PIKE MEADE APPOINTED TO SCHOOL BOARD

FIRE COMMISSIONERS LA FORCE AND HALL SUBMIT RESIGNATIONS

Fire Commissioners J. C. LaForce and Phil Hall submitted their resignations from the Board of Fire Commissioners of the Alpine Volunteer Fire District at a meeting of the Board of Commissioners last Monday night.

Mr. La Force had been a Commissioner since last year when he was appointed by the Board of Supervisors to fill a vacancy for a term which expired last Tuesday. However, he was a write-in candidate in an election held on April 7th to succeed himself and was re-elected to a three-year term. He had not announced himself as a candidate for election, but was endorsed and backed by the "Citizens Committee for the Volunteer Firemen for Adequate Protection with no Increase in Taxes." In his letter of resignation, Mr. LaForce states: "Please accept this letter as notice that I will not be able to serve on the Commission for the term to which I was recently elected. A health

Supervisors to Study District Budget

The Board of Supervisors, on May 4, will make a study of the preliminary operating budgets for the sanitation districts within the county. The Board is the governing board for each of these districts.

The County Department of Public Works has presented to the Board a preliminary operating budget for the Alpine Sanitation District in the amount of $12,455 for the next fiscal year starting July 1. This budget would require a tax rate of $1.575 for each $100 of assessed valuation within the district.

The current year's budget for this district is $14,307, which required a tax rate of $1.488 per $100 of assessed valuation.

The reason for the higher tax rate for next year's budget which is a lower amount than this year's budget is on account of the tax required to cover the repayment of the bond indebtedness which is greater this year than last year.

A public hearing will be held by the Board of Supervisors before adopting the final budget for the district. Public hearings had previously been held on the preliminary budget until the Legislature recently passed a law eliminating this requirement.

INTIMATE GLIMPSES

By BEA LaFORCE

Over the hills an echo is sounding these days: WEEDS! The weeds are ahead of the pullers and choppers. The fine frequent rains have done wonders for the gardens and miracles for the weeds and native shrubs, and flowers. They seem to be carrying on a contest to see which can get the biggest the fastest and cover the most ground before they are eliminated. They seem to know there is a conservation emergency, so they are trying to fill up a few usually bare areas while gardeners are concentrating on flower and vegetable plots. For the first time in a long while we see fence rows nicely filled with attractive native shrubs and other plants. Many native plants identified as weeds, since they are not in the seed catalogues with their domestic cousins, have had a chance to survive a little longer. Of course, we don't mean the thistles and other ugly pests which must be eliminated if we must have anything but a weed jungle. Many of our native plants, especially the shrubs, are attractive and useful when allowed to grow where they spring up, mainly in fence rows and as field borders, and dividers.

Local Horses Take Arizona Show Honors

A number of the Willow Glen Farm Appaloosas travelled to Phoenix last weekend for the annual point show of the Arizona Appaloosa Association judged by Mr. C. W. "Red" Neill of Vista, California.

R. H. Blue Bonnett won Show Champion Mare to bring her record to 15 such wins; and the new 2-year-old stallion, Blue Admiral, took Reserve Champion Stallion for the second consecutive horse show weekend.

The star of the show was Florida Lea IV, 3-year-old mare, who ended up the two and a half day show as High Point Appaloosa, nosing out her stablemate, R. H. Blue Bonnett for the top honors. Florida is still a novice performance mare, and was pinch-hitting for R. H. Marvel II who stayed home to take care of her young son. Florida placed in every class in which she showed in both Trail Horse and Western Pleasure classes, placing first in four of the classes.

All of the Willow Glen Farm horses were shown by Frank Evans of the Buckeye Ranch in El Cajon, assisted by his son, Jerry Evans, and Clifford Rhodes. E. L. Freeland and Margaret C. Lowthian, owners of the Willow Glen Appaloosas, attended the show to enjoy seeing their horses perform and to have a short vacation in Phoenix.

Government Surplus Sale to be Held

Thirty-nine vehicles, including 1961 civilian jeeps with metal cabs, panel trucks (½ and ¾-ton capacity), plus station wagons, sedans, a carryall, and one 5-ton truck tractor, will be offered for public sale on an individual basis by the General Services Administration in San Diego, at 9:30 a.m. on Thursday, April 30, 1964.

A wide assortment of Chevrolets, Fords, Dodges, Plymouths, and Willys are located at the U. S. Post Office (Parcel Post Annex), Sampson and Main Streets in San Diego and may be inspected from "dawn to dusk," including Saturday and Sunday, commencing April 17. Prospective bidders who are unable to attend the sale may deposit bids in the "bid box" any time during the inspection period.

This will be a spot bid sale, the second of its kind held by GSA in San Diego. It is expected to last about two hours. Successful bidders may remove their vehicles from the site at the conclusion of the sale. Personal and company checks will be accepted for bid deposits.

Micro Cars To Race Sunday

This coming Sunday, April 26, the little micro cars will race at the new track on Highway 80 above Lutz' Garage. The races will commence at 1 o'clock in the afternoon.

Club members Larry Wilcox states that these races will be trial races getting ready for the competitive racing season which starts in May. As this is the last weekend before the season starts, a large number of cars are expected to participate on Sunday.

Mr. Mead resides with his wife, Jane, and their children on the Reynolds Ranch off Ross Road in Alpine. Their children attend the Alpine schools.

The Board, at the adjourned meeting, also reviewed the bids which had been submitted the week before for the transportation of the pupils by private organizations, and awarded a five-year contract to the low bidder. Patchett Bus & Transportation Company. The Board also awarded the sale of five of the district's school buses to the same organization.

In discussing the low bid, District Supt. Paul Clay advised the Board that in his opinion, by

County Civil Defense Plans RMO Meetings

The San Diego County Civil Defense office has scheduled more than 30 two-hour meetings during the next two months to review the operational readiness of more than 1,400 qualified radiological meter operators, William B. Marty, county administrative officer for civil defense said today.

"Each person who has completed a 15-hour training course in the operation of civil defense radiation measuring instruments is urged to attend one of the sessions," he said. "This will be a regular periodic program to refresh skills in the radio-logical defense program."

The meetings will also offer an opportunity to demonstrate kit testing procedures, Marty said.

The operational readiness of the trained personnel will be evaluated and procedures and report forms will be examined and discussed, he said. A program and schedule of test exercises will also be carried out to keep the readiness condition at an operational level.

That same afternoon and evening the Science Fair was held in the Cafetorium at Jamul-Las Flores Grammar School. All classes participated. Tying for first place were an exhibit in Oceanography by eighth graders Dennis and Doug Gollard, Tracy Dunn and Bill Scheerer; and a Collection of Animal and Rodent Skulls, including gophers, a ram and rabbits, by Danny Matheny and Clyde Ball. Second place went to fifth grader Larry Day for his exhibit on adding and subtracting light, involving a machine he built. Placing third were eighth graders Terry Day, Jeri Woodward, Rhonda Brown, and Bill Cranshaw for their Bean Plant Project.

Next year the school hopes to have its Fair earlier, in time to contribute to the San Diego Science Fair. The Phone Co., Mr. Raymond says, offered the school surplus and obsolete miscellaneous phone equipment to work with, which may lead to possible exhibits.

SCHOOL TALK

HARBISON CANYON

By SANDI CRAIN

There is an interesting weather bulletin board in Mrs. Snyder's school room. They made shelves that hold a barometer, a thermometer, and a cobalt chloride flower that turns blue when it's going to rain and pink in dry weather.

Close-circuit television sets are being experimented with by everyone in Harbison Canyon school. The sets are in the fourth, fifth and sixth grade rooms. The camera and microphone are in the fourth grade room. We are all having fun giving reports, reading poems and putting on plays over television.

Speaking of plays, the sixth grade presented a short operetta, "Treasure Island," for an overflow audience on PTA night. The stars were, Douglas Barrow as Jim Hawkins, Larry Buttrell as Dr. Livesly, Katherine Strobe as Squire Trelaamy, Bob Mathews as Ben Gunn, and Jeff Wise as Long John Silver. Regina Stinson was our narrator. Sandi Crain accompanied on the piano, and all the rest were pirates and sailors.

The AFS student, Rafael (Bobet) Palma from the Phillipines spoke the same night. He was introduced by his younger foster brother, Darrel Crain.

Goldwater Backers Belittle Critics

"The effort of seven California legislators to convince the people of the state that Goldwater supporters are extremists will fail—just as the same effort by Nelson Rockefeller, Joe Martin and others has failed," former U. S. Sen. William F. Knowland, State Chairman of the Goldwater for President Committee, said today (April 16).

Replying immediately to legislators who charged in Sacramento that the Republican party is in danger of capture by radical elements of the right, Knowland issued the following statement:

"I must point out that the name calling, the weird statements, the extreme abuse and irresponsible recrimination of the campaign is not coming from Goldwater supporters.

"The people of California are not freaks, nor are they somehow different from Americans across the country. Goldwater today has a commanding lead in the race for convention delegates. In Illinois Tuesday, more than a half million Republicans, or better than 60 per cent of those voting in the presidential primary, marked their ballots for Goldwater.

"The so-called Rockefeller task force is going to find it difficult to convince the people of California that more than half a million Illinois Republicans are extremists or have been captured by the Birch Society.

"And they will have trouble convincing anyone that what they call a noisy fringe in California has been able to take over all of the

Federal Student Loans Available

Students who wish financial assistance for the 1964-65 academic year have until June 12 to file an application for a National Defense Student Loan at San Diego State.

This will be the only opportunity for students to file for a federal loan for the coming academic year.

Applications should be filed at the student loan office, room 224 of the college administration building.

Student borrowers may receive up to $1,000 per college year with interest of 3 percent per year beginning one year after the student graduates.

Special consideration is given to qualified students who plan to teach in the elementary or secondary schools and to students majoring in math, science, engineering or in modern foreign language. Students in other areas of study are eligible to apply.

Since the National Defense Education Act was passed in 1958, more than $1 million has been granted to some 1100 students at San Diego State to assist them in earning their college degree.

Atty. General Mosk To Give Talk

Attorney General Stanley Mosk will speak in an observance of national Law Day, at San Diego State, Friday, May 1.

"Observe the Law: Key to Order, Justice, Freedom," is the title of Mosk's talk. He will be introduced by San Diego Mayor Frank Curran at 12 noon in the music auditorium at the college.

The talk is open to the public without charge. The lecture is sponsored by the business law and finance department of San Diego State's school of business administration and the American Bar Association.

CREST

Don't forget the PTA ice cream social at Crest School's open house tonight. It is from 7 to 9 p.m., and the home-made ice cream is fully guaranteed—to be delicious, that is.

The Crest Public Utility District's election of officers to the Board of Directors will be held Tuesday, May 5. The polls at the La Cresta Clubhouse will be open from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. Ken Howard, incumbent, is slated for position No. 1, and James Doonan and James Thurman are running for position No. 2.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Bettencourt have left the area for Athens, Tex., where Don will be employed as an assistant engineer with the Curtis-Mathis Company in Dallas. Mrs. Bettencourt is the former June Douglas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Douglas of 125 Scenic Dr. The young couple will be living within 100 miles of June's sister and her husband, Tech/Sgt. and Mrs. David Swaid, who are both in the Air Force, and both stationed at Lackland Air Force Base. Mrs. Swaid (Beth Douglas), is a corporal, and is a dispensary nurse at the Base Hospital in San Antonio, Tex. Beth took a special course in Field First-Aid, one of 275 men and 25 women to qualify for the training. Of the 300 students Beth was graduated third in her class. The Douglasses are understandably just a bit proud of her record.

The Billy Graham Revival is scheduled to begin at Balboa Stadium on May 1. The newly-acquired bus from the Crest Community Church will be making the trip down every night, and has announced that anyone who wishes to go along may do so, and welcome. Details may be obtained by calling Mrs. Thomas Cross, 442-1960, or Rev. Gerald Woodhouse, 444-3077.

Summer School for the elementary grades has been approved by the Board of Education for a five-week period from Monday, June 22 through Friday, July 24. If enrollment is sufficient to qualify, Crest School will begin classes at 8 a.m. and extend to 12:20 p.m. The program will be a continuation of the regular academic year, and will provide for the following subject areas: reading, arithmetic, language, social studies, science art, music and physical education. Larry L. Trickey, director of the Elementary Summer School Program, says, "Most students should benefit from the summer school program. This experience will help children retain and strengthen skills learned during the year. THE DANGER OF FIRE

In the rural mountainous areas of San Diego County there is a year-around danger of fire. Even during the winter months when normally the fire hazard should be nil, there are days of dry East wind which raises the fire hazard to the danger point. However, the most serious period of danger is after the rains have ceased and the brush and trees become tinder dry and a fire can easily start and get out of control.

The Federal Forest Service and the State Forest Service, whose duty it is to attempt to prevent fires from starting and to extinguish those that do start within the mountain areas, are always apprehensive at his time of the year when many people who have no back-country experience come out to the rural areas, and in their ignorance often are the cause of fires. Even the natives, through accident or carelessness, may start fires which get beyond their control.

In our area there are four volunteer fire departments, Crest, Harbison Canyon, Alpine and Pine Valley, which give added protection to the areas over which they have responsibility, but even people living in these areas should do everything possible to eliminate conditions that would tend to become fire hazards, and to use every precaution against fires becoming started.

The Federal Forest Service and the State Forest Service and the volunteer fire districts will soon be issuing their special regulations which they issue to acquaint people with the steps that must be taken to reduce the fire hazard. These regulations should be carefully studied by each home owner within the area and complied with rigidly.

moisture, and sunshine into food and fiber for man's support, and into trees, grass, flowers and wild-life for his enjoyment." He calls this "biologic balance" explaining that if there are not enough squirrels there will be fewer acorns planted and fewer oaks; if there are not enough rabbits to feed the foxes, the foxes will steal chickens; yet if there are too few foxes to eat the meadow mice there will not be enough alfalfa for dairy cows; if there are not enough song birds there will be too many destructive insects; yet here must be useful insects to pollinate fruits and legumes. A favorable biologic balance is one in which all these elements work together for the benefit of the whole community. This can be planned and controlled, say the conservationists.

Old ideas about maintaining clean fence rows in order to control insect pests and weeds are out now. Modern studies of wild life relationships show that shrubby fences harbor far fewer harmful insects and many more beneficial kinds of wild life on most farms and ranches where such cover is provided for them. One study of a 100-acre area tells a convincing story. Here, where ample cover between fields was allowed, the useful wildlife population was estimated to be several million beneficial insects, pollinators of fruits and legumes as well as destroyers of harmful insects. More than 400 beneficial birds, and more than 1,000 beneficial small animals many of which are effective insect destroyers. Conservationists have made studies of the comparative values of sod fence rows, that is clean ones, and shrub fence rows, those pleasant looking ones where the wire is hidden by a thick growth of native shrubs.

This study showed that in the clean fence row only 500 lady bugs, those very helpful little red beetles, managed to survive, while 79,000 insects injurious to crops and man got along just dandy. There were only 1.5 nesting birds, 84 harmful small animals, and eight beneficial small animals. In the shrubby fence of the same length, there were found to thrive 20,000 lady bug beetles, and only 54,000 injuries bugs because 21 nesting birds lived in the heavy coverage and fed on them. There were only 21 harmful small animals, and 28 useful small animals. Such fence rows, especially when grown thick and strong, are a favorite nesting place of the Mourning dove, seldom seen and heard here any more, and for quail and meadow lark, for the road runner, now having a hard time to find a bush close enough to water and feed for survival, for the imported pheasant and many other wonderful species of wild life.

Did you know that of an average hatching of 11 to 12 quail chicks, conservationists estimate that only two survive the many hazards they must fly over to reach another spring?

Letter To Editor

Letters must have signature and address, be subject to being condensed and will not be returned. The opinions expressed are the opinions of the writers and may not necessarily reflect the opinions of the Alpine Echo.

Dear Editor,
To the voters of the Alpine Local Fire District:

At the recent write-in election for directors of the District you returned me to the office by a very gratifying majority. I wish to thank you for this compliment.

It is with regret that I must announce that I cannot fulfill the duties of this office at the present time.

The press of personal business, as well as a health factor makes this decision necessary.

Again thank you for the opportunity of serving as commissioner and for your votes for my return to the office.

Very sincerely,
J. C. LaForce

awarding the contract the District would save approximately $800 per year, the State would have a substantial savings in their contribution for pupil transportation, and the transportation contractor would be required to pay gasoline tax, transportation tax, and vehicle taxes to the State which are not required to be paid by school districts who supply their own transportation facilities.

After the meeting was adjourned, the Board members met with representatives of the School Boards of the Lakeside School District, the Dehesa School District, the Dulzura School District, and the Jamul-Las Flores School District, for the purpose of discussing the unification question which has been underway for several months. After considerable discussion no definite action was taken other than a reiteration of the desire of each of these school districts to remain as separate districts within the Grossmont Union High School District. This decision will be presented at the next meeting of the Augmented Committee on Unification which will be held on May 6.

panded to provide additional seating capacity. New booths are being added in what was formerly a portion of the kitchen and storage area. One section of the booths will be arranged in a manner to be curtained off to provide seating for private parties. A unique feature will be the placing of booths around the famous large oak tree that grows from the ground underneath the building, through the cocktail lounge and the roof.

Mr. and Mrs. Ratliff have obtained the services of Jack Moore, formerly of the Silver Queen Salon in Pine Valley, to assist in serving and entertaining the customers. He will commence his duties on May 1.

The kitchen is also undergoing extensive alterations to provide the most modern facilities for serving lunches and dinners which will be served to customers in the lounge area surrounding the bar.

Barney Ratliff and Paul Brock planned all of the alterations and decorations, and the work is being executed under the personal direction of Paul.

Describing her ride in a friend's private plane, the young lady said: "As we went into a sudden dive, all my past sins flashed before me. It was so interesting that I made the pilot dive eight more times."

Two California Division of Highways employees rechristen former U.S. Highway 101-Alternate with its new designation, California State Route 1. Route signs along some other California highways are also being changed to their new numbers. The re-numbering action first of its kind in more than 50 years, is aimed at eliminating some of the multiple numbers on California state highways.

CALIFORNIA STATE HIGHWAYS WILL BE RE-NUMBERED

Confusion is bound to occur during the next few months for drivers on some California state highways who try to reach destinations by using road maps now in print.

Their problem will stem from the fact that the California Division of Highways, in accordance with a 1963 state law, is renumbering approximately 30 state highways. The long familiar black and white shields that identify these roads are being replaced by white and green shields with different numbers. The project will be complete by July 1964.

The white and green is the second recent addition to color schemes of California highways. Some red, white and blue shields have been placed along routes which make up California's portion of the National System of Interstate and Defense Highways.

The red, white and blue designations are on signs which resemble the federal shield and will be used nation-wide to identify the Interstate System. In California, they will be positioned along each route after it is converted to the required number of lanes.

The automobile clubs and other map makers are aware of all changes, and maps now on their drawing boards will include the revised numbering.

The local District Office of the Division of Highways will advise the public through the newspapers prior to the installation of white and green shields in this area.

ALPINE

By DEBBIE MARSHALL

Mimi Wilson is giving a morning coffee for Henry Boney at her new home on Lemon Drive in La Mesa. A number of Alpiners have been invited to attend.

Leta Judd and Jeanne Pierce spent a day last week in Tijuana on a shopping tour. They report that they had a wonderful time and found many interesting items for their homes.

Mr. and Mrs. Al Hinkle left last Tuesday morning for San Jose to see their son, Al, play in opening game of the San Jose professional baseball club. They plan to visit Mrs. Hinkle's sister in Mill Valley and return to Alpine tomorrow.

Colleen Ingalls of Arnold Way, Alpine, is busy these days passing out cards and putting up signs, and writing letters, in her own personal campaign for the re-election of her father, Dave Bird, as the Supervisor for the Second Supervisorial District.

Wally Radsliff is now in Reno again associated with Commercial Credit, his former employer. Doris and the three children will remain here in Alpine in their home on Palo Verde at least until school is out for the summer.

Five local ladies attended the first beginners bridge class last Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Auren Pierce of Palo Verde Ranch. They were Mrs. Rose Bender, Mrs. Betty Isaacs, Mrs. Melva Riley, and Mrs. Billie Hart.

Jack Wilson, who is now the area representative for the Western Horsemen, was a visitor at the Appaloosa Horse Show in Pomona two weeks ago. Jack had the opportunity of meeting and talking to a large number of horse owners in Southern California and found that everyone is pleased and interested in knowing that this well-known national horse magazine has a representative here. It has been a number of years since there has been a representative in California, and it is very helpful to horse breeders and exhibitors to have the personal attention of a local representative.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Warner now of San Diego and formerly of Alpine, visited the H. D. Trails of Alpine Terrace this past Sunday.

Tommy Ingalls, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ross Ingalls, aged 1 1/2, received a birthday present a few months early. His cousins presented him with a pair of banty chickens for the ranch on Arnold Way.

Another local Alpiners who took an active part in the Pomona Show was Mr. John Bilsky, back again as an Assistant Show Secretary in charge of the trophies and ribbons and keeping an accurately marked catalog. John is very capable in this job and one of the reasons why these Appaloosa shows are so smoothly run.

Paul Thorpe, a Trustee of the Alpine Schools, has a hidden talent. He races a trail scooter in competition around the country, and at races held at Phoenix last March was the winner of the top cash prize, which has been reported to have been a sizeable sum of money. His next race will be at Trinidad, Colo., with three more such annual events in the offing this year. Paul's trail scooter is being sponsored by the Bear Cat Manufacturing Company of San Diego.

The Script Teasers, a group of play readers, met at the home of Mrs. J. C. LaForce last Friday evening. John Ellsworth, one of the stars in the current Old Globe play, was present and took part in the reading of the plays. The group read a new play written by Bea LaForce entitled "Incident on Picadilly," and a play written by Jack Aaronson of San Francisco, entitled "History of Patriotic Songs." Experienced actors in the group read the plays, and the others in the group listen and criticize both the play itself and the reading. Bea reports that she was helped by this reading of her play in smoothing out some spots that she felt were not quite correct.

Mrs. Harry (Manila) Colby and Mrs. Ed (Jane) Orbom left last Sunday for Los Angeles where they will attend the State Convention of the Federation of Woman's Clubs. The convention will last all this week.

Alpine 4-H members are now selling tickets to the East County Fair to be held in El Cajon next month. They are selling the tickets for 50 cents. If you buy your tickets from them now, you will save 25 cents per ticket, as they Ralph and Margaret Rader and their four children moved into their new home in Palo Verde this week. They purchased the new home built recently by Mr. Howell of the Howell Lumber Company of El Cajon. Mr. Rader is the owner of the Ralph Rader Music Company of El Cajon, and the family moved to Alpine from Fletcher Hills.

Last week Red Andrews of the Casino Inn put on a free fish fry for his customers. He cooked over 100 pounds of fish including corbina, tutava, catfish and bass. He also served baked beans, potatoe salad and cole slaw, all for free to over 150 persons. Serving started at 6:30 in the evening and continued until 2 in the morning. Red states that this is something he does when his freezer gets full of all the fish his fishermen friends kindly give to him. It sounds like a wonderful idea, and am sorry that we missed it.

DEERHORN VALLEY

By ROY WALLIN

A cold, miserable, rainy week-end topped off by a power failure from around 10 a.m. to after 2 p.m. last Sunday—just enough juice sneaking through the line to light a bulb dim-like or keep the second-hand of the electric clock chasing itself around. City-folk comment on the quiet up here, but without the TV, record player, or radio blaring away, and without the usual "hum" of the refrigerator, freezer, or other electrical appliances, you really knew what "quiet" meant.

Agnes and John Amundson were up this past weekend on their place, enjoying the peace and quiet of our valley as well as clearing, cutting down the fire hazard, and doing the thousand and one things to be done preparatory to building a home. In his "spare" (?) time, John was busy with his duties as president of our civic club, contacting the club's directors for a board of directors meeting this Wednesday night at 8 p.m. at Mr. and Mrs. Joe Eaton's home.

At a haphazard meeting of "The Sons of Rest—Mountain Division," Gerry McMullen, friend (former?) of Roy Meyers of Monte Robles Acres, wrested the title of King of the Mountain, pool-type away from Roy last Sunday evening in the Lodge, said Gerry, "Challengers, leave your name with the innkeeper." Roy Meyers' comment was in the words of the late Gen. MacArthur, "I shall return."

Looks like Honey Springs Road from Highway 94 to Jane and Frank Meanea's place is getting pretty close to being paved—be a pleasure to drive down the hill rattleless and dustless. They're doing quite a commendable job, widening the road and eliminating the blind curves on the road from Bratton's through our community. It's been a while, but we all appreciate the efforts of the Road Department and the Honor Camp.

HARBISON

By LORNA FERGUSON

I surely hope that all of you have noticed how Spring has arrived! Come on, get out and take a good look. You won't have to go very far—flowers blooming in most every yard, some wild ones popping out here and there, a new house going up down on Silverbrook Drive, and just stop and listen for a few minutes and you will hear the birds talking or singing. If you will nose around a bit either in the trees, shrubs, or the eaves of most houses, you will be sure to find a nest with two or three eggs in it. Wonderful time of the year!

Sonny McCann went deep sea fishing with dad and mother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Dietrich, but the conditions were so bad at sea that they had to turn around and come back. Better luck next time, Sonny.

Billy, Joan, and Annette Pipes were week-end visitors from Santa Monica, at the Bill Pipes home here on Harbison Canyon Road.

Gregg Falkenberg and Jeff Wise were Rio Hardy guests at the Hettingers on the week-end. Gregg is learning to cut a mean swath on those water skis, and Jeff, well, he just picked up a few more freckles.

Welcome to our sunshiny community, Mr. and Mrs. Rollie Johnston. The Johnstons are residing at 233 Francis Drive, and have a son and family here who live at 124 Francis Drive. Mr. Johnston Sr. has been in ill health, but is much improved, we're glad to hear.

The Carpenters, Glenn, Bettye, and Cory took off Sunday on a weeks vacation. They were headed first for Camp Matthews to visit with son, Ken, from there to Long Beach where they would spend the night with the Crissmans (Lynne and family), and on to San Luis

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Robertson went to Los Angeles April 4th weekend to meet their daughter, Roberta Roberts and granddaughter Debra, who arrived home from Muncheveiler, Germany, at that time. Roberta's husband is in the U. S. Army and they have been stationed in Germany for some time. What a happy reunion.

Dan Corliss of Old Oak Inn at Cameron Corners suffered a broken vein in the neck on Friday of last week, and was taken to the hospital. It was first thought he had a heart attack, and was given first aid with the resuscitator operated by Mr. Richards of Rancho del Campo.

The Fiesta de Abril held at the Mt. Empire High School was a great success both financially and pleasurewise, so much so that it will probably be an annual affair. The food, the program, and the dance were enjoyed by all and were highly praised. Casey Jones and Tom Huntington directed the gymkhana, Clay Stuart did the advertising, Pat McEvoy was in charge of the snack bar and food donations, and she was assisted at the booth by Charlotte Northington and Bob Shearer. The barbeque dinner was directed by Gloria Ketchum, and the Mexican food and Mexican entertainment was headed by a committee of Mrs. Alfonso Romero, Mrs. Juan Rico, Mrs. Jose Perretta and Mrs. Salarzano. Pearl Fullerton was in charge of the dance, with Freida Clark in charge of the decorations and cashier, and Pearl Fullerton and Bo Person securing the door prizes. Paul Oliver constructed the booths. Beverly Woodard handled the fun booth prizes. Helen Pate and Kathy McManus were in charge of the country store, John Finn was cleanup director. Mrs. Sutton judged the dance contests, and prizes of Mexican pinatas were awarded the following: cha cha, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Trupp; waltz, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Holloman, with Mr. and Mrs. Leland Keys runner-up, swing, Ed Spies and Mary Ash, rumba and fox trot, two couples from Tecate, unable to secure names. The Parents and Boosters Club wish to thank those who attended the Fiesta and helped to make it so successful. Last but not least, a great big thank you goes to Connie Jones who was head chairman.

Clara Mae and Al Lester drove up to Borrego in their Campster for a recent weekend, spent the night in a park and participated in the Trail Scooter Club's monthly outing. Members rendezvoused "off in the wilderness by a dry lake," and men, women, and children mounted scooters, two to a scooter and went on a three-hour drive. At a chosen destination they enjoyed a packed lunch. It was 100 degrees that day. Desert blooming was gone except for a cactus with red blooms.

A Reminder: Monte Vista High School plans Open House at 7:30 p.m. Thursday evening, April 30. After a brief PTA business meeting parents may visit any or all classrooms. The Monte Vista International Club will sell refreshments. We've found these events informative and interesting.

level. Individuals unable to attend one session may select a session which is more convenient and at a time better suited to them, the civil defense administrator said.

"Although attendance is elective, it is believed that the proposed review sessions are essential to the stability of the countywide radiological safety program," Marty said.

A meeting has been scheduled to be held at the Viejas Honor Camp on Tuesday, June 9, at 9-11 a.m. The units invited to attend this meeting are Alpine RMO's, Pine Valley RMO's, Viejas Honor Camp, Descanso Road Station, Alpine Road Station and the County Park in Pine Valley. Now while Iris are at their beautiful best is the time to make selections of varieties you admire the most, and either buy them at the nursery, or see if you can persuade some of your friends to divide some of their choice ones with you.

There are tall growing ones, and short ones, and ones to suit almost any location—provided you supply them with an acid type soil. The experts tell us you can grow iris almost the year round. For early bloom the Tall Bearded I. Germanica Dutch Iris I. Xiphium which comes in a fine array of colors, the I reticulata, 6 to 8 inches; Bearded I pumila, 4 to 12 inches. You will no doubt see others.

For later as the season advances will come the English I Xiphoides, the Jampanese I kaemipheri, sort of flat topped with contrasting color tinting the edges of the petals. For Fall or twice flowering dwarf bearded types come in same coloring as earlier ones. The Vesper iris I dichotoma, rather like Dutch iris but smaller, which have long blooming habit—a scalled winter type. I unguicularis very fragrant, 6 to 8 inches. Try to get some of these lovely plants while you can see them in bloom.

If I may quote what the experts say again, it is that the iris are supposed to be the "lilies of the field" spoken of in the Bible since no member of the lily family is native to the countries mentioned in the Bible.

This is also the season to keep

Handy Household Hint

(For Harried Homemakers)

By JANE MON DRAGON

For "Ouchless" diaper changing, try a gaily decorative pot-holder, attached to the wall several feet about the baby's crib or dressing table. It provides a safe, handy place to park open safety pins while changing your Pixie's diaper.

Or—stick the pins into a cake of baby soap, kept handy on the table. Makes pin points pierce diapers more easily, and avoids those pinholes in the sheets and mattress.

Give your little bubble-bath addict a real treat with a rainbow bath. Add a few drops of vegetable coloring to the suds. The resulting scads of gaily colored bubbles will enchant your child.

Use net bags from potatoes, onions, or oranges, for handy storage of tub-toys. Hang 'em on a bathroom hook—toys will air-dry quickly, and be handy for the next dunking.

What does your small-fry weigh? If you have a bathroom scale, but not one for baby weighing, step on the scale with him in your arms, then get off and put him down. Now step on the scale again. The difference is what your baby weighs, of course.

COKE'S KITCHEN

Wouldn't it be smart when you receive a new recipe to try it—put your comment of your family's reaction before filing and if it received ohs! and ahs!—try it again? But alas, my cookbook doesn't come close.

I received a booklet of personal recipes and have promised myself to at least try one new recipe a week. At present, my idea for a change of vegetables is at a standstill. Try these recipes with me. They sound good, don't they?

Glazed Broccoli With Almonds

2 lbs. broccoli or 2 frozen pkgs.
½ tsp. salt
4 T (½ cube butter) or margarine
4 T flour
¾ c hot water
2 T sherry
2 T lemon juice
Pepper to taste
½ tsp. Accent
¼ c grated parmesan cheese or ½ cup grated cheddar cheese
1 cup table cream
1 bouillon cube
¼ cup slivered toasted almonds

Separate broccoli and wash thoroughly. Cook broccoli in salted water until barely tender then arrange in baking dish. While broccoli is cooking, melt butter and blend in flour—pour in cream and bouillon cube dissolved first in ¾ cut hot. Cook until smooth and thickened, add sherry, lemon juice, pepper and Accent. Pour sauce over broccoli, sprinkle grated cheese and almonds over the top, bake in moderately hot oven for 20 minutes.

Green Bean Casserole

1 can string beans
1 can water chestnuts, sliced
1 medium can bean sprouts
1 can celery soup
1 T Worcestershire sauce

Place in two layers in buttered casserole. Take celery soup, dilute with water from beans and 1 T Worcestershire sauce—pour over beans and bake 30 minutes at 350. Then cover with canned or frozen French fried onions and 1 cup grated sharp cheese for 15 min.

Baked Cabbage and Celery

3 cups cut celery
½ tsp. salt
3 cups shredded cabbage
1 can cream of chicken soup
1 cup pimiento flavored American cheese
2 T butter
Bread crumbs
Cook celery in salted water for 10 minutes, no more. Drain.
Cook cabbage in salted water 5 minutes. Drain. Mix celery and cabbage and place half of the mixture in casserole. Spoon on half of undiluted chicken soup and half of cheese. Add remainder of celery and cabbage. Add half tsp. salt and chicken soup, cheese. Top with buttered bread crumbs. Bake 25 minutes at 350 degrees topographical display which Lona explained was made laboriously of papermache "with a little flour dough thrown in."

Julian Girl

Her ambitious research led to a prepared booklet giving many historical, topical, geographical and geological facts. A few of which are: The Julian Mountains were formed some three billion years ago by a subterranean earthquake. The Elsinore Fault lies very near this area. But Lona offered comfort with the news that in our age there are merely minor earthquakes, felt occasionally, with only one good shaking several years back.

Geologically the terrain consists of three major rock substances. The oldest rocks Lona discovered were samples of Schist, formed in the Triassic Age, Grandiorite from the Jurassic Age and San Marcos Gabbro formed in the Eocene Age. Other samples she included in her display were of mica, tourmaline, quartz and lepidolite. She learned that a river once ran through the area.

Gold was a principal ore mined in the 1870's and gradually decreased during the 10 years in which Julian teemed with Gold Rushers.

Lona lives with her parents and two sisters in Whispering Pines, Julian. Her community has reason to be proud that this 13 year old young native daughter did such an excellent scientific research job on their three billion year old Julian Mountains. The judging was tough but Lona deserved her spot J50, "The Julian Area."

Fire Commissioners

factor, as well as the press of personal business, makes this decision necessary."

Mr. Hall who has been connected with the Fire Department since its inception as a fireman and Commissioner, and who had been opposed to the policies of the majority of the previous Board in the letter of resignation states: "A recent election in this Fire District showed either disapproval of my handling of the voters' interest in this District, or disinterest. Believing as I do that when one's policies receive a no confidence vote that person should resign, I hereby tender my resignation as a member of this Board effective April 20, 1964, 12 noon."

At the April 7th election there were two positions to be voted upon. Mr. William H. Jones, also a write-in candidate, was elected to the other position. Mr. Jones had also been endorsed and supported by the "Citizens Committee for the Volunteer Firemen for Adequate Protection with no Increase in Taxes." The Citizens Committee, in their campaign literature, stated that Mr. Jones and Mr. LaForce had both expressed their desire to continue with a four-year plan which had been developed by the majority of the previous Board and the volunteer firemen. The plan contemplates the immediate installation of a number of fire hydrants at District expense and the purchase of a fire engine pumper.

The Commissioners have called a special meeting to be held next Monday at 7:30 p.m. for the purpose of re-organizing the Board of Commissioners and to start the study of a budget for the next fiscal year. The resignations of LaForce and Hall were not acted on at last Monday night's meeting, but will be taken up at the adjourned meeting next week in order to give time for Al Hinkle, Chairman of the Board of Commissioners, to contact these two men to determine whether they will withdraw their resignations.

Both Mr. LaForce and Mr. Hall have stated to the Echo that they would not withdraw their resignations. Mr. Hall said that he believed his letter of resignation was self-explanatory and that he even stated the hour at which his resignation was effective. Mr. LaForce said that he had not authorized any group or individual to propose him as a candidate in the write-in election, and that his resignation was for the reasons stated in his letter of resignation.

The home of Mrs. Marie Johnston was the scene of a Cathe jewelry party luncheon on Thursday, April 16. Ten guests sat down to a chicken enchiladas, rancho style, spanish rice, layered cabbage salad, whipped jello and ice cream, and coffee. A very nice time was had by all.

Lynann Jines down on Silverbrook Drive gave her dad and mom quite a few hours of deep concern last Sunday evening when she swallowed a chicken bone and it lodged in her throat. She was rushed to El Cajon Valley Hospital where a specialist, nurses, and an anesthetist were called in to perform surgery, but in the process of feeding her cotton balls to x-ray, one of the balls caught on the bone and took it down. Lynann, you're a real lucky girl, all out of danger, back in school, and no scars to show off.

MT. LAGUNA

By KATHY McMANUS

Ruth Stuart just called to tell me about Sue and Alaina's accident Sunday, April 19, about 3 p.m. on Mt. Laguna. She was taking Alaina home when she lost control of her dad's pick-up just past the 6000 marker. They turned over two or three times and the girls were badly bruised and shaken up. We're all so thankful that they are okay.

Mr. Halliday, superintendent of M. E. School District, held a meeting at Pine Valley school for the area chairmen. These chairmen are questioning the registered voters to determine their feeling on the $1 override to be held June 2, in the M. E. district. A tax increase is needed to provide for mounting operational cost and decrease in state aid. The $1 override will continue to provide transportation, an accredited high school, small class size, kindergarten and cafeteria plus three new busses, an elementary foreign language program for the fifth and sixth grades, a high school physics program, an improved high school math program, a more centralized with separate facilitated Junior High School, and a counseling program to include grades seven and eight. A note of interest, the cost to educate one student alone is $600 per year. Since college requirements are tougher now than ever before, three years of a foreign language and three to four years of mathematics, we need a more accelerated high school with better facilities to keep up with these high standards and requirements.

It's true I talk too much. Last week I had "thanks" on the Fiesta de Abril write up but it was cut off. Well, I hope all of you that donated your time, cakes and pies, and white elephants, please accept my thanks. Mrs. Gloria Ketchum, president and Mrs. Connie Jones, chairman of the Fiesta and the executive board of the Parents and Boosters Club, couldn't begin to thank each individual. With your generous donations our Fiesta was a success. We all wish to thank you. Let's keep up this same enthusiasm for our school. It needs all the help you can give.
