers with cheesy dips. Those who scorn both of these, do their gorging on meat dishes. One of my relatives insists on four kinds of meat in addition to fish and shell fish for his feasting. He has turkey, fresh and smoked, stuffed and unstuffed; fresh pork and ham, salmon, shrimp, and oysters. This year he tried a new recipe which he got from a farm magazine. He boned a big turkey, stuffed it with

Alpiners Caught In Ocean Current

Television cameras were on hand to capture what might have been a tragedy involving two young Alpine men last Sunday at the beach. Beautiful beach weather with temperatures in the high 80s enticed Ted C. Judd, brother of Tom L. Judd, Victoria Drive and Mike McCall, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl McCall of Tavern Road to La Jolla for swimming and surfing when Ted was suddenly caught in a whirl pool and Mike was unable to rescue him alone. A life guard had to be called because of the strong under currents.

Both young men live in San Diego while attending college and are excellent swimmers.

Fire Department Tests Fire Siren

Last Tuesday afternoon with the temperature in the high 80s and an East wind blowing, the Alpine Volunteer Fire Department adjusted and tested out their fire siren.

There was great concern in the area that a fire had started until the Fire Department gave out the information that it was only a test.

7TH ANNUAL SCHUETZENFEST HELD IN ALPINE LAST SUNDAY

The Seventh Annual Schuetzenfest was held last Sunday at the Tom and Joan Nichols' home on South Grade Road. This is an annual invitational affair. Members of the El Cajon Valley Schuetzen Corp., the San Diego Arms Collectors and the San Diego Black Powder

Association were invited to attend. Schuetzenfest means marksmen's feast, and in addition to competitive shooting for medals and prizes, a potluck dinner was given for the approximately 40 persons attending. Eighteen persons participated in the shooting.

Tom Nichols, shooting with his German-made Buchel rifle, won the prize of a gun case. He is the only person in Alpine who is a member of these groups, and holds this annual affair on the South Grade property as the topography is perfect for target shooting. Tom states that the extremely strong winds which blew all day made accurate shooting almost impossible, especially since the type of guns used are slow velocity guns. Most of the guns used by the participants were very valuable, highly engraved rifles of German, Belgian and Swiss make, and muzzle loaders which were used by the members of the Black Powder Association. One participant shot with a .58 caliber cap and ball Remington Zouave rifle from Civil War days.

The type of shooting at the Schuetzenfest is known as off-hand shooting, with the shooter standing on his feet. All other competitive shooting is done

Public Health Report for 1963

The 1963 public health highlights in San Diego County were reported last week by the San Diego Department of Health.

In the year 1963 rabies burst through quarantine controls to penetrate metropolitan San Diego for the first time since 1950.

The year brought new record highs in air pollution and the number of adverse smog days in downtown San Diego.

The year saw no serious outbreak of any major communicable disease anywhere in San Diego County.

Polio immunization in the county continued at an all-time high with only one reported case of the disease.

A total of 59 cases of rabies were confirmed by the Public Health Laboratory in animals picked up on this side of the border. This was the highest number of cases of animal rabies in San Diego County in 20 years. The City of San Diego proper had been free of rabies since 1950.

During the September heat wave, air pollution in downtown San Diego broke all local records as well as those for the state. A maximum hourly average oxidant reading of .80 recorded on Sept. 27 is believed to be the highest ever recorded anywhere in California.

The number of adverse smog days in San Diego in 1963 rose 70 percent over 1962.

It is estimated that 22 percent of the air pollution caused by motor vehicles will be eliminated by the installation of crankcase control devices on used cars and commercial vehicles dating back to 1950 models.

In announcing that San Diego County had no reported cases of

State Board Backs County-Wide Tax

The State Board of Education has gone on record approving a county-wide property tax for school purposes.

The county-wide tax would raise funds to be distributed to the school districts in the county on a basis of the ratio of the assessed valuation in the district to the number of pupils enrolled in the school.

The State Board voted to back a measure in the 1964 session of the Legislature to authorize the levying and collection and distribution of such a tax.

Sights & Sounds Of Our Town

BY BETTY ISAACS

This is the time of year when we usually take time to reflect upon events that transpired during the past 12 months and in one way or another, the same type of issues, tragedies and events that may have occurred nation or even world-wide, transpire right here in our own town if we put them in proper perspective.

However, I'll wager there was one episode in our daily life that couldn't have happened anywhere else in the world in this day and age, anyway. It concerns the day not long ago that traffic was held up and actually stopped on some side roads by a procession of prehistoric animals on their way to a new home. Be they real or not, Mrs. Elizabeth West, our librarian, was only one of several Alpiners whose daily schedule was interrupted by this fantastic event, in that she couldn't cross the main street of town in her automobile until these life-size creatures from another world had slowly lumbered by. Where else, indeed, could this happen but in our own unique town?

One of the nicest of all gifts, Christmas or any other time, is that of a small puppy or dog, given to someone who will love and care for it. What happiness man's supposedly best friend can bring. But a sad sight seen more and more often along side roads of Alpine is that of a badly frightened dog, who by its actions has been definitely abandoned. One section in particular, that of old Highway 80 beyond the Willows, has been plagued for years by these obviously misfit mongrels of various shapes and sizes (rarely are they of any well-bred variety). And, I wonder if the owners whom I prefer to think of as "city" folk really believe we kindly "country" folk Sharon Dana received new skates for Christmas and then two days later fell on them and broke her arm. Be patient, Sharon, you'll be back on the darned things in no time.

Gary Wayne Lancaster celebrated his 12th birthday on the Sunday before Christmas and is proudly showing off his own radio-stereo console. For Christmas he received a tape recorder so between these two lovely gifts he's really having a ball. Just be careful he doesn't sneak up behind you and tape your conversation—this is one of his favorite tricks.

There will be a Harbison Canyon P.T.A. Board Meeting on Friday, January 3rd, at the home of Mrs. Presley. The regular meeting of the P.T.A. will be held next Tuesday night and a nice resolution for you canyon mothers and fathers would be to attend as many of these meetings as possible and enter into the youth activities at every opportunity. HAPPY NEW YEAR

A year ago we commented on the conditions existing in the community of Alpine at the commencement of the year 1963.

The comments dealt with the fact that a domestic water supply had been developed in Alpine, Highway 80 was being extended Easterly towards Alpine, the Chamber of Commerce had been activated for the purpose of promoting and advertising and developing the community, and that with these conditions existing, Alpine should undergo a rapid growth in the near future.

To a great extent this has been true. A new bank and business establishments have been started in Alpine, and a number of new residences have been built bringing in new inhabitants to our community.

The same can be said of the Alpine community at the start of 1964. The domestic water supply is here and new connections are being made each month, the State Highway Department has contracted for another extension of Highway 80 Easterly, and the Chamber of Commerce is still active.

Not to be facetious, on the law of averages, the Alpine community should have a greater development in 1964 than in 1963 for the simple reason that it is a Leap Year and has one more day.

He was feeling quite proud of his gourmet item until someone told him about a dish prepared in Arabia. It is said to be the largest dish cooked and served anywhere in the world and is eaten by Bedouin tribesmen at wedding feasts. It consists of one whole camel stuffed with one sheep that has been stuffed with several chickens each stuffed with fish which have been stuffed with eggs.

The Philip Arends, formerly of Alpine, who visited here recently, noted on their Christmas card that they had been "treated" to a new "delicacy"—beaver tail. It was a present from a trapper friend of Phil's. Anne says "we decided that beaver tail would be just the thing if you were snow-bound in Alaska. It's something between pork fat and marrow in flavor."

English plum pudding, the real article, is hard to come by, and no wonder. Having watched it made by an English woman of the old school, I don't wonder that it lost favor with American housewives. It takes hours to make and more hours to cook, "on the boil." It is a ritual, though, with a certain drama which it's a pity to lose. The real English cook will not accept a single substitute for her ingredients. When it calls for stout, English made, of course, she must have just that. It calls for week old bread crumbs and they must be one week old by the calendar. Jamaica molasses can't come from Arkansas. The result is a heavy bitter-sweet dish with a kind of sadness in its flavor.

Maybe it's the cook's tears.

A friend writes from Alaska that cranberries there are called Kee-nee-nach in Eskimo. She says the native women thicken them with flour and water. Eskimo ice cream is made of grated reindeer tallow, seal oil and water beaten to a fluff. Southerners say they must cook up a pot of black-eyed beans for New Year's Day dinner to insure good luck for the coming 12 months. I don't know where it started, but my family think they must have a fresh home-made loaf of anise seed bread for New Year's or something dreadful will happen. An old Parisian we know in La Jolla mourns each New Year's when he cannot find a meal of octopus in its purple black sauce.

Makes us think maybe the philosopher, Brielat-Savarin was right when he said, "The discovery of a new dish does more for human happiness than the discovery of a new star." Or the building of one maybe?

Under the new by-laws the next election for members of the Board will be held as usual in September of 1964, but the dues for the present members payable in January will be for a nine-month period based on $20 per year, or $15 which will pay the active membership dues to September 30, 1964, after which date the dues will be $20 per year payable on October 1.

smallpox, diphtheria, tetanus or typhoid, it was noted that all of these diseases are preventable through immunization. Immunization is also effective in preventing whooping cough, which showed a sharp decrease in the county in 1963.

The county's protection against polio is better than it has ever been. Hundreds of thousands of persons were immunized against all three types of polio through the Sabin-on-Sunday program. The only polio case reported in the county in 1963 occurred in an unimmunized four months old baby.

Although birth records are still coming in, it is estimated that the final figure for the year will be about 25,750 babies born in San Diego County. In 1962, a total of 26,722 babies were born in this county, down from 27,157 in 1961. The trend here is similar to that of the nation. The national birth rate is now approaching the level that existed before the postwar baby boom.

Resident deaths during 1963 in San Diego County are expected to total about 7,980. This would give the county a healthy ratio of 3.2 births to every death.

Based on provisional figures the leading causes of death in the county during 1963 were listed in this order: heart disease, 38.2 percent; cancer, 16.7 percent; vascular lesions affecting the central nervous system, 10.5 percent; accidents, 5.3 percent; certain diseases of early infancy, 5.1 percent; influenza and pneumonia, 3.0 percent; suicide, 2.2 percent; generalized arteriosclerosis, 2.1 percent; congenital malformations, 2.0 percent; cirrhosis of the liver, 1.7 percent, all other causes, 13.2 percent.

welfare laws which were enacted by the 1963 session of the Legislature. The report states that the new laws will cause additional unnecessary heavy welfare expense and are not equitable. The Grand Jury urgently recommends that the 1965 Legislature correct these errors.

The final report of the complaints committee states in part as follows: "In addition to routine communications such as agenda and budget of various county, city and district organizations, this committee received 87 specific written complaints from individual citizens covering almost every phase of governmental activity within the county. This number is less than previous grand juries have received. We recommend that future jurors remind citizens of San Diego County of their right to bring any matter before the Grand Jury for investigation."

The complete final report covers reports on Audit, Government Efficiency and Economy, Complaints, Education, Health, Juvenile Delinquency, Legislative, Narcotics, Public Safety, Public Works and Welfare.

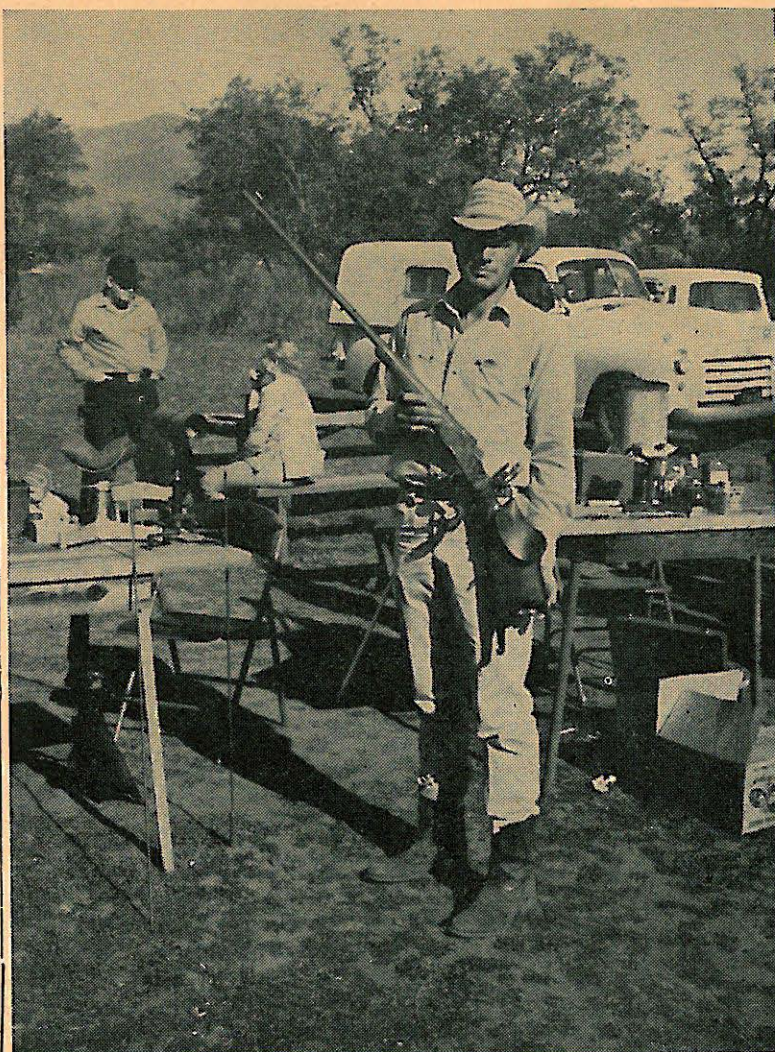

OBITUARY

ANNA N. WEINHOLD

Mrs. Anna N. Weinhold, age 71, died December 28 in a San Diego hospital. She had lived at 307 W. Noakes in Harbison Canyon since 1951, in the County since 1948, and in California since 1915. She was a native of Massachusetts.

She is survived by her husband, Henry W. Weinhold, Sr., her son, Henry W., Jr., of Corte Madera, a daughter, Mrs. R. E. Hoffman of Concord, another daughter, Mrs. P. J. Horvath of Boulder Creek, and 14 grandchildren.

Private services were held last Tuesday at the El Cajon Mortuary followed by cremation.

either in a prone position, sitting or off a bench. The off-hand shooting in competition first started in Germany and Switzerland in the 1830s, and the guns still used for off-hand shooting are mostly made in these countries.

The El Cajon Valley Schuetzen Corp is probably the only such group on the West Coast according to Tom Nichols, and the annual Schuetzenfest which he holds each year is the only Schuetzenfest held in the country. The El Cajon group shoot every fourth Sunday in El Cajon at the Gillespie Field range, and come to Alpine just once during the year for a day of shooting and feasting.

Horses! Horses!

By MARGARET LOWTHIAN

On Saturday, Dec. 21, the Immenschuhs held an invitational playday horse show at their ranch on Dehesa Road. About 25 kids from Dehesa and Alpine participated, all of them riding their horses down to the ranch which is a short distance past the Dehesa School. The classes were judged by Pat Holderman, niece of Mrs. Immenschuh. There was no entry fees charged for participation, and the prizes were boxes of homemade fudge and divinity made by Susan Elliott.

The trail horse class was won by Joyce Richardson riding Princess. Celeste Irvine won the Backyard Jumping class. Showmanship in hand was won by Jerry Kreson showing Satan. The bareback horsemanship was won by Susie Parsons. Cynthia Irvine riding Smokey won both the Western pleasure class and Horsemanship.

Yesterday I had a pleasurable hour or so wishing all the horses here at Willow Glen Farm a happy birthday on the first day of 1964. The custom of having January 1 the birthday of all horses originated in England with the Thoroughbreds and is a very helpful way to keep ages straight during the year. But, some of the youngsters get short-changed as did our youngest, Wi Tanka, with four months yet to go before her actual birthday.

Miss Betsy McCall, 16, daughter of Carl and Blanche McCall, Tavern Road, left Friday by SAS to fly to Madrid, Spain, to stay with her aunt, Blanche's sister, Mrs. Rhoda Riddell, and her cousin Cecily who is also 16. Betsy will attend private school in Madrid with her cousin and hopes to advance her skill in horsemanship. Mrs. Riddell will be remembered by some Alpiners who met her when she stayed in Alpine with Mrs. McCall. She now has a weekly radio program in Madrid where she interviews people. Mrs. McCall plans to go to Spain in July to visit and then return home with Betsy.

Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Hohanshelt's party was very successful and enjoyed by all. Mr. and Mrs. Don Taylor and son, Hildreth, from Gardena came down for the party and stayed to visit a few days over the New Year weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Vancil spent the past few days in Los Angeles as houseguests of Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Pope. Mrs. Ruth Neville gave a New Year's Eve party in their honor, and they attended the Rose Bowl football game on New Year's Day with Mr. and Mrs. Pope, returning home on Friday.

Mrs. Verna Bishop and her daughter, Colleen entertained with a party New Year's Eve. Guests included Mr. and Mrs. Tom Judd, Tommy, Jerry, David and Jody Judd, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Johnson, and Miss Catherin Bottini of San Diego.

Mrs. Josephine Sturdivant enjoyed a lovely trip to Yuma with her son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. E. N. Sturdivant from Montana. In Yuma Mrs. Sturdivant joined with her family for a reunion. She visited the homes of all her children and returned to Alpine with her son, E. B., by car and reported a wonderful trip.

Miss Clara Grice, Dr. Marjorie Breeden, Gladys Wotring, Mrs. Ina Stearns, Mr. and Mrs. William Ingels enjoyed the Rose Parade on colored TV in the home of Mrs. Josephine Sturdivant of Olivewood Lane.

Mr. and Mrs. Homer Spear were very happy to have their children and their families with them over the holidays. Their daughter, Marjorie and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Quisenberry and April, 18, and David, 14, came in from Denver, Colo., daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Reynolds from El Centro, and son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Spear Jr. of Los Angeles, were all together for the first time in quite a long time. This was a lovely reunion for the Spear family.

A Christmas pot-luck luncheon was held week before last at a private home in San Ysidro by Border Patrolmen and their wives from all of the outlying station including Chula Vista, Oceanside, Fallbrook, Temecula, and Campo. A Christmas box of home made candy was presented to each person by the hostess.

The Stone House in Campo was the scene of a large family Christmas dinner at which there were 25 adults and 13 children, including Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Busley, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Harris, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Scott and family from Harbison Canyon, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph McGuffie and 1 boy, Mr. and Mrs. George McGuffie and 2 children, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Thing and family from Descanso, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Looney and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ellrott, War-

Looney, Mr. Miguel San Martin, r. and Mrs. Charles Ellrott, Warren Harris from Potrero, Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Ballard, Jimmie McGuffie and Joe McGuffie.

Christmas guests at various homes in the area were the son, Bob, and family of Mr. and Mrs. David Lindemann, who came down from Los Angeles; Dean Craft and wife from San Diego at the Craft home; Nick and Marie Martin at Mr. and Mrs. Keys home in Potrero; Bee Boyd and Mollie Wilson at the Alden Farris home; Linda Ison Geddes and daughter at Lonnie and Marguerite Isons; Dell Nielson at son's home, Emerson Logan in Chula Vista; and Phoebe Thompson with daughter Natalie and family at Big Bear.

Bill and Eleanor Wilson of Lake Morena have sold their home there to Mr. and Mrs. Fors, and will be moving soon to Chula Vista. We are sorry to lose them.

Santa made his first annual visit to the Sycuan 4-H children's party held at Old Ironside Park Community Hall. Pictured on Santa's knees are Terri Anderson and Keith Neumann. In the foreground are Elizabeth Thompson, Cindy Faulkenburg and Deann Hamilton.

Mr. and Mrs. James Sebourn of Fayetteville Ark. were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Byron Moore and family over Christmas. The Sebourns are the parents of Mrs. Moore.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Ashton and children of Palmdale were Sunday visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Heinz. Mrs. Ashton is the daughter of the Heinzes.

Miss La Vonne Ritzow of Japatul Valley was a guest of Wilma Thompson Sunday and Monday.

Rodney and Donald Harvey who attend school in Santa Barbara are visiting their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Harvey during the Christmas holidays.

Guests at the Donald Vockrodt home for Christmas dinner were Mr. and Mrs. H. K. Vockrodt of Bremerton, Wash., Douglas Bowles of Pomona, Trudy McLure, Sandy Mondy and Toni Hobrecht.

Wilma Thompson, Kenneth, John, Ralph and Kathy Vockrodt, John Heinz Wayne Danes, Billy Hamilton, Robert Hopkins, Mike Smith, Pamela Anderson, Robert Neal and Diane Reed of the Sycuan 4-H Club attended the Hi 4-H Christmas party at the Ramona Town Hall Friday evening. Mr. and Mrs. Donald Vockrodt and Mr. and Mrs. John Heinz chaperoned the group.

David Heinz celebrated his 11th birthday Friday, Dec. 27. David received a new sheep for a 4-H project as a birthday gift.

John Pratt of Norwalk, grandson of Mr. and Mrs. John Heinz is visiting at their home this week.

Walter Thompson spent the weekend at the Elwood Johnson residence in Japatul Valley helping Mr. Johnson look for a young heifer cow that strayed or that was stolen. A forestry crew and sheriff officers assisted in the search. No trace of the animal was found.

The Clay Stuart family went on a vacation during the holidays. They left Thursday, Dec. 26, and were gone about four days. They took their trailer and boat and traveled to San Felipe, Mexico, where they rested and had a very enjoyable time soaking up the sun.

The Ralph Christensen family spent Christmas with their relatives in San Bernardino and vicinity. They all enjoyed visiting and exchanging gifts, which is the most fun of any visit with the family.

The Marcus McManus family went to El Monte, Dec. 26, to visit with Mac's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William L. Marston. They enjoyed another Christmas dinner, but instead of the traditional turkey dinner, they enjoyed a steak dinner. Everyone enjoyed exchanging gifts which was another highlight of the day. The McManuses arrived home just in time to receive more gifts and a letter from their daughter, Marleen Gee. They really did have a Merry Christmas.

The Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity from San Diego State College held a private party with their dates at the Pine House dining room. Groups as well behaved as this one are always welcome to use the facilities here on Mt. Laguna. We hope to see more group activities in the future.

The annual meeting of the Mt. Laguna Community Church will be held in the church on Sunday evening, Jan. 12, at 7:30. The Women's Organization is planning a pot-luck supper for that evening, which will match the one they arranged to honor the visit of the Moderator of Presbytery, Rev. Hugh Nelson. We hope the community will respond this time as they did then. The annual meeting should be a festive occasion, to which all on the mountain would feel welcome.

MOTHER GRUNDY

By OLIVE WOOLDRIDGE

Back to memories of Germany. Some of our long lost pictures have finally come back, they were taken on German film and we mistakenly brought them back here to be developed and apparently they had to be sent clear back to Germany to be developed and then sent back here. It seems like they must have taken the slowest boat that goes to China and then on around and back again. It was Agfa film and for this reason we thought the developing process was international in nature and there wouldn't be any problem. Just another of the many lessons we learned.

So here we are amongst the people around a fountain in Karlsruhe. Karlsruhe is where we spent quite a few rewarding hours with Peter and Erika and Erika's family.

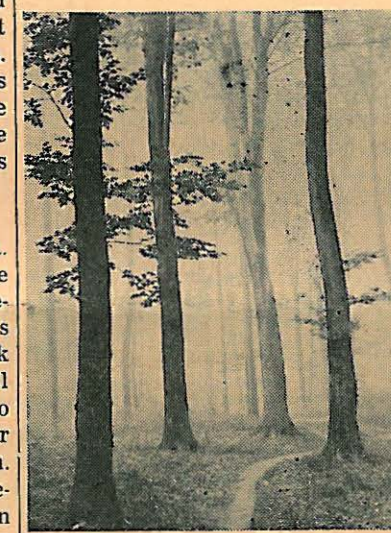

Erika and her family are another story. I will tell it better with a picture when I get one.

About twelve miles or so from Karlsruhe, a little north and a little west, is the small farm town of Kandel. The two miles between Kandel and the ranch called Gestut Langenberg where we stayed, is the route we rode on bicycles on various errands, sometimes through the forest and sometimes on the road, competing with trucks, horse drawn wagons and almost every imaginable type of vehicle that travels on the ground. On this trip we often saw the women, bandanas on their heads, wooden rakes in their hands, working hard at the job that lay before them that day, namely putting hay into windrows or stacking it on the wagons.

Looking out a window at the main street in the town of Kandel, Germany.

The forest route to the town of Kandel, Germany. This route is more crowded than you might imagine. It is not unusual to meet someone on a blind corner coming the other direction on bikes or afoot.

By the way, I have a serious correction to make. My sister-n-law, Elli, tells me that I referred to the forest as the "wild" and it should be the "wald," in a previous article.

Below: The cluster of buildings that make up a stud farm in Germany.

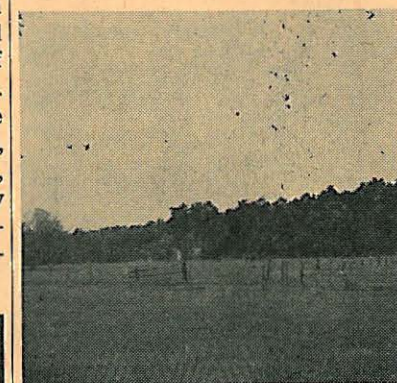

And here the ranch called Gestut Langenberg, a stud farm, and the place where we stayed for two weeks with people who spoke no English and we could speak no German.

Below in the field picture slightly left of center, can be picked out some large chunks of concrete, left overs of the wartime bunkers or pill-boxes that stretched across the German frontier.

Very little of this type of remnants are still left to be noticed, but are a very grim reminder of more unfortunate days. Now children hunt out these spots to climb and romp on the remnants, overgrown with vine and bush, but still a plice to climb like on a small mountain, as our children would play on huge granite boulders.

Don't forget the community meeting, sponsored by the Deerhorn Valley Civic Club, to be held at the Deerhorn Valley Lodge at 8:30 this Friday evening. The "Road-Naming" petitions, which have been at Meanea's for the past few weeks, will be available for your inspection and signature. Mr. Yakel, in charge of road-naming with the County Building Inspection Department has been invited to attend the meeting to answer any questions remaining on county road-naming procedures. The election of officers and directors of the Civic Club for 1964, discussion of naming the road from Bratton's ranch to Lyon's Valley Road, as well as other items of community interest are on the agenda. All community members are invited and urged to attend to assist in the development of our community, as well as to have a sociable cup of coffee and piece of cake with his friends and neighbors.

Windy and warm marked the Santa Ana condition early this week, our friends and relatives back east wouldn't believe the balmy temperatures we've had this past holiday season.

Latest report from Las Vegas has Terry White out of the hospital and feeling just first rate, good to hear it.

Talking about Vegas, Herb Evans and Annie Erickson of Monte Robles Acres, journeyed thataway last weekend extending greetings to former Deerhornites, Curly Boyd, "Diamond" Jim and Frances Welker, and Teery and Gene White.

Welcome to two Monte Robles property owners, George and Agnes West, who are residing on the Hill now. Incidentally, their well came in at 78 feet so all's well (pardon my pun).

Win and "Cec" Sellers spent a week up in Downey bringing the New Year in up there.

In again, out again—our community's seafaring Chief Engineer Joe Crowley, of Crow-Vallee Ranch, flew up to Eureka Sunday to catch his ship heading for Honolulu. Joe was pretty crestfallen when his month's leave of absence which he planned to spend puttering about the ranch was suddenly cancelled, but we'll look forward to your being with us in February.

can or will give all these animals homes. What actually happens is that they become midnight scavengers, join other dogs of similar strains in forming packs and eventually either starve to death, become victims of highway traffic or join an occasional family of coyotes, and this latter has been known to happen. Maybe I'm hard-hearted, but I'd rather put these same animals to sleep rather than send them on a one way ride to the country.

COKE'S KITCHEN

Thought this week I would give you some chafing dish ideas if you are fortunate enough to have one in your China closet. I rarely use ours but they are pretty and in looking through a booklet of chafing dish cookery, I found all sorts of goodies. Here are just a few:

Heat bite size pieces of Vienna cocktail sausage in a spicy tomato sauce.

Heat bite size pieces of cooked pork link sausage in applesauce.

Heat frankfurters cut in half inch pieces in commercial sour cream which has been lightly flavored with prepared mustard.

A delicious recipe which can be prepared ahead of the party is "Hamburger Tidbits," served in your chafing dish. Not only taste mighty good but is flavorful.

Hope 1964 is a good year for you and yours.

HAMBURGER TIDBITS

Chop celery, onions and green pepper and fry. Amount depends on individual. Soak hard bread in milk and mix with three pounds of ground beef with salt and pepper added. Brown hamburger balls and place in heavy roaster, pour one cup cooking sherry over top add mushrooms, and two cans of Franco gravy and serve. Cook in 350 degree oven for 30 to 45 minutes. Almost better the next day, if you happen to have any leftovers.

CLAM DIP

Two cartons of sour cream, one package of Lipton's onion soup, large cream cheese, 8 oz., and one can of minced clams.

HOLIDAY DIP

- 1½ cups sour cream
- ½ cup cottage cheese
- 1 tsp. dry mustard
- 1 T grated dry horseradish
- 2 T anchovy paste
- 2 T chili sauce
- 2 hard-cooked eggs, chopped
- ½ green pepper, chopped
- 1 T chopped parsley
- ½ tsp. garlic salt

Combine all ingredients in the order given, and let stand in a cool place for at least two hours to blend the flavors. Makes three cups.

Colorful relishes for decorating your appetizer tray are Celery Trunks. Fill matching stalks of celery with well seasoned cream cheese. Then fit stalks back together (the way they were grown). Tie with string and chill. When firm, slice half inch thick. The celery curls around the cheese in attractive form.

Stuffed cucumber is another favorite. Remove center from pared cucumber with apple corer. Stuff tightly with a firm cheese mixture. Chill. Slice ¼ inch thick.

JAMUL

By THERESA EGAN

John and Juanita Scheerer of the 4-S Ranch had an unexpected visit Sunday, old friends had driven from their new home in Texas to spend the holidays with their family in El Cajon, and dropped in on the Scheerers.

Notice the new look as you pass Paul Dunlap's road? Taking advantage of Jamul's summery weather, he had the road widened and put into shape for the winter, using his own decomposed granite to surface it. While tractor and carryall were available he leveled here and there on his land, and had four building sites bulldozed.

Twenty-five members of our family attended a gathering Sunday in Los Angeles at the home of cousins, June and Gordon Champion. The guest of honor was our uncle, John MacFarlane of Cheshire, England. Thoroughly enjoying his first visit to our country, he said: "America is much grander than I thought!" Most amazing to him is the wide variety of frozen foods in our super markets—in England they are available but greatly limited. Also present was my brother, Clifford Parrott whom we hadn't seen since 1952. A technical representative for Douglas on the east coast, he is in California for a two weeks' vacation. June Champion and her teenage twin daughters served a hearty and festive buffet. With weather so perfect we were able to eat on the patio. Later we drove to the Baldwin Hills Dam, half mile from the house, to view the results of the recent disaster. Guests driving up from Jamul were my brother, George Parrott who lives at the McEwen Place, our sister, Mary Egan of Mountain Dale Ranch, her children, Paul, Daniel, John, Christine, and Ann Marie, Joe, I, and daughter, Sharon.

Last Sunday evening as I was locking up the house against our famous Santa Ana winds, there came a program on TV called "Business Opportunities." I half listened until the speaker mentioned a ranch for sale near the Nevada state line. It sounded fantastic with its thousands of acres, outbuildings and wells. The speaker was quick to say that if you weren't in the higher income bracket, you would be wasting your time and the realtor's. On the other hand, he pointed out the advantages of this ranch (for a wealthy man) which all were of monetary value, including the tax deductions. Well then I started listening and started getting mad to think how many of us drive miles to town, haul water, while the wind blows what moisture and top soil there is away. Now the wind has stopped, and as I gaze at my broken trees, roofs lying over at my neighbor's field, I wonder if I could deduct it?

PINE VALLEY

By JUDY MULLINS

The annual New Year's Eve party put on by the Pine Valley Improvement Club was held in the clubhouse and began at 9 p.m. The music was provided by a four-piece combo, and the decorations, being pink elephants, were very appropriate and cleverly done. The usual noisemakers and such were in evidence and a delicious buffet was served at midnight.
