Alpine Junior High Holds Graduation

The graduating class of the Alpine Junior High School have had a busy time the past week with all of their activities. Starting last Friday evening, the eighth grade mothers cooked a lovely banquet consisting of two turkeys from the Adams Ranch (one turkey was a huge forty pounder), sweet potatoes, Jello salad, rolls, and iced tea. Mrs. Leata Judd was in charge of the banquet arrangements. After the banquet the guests of honor enjoyed a dance with live music furnished by a new group of musicians from Dehesa led by Steve Hasbrouck. Later in the evening cake and punch was served by the mothers.

After a restful weekend the graduates were off again on Monday practicing for the graduation that evening. The proud parents and friends began arriving at the school hall at 7:30 that evening. Upon entering the hall they were greeted by the fragrance of many flowers. The mothers had again been at it and had the hall beautifully decorated. The graduates entered from the back and walked in couples down the aisle to the front of the hall. They passed through a bower of flowers, then separating to either side and going to the stage to be seated. The Pledge of Allegiance was led by Celeste Irvine. The Invocation was then given by Roger Larson, Pastor of Alpine Community Church. The school band led by Mr. Jack Ades played three selections. A welcoming speech was given by George Buell. Following George's address, Steve Wilcox narrated the history of three songs sung by the eighth grade chorus who were accompanied by Julia Buell, District

INTIMATE GLIMPSES

By BEA LaFORCE

Here's the story of a story that somehow came out in print reversed and a bit awry. The whole thing amused us and we hope it will amuse you. It happened about a month ago, but since it's still going round among our friends who keep asking about it, we have decided to tell you all we know about it. The item we mean appeared in a San Diego newspaper in a daily column written by a man with a large following. To be mentioned in his column is nice even when the story is a little mixed-up. So we want it understood that we are not complaining when we give you the genesis of the item which read, Quote: "Alpine's Bea La Force is proud that Avalon published her mystery novel, THE SOUND OF HASTY FOOTSTEPS. Only one thing marred her enjoyment. Her novels were shipped to book stores in dust jackets designed for Harvey Bond's science fiction, THE OTHER WORLD."

Many of you saw it and spoke about it with concern and some confusion since you had bought copies of the book and knew that it wore its own jacket and no other. Thus you knew the book stores had not received them hidden under just jackets designed for another story. Also you knew the author had not boasted . . . "is proud . . . ets," had not told of the books existence until it was published. So loyal friends were stung by this line with its image of a panting and posturing lady novelist awaiting her book and receiving it disguised as another's. If true, this might have been funny—if you like that kind of humor.

The true story is funnier, we think, and it isn't about the book's author at all. It's about two other people. The real book jacket mix-up happened like this: An old friend of ours, Gene Wilson, of Pacific Beach, purchased what he thought was a copy of the mystery novel mentioned. He and his mother, Olive, read it. Meanwhile, out in Lemon Grove, Frances Bardace, poet, and very gifted writer, who does a monthly column on books for San Diego Magazine, bought a copy of the mystery, read it and gave it a nice review in her column. Gene saw her review and didn't write about Bea's book at was astonished. A few nights later we all met at a party and the conversation between Gene and Fran went something like this: GENE, ACCUSINGLY, "Why, Fran, you all! You couldn't have read it." FRAN, DEFENSIVELY: "Of course I read it!" GENE: "You said it was a mystery about an old house!" FRAN: "It is a mystery about an old house." GENE: "It is not; It's science fiction about a man who gets kidnapped and taken to another planet!" FRAN: "No, it isn't!" GENE: "But I tell you it is!" FRAN: "You're wrong." GENE: "Your's wrong." Of the two dozen other people present several had read both the disputed story and the review. Fran was right. Gene went home utterly bewildered, muttering, "Well, I know I bought her book, right name, right title . . ."

VIEJAS INDIANS ORGANIZE ALL INDIAN VFW POST

The first all-Indian VFW Post in the State of California was organized at the Viejas Indian Reservation east of Alpine last Sunday, June 7th, at a pit barbecue attended by more than 1000 persons.

Installed as Commander of the new Post, to be known as Viejas Indian Reservation Post 7637, was Adolph B. Brown. Installing officer, Ray Rainwater, from District One, San Diego, also installed Thomas Hyde as Senior Vice-Commander, Clarence Brown as Junior Vice-Commander, and B. Carrizosa, quartermaster. The Post will meet at the Reservation in the Community Hall.

Unseasonably cold and rainy weather did not dampen the spirits of the large crowd which gathered to celebrate with the local Indians. Other Reservations were represented in the crowd, including Barona. Many men from other VFW chapters were present, their colorful caps adding an official air to the scene. Among men prominent in veterans groups were Past Commander of District One, Al Caudillo; 1st District Sr. Vice-Commander, William E. Riner; 1st District Jr. Vice-Commander, Gilbert Castorena; William Brinkmeyer, Commander of Post 2422, San Diego; Doug Fordyce, Commander of Alpine Post 5233, and Alpine's Sr. Vice-Commander Ed. Wayrynen. The membership of the Alpine Post was well represented by other local veterans. Other VFW people came from Pacific and Ocean Beach, Chula Vista, Poway, Coronado, La Mesa, El Cajon, Lakeside and San Diego. Many of the men brought their families.

Mr. Fordyce and Mr. Wayrynen were in charge of the huge barbecue pit where they cooked 1600 pounds of beef. They started the fire Saturday morning heating a thick layer of clean rocks. The meat was wrapped in about 20-pound packages of wet sacking and cooked on top the stones deep in the pit. It was well seasoned and deliciously cooked, served with a very tasty sauce prepared in the kitchen of the Reservation's Community Hall where the food was served by women of the Reservation.

By 5 o'clock all the meat had been sold along with the huge

County Plans Suit To Abate Nuisance

The County Board of Supervisors, last Tuesday, started proceedings to sue the owners and operators of a cattle feeding lot in the Valley of the Oaks section of Descanso. The cattle feeding lot has been the center of a controversy between the operators of the lot, the persons residing adjacent to the lot and the County authorities.

In May a petition was submitted to the Board of Supervisors signed by 18 residents of the Valley requesting that the County join with them in taking action to eliminate the public nuisance which they claim has been caused by the operation of the cattle feeding lot.

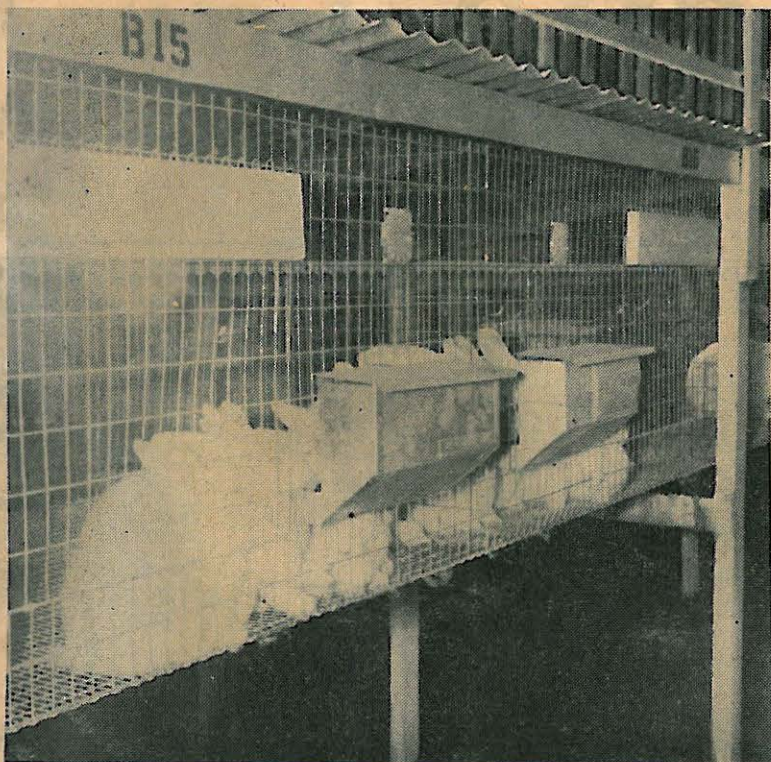

In discussing the proposed suit, County Counsel Bertram McLees stated that 16 persons have signified their willingness to testify in such a suit.

The cattle feeding lot and a feed mill are operated by Joe Maggio, a vegetable merchant in Imperial Valley, who has been feeding a large number of cattle for the past several months which the adjacent property owners claim has created a public nuisance.

Local Kiwanis Visit College Area Club

The Alpine Kiwanis Club is journeying en mass tonight (Thursday) to hold a joint meeting with the College Area Kiwanis Club. The combined meeting will be held at the Red Coach Inn on University Ave., in San Diego, at 6:30 p.m. this evening.

Both of these clubs hold their regular weekly meetings on Thursday night which makes this joint meeting possible. This will be the first time that such a meeting has been attended by the Alpine club.

'RABBIT LADY' QUILTS BUSINESS

By THERESA EGAN

Mary Egan, "the Rabbit Lady" of Jamul, is out of the rabbit business. Last October she sold her lower rabbitry before entering the hospital for an operation. A second operation awhile back and the desire to stop working so hard were her reasons for selling the large upper rabbitry and quitting the business at the peak of her success.

A native San Diegan and daughter of a veteran policeman, Mary attended business school and took up secretarial work in San Diego, and after her marriage, in Seattle. Since then she's worked night shift in a doughnut-and-coffee shop and in an all-night restaurant (caring for the smaller children during the day) and has done professional dressmaking.

She was a natural for becoming top rabbit-raiser in these parts. As a small child she used to crawl into the rabbit hutch in the back-

A group of women went to Mrs. Mary Barnes new home in Lakeside to play Bunco last week. Swimming in their pool was enjoyed by all, after a lovely lunch. If you ask those in attendance what else happened down there you'll just get a lot of giggles.

There was something lost in that pool and it had to be found, before a certain party could eat lunch. So your guess is as good as mine,

On our recent visit to the polls we missed the friendly presence of Ella Parnell. Mrs. Paul Woods, taking her place, presided over the election. Working with her from 7 to 7 were Mary Ogden, Helen Sherman, and Margaret Miller. Sometimes the ladies don't finish work till midnight, but this time it was a short ballot. Helping with the counting in the evening were Helen Van Norman, Dolores Volder, Lenna Wilhelmi, and Margaret Connors.

Ella Parnell's been home from her sister's two weeks last Saturday. She still feels weak, but says every day brings improvement. Pneumonia then virus flu, middle-ear trouble, and now phlebitis have laid her low. The Parnells bought their property in 1935, coming out to live 20 years last February. Can you top this?

Mina and Slim Carver and their 4th Grader, Thelma Jean, spent weekend before last camping at Railroad Canyon Lake, a few miles from Lake Elsinore. They got together with friends who drove from LA, and the men fished.

Be sure to attend the meeting of the Unification Committee June 16 at 8 p.m. at the Lexington Elementary School in El Cajon. A final decision will be made on the proposal uniting the three districts of our area with El Cajon and Dehesa, and it's imperative that a strong representation be made to show interest in the matter. A bus will be furnished from Jamul-Las Flores School to the meeting. If you care to ride it, be at the school by 7 p.m. Petitions protesting the committee's proposal were to be in by June 9.

The committee members were invited to tour our area last Saturday, and see for themselves the mountain region's unusual transportation problems before making their final decision.

The 4-H Horse show at the El Cajon County Fair was under the direction of Mrs. Chick Gfeller. Susie Dedrick, 13, took three trophies for first place. Patty Dedrick, 11, took two trophies, including one for first in the Trail Ride. Don Daley and Steven DeFrate, 4-H'ers, served as ring crew.

In the Baking Division at the Fair first prize winners were Cathie Parrott for a white cake, Denise Press for almond cookies, and Diana Collard for her cake. 4H cooking teachers are Mrs. Daley, Mrs. Thompson, Mrs. West and her co-leader, Mrs. Dedrick.

John and Juanita Scheerer of 4-S Ranch hadn't bowled in years. Recently they took their sons bowling, and joined them for a game. The manager invited them to form a team and join the league. They bowl under the name "Scheerer Eggs."

Susie Derick won Grand Champion for her breeding heifer. Patty Dedrick received a first place in a group with her steer. The auction of Beef, Swine, and Sheep at the Fair netted a sum of $18,000.

State Hiway Dept. Studies Route 66

California will join six other states traversed by U. S. Highway 66 in a joint enforcement-engineering study which begins June 1, California Highway Patrol Commissioner Bradford M. Crittenden said.

The three-month survey, coordinated by the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads, is designed to relate traffic enforcement levels to the occurrence of accidents, violations and services, as well as measure certain highway engineering needs.

In California, the portion of U. S. 66 under study runs 235 miles from San Bernardino to the Arizona border, including 71 miles of four-lane divided freeway, and 164 miles of two-lane undivided roadway.

Six additional officers have been assigned to the study. Participating personnel will use special

Our area's officer, Ernest Hemness, says, "The prime requisites of a good Control Officer are a love of all animals, and a love for his fellow man."

What the general public does not understand or appreciate, is that your Control Officer risks his life in order to protect you and your family from pain, fear, and the possibility of one of the most horrible deaths known to man.

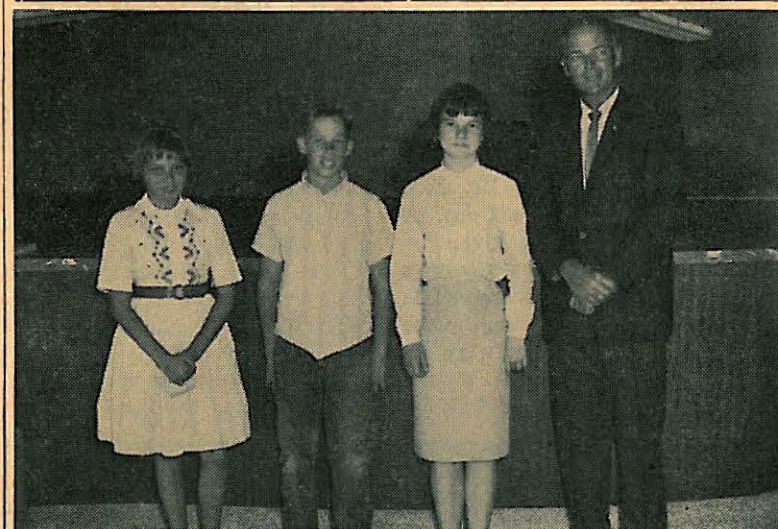

Hemness recalls, "This entire territory was under a rabies quarantine about four years ago. A dog appeared in Jacumba, apparently sick, and terrorizing the community. I went up to seek more information. Men were describing the animal to me, when one of them shouted, "There he is, now! About three blocks away, I spotted the dog. The dog was gone when I reached the spot, so I cruised the area, and saw him in a fenced backyard. One look was enough—the animal was obviously sick with rabies."

Officer Hemness describes the identifying symptom, "Tunnel visi-

Alpine Baptist Men's Summer Program

The Men's Brotherhood of the First Baptist Church of the Willows at their monthly breakfast last Saturday made plans for the summer months.

The men will provide the meal and the program for the next Church Family Fellowship night at the Church on Friday, June 19. Later in the summer they hope to be able to embark on the project of extending the Church roof to accommodate more space for Fellowship activities and for Sunday school.

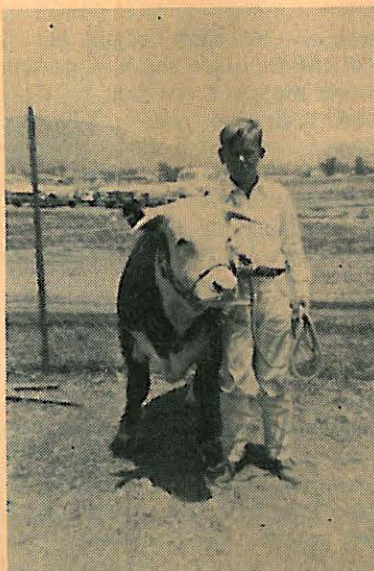

The growing Sunday school is to conduct a Vacation Bible School for five days at the Church for the week of June 15 through 19, with classes, handwork, fun and program for the children from kindergarten through high school. They will meet from 9 to 11:45 each of the five mornings. Children from any family in the community are welcome.

A Vacation Bible School program will be part of the evening Church service on Father's Day, Sunday, June 21.

Pupils to be Given County Fair Tickets

Each child attending Alpine, Dehesa, Jamul, and Mt. Empire schools have been assured free admission to the big County Fair at Del Mar, Roy Welch, Fair Manager, said yesterday.

Welch said free tickets are being distributed to all pupils at these schools under a policy approved by directors of the Fair which opens June 26 at Del Mar. The Fair, bigger and better than ever, will run for 10 days, ending July 5.

The tickets will admit the pupils to the 265-acre fairgrounds and also entitle them to half price on most carnival rides in the Midway area.

Welch said the tickets will provide free admission on Student's Day only, July 1.

The tickets being distributed in this area are part of 190,000 to be handed out in the county to elementary and junior students.

Among the County Fair's major attractions this year are the "Old D'ego Trail," an animated display which pokes fun at the early days of San Diego; the West's largest outdoor flower show, grandstand shows featuring Jimmy Dean twice daily, June 26-June 29; Bob Cummings' show, Circus Time, twice daily June 30-July 6; the world's largest Horse Show; and "The Santa Barbara to the Mexican Border" Art Show.

A diplomatic Westerner was asked by the hostess of a dinner party to estimate her age. "I rightly don't know, ma'am, but I do know one thing, if I saw you on the street, I'd whistle first and estimate later."

CAMPO

Referring again to the Junior-Senior Prom and all-night party at Mt. Empire High School a week ago last Friday, have been informed that mention should be made of the five fathers that acted as waiters at the banquet—dressed in dark trousers, white shirts, and black bow ties. They were Clay Stewart, Willie Patten, Col. Van Fleet, Casey Jones and Roy Northington. Grace Patten and Gloria Ketchum also worked on the decorations with Connie Jones, and they were assisted by the Juniors. Table favors for the Seniors of Ivory Fans for the girls, and Key Rings for the boys were furnished by the Juniors. To give an idea of the decorations—the dining room was made to look like a Southern Plantation Garden—with a mural across the south end of the room depicting a Southern Mansion, with real wisteria trees (manzanita branches with flowers attached) and a real fountain in front. Red and white crepe paper awnings were attached to the mansion to make it look realistic. The ballroom resembled a Paris Street Cafe, with pink and white awnings, and real lights along the entire front of them. The chairmen really did an outstanding job, and the affair has been the talk of the town.

Solar System Mural Wins Acclaim

Raymond Slater's entire fourth grade class at Crest School has made a cooperative project of a wall mural, depicting our solar system as far as it is known to science today.

The beautiful mural was done as part of a Science Unit on "The Universe," which Mr. Slater's class has studied this year. It was shown at school on open house night, and Charlene Brinkman wrote and presented an explanation of the project at that time.

Dr. Peter Bancroft, Superintendent of the Cajon Valley Union School District, was so impressed with the mural, that he plans to have a picture taken of the work, to be included in a forthcoming District Bulletin.

DOGS IN THE MANGER

Enough Republicans in enough States have elected, or appointed, delegates to the Republican National Convention who either favor Goldwater for the Republican nominee for President or are pledged to vote for him, to make it fairly certain that he will be nominated.

Now this was the result of individual action by the majority of the Republicans in States which have the majority of the registered Republicans in the country. This fact seems to have been overlooked by a number of the so-called leaders of the Republican party, including the Governors of several of our States, who tried to take it upon themselves to say that Goldwater must be "stopped" by some means from getting the nomination, regardless of the desires of the majority of the Republican voters, or that it would be extremely disastrous to the "party." They even suggested adopting a platform that Goldwater and those who support his principles could not accept.

Such tactics of doing the thinking for the people has been used many times in the history of governments by emperors, kings and dictators, including some in recent times. The objective in the past has been dictatorship. We hope that is not the thought in the present instance.

The clamor to "stop" Goldwater appears to be dying down but seemingly only on account of the fact that most everyone is convinced that he will be nominated on the first ballot.

The attempts to sidetrack Goldwater appear to us to be a very childish and idle gesture. Come next November, Mr. Johnson (barring unforeseen circumstances that would change the situation) will be elected President of the United States. He will promise the most.

Alpine Junior High Graduation

Superintendent, Mr. Paul C. Clay, then had the honor of presenting several awards. The awards presented were as follows: Student Council Presidents; Marion Bell and Celeste Irvine; Sportsmanship, Dale Bates and Paula Anderson; Music, Julia Buell; Science, Richard Tietjens; Art, June Brown; Most Improved Students, Ruth Fox, Barbara Stinson, Gary Wake, and Ted Barton; Outstanding Students, Donna Schwenck, Linda Nichols, Larry Dyer, and Charles Perkins. The awards were a pleasant surprise to all. The theme of study for the eighth grade class this past year has been American Heritage. It was decided that this should be the theme also of the graduation, thus "Our American Heritage" was the title of the speeches given by Celeste Irvine, Lawrence Dyer, Marion Bell, and Donna Schwenck. The speeches were all excellent.

Mr. Leo Ryan, Principal of Alpine School, presented the class. The presentation of graduates was made by the two eighth grade teachers, Mrs. Barbara Tietjens and Mr. Charles Gibson. As each student's name was called he walked across the stage to be presented his diploma by Mr. Lawrence Wilcox, member of the Governing Board. Mr. Wilcox also had a son, Stephen, graduating. As the name Marianne Clay was called Mr. Clay stepped in to have the honor of presenting his own daughter with her diploma.

The graduating class presented a gift to the school in the form of a very nice song written by Marion Bell, Celeste Irvine, Charles Perkins, and Jerry Mosier. The song is entitled "Hail to Alpine."

The members of the graduation class are:

According to the book sellers we've asked, this one copy is the only one with the wrong jacket and it was Alpine's Bea's novel jacket on the other book, not Bond's on all of hers. The person who gave the story to the San Diego columnist was Helen Ellsberg who says she can't imagine how it got twisted since she was present when the story was told by Gene and Fran and saw both books. Maybe somewhere along the line someone spoke in that unknown tongue we've been hearing about as sweeping the country, and the usual loss in translation occurred.

ulations was deferred to the regular meeting of the Commissioners next Monday evening in order to acquire a copy of the new State laws governing fire regulations. It was reported by Chief Jack Blankenship that he understands that the new State laws will require some changes in the fire regulations proposed by the Fire Commissioners.

The Board heard a presentation of a telephone alert system proposed for the Alpine Fire District by a representative of the Pacific Telephone Company. Additional information regarding the proposal was requested, and the Commissioners will make a study of the matter for possible future action.

Assembly of God Vacation Bible School

The school will start each day at 9:30 a.m. and continue until noon. Mrs. Charlene Johnson will be the director. She is an Assembly of God minister and has conducted similar Bible schools in Northern California, Florida, Tennessee and Iceland. There will be classes for beginners through the teens.

The pastor of the Bethel Assembly of God, Rev. Eva Bailey, and co-pastor, Rev. Cynthia Davis extend an invitation to all children of the area between the ages of three years and 16 to attend the Bible school.

Parents and friends are invited to attend the closing program of the school on Friday, June 19 at 7 p.m.

ASSEMBLYMAN DON MULFORD, Oakland, noting errors in chart evaluating legislators' voting records—"This type of reporting is about as accurate as giving the first inning score as the final result of the ball game."

ment followed at Ft. Rosecrans National Cemetery.

supply of other foods prepared by the women. Mrs. Dora Tesam, chairman of the women's committee had as her helpers, Mrs. Carnation Brown, and the Misses Teoffia and Mary Hyde. Mrs. Florence Barrett helped serve the plates. The women cooked 400 pounds of potatoes and made potato salad; they chopped 150 heads of cabbage into cole slaw, cooked 100 pounds of pinto beans, made a delicious fresh fruit salad. There were rolls, cake and coffee.

An atmosphere of festivity surrounded the scene which ignored the occasional flurries of rain. A live orchestra, which is really live, gave out smashing good dance music. This six-piece dance band is called The Perennials. Mr. H. Green, their business manager is justly proud of his six personable young men, Mike Doughty, drums and Frank Phillipjes, sax, both of El Cajon; Green, lead, and Dave Aiken, bass, both of Santee, and two U. S. Navy boys, Darrell Mims, rhythm, and Miles Brooks, sax. The dance pavillion was a gay sight crowded with dancers of assorted ages and sizes and dances from the twist to the fox-trot.

The Indians prepared well for the gala party making two long palm topped pavillions with tables and benches for the crowds of diners. Booths served cold drinks and ice cream. One disappointment was the failure of the Indian dancers from Los Angeles to perform because of the rain. The Sky Divers arrived late in the afternoon dropping from planes out of Gillespie field.

Proceeds from the barbecue will be used to further the work of the Viejas Indian Reservation Post 7637. This is only the second all-Indian VFW Post in the United States. The other is a Sioux tribe in South Dakota.

HOBART HOUSE DINING ROOM NOW HAS NEW MANAGER

By LaDonna Muhlhauser

When this correspondent went to interview Mrs. Helen Thomsen Evans, the new manager of the dining room at the Hobart House in Pine Valley, it was with tongue in cheek, for she has done so many interesting things, met such wonderful people and has seen so much of the world, I wondered where to begin and how to end.

During the war years Mrs. Evans was connected with the Pettigrew Hotels in Burlingame, Iowa, and became the first woman catering manager west of the Mississippi. Later she was called on to organize Rancho Santa Fe dining. Some time later she opened Helen Thomsen's Catering and Tea Room in La Jolla which led to the Cafe del Rey Moro in Balboa Park which Helen owned and operated for nine years until after her marriage and until she went to Pakistan with her late husband, Charles Evans.

On talking to her about her new position as manager of the dining room at the Hobart House, she said she felt she had made great progress in the past week, but she will not be satisfied until she can serve the high quality and delicious food the Cafe del Rey Moro became famous for. Speaking of famous food, Mrs. Evans assured me that her old steady favorite, Cheese Fondue and Chicken Salad would be featured every day for luncheon. Also some of the fabulous desserts of yesterday.

Zella Brassy has joined the staff. She was with Mrs. Evans for 8 years, and will continue to put out her specials as before.

ALPINE

By DEBBIE MARSHALL

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Hunter of Viejas View Lane, celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary Saturday, June 6 at a picnic luncheon given them by their neighbors in the area. Besides the guests of honor there were 11 attending, including the Thanners, the Limegrubers, the Caters, Mr. Moore, Mrs. Crystal and Mr. Halama. The Hunters were married in San Diego, June 6, 1914. Mrs. Hunter says they are almost native Californians, since they have lived here most of their lives. She was born in Pennsylvania and he was born in Indiana. They used to have the Hunter's Nursery in Lemon Grove, turning it over to their son when they retired and came to Alpine to live 12 years ago. Sunday their son took them to Los Angeles to visit relatives they had not seen for a long while. The Hunters say they have been "more or less celebrating all week."

Doug Fordyce managed to keep on the job as chief barbecuer at the Viejas Indian Reservation cele-ner at her home last week. The group enjoyed an evening of games and the winning of prizes.

Mrs. Emma Holmes left last week for a five-week vacation in Fort Worth, Tex., where she will visit her son, Roy Davis and his family.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar C. Trotter announce the engagement of their daughter, Carol Trotter, to Samuel Keith Cater, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Cater of Viejas View Lane, the Willows. Mr. Cater is with the Marine Corps stationed at the El Toro Marine Base. Miss Trotter works at the Naval Air Station on North Island. The wedding date has not yet been set, but will probably be after Mr. Cater is out of the Marines this next September. Mrs. Trotter is the daughter of Mr. Phelps of Victoria Hill, Alpine.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Lutz and their family will leave tomorrow (Friday) for a month vacation in the East. They will first visit an old friend and neighbor in Haines City, Fla., and then travel up the east coast and on to Rochester, N. Y., where they will visit their families and old friends in their hometown city.

CREST

By JANE MON DRAGON

Crest School closes for summer vacation Friday, June 12. There will be class parties held that day in each room. From 9 to 10 a.m. there will be a special showing of two Walt Disney movies, "A Storm Called Maria" and "Devil of the Deep." The Crest PTA has made this their parting gift to those students going on to Junior High School.

Mr. and Mrs. T. G. Stephens spent a week in the Laguna Mountains visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Huntington, former Crest residents.

We regret to inform the many older Crest residents who will remember Mrs. Seth Parsons, that she died June 4 at her home in La Habre. Mrs. Parsons lived on the Crest for many years, and was active in the Woman's Club and the fire department in the old days. She is survived by her husband.

Crest School held its annual Awards Assembly Tuesday, June 9. Certificates were presented to students in recognition of their services in the Safeties, Audio-Visual group, the Safety Patrol, Student Council, assistant librarians, Glee Club and orchestra. Special awards were given for citizenship and for outstanding achievement in the physical fitness program of the school.

Rev. Gerald Woodhouse, pastor of the Crest Community Church, announces that Sunday, June 14, the Youth For Christ Regional Music Competition winners will present the music for Morning Service. Featured will be the director of the San Diego YFC music, Otis Skillings and his wife; the Cross twins, winners of the vocal ensemble; a trumpet quartet and a trombone soloist. Following the morning service, the church and Sunday school will meet on the church grounds for a pot-luck dinner. Everyone is welcome.

Fire Chief Roger Dutton makes a plea to all Crest property owners who have grown careless of late, to remember that the only time when burning is legal is from 6 p.m. to 9 p.m. Any other burning will be constituted a danger to the community, with the summer fire season due. Dutton also says, "Any more violations of this fire ordinance will mean the issuing of a citation. If those I have repeatedly warned, don't clean up their property, I will be forced to issue a Property Clean-up citation, which gives 10 days for the owner to meet the fire regulations, after which a fine will be levied." The Fire Department will gladly clean up any property where age or infirmity prevents the owners from so doing. Call 442-4906 for an appointment.

Mr. and Mrs. William Stelzner of 111 Albatros Place, have returned from a week's vacation at Lake Henshaw. Bill says, "No fish—no water." They enjoyed the holiday, anyway, but are glad to be home.

All grades at Crest School participated in the annual Field Day and Track Meet Friday, May 29. There were 25 winners in the first, second and third grades 25-yard dash; 15 winners in the sack race, and 14 winners in the three-legged race. The fourth, fifth, and sixth grades had 29 winners in their 50-yard dash, 27 winners of the softball throw, 16 winners in the tug-of-war, and 16 in the egg toss.

Neal Pere and his son, Tienne, were hiking on Suncrest Mountain last week when they spotted a big mountain lion on Black Mountain. A couple of weeks ago one was seen strolling casually across La Cresta Road, bound for the canyon. That's getting kind of close. Those who know the big cats, believe they are coming in closer to dwelling in search of water. Watch your chickens.

DEERHORN VALLEY

By ROY WALLIN

Sami Arledge is expecting a little visitor next weekend . . . now, don't leap to conclusions, it's a jackass which will be staying with Hugh and Sami for a while to eat the grass up around the place. I've heard of a one horsepower lawnmower, but a one jackass power is going it one better.

It's with deepest sympathy that we heard of the passing of Mrs. Irene Ford of Dulzura, and those of us here in Deerhorn who knew her as one of the Mountain Star Twirlers or otherwise, extend our sincerest condolences to her family.

On the brighter side, we'd like to welcome Herman Franklin and his wife back from their vacation. Herman looked rested and well—they visited their children, got some fishing in, and found out it still rains in certain parts of the country.

It's only 14 inches, but lo' and behold, there's water in Sarah and Dave Barnum's well. It's been a tough fight, but you won. Congratulations.

Seen about our community this weekend were Marila and Otto Becker of Fletcher Hills and Martha Krause of Spring Valley, visiting their respective ranches as well as dropping in on their many friends.

Also visiting us this weekend, after much too long an absence were Sally and Bill Grogan, presently of Chula Vista. Sally and Bill, former residents of our community, are now owner-operators of Harmony House, a private rest home on Fourth Avenue in Chula Vista. We all wish you both success in your new enterprise.

One of the best Civic Club meetings of the year was conducted last Friday night by Mr. John Amundson, president of the club, at the building at the YCW Camp. Mr. Dolan of the YCW has donated the use of the building for the community meeting. Due to July Fourth holiday, the July meeting was cancelled and the next meeting will be August 7. Frank Gute, retired fire captain with the San Diego Fire Department, distributed fire prevention leaflets and material from the Forestry Service and spoke briefly on fire prevention and fire-fighting as it pertains to our local area. He stressed the following, put a nozzle on your garden hose as it's the best fire extinguisher you have, clear around your residence and other out-buildings, if the fire is in your home, use the garden hose, setting the nozzle to a spray, keep near the floor, follow the hose as a means of egress, for fires away from the home, use a shovel, sand, on." "The animal faces you if you have made any sound or movement. His attention is directed at you, but his eyes look glassy and unfocused. Rabies is a disease of the nervous system, leading to madness, paralysis, and ultimate death. A rabid dog will travel in a straight line until distracted by motion or sound, whereupon he will charge and attack anything that moves or makes a noise."

Hemness saw a Highway Patrol officer's car in the driveway, and getting his rifle, went to the front door. The Highway Patrolman came onto his porch with his rifle. The dog heard the men, and Hemness says, "He charged through the fence as though it didn't exist, and came straight for me." At 20 feet, Hemness shot the animal in the shoulder. Control Officers are trained to never shoot an animal, suspected of rabies in the head. The brain must be kept intact for laboratory diagnosis.

The dog ran into a corner. Hemness got his "Jimmy-pole," a four-foot pole with a plastic loop. When the cable is pulled, the loop tightens and holds the animal. Hemness, asking the Patrolman to keep his eye on the dog, went around to the back yard, and reached over the fence with the "Jimmy-pole." The dog bolted, and the Patrolman placed his shot through the dog's muzzle. The animal ran to the fence corner, Hemness reached over, and dropping the loop over the animal's head, pulled it tight. Then he had to climb the four-foot fence, still holding the dog at bay. The men jockeyed the dog into Hemness' car-truck, and another call was completed.

There are two types of this dread disease. One is termed "Dumb Rabies," where at the onset, paralysis begins in the muzzle, and the animal is unable to bite. He is relatively harmless, and sensing that something is terribly wrong, may become over-friendly and seek help from humans. The jaws are either abnormally rigid or hang completely slack, and many people, thinking a dog had an obstruction in his throat, have stuck a hand into the animal's mouth in an effort to aid him. The germ-laden saliva, coming into contact with any body openings or skin abrasions, could transmit rabies to a human.

Hemness stresses one point strongly — "NEVER attempt to treat a sick animal yourself. That is what we are here for."

The most virulent type of the disease is termed "Fierce Rabies," and is the kind the dog in Jacumba suffered. When the disease becomes apparent, the animal acts extremely nervous. Hemness says, "At this stage, he will charge and bite anything with sound or movement. The disease progresses into paralysis and death, but once he reaches the biting stage, there is a three to five-day period when he constitutes a deadly threat."

Ernest Hemness was awarded the only unanimously signed document of its kind from the San Diego County Board of Supervisors, termed by its presentor, Dave Bird, "Like a medal to a hero, Ernie, but most heroes are dead before anyone is aware of them—you've been lucky."

The citation, awarded in 1952, after Hemness single-handed, had captured a rabid dog in Imperial Beach, states, "Disregarding the grave personal danger, and above and beyond his prescribed duty, Mr. Hemness, unarmed, crawled under a house where the vicious animal had removed himself, and succeeded in entrapping, at great personal risk, said animal and removing him. Be it resolved that the Board of Supervisors hereby express their sincere appreciation and congratulations to Mr. Hemness for his brave and heroic act and his deep sense of responsibility to his job and to the people."

yard and eat the rabbits' oatmeal. She and Paul and their five children moved to Mountindale Ranch in Jamul seven years ago, and at that time she decided to make money out of their multi-colored pet rabbits. She visited other rabbitries, listening to advice, and observing methods and equipment. The first and most drastic move she made was to clear out all the colored pets and stock up on nothing but pure white New Zealands pure bred at least 25 generations back. By eliminating many kinds of rabbit she's also eliminated their diseases. She found no handbook on raising rabbits so she experimented till she found the best methods of feeding, protecting them from the elements, and medicating.

In the early days she scrubbed water crocks and kept them filled and replaced wooden nestboxes, but these gave way to automatic dewdrops and all-metal and metal-trimmed nest boxes. Automatic sprinklers thermostatically controlled, roofed aisles, and lath panels for doorways and sides gave the rabbits better protection from heat, cold and rain in later years. Hot days were her busiest, and she'd spend hours wetting down gunny sacks to clip to the hutch sides with clothespins. Last year she went them down in an old wading pool and put them in the "holes" to lay distressed rabbits on for cooling.

In her daily care of the rabbits she checked over each like a mother, operated on them or gave shots when necessary, nursed and medicated, and performed autopsies when a death puzzled her. Each of the 1000's of rabbits had a name, no longer than five letters, many of them after friends and family, following a system that made it possible to keep exact records of genetics and inventory. Field men who came to help, eventually came to observe and learn.

Throughout the county she has been noted for her fine breeding stock, on two occasions has supplied rabbits for the Children's Zoo in San Diego, has visited other rabbitries to give suggestions and advice, and had a steady flow of phone calls and visitors at all hours. She got satisfaction out of instructing beginners, but always, she emphasized, the learners' success depended on their own initiative, industry, and discipline. No shortcuts, no magic.

She has often said she could not have done well in the rabbit business without the cooperation of her husband and children. Paul following her ideas built rows of holes with the help of the boys, including many tedious and meticulous details, and made many of the nestboxes. The boys helped clean under the pens, the girls many times helped with other jobs as needed, and Dan 16 did the evening feeding.

Among the very pleasant memories of her "Mountindale Rabbitry" days will be the huge bouquet of flowers sent during her recent hospital stay by Processor Harry Mitchell and workers at Champion Farms, El Cajon, the letter she received from Co-op at the close of business, and the many friends she made. You can bet, though, that one of these days she'll turn her energy to a new career, but more regular hours, please.

ALPINE GARDENER

By JEAN McCULLOUGH

About this time of the late spring season there must be just a few minutes now and then in the day when you can pause and review and admire the results of some of those backbreaking hours you have spent in your garden. But have you provided a place to sit down and rest to do just that?

There are many types of seats that are easily made which would fit in a corner or under a tree that any do-it-yourself gardener could make. One would be to get four square hollow tiles, put one on top of the other—two together about four feet or so apart, then put a thick redwood plank 12 by two inches thick and six or so long on the tile. Not a nail used, and there you have a seat which you could easily move should you care to do so.

Of course, there are many little seats you could make by using a saw, a few nails and a little ingenuity, or extending a piece of stone or brick wall and putting a short piece of plank on it. I think you might get more enjoyment out of your garden by having a personalized bit of furniture on which to relax.

Have you provided yourself with a supply of name tags to tie on, or attach, to some of those special plants whose names, or colors, or date of blooming may have escaped you later on? Also it will be a source of joy and entertainment if you have already, and will continue, to take colored films of your garden or of some special plants. Have them made into slides or prints to show to your friends next winter, or even have Christmas cards made of them.

There is great pleasure along

Handy Household Hints

(For Harried Homemakers)

Tear-off plastic bags (sandwich size) make perfect covers for 45 rpm records. The bags keep lint, dust, and finger marks off of the records, and still allow you to read the labels.

Here is a real oldie—but it works, and it is amazing how many moderns never heard of it. Grease drippings can be clarified for further use by straining them to remove large particles. Then you just cut up a raw potato and fry it in the grease. All the small specks will cling to the potato pieces.

Jellies can be easily sealed in the glasses by putting small pieces of paraffin in the bottom of the glass and pouring the hot jelly over them. The paraffin melts, rises to the surface and seals the glass perfectly. No more "paraffin pans."

Try this whipped cream substitute. Add a slice of banana to the white of an egg and beat until stiff. The banana will dissolve completely, and the flavor is luscious.

When you use a can of asparagus, open the bottom of the can. The asparagus can then be removed by the ends without breaking the soft tips.

So you must use distilled water in your steam iron. Did you know that you do not have to buy it? Collect the water and frost as you defrost your refrigerator, it's as distilled as you can buy.

with the work of having a garden, both for yourself and the pleasure it may give to others, and the exchange of cutting or plants, comparing of notes. And, don't overlook the saving of seeds also to exchange.

Here is a little tip in case deer might visit your orchard and help themselves to your fruit trees, especially your fig trees. Get some blood meal and use a tablespoonful or more in a little bag and hang as many as you think will get the odor from on your trees. It's supposed to be a deterrent to the critters. Good luck.

COKE'S KITCHEN

Bright red strawberries are appearing more and more in the markets and they are a red-letter food for the wonderful month of June.

They should be selected for their brightness, fresh fragrance and handled gently as they are highly perishable. For best flavor and texture, wash just before using.

For a pretty summer drink, freeze whole strawberries in ice cubes and serve in your fruit drinks served on the patio. For just the right dessert to go with your springtime menu, try my very favorite Strawberry Parfait Pie.

STRAWBERRY-LEMON PUNCH
 1 1/2 cups fresh strawberries
 1/2 cup sugar
 3 cans frozen lemonade concentrate
 1 qt. ginger ale
 ice

Crush berries, add sugar, and let stand 1/2 hour. Dilute lemonade according to directions on can. Pour into punch bowl. Add strawberries. Just before serving, add ginger ale and ice.

PRALINE STRAWBERRY SHORTCAKE
 1 1/2 cups flour
 3 tsp. baking powder
 1/2 tsp. salt
 1/4 tsp. soda
 1/2 cup brown sugar
 1/2 cup shortening
 1/2 cup chopped pecans
 1 egg
 3/4 cup milk

1 qt. strawberries, sweetened
 Heat oven to 375. Grease a round layer pan. Mix first four ingredients. Cut in brown sugar and shortening. Add pecans. Combine egg and milk and stir into flour mixture only until blended. Spread in prepared pan. Bake 20 to 25 min. or until toothpick stuck into center comes out clean. Split into 2 layers. Fill and top with sweetened strawberries. Garnish with whipped cream. Serves 6-8.

STRAWBERRY PARFAIT PIE
 Dissolve 1 package of strawberry jello in 1 1/4 cup hot water. Spoon in one (1) pint of vanilla ice cream and stir until melted. Place in ice-box until thickened but not set (usually takes 15 to 25 minutes). Fold in one (1) cup drained, sliced strawberries. Turn filling into flaky pie shell. Chill until firm—20 to 30 minutes.

and a wet gunny sack, in case of a large forest fire, store water in containers on your roof and place a ladder to the roof so as to enable you to extinguish embers when they light. Mr. Wallon covered the highlights of the school unification problem mentioned at last week's meeting. Petitions were made available for signatures of property owners and registered voters. There was some discussion on the location of the polls at the last election, and it was decided that a petition be drawn up and circulated to return the polling location at the next election to Deerhorn Valley Lodge. Mr. Ray Campbell mentioned that Mrs. Charlotte Holcomb of Dulzura was holding a meeting on the school unification this week. It was decided that the club would retain its original name, "The Deerhorn Civic Club." The president introduced and welcomed Mrs. Sally Grogan, first president of the Civic Club, to the meeting and paid her tribute by naming her as a Charter Member of the Deerhorn Civic Club. Mr. and Mrs. Ray Campbell hosted the refreshments, with the door prize being won by Sally Grogan.

The play was written and directed by the eighth grade students. HARBISON

By LORNA FERGUSON

Mr. and Mrs. Herb Merkel of Point Loma, who also have a week-end home in our community, celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary last Wednesday. Approximately 45 guests were invited to share a buffet dinner and cruise around San Diego bay on the Bahia boat, from 7:30 until 10:30 p.m. Orchid leis, ordered and flown here from Hawaii, were enjoyed by each lady present. Among the many guests were Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Scott, of the canyon, and son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie Scott of El Cajon.

The George Buell family entertained a group of friends at their home on Mildred Way, after graduation, Monday evening. Cake and ice cream were served.

Reverend John Moberly, of San Diego, has been selected as the new minister for the Community Church. From the reports I hear, he is an outstanding speaker and has much to offer. Welcome to our community church, Reverend Moberly.

The Community Church youth group held an election of officers last Sunday evening. The results were: Marvin Sanford, president; George Buell, vice-president; and Sandy Snyder, secretary-treasurer. A "come and join us" invitation is extended by all.

We are sorry to report that Virgie Presley has been confined to Grossmont Hospital, where she underwent surgery. However, the latest report is that she will be coming home in the next day or so, and also that she is doing fine. We all hope that you are "up and at 'em" in no time at all, Virgie.

The Bob Sanders family entertained Bob's nephew, George Elce, of Los Angeles, for a few days, last week. On Saturday, Mr. and Mrs. Merrill Elce, with guests,

PINE VALLEY

By LADONNA MUHLHAUSER

This past week has been most hectic for most of the Pine Valley mothers with the ending of the school year, and with so many graduating from school. Pine Valley school held its graduation services on Wednesday evening with Ralph Nunnery, Jr., Sharon Trenti and Todd Mallon graduating. On Thursday afternoon the Junior High held its graduation, and Thursday evening was the big day for the Senior High. Thursday afternoon, the Pine Valley school held its year end picnic at the County Park.

Master Jason Todd Snelling made his appearance on June 2 at the Grossmont Hospital. Proud parents are Carol and Larry Snelling, and proud brother, Jeffrey. Mr. Snelling is with the Air Force and they reside in the Rogers' cottage.

Strolled into the Union Station at Guatay the other day and beheld 14 trophies collected by Billie and Buddy Hill won with their racing cars. Bud said he finished a race the other night without wrecking his car.

There is a shoe thief in Pine Valley. Helen Evans has been missing a shoe each day. The other day was the worst. A lovely gold slipper was missing when she returned home. Finally in desperawork to end the thievery. Punky's girl friend, Sadie, was the four-legged thief. Punky is Helen's beagle. Sadie has been slipping in when Helen's back is turned and away went the slippers. So if you see Helen looking through the bushes in her neighbors' yards, it's okay. She is just retrieving those golden slippers.

Something different is happening at Dave and Lynn's truck stop in Guatay. They are now closing all day and opening at 6 p.m. each evening.

The first aid class will begin June 16 and is open to Pine Valley firemen and local residents. Reports from Fire Chief Perna are that the new truck is now being painted white, it will have major equipment installed, and in the near future will be ready for service. Mrs. Harter (Jonesy) will be on hand every Monday night to man the radio so all the firemen can be out practicing. Chief Perna asks all to PLEASE do not use the EMERGENCY number for weather questions. Whenever the emergency number rings the alarm is given and every man drops what he is doing and takes off for the station. Anyone who wishes a telephone sticker may get one from any fireman.

Have heard that Bert Kendricks passed all the tests for O. C. School and is now stationed at Fort Ord.

The Bill Mallons had a most exciting trip to the Colorado River last week. They started out towing their boat trailer and every few miles had a breakdown. When they finally started up Glames Road and miles from nowhere, had a final breakdown. Just as Bill decided to start the long trek for help a Southern Pacific welding truck came along and the driver welded the break. When they finally arrived at the river after 12 hours on the road, their youngest son had to be pulled out of the river after going down for the second time.

While the Kleis were here Kay showed them much of Southern California. Also a trip to Mexicali via Tecate. Kay made the wrong turn.

YARD SALE AT YOUTH CENTER

Over 100 persons attended the Yard Sale last Saturday at the Youth Center. Many found wonderful bargains. So much had been donated to be sold as a benefit to the Youth Center program that the sale was held over on Sunday, but the rainy weather discouraged purchasers. In order to continue the sale to raise money for this worthy program, many of the items are on display at the Rocket Gas Station on Highway 80 where they can be seen and purchased.
