Brush Fire at Campo Saturday

A brush fire started near Highway 94 between Campo and Potosi last Saturday.

Approximately 100 fire fighters and tanker planes brought the fire under control Saturday night after it had jumped Highway 94 and burned over more than 40 acres.

There was no damage reported to any residents or structures. The fire fighting activity held up traffic which was rerouted from Highway 94 for more than an hour after the fire had jumped the highway.

INTIMATE GLIMPSES

By BEA LaFORCE

This morning I felt real sorry for a small sparrow one of my cats brought to the patio. It was quite dead. It looked very small and helpless, its neck limp and its wings stilled, feathers all ruffled and toes curled tightly. Certainly it was no equal match for the agile cat! But the cat is just as small and helpless against the coyote she must risk meeting while she's out stalking the bird. And the coyote is the most helpless of all against his number one enemy, for the coyote is hunted by the one with a gun which gives the coyote no chance at all to use his natural defenses to protect himself.

The cat's bird-hunting weapons are only those given her by nature, and the bird is equipped with means of avoiding the cat. Still it looks like a most uneven match from where we stand on the sidelines, so we feel sorry for the little guy. This is an American trait which some people are thinking we over-work, letting it extend too far afield, too far from home. I felt sorry for the live rabbit another of my cats caught and I was glad when the rabbit got away with only a tuft of fur clawed from one leg. Next day it was caught again, identified by that missing bit of fur, and did not get away. Feeling sorry didn't help anything. If I'd caught the rabbit the first time and shut it up to keep it safe it would have been a most unhappy critter. So I'd still be feeling sorry for him.

Almost every day out here in the wilds, I hear some tender hearted person say . . . "I feel so sorry for the poor little birds and rabbits!" One said he was sorry for the foxes too, and the coyotes, and the bob-cats, skunks, and pos-

The Alpine summer school now being held by the Alpine Union School District will conduct a camp out at Camp Cuyamaca on July 24 and 25.

Reservation forms are now being distributed to the summer school pupils or are available at the District office at the Alpine school on Highway 80.

The pupils will be transported by school bus on Friday, July 24, from the school to the camp and return to the school on Saturday. Parents of children attending the camp out are requested to pick them up at the Alpine school on Saturday at 3:30 p.m.

Parents are requested to provide a sack lunch for pupils attending the camp out to be eaten at the school on Friday. Each child is also to bring a blanket for sleeping on a cot that will be provided at the camp, and such clothing and toilet articles as are necessary for good health.

Dinner on Friday evening and breakfast and lunch on Saturday will be served at the camp. The cost for the camp out, including the meals at the camp, is $4.75 per pupil. The deadline for accepting reservations will be on Wednesday, July 22nd.

ALPINE SCHOOL TO PROGRAM FIRE PREVENTION AND SAFETY CLASSES

The Board of Trustees of the Alpine Union School District held their annual organization meeting last Monday night.

Trustee Fred Rushing, who is also a member of the Board of Fire Commissioners of the Alpine Local

New Owners at Rancho Viejas

Rancho Viejas, the resort developed by Robert S. Brandt on Willows Road, has been purchased by Mr. and Mrs. David J. Arnst of La Mesa. The ranch-resort also has a road off of Highway 80 and approximately 5 miles East of Alpine.

A number of improvements are planned by the new owners including a putting green, a general store, and enlarging of the present lake and stocking it with fish. The new owners also plan to change the name from Rancho Viejas.

The Arnsts will operate the resort this season with the existing facilities which include picnic areas, a trailer park, hiking and cycling, two swimming pools and a dance slab.

Mr. and Mrs. Arnst plan to move to the ranch in the near future. At the present time Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Brown, who managed the resort for the former owner, will stay on as caretakers.

Fire District, presented a proposal to the Board that the Alpine schools coordinate a program for the education of the children, and through the children, their parents, in regard to the danger of fires and the proper measures to be taken around the home and throughout the district to prevent fires, and to assist in reporting and controlling fires that do get started. The Board agreed to institute such a program in the schools commencing with the fall term in September.

The district has previously shown films prepared for children to illustrate the proper and improper use of fire.

The Board reorganized by re-electing Trustee Charles Campbell as President; Trustee Fred Rushing as Vice-President; Trustee Paul Thorpe as Clerk, and Trustee Pike Meade as representative to the County Committee on school district unification.

The matter of unification within the Grossmont Union High School District was discussed with the result that the Board unanimously reiterated their recommendation

ALPINE FIRE COMMISSIONERS TO STUDY FUTURE IMPROVEMENTS

The Board of Fire Commissioners of the Alpine Local Fire District held a special meeting last Thursday night for the purpose of reviewing a list of recommendations made by the Pacific Fire Rating Bureau regarding the improvement that would be required to obtain a more favorable rating with the bureau. Premiums on fire insurance are based on the rating given by the Bureau. The better the rating, the lower the fire insurance premiums.

After considering the recommendations, the Commissioners appointed a committee composed of Commissioners Orville Palmer and E. L. Freeland, Fire Chief Jack Blankenship, and members of the Volunteer Fire District to draft a report to the Pacific Fire Rating Bureau listing all of the fire fighting equipment now available in the District, a list of all of the volunteer firemen now serving the District, and a map

Three Alpine Properties Sold

The attractive home consisting of two bedrooms and den at 2305 Eltinge Drive owned by Mr. and Mrs. Harvey W. Moore has been purchased by Mr. and Mrs. Harold J. Flewelling of Calabasas, California. Mr. and Mrs. Flewelling came to Alpine because of our fine climate. Mrs. Flewelling just returned from a visit to her old home in Holland and visited other parts of Europe. Mr. and Mrs. Moore are presently overseeing their nephew's ranch property in Scottsdale, Arizona.

The new two bedroom home of Mrs. Katherine Miles of 1036 Taylor Way, has been purchased by Mr. and Mrs. Victor G. Edwards of San Diego. Mr. and Mrs. Edwards will take possession of their new home after their vacation fishing and loafing in Montana, which is Mrs. Edwards' home state.

Mrs. Thelma R. Wilson who now lives in Mt. Laguna has purchased from Mr. and Mrs. Stanley P. Peterson the attractive two bedroom home and guest house on an acre surrounded by many beautiful large pines, cedars and fruit trees. The property is located at 2627 Eltinge Drive.

The three sales were negotiated by Charlene V. Brown of Pierce Realty Alpine office.

Brush Fire in Galloway Valley

A brush fire started at 3:30 yesterday afternoon on the westerly side of Arnold Way between Highway 80 and the Harbison Canyon Road.

The fire was reported to the Alpine Fire Station which immediately responded with fire trucks even though the fire was outside of the Alpine Fire District because the fire was spreading in a southerly and easterly direction toward the Alpine District. The Alpine fire trucks, assisted by the U. S. Forest Service equipment, which also had been alerted, ar-

Mt. Empire Woman's Club was entertained at the lovely home of Judy Perkins in Descanso on Wednesday of last week. Her mother, Mrs. Blank was co-hostess. The president, Ladonna Muhlhauser could not be present due to an ulcerated tooth, and Vice President Phoebe Thompson presided; 16 were present. After a delicious luncheon, Judy entertained the group by playing her electric organ. The next meeting will be a potluck luncheon at the home of Esther Bryant at Cuyamaca Park on July 22.

On Thursday of last week 13 members and guests of the Homemakers Club met at Pine Valley Park. Everyone brought her own sack lunch. The guests were Betty Sherwood, Director of Visiting Nurses, her assistant Nancy Bessier, and Mt. Empire School Nurse Eleanor Wise. Miss Sherwood explained the workings of the visiting nurse group, and some of their problems. Babe Johnson is President of the Homemakers Club, and as Sunday, July 12, was her birthday, the members presented her with a gift of silver. The presentation was made by Pat Chase.

Mr. and Mrs. George Fors spent the Fourth of July weekend in Kerman, California, at the home of their daughter Jan Collier and family. They took their grandchildren Randy and Pam Collier home. While there Mrs. Flors (Evelyn) bowled in the State Bowling Tournament at Santa Rosa.

Helen Pate and son Bill have moved to their new home in Anaheim, and they took their last load of belongings on June 31. She liked the people in Campo very much, and hated to leave her friends here.

Baptist Church To Hold Picnic

The annual church and Sunday School picnic of the First Baptist Church of the Willows, Alpine, is planned for this Saturday, July 18 at the Bible Conference grounds at Pine Valley. Cars leave the church at 1:30 p.m. and the afternoon and evening will be spent in a program of games and varied activities for all. All attending must bring a picnic supper.

The drink and dessert will be provided by the church. Conference grounds regulations require respectable, though comfortable attire, no short shorts. This outdoor occasion is to absorb the regular monthly church family fellowship dinner night which would otherwise have fallen on Friday.

The Sunday night service at the church will comprise a special "Sermon in Song," conducted by the pastor, Victor Hayman.

Grossmont Citizens Committee Forming

A citizen's committee to raise funds to build the Grossmont College Community Auditorium is forming.

The prospective campaign was disclosed at a meeting of the Grossmont College Development Foundation Wednesday, July 8. The foundation is a relatively new organization whose function is to receive and promote gifts to the college.

On a motion by O. W. Miller, the foundation trustees voted to "endorse and support the formation of a citizen's group to work for fund raising for the auditorium on the junior college campus."

An anonymous donation of $1,000 to the foundation was announced and the Women's Committee of the Grossmont Community Concert Association presented $3,220 toward the auditorium fund. The El Cajon Lioness Chapter contributed $100 to the foundation.

Success story of a high school dropout: In October 1943 June Shrin, perhaps influenced by the example of a girl friend, dropped out 7 1/2 credits short of graduating. Several months later she married Jack, and they've raised four boys. She has been attending El Cajon Valley High School to make up the credits, and last Thursday sans cap and gown and prom she received her high school diploma. Jack proudly notes that June's grades in Civics, American History, etc., have been consistently A's, also that they share an interest in Conversational Spanish, a course both have taken in Adult Education. Congratulations, June!

Our deep sympathy to Jim Hatherrill and family on the recent death of his mother. A former resident of SF she had divided her time the last nine years between LA and SD. Jim and a brother drove to SF for her funeral.

Nice to see the Nierodzinski family out again in full force, and recovered from the mumps.

We spent July 4th enjoying a barbecue and swimming with the family of one of my sisters at their home on the rim of Mission Valley.

With his family due shortly to leave for Washington to live, Mike Egan is boarding with a college friend's family at Clairmont Mesa for the summer and working in their business. The two boys are at present on a two-week trip to the Sierras to do some hiking and fishing. Mike worked at two booths during the Del Mar Fair. He plans on remaining in SD and continuing at the University of San Diego in September.

Friends of Carl and Vera Nichols were down on a visit from Livermore. On the return home Rhonda and Marsha Nichols went along and were dropped off at Stockton to visit Vera's folks. Next month Carl and Vera will drive up and bring them home.

College Entrance Exams Scheduled

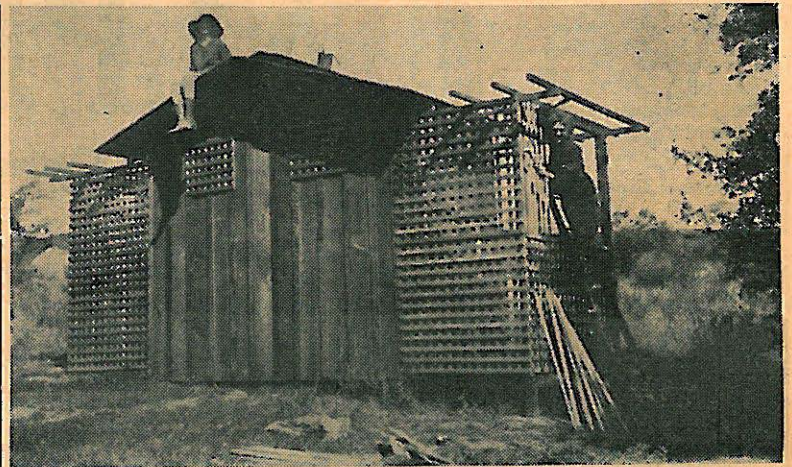

Grossmont College will give a new series of placement examinations for the fall semester on Saturday, July 25, starting at 8:30 a.m.

Reservations can be made now at the college admission office at 3230 Sweetwater Spring Blvd., Spring Valley. A reservation is necessary for taking the examinations.

Placement examinations will also be given Saturday, August 29, starting at 8:30 a.m.

Programming interviews are being held on the temporary campus at Monte Vista High School. Program interviews can be arranged when application, transcript and placement tests are on file at the college.

Some 1,400 students have been programmed to date for the fall semester, 424 more than were programmed at this time last year. Dean Coons said the figures bear out a prediction that total enrollment at the new campus of the college this fall will be 30 percent higher than last year.

ECHOES OF THE PAST

THE COMFORT STATION

By Bea LaForce

A grave situation had existed for some time. Visitors traveling highway 80 had increased greatly with the automobile, yet there was no public Comfort Station in the whole of Alpine! The time was 28 or 30 years ago when the title Rest Room had not been heard of and gasoline stations were unequipped for any emergency other than attending to the needs of the cars. The personal emergencies of the motorist had not been added to the architecture of the gas station.

Furthermore, there was no toilet in the Woman's Club building, formerly the Town Hall which the ladies had acquired in 1932. How building standards have changed. Imagine a Town Hall without a rest room and a coffee bar! Now we have to build a Powder room in a peanut stand. But "them wuz the days" when people could build like individuals if they chose to do so.

As usual it was the women of the community who got behind the problem and saw to its solving. The need for a Comfort Station had long been recognized, but who was to pay for it? The ladies appealed to the County Board of Supervisors, and these worthy gentlemen, admitting the gravity of the cause, supplied a truckload of nice new redwood lumber. The men of the community then fell to and built, after proper excavation, in the rear of the Woman's Club parking lot, a neat two-roomed, two-seater, one side marked WOMEN, one marked MEN. But man-like the builders quit short of final touches — making the lath screens and applying the redwood stain.

So two leading Alpine Woman's Club members, Marie (Mrs. Lars) Carlson, and Mary (Mrs. James) Ansell, finished the job. Mary (on the ladder at right in the photo) nailed the laths in place to provide a screened entrance over each door, while Marie (on the roof) applied the stain.

Thus Alpine's first public COMFORT STATION came into being. Many of you remember it. The Woman's club was very proud of it, and more than a little glad to have it handy, the ladies tell us.

It was used for a number of years until the indoor toilet was installed in the club building. Whatever became of the redwood creation we don't know. Anybody know what happened to the COMFORT STATION?

In reference to the Echoes of the Past picture in the May 21st issue:

When the Hilton family moved to Alpine in 1914, the structure over the well, the trough and the hitching post were gone, but where the Log Cabin now stands there was a hand pump, used by all motorists traveling East and West, and by the Hiltons for their water for the Alpine Store across the highway. The building called the Post Office in the picture had been used as a storage-house for the store at some time, and was our home for the first few months after my father, C. V. Hilton, moved to Alpine to run the Alpine Store. It was moved across the street and became part of the dwelling which was built East of the store and connected to the store building by a door in the East wall.

Sincerely, Dorothy Hilton Scott

STARLIGHT '64

IN BEAUTIFUL BALBOA PARK BOWL

A new red sign, complete with a blasting horn and a steady beam from a bright red light, will confront the wrong-way driver at a test site on one off-ramp (near Sacramento) in the state freeway system. The new device, activated by a detector in the pavement which is sensitive to wrong-way movements only, is part of the Division of Highways' experimentation to devise effective ways to cope with motorists who may cause wrong-way accidents.

STATE TO TRY OUT NEW WARNING DEVICE

The driver who tries to enter a freeway by going the wrong way onto a ramp meant for off-bound traffic now has sight and sound working to protect him at one test location in the state highway system.

Once he makes a wrong-way decision, his action triggers a series of devices intended to jar him into comprehension of his mistake and, in turn, into immediate remedial action.

The moment his wheels touch an inconspicuous detector buried in the pavement, a 12-inch red light goes on, a horn emits a blaring sound, and an ominous red sign (bearing the message "Go Back You Are Going Wrong Way") becomes visible.

This series of warning devices is part of an experimental project launched by the State Division of Highways' Traffic Department in an attempt to reduce accidents caused by wrong-way drivers.

Statistics show that approximately eight percent of fatal freeway accidents are caused by wrong-way movements, and many more persons—including the innocent victims proceeding unwarned in the right direction—are injured.

About four out of 10 wrong-way incidents on freeways occur because vehicles are entering at off-ramps. Since the off-ramp is one instance where engineering ingenuity can offer considerable hope toward a solution, concentrated effort is currently being expended in this area. The experimental

This new section of road along with a 0.4 mile section of Long Canyon Road, to be constructed by the Pavichk Construction Co. of La Mesa, will provide access to the proposed Los Pinos Potrero Recreational area.

Another contract in that area includes the reconstruction and surfacing of Upper San Juan an El Cariso Campgrounds which has been awarded to Inland Paving Co. of Vista. Frank W. CREST

By JANE MON DRAGON

The Crest Fire Department was conducting a burn-off Thursday night, and just as they were getting into the trucks to return to the firehouse, an alarm was turned in. They quickly extinguished a small brush fire on Lilac Drive, and discovered it had been deliberately started by some children playing with matches. With the worst fire season in history at its danger-peak, it behooves parents to keep a closer watch on their offspring. A fire now could encompass the entire Crest, and the peril of accidental fires and spontaneous combustion is great enough, without having to contend with arson. And arson it is, because any child old enough to strike a match is old enough to be taught that fire can be man's worst enemy as well as his best friend. Age is no alibi, and I am sure no one wants such a responsibility on his conscience.

SCHOOL UNIFICATION

In this issue of the Echo is a letter written by a resident of the Jamul-Las Flores School District asking the question whether the residents and voters in the other elementary school districts within the Grossmont Union High School District have been advised of the situation now confronting these school districts in regard to unification.

A group of citizens in the Jamul-Las Flores District took it upon themselves to make a thorough study with their School Board and the School Boards of the adjoining elementary districts to determine what plan of unification was best suited for the education of their children if any change from the present status had to be made. They turned up with the opinion that if any unification had to be done that it would be to their best advantage to unify with the Dulzura and Barrett Districts, and proceeded to hold public meetings to inform the residents of these three districts of their findings.

This is all brought about because our Legislature passed a law requiring that all school districts within the State not already unified make a study in regard to unification, and present their unification plans through the County school authorities to the State. As an inducement to unification, the Legislature tacked on an additional $15 per year per ADA of State funds to any district already unified, or that would unify on a plan approved by the State Department of Education.

In the Sweetwater Union High School District which contains a number of elementary school districts, the representatives of the various districts have been debating back and forth for quite some time over plans for unification, and have now by majority vote of the districts, agreed to present a plan of unification of the entire Sweetwater district. The argument which we believe won this point was the feeling that unification would eventually become mandatory so that it would be foolish to turn down the additional $15 which the State offered as bait.

The Grossmont Union High School District is still in the throes of debating back and forth on various plans of splitting up the entire district into two, or three or more separate unified districts. While we are of the opinion that this particular State law should never have been passed, the fact is that it was passed, and we also feel, as many feel, that the authorities in charge of education, unless strongly opposed, will eventually put over the complete unification of all districts within the State. There is argument pro and con regarding whether unification of large areas or whether local control can provide better education for children. This question undoubtedly will never be answered as it is almost impossible to fairly judge the educational results of the two types of administration since school children are not a stock item, but vary within the individuals to the extent that the results of education should not be based on statistics of great numbers of pupils.

However, that may be, we are of the opinion that the citizens of each of the other districts within the Grossmont District should do as Jamul-Las Flores have done, and make a study to determine whether they believe unification is the answer, or whether local control is more desirable, and that we should have a new law.

July 13, 1964

Dear Editor:

On July 22, 1964, we will get an answer to a question—a question to which I feel there is only one answer that will satisfy every person who values his right to petition and the right to self government.

The people of Jamul, along with friends in Dulzura and Barrett, circulated a petition and presented it to the San Diego County Committee on School District Organization, asking that the Committee recommend to the State Board of Education that the electorate of Jamul-Las Flores, Barrett and Dulzura School Districts should become one unified school district within the boundaries of said district. The petition was checked at the Registrar of Voters office and found to have more than enough valid signatures.

On July 22nd, in the Cajon Valley High School Cafeteria (this is an open meeting), the San Diego County Committee on School District Organization will meet with representatives of each school district in the Grossmont High area to formulate the recommendations that will be sent to the State Board of Education.

In my opinion, if we in the State of California still have the right of petition and the right to enjoy self government, the San Diego County Committee on School District Organization is obligated to include in its recommendations the formation of a unified school district comprised of the Jamul-Las Flores Union, Barrett and Dulzura School Districts.

Respectfully yours,
Kenneth C. Heide

July 10, 1964

Dear Editor:

Have the people of the other Elementary School Districts within the Grossmont Union High School District been as well informed on the implications of unification as the voters of the Jamul-Las Flores Union School District? IF NOT—WHY NOT?

Shouldn't an elected official be morally OBLIGATED to find out the wishes of the voters before making decisions concerning the surrender of local control of their schools? Once they find out the wishes of the voters, SHOULD THEY NOT STAND FIRM?

The people of the Jamul-Las Flores Union School District have been informed by public meetings and printed material just what is going on and why. They were given the right of expressing themselves by petition, which they did. Have the people of the other Elementary School Districts been given the same consideration?

The final recommendations to the State Board of Education will be formulated Wednesday, July 22, 1964, at the Cajon Valley High School Cafeteria, and will be forwarded to the State Board of Education in Sacramento for approval.

Before attending the meeting on July 22nd, it would benefit both parents and taxpayers alike to find out which plan your school board supports, and also to find out the implication involved in the removal of the INSIDE-OUTSIDE VOTE.

Sincerely yours,
Ronald Beidler,
Rt. 1, Box 111 A Jamul, Calif.

Intimate Glimpses

sums, because they were going to die out one day from being hated and hunted by the majority of the public. He is a naturalist who thinks them useful beasts with a place in the general scheme of things out here in the country. He said he felt sorry for hawks too, because people usually think of them as villains while the hawks are doing us a great service in keeping the bird population healthy since they seldom can catch any wild bird which is not old or sick. Of course, they do get our pigeons at times, and they have dived in and picked off a chicken or two, but maybe the pigeons and chickens they caught were not very healthy if we knew the truth. The hawk has her side of the story too. She has little hawks to feed and her own crew to fill.

I feel much less sorry for the wild life dying in its natural way, prey to natural enemies, than I feel for horses shut up in little pens, out in this blazing summer sun. I feel real sorry for these big splendid beasts held captive by people who do not understand the nature of horses at all. The same people who blubber about the cat catching a bird will placidly pass up a horse enclosed in a cage not three times its length, a horse standing dejected and sick from confinement and neglect. Water and feed once or twice a day is not enough. Nor is a saddle-up ride occasionally exercise enough. Big animals are built for big spaces and big activity and people big-hearted enough not to own them unless they can give them a decent existence. I feel sorry when I hear that another horse is sick or has died as a result of his inability to save himself from his natural enemies.

I feel sorry for cows forced to live under like conditions and for goats tethered on ropes in barren fields with empty water pails to nose around all day in the heat. I feel sorry for rabbits shut up in wire cages, safe from cats and such, victims of something much bigger and tougher. Somehow they always remind me of those people shut up in concentration camps.

A study was made of the tentative budget for the next school year prepared last month which totalled $274,151. This budget had been based on an estimated balance of funds remaining at the end of the past school year in the amount of $6,463. The actual balance remaining was $18,016, which permitted an increase of approximately $11,500. The Board adopted a final budget in the amount of $285,689.

rived in time to quickly contain the fire, and had it under control when the State fire fighting equipment arrived. The Alpine fire fighting equipment withdrew after the State equipment arrived since it was the responsibility of the State to bring the fire under control, which was done by 4:30 after burning approximately two acres.

Alpine Fire Chief Jack Blankenship said that the State Department was spread pretty thin yesterday as they were fighting two fires in the northern part of the County at the time the call came to them regarding this brush fire.

The committee appointed by the Commissioners met last Tuesday evening and prepared a report which will be forwarded to the Pacific Fire Rating Bureau office in Los Angeles for their review. It is anticipated that representatives of the Commission will confer with the Bureau after they have had an opportunity to make a study of the present facilities.

The Fire Commissioners also appointed Commissioner Fred Rushing as a committee of one to present to the Alpine School Board a request that they inaugurate a program of education for the children and their parents in regard to fire prevention methods and control. The request for this program was brought about due to the fact that a number of the recent fires in the Alpine area and in the back country have been started by children playing with matches.

DOESN'T THIS COOL YOU?

We thought it might help these hot days to look at this snow scene taken in Alpine in February, 1948, the time of the big snow. The two ladies standing in the snow in winter dress, are Mrs. James Ansell and Mrs. Lars Carlson. And the place where they are standing is now the Security Bank's parking lot. The bank is over to the ladies' right in the photo a little past the sign that reads cottages.

This snow storm was the kind of a weather freak which can honestly be put under the heading of unusual weather for the area. It's the only snow storm of its kind—eight inches reported on the level most all over the area—that any one here can remember. There was one other snow storm when the snow actually stayed on the ground a while, years before this one, but it did not reach the magnificent unusualness of this one.

The snow lasted about four days and it was not a cold miserable time. It was a sort of winter holiday time for all, with the "natives" out taking pictures and playing like school kids, and the school kids playing hookey from school.

Lively Oaks Elect New Officers

The Lively Oaks, Alpine's senior citizen club, held an election at their meeting last Monday. The new officers are: Mrs. Jeanette Smart, President; Mr. Harry Colby, 1st Vice President; Mrs. Myrtle Hofelder, 2nd Vice President; Mrs. Jeanette Hinkle, Corresponding Secretary; Mrs. Gladys Pinkerton, Recording Secretary, and Mrs. Edna Barber, Treasurer. The new officers will take their respective offices in September.

Next Monday the Lively Oaks will hold their first picnic of the summer in the Youth Center park. The meeting will start at 10 a.m., with the members enjoying their picnic lunches at noon.

Alice Perry Weds In Washington

The former Alice Perry's friends here are wishing her every happiness as news of her recent marriage reaches us. Alice was married to David Moore, cattleman and hay farmer of White Salmon, Washington last Saturday.

The marriage was solemnized in the Congregational Church in White Salmon on July 11th at 10 a.m. before a small group of close relatives of the bride and groom.

Alice and her husband grew up within a few miles of each other on their father's ranches. Both of the families have been in the area a long time. The couple will make their home on the Moore ranch, near White Salmon, one of the largest and most attractive ranches in that part of the state.

DEERHORN VALLEY

By ROY WALLIN

Well, the stork that's been circling overhead for some time now finally landed down at El Cajon Valley Hospital, delivering a seven pound, two ounce bouncing baby girl, Tove Marie, at 6:45 a.m. this past Monday, to Zona and Elloy (Jim, that is) Hicks (in case you don't know, they're the folks living in the A-frame up at Barrett Lake Estates). A giant welcome to our youngest neighbor from all of us here on the "Hill"!

Got some new neighbors we'd like to welcome to our community. Glenna and Buddy Ashbrook are now living on Sami and Hugh Arledge's "Happy Day Ranch." Perhaps the name, Buddy Ashbrook, strikes a familiar note to some of us... the name's the same, but it's his son, who played Bill Loman in the Mission Playhouse's production of "Death of a Salesman." The young Buddy had a football career at USC and UC at Santa Barbara, trained as a diver for the U.S. Olympic team (his chances were halted by an injury), started a movie-type career in Hollywood, but gave it up to pursue a career as an English teacher, as well as swimming and football coach, at Escondido High School. Rumor has it that the senior Buddy has a number of talents, one of which is plucking a wicked guitar. We'll look forward to meeting Glenna and both Buddys!

PROFILE—(A series of articles to better acquaint us with our neighbors and friends by means of a thumb-nail sketch of their lives.) A beautiful Spring day, the sixteenth of June, 1913, to be exact, heralded the premeire of one Walter Lee Wolfe on this oblate spheroid we call the earth. The place was Lockwood, Missouri. John and Lizzie, his folks, and Ethel, his sister, were on hand to greet the youngest Wolfe. Walt (that's his name—reckon that's why we all call him "Jim") was followed by three more brothers, Max, Carrol, and Hershel. Jim graduated from high school in '32, worked on neighboring farms for a little over a year, joining the U.S. Navy in 1933. He went through boot camp in San Diego; after which, he reported aboard the first of many ships, the USS Melville (a destroyer-tender). In 1937, as a Shipfitter, 2nd class, he married Mary Prince, of El Cajon.

Standing out perhaps a little more vividly than some of his other service memories, was his tour of duty aboard the USS Vestal (a repair ship) which was tied up alongside the USS Arizona on that infamous Sunday, the 7th of December, 1941, in Pearl Harbor, when the Japanese forces attacked the United States. The USS Arizona was hit fore and aft by 14 bombs, as was the USS Vestal, but the torpedoes went under the keel of the Vestal to hit the Arizona. The USS Vestal was abandoned, but when she didn't sink, the crew swam back, cut loose from the Arizona, and beached her on the Aeiha Landing, just before the Arizona received the bomb down her stack which blew up her magazines.

In March, 1943, Jim made Chief Shipfitter, continuing his Naval career in numerous capacities on various ships and shore stations, including shore duty in Germany in World War II, and on the USS Mount McKinley, AGC7, (a communications control ship) at the landings at Inchon, Wonsan, and Pusan during the Korean War. Jim retired from Naval service in November, 1954, one of the few men who have held four different Chief's ratings—Chief Shipfitter, Chief Mailman, Chief Teleman, and Chief Radioman. Upon retirement, Jim moved to his ranch in Deerhorn Valley, working for several years as a Tool and Die Welder at Rohr and as a Keeper in the Mammal Department of the San Diego Zoo, and of late being an active gentleman rancher, woodcutter, and pursuing his hobbies of hunting and fishing with an annual trip to Utah for his deer.

"Gentleman" Jim was the immediate past president of the Deerhorn Civic Club, presently a member of the club's board of directors, a former vice-president of the Civic Club, and the former vice-president of the Mountain Star Twirlers, a local square dance club. As a friend, a neighbor, and a civic-minded member of our community, it'll take a heap o' doing to pass him up. A "Well Done" and "Thank You" to you, Walter Lee Wolfe, from your community.

Welcome to Tom Wiggins and Bill McBurney, who returned recently from their vacation back East. The fishing was good and the VW ran like a charm so what more can you ask?

Shades of Hemlock Sholmes! the super-sleuths of our Valley haven't turned up a solitary clue as to what or who "El Tico" is. H-E-L-P!

Marty and Jerry Pepmeier of Silverbrook Drive with their daughter, Patty, are enjoying a two week vacation just taking life easy and spending a great deal of time in their new pool, trying to keep cool.

Ken Carpenter has been home on leave, visiting family and friends before having to report for duty in Memphis, Tenn. on July 24th. Last week Sheryl (Carpenter) Gibson took a few days off from her home in San Luis Obispo to join the family and Ken.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Grayson drove to Santa Isabel to enjoy the fiesta and barbecue at the Indian mission there. On Monday, Nina's birthday, they were overnight guests in the home of Mrs. Hazel Gibbs, Nina's mother, in Chula Vista. Happy birthday, Nina.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Sanders and family entertained Mr. and Mrs. John Reese in their home on Saturday, and on Sunday morning they all met at Lake Olay and spent some time fishing. Mrs. Sanders commented that all anyone caught was a real bad sunburn, but had fun doing it. Mr. and Mrs. Reese are from Illinois, having been transferred here by the Navy.

project is an outgrowth of this study.

The experiment, at an interchange in the Sacramento area, also incorporates advance warnings for the non-suspecting right-way motorist. At the time the red light beams toward the wrong-way vehicle, an amber light flashes the other way, warning on-coming motorists that there is a need for caution.

The detector which activates the warning devices is sensitive to all wrong-way vehicles but is designed so that the movements of right-way vehicles pass unnoticed.

Evaluation of the current project will be made possible by use of a counter which will record the frequency with which the warning signs are made operational by erring motorists. The time of day as well as the date will be recorded. This will enable engineers to supplement their current information with more details on the prevalence of wrong-way movements, and will perhaps lead to other preventive measures.

The first attempt by traffic engineers to reduce the wrong-way problems was the painting of directional arrows at all freeway ramp locations. At other sites, double yellow pavement stripes have proved worthwhile where it is imperative that the motorist keep to the right.

Many people have advocated the installation of spiked barriers for use in eliminating wrong-way problems. This device, however, does not supply all the answers the engineers are seeking. For instance, once a car is disabled by the spikes—presumably with two or four blowouts—it may become a fixed-object target for the next right-way driver. In actual practice, as closely as can be estimated, in excess of 90 percent of freeway wrong-way drivers do manage, somehow, to correct their error without having an accident.
 This would not be true if motorists suddenly found themselves trapped with disabled vehicles.

It is hoped that the experimental sight-and-sound warning will do what other devices, including the spiked barrier, will not do: Solve the problem of wrong-way movement without leading to other accidents.

Mr. and Mrs. M. O. Evans left in early July on a vacation they have long dreamed of and decided it was time to take. They are going up the Alcan Highway as far as Fairbanks and will be gone two months. They planned to sleep and cook in their Chevrolet Van Wagon.

Vi Henyon, accompanied by a sister of Wilmington, spent two weeks in Texas. In Johnson City, named for the President's grandfather, they visited two aunts, one of whom will be 100 years old in November. In Lubbock they visited Joe Henyon's aunt in the hospital and in San Antonio saw their sister. They also went through the Alamo again. A picture of their grandfather, Indian fighter and ranger, hangs in the Alamo. His chinked log cabin is still standing in Johnson City, intact but not preserved as a monument.

June Hatherill, with her father and her son, John, drove to Scottsbluff, Neb., 17 miles from her birthplace, Morro, to attend a family reunion. Her late paternal grandfather had 80 descendants, and in their week there, June visited with aunts, uncles, and cousins, many of whom had come from other places. She saw old school friends and attended a cousin's wedding. They drove to Wyoming for several days' stay.
 Her dad had once worked there and June graduated from high school there.

Ron Mangels has been chosen 4-H delegate from Jamul to attend a convention at Davis College in August. Cathie Smith is the alternate. There will be classes, demonstrations, and delegates will see phases of animals being treated and cared for, as well as research. The club will pay $50 expenses.

The ladies of Jamul Bible Church will have an ice cream social Thursday, August 20. Homemade ice cream, homemade cake, coffee and Coolaid will be served.
 Mark this on your calendar.

Thirty members of Jamul 4-H appeared on Sundown TV variety show one night last week. They gave the 4-H pledge, and Frank Herman interviewed Bob Shook, owner of the County Fair Grand Champion steer.

There will be a meeting Wednesday evening, July 22, at 8 p.m., at El Cajon Valley High School cafeteria. A final recommendation concerning unification will be made at this meeting. All interested citizens are urged to attend.

 School Spanish teacher. Thorne has worked diligently for one year to achieve these results. One of the stipulations is that while the Mexican youths are here, they must speak as much English as possible, and in turn, when our teenagers travel to Mexico, as much Spanish as possible must be spoken. Enrique has had four years of English and Bill has had four years of Spanish, and is a student in Morse High School.

The Hodges have planned many enjoyable outings for their guest and one day a week the group of 70 will gather together to do things on a large scale, such as, seeing Disneyland. This group represents six schools in Guadalajara and 12

ALPINE GARDENER

By JEAN McCULLOUGH

Not everyone around Alpine is spending his or her energies on growing flowers. Several neighbors are growing quite wonderful vegetables. One man I know cleared stones and leveled a quarter of an acre with the help of a willing little burro and has the finest looking stand of corn imaginable. The stalks are 10 feet high, the ears have not fully developed yet, but no doubt they will be giant size when they do. I am hoping to be fortunate enough to taste some of it. Besides the corn he has ever so many other vegetables, peas, onions, tomatoes of different kinds, squash and many other vegetables.

You just know you are eating the real thing when you taste these vegetables, you are not tasting insecticide flavor.

With Colorado River water in Alpine we all should grow as many of our vegetables and fruit as we can. The slow, deep watering is the way to water everything as the hot sun beating down soon dries surface moisture.

Cut back geraniums, feed and water them well, and you'll get a second period of bloom. The same treatment can be used on a number of other plants such as delphiniums, daisies, golardias, etc. Why not get some small plants of cosmos, asters, salvia, and plant for fall color. Cut your spikes of gladiolus when the first floret or two are open and the rest of the blossoms will open fairly fast. Plunge the stalks up to the first blooms into cold water and leave them for a couple of hours before you arrange them in a vase. You probably have some light pruning to do to your roses as you cut the blossoms to use indoors. This will often promote new growth and new roses for later on. Keep old blossoms picked off all plants as they only sap the strength and look unsightly.

Handy Household Hints

(For Harried Homemakers)

The egg and you

To test the age of an egg, place it in a deep pan of cold water. If it lies on its side, it is fresh. If it stands at an angle, it is probably three or four days old. If the egg stands on end upright, it is over 10 days old. If it floats to the top, toss it out.

If you keep all your eggs in one basket, pencil-mark the older, left-over eggs, so that you'll use them up first.

To separate egg whites and yolks, the for-sure-no-broken-yolk way, puncture a small hole at one end of the shell. This releases the white into a collecting bowl and the yolk stays inside. Then break the shell and remove the yolk whole.

Is that stray egg hard-cooked or raw? To find out, place the egg on its side and spin it like a top. If the egg spins on an even keel, it is cooked. If it wobbles, it's raw.

Eggs-pansion. You will get expanded volume from beaten eggs, if they are at room temperature rather than just out of the refrigerator. So, let them warm up by removing them from the cold half to one hour in advance of use.

When beating egg whites, be sure to use an enamel, stainless steel, glass, or porcelain bowl. Never use aluminum, because eggs will darken aluminum-ware.

Always keep eggs in the refrigerator. Unbroken eggs should be stored in covered containers; otherwise they lose moisture and absorb odors, because the shells are porous. Yolks keep best if covered with water; whites should be kept in a tightly covered jar.

 to reduce the fire hazard. The department has over 25 burn-offs scheduled. Keep it up."

Mrs. Nina Martin is spending the summer visiting family and friends in Portland and Seattle. She expects to return in September.

The Crest Teens held their annual beach party at Mission Beach last Saturday. Radio KDEO was broadcasting from the beach, and Randy Gould announced the party over the air. Mr. and Mrs. Guy Howard acted as adult chaperones, and everyone had a wonderful time. The 25 young people consumed 120 hot dogs, 110 buns, a gallon of beans, myriad potato chips, and six cases of Coke. They ended the day with a net profit of .01, tired, sunburned, and happy.

Mr. and Mrs. Willard S. Winberg joined the Woody Brown family for a weekend in Ensenada. The Browns keep their trailer there, and go down as often as possible.

Charles and Lorraine Dutton and their two children, David and Barbara, from North Canton, Ohio, spent last week visiting brother Roger Dutton and his family on the Crest.

While San Diego papers were expounding the phenomenal flash storm in the desert three weeks ago, a Crest couple drove complacently through it. Mr. and Mrs. Harry Ohlson, though awed by the spectacular thunder and lightning display, learned only later of a narrowly missed flash flood.

Two families who adhere to the "no place like home" saying are back after three-week trips out of state. They are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Stambach of Alta Lane, who travelled to Kansas with daughters Kathy, Jill and Betty Jo. The Stambachs returned July 2nd, bringing with them Mrs. Stambach's mother, Mrs. Jack Urbin and her son Jerry, 14. There were visits with relatives and friends of the couple, who are former Kansans. Mrs. Urbin will return home in late August. Susan Stambach, 13, stayed in San Bernardino. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Miller, of Hamlet Drive, returned July 10 from a motor trip to Montgomery, Alabama, to see Mr. Miller's 90-year-old grandfather, Mr. R. S. Miller. With sons, Mike, Mark, and Vernon, the Stambachs trailed their way through the Grand Canyon, Vicksburg Battlefield, Mississippi, and the Petrified Forest and painted desert in Arizona. "No place like home," echoed Mrs. Miller.

A large stork was the centerpiece at the recent shower given for Mrs. James (Buddy) Hightower of the Crest. Mrs. Hightower is the former "Suzy" Phillips of Highline Trail. The blessed event, scheduled for early August, was pre-feted at the home of the prospective grandmother, Mrs. A. Phillips. Hostesses were Nancy Connors and Dottie Knaresboro of El Cajon. Guests included many former schoolmates of Suzy.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Corridean, and their two children of Riverside, California. They had made a trip around the world last year, and they brought their slide pictures of their trip along to show the Coopers.

Lewis Barrish is a busy person these days. He works all day at the Radar Station at Mt. Laguna, and most every evening he can be found clearing his lot in Pine Valley. He expects to start building his new home there right away. He and his wife Fay now live in the McCoy rental in Lake Morena. We will be sorry to lose them, but glad they are not going very far away.

Lake Morena's Oak Shores Mutual Water Co. held its annual stockholders meeting Sunday, July 5, 1964, and the officers and directors are the same as last year, except J. R. Straub replaced Earl F. Craig, whose health did not permit him to serve this year. The directors are Gladys Kunze, president; S. C. Davis, vice-president; Alden M. Farris, secretary-treasurer and managing director, Wm. Wordley, Francis Brennecke, Colleen Arthur and J. R. Straub. The meeting was held in the patio at the home of Alden Farris, and 25 stockholders were present. The majority of stockholders were represented by proxies.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Ham (Jane) of Fletcher Hills, formerly of Morena Village, are moving to Sacramento, and as soon as they are located, Jane's mother Mrs. Lilah Spice will follow to live with them. They drove up last weekend to find a place to live. Bill is going into business with Jane's cousin Bill Linthacum. He will be a mortgage loan investigator. This should be a welcome change from the service station and garage business. Best wishes.

interested in making application for a child, you may call Art Humerickhouse at 445-3882 after 4:30 or 5:00 in the evening.

Mrs. Rollie Johnston has been on the sick list, and has as her helpers and moral support-lenders, Linda Johnston, of Castle Park, her granddaughter, and Mrs. Etta Mae Peters, from Van Nuys, a very old friend of the family. With all of this fine help, we hope to see Mrs. Johnston up and at 'em in no time at all.

Marvin Sanford was also on the sick list for a few days, and had to miss a couple of days of school, but is feeling much better now.

The Community Church is having a work night on Monday evening, July 20, to finish the paint job on the church. Anyone, not having anything else to do, will be more than welcome.

PINE VALLEY

By LADONNA MUHLHAUSER

Miss Becky Thornburg has been visiting her grandparents, the Carl Rogers for the past week, Becky came up to be her grandmother's helper while Bertha is unable to be on her feet.

Last Saturday morning Della Sama of Escondido, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Orbom, Margaret Lowthian, Mr. Freeland and myself had plans to make a day's outing of the back country. I met Mrs. Sama in Pine Valley and found the Alpine folks couldn't go so started for Corte Madera to meet the Orboms. We did but not the way it was planned when we arrived at the gate there sat Jane. She had broken the key off in the ignition and had been sitting there for over on hour, in that hour she had been under, over, in and out looking for the hidden key, to no avail. After picking up Ed the foursome made a trek of the back country over roads very rough, hot and dusty and at four Saturday afternoon, four hot and weary folks found their way back to Highway 80. With all, it was a most enjoyable day but no more during the hot weather.

The Pine Valley Improvement Club elected new officers for the coming year. Fred Cox, an upcoming young man was elected president. Fred is in the Navy but while he has land duty in San Diego he and his fine family live here in their home. Jerry Bilyeu was elected for another term as vice-president, and Gene Major and Betty Hatter comprise the rest of the officers. The Board will continue on as in the past year.

Reports on the new well, sound very promising. They are now down to around 50 feet and the prospects are for plenty of water.

The resuscitator was called out twice in the past week. One for a local resident and the other a traveler who was driving alone and the boys went to Laguna Junction to give him relief.

Carol and Larry Snelling are so happy to have as their guests, Mrs. Alvina Jeske and Carole's mother, and her sister, Mrs. Patricia Millard, of Moses Lake, Washington, visiting for a short while. This is the first trip to Southern California for both of the gals and they seem to be really enjoying our weather, while I can't say the same for the home folks.

Mrs. Yvonne Jones has returned to Guatay from Wilcox, Arizona. When she and Jack came over they didn't plan to stay but a few days, so with two children the clothes became a problem, so Yvonne went back to take care of their home and do some packing.

Mrs. Mary Woods, the popular grade school teacher here in the Valley has opened her home Tuesday and Friday so the small fry could take advantage of her library and do a little boning up during the summer months.

The Lutz tow truck of Alpine picked up a car near Laguna Junction when the car slid during one of the several thunder showers of the past few days. No one was injured in this accident.

MT. LAGUNA

By KATHY McMANUS

Mrs. Linda Summermier of Tierra Del Sol was in an accident Thursday evening, July 9, on Sunrise Highway just south of the Crouch Meadows. In the car with Mrs. Summermier were her mother, Mrs. Kay, and her son who is only three weeks old. Thankfully no one was seriously injured.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Nies and family left Friday, July 10, for a vacation at the beach. Long Beach was the location they picked. They planned to stay in a motel near the beach and live it up.

The McManus family traveled to El Monte last Tuesday to visit Mr. McManus' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. L. Marston. Mac's sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Ken Walker of Arcata, Calif., and their son Steve were also there. It was a real nice family get together.

Also the McManus clan are a little late but still very proud to announce the birth of another grandchild. Their daughter, Mrs. Marleen Gee, now living in Hastings, Neb., gave birth to a 7 lb. 4 oz. baby girl, Kelly Rene, June 25.

Mrs. Del True of Chula Vista, former resident of the 751 Radar Sqd. and Mrs. Ruth Stuart of Mt. Laguna were my guests for lunch Sunday, July 12. Mrs. True reported that her daughter Madeline is in New York working. Madi has been to the Fair and is having a real good time. She was also introduced to Bobby Rydell, talked to him and he took her home in his limousine, oh oh, what luck!

Alpine

Tommy and Jerry Judd are looking forward to spending several days with their aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Moore, in Scottsdale, Arizona. They will be leaving Monday after several delays to the trip due to a series of cases of mumps.

Mrs. Goldie Vancil returned to Alpine yesterday after being in the hospital for almost two months. Mrs. Vancil had surgery twice during her sojourn, but reports that she is feeling well, and very happy to be back. She is staying at Tappy's Motel in Alpine until she can locate a small rental home near the business district.

Jo Robinson has been entertaining her brother Doug Wilson and his wife Pauline from Gillette, Wyoming this past week. The Wilson's drove down to see Jo, who took them sight seeing part of the time and part of the time the three sat around and relaxed enjoying the fine view of the mountains from Jo's Victoria Club.

SYNTHETIC RUBBER

More than 700 varieties and grades of oil-based synthetic rubber have been produced, according to the National Automobile Club.

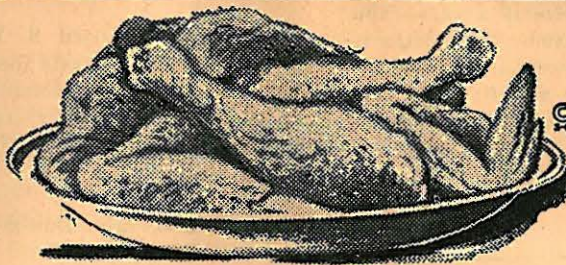

Hill home. Doug Wilson is a heavy equipment operator at the largest open pit coal mine in the United States, one of the world's largest. It is located at Wydock, Wyoming. Jo also had the pleasure of a visit from her young niece Dixie and husband Peter Knutson, who stopped in to see her on their way to Liberia, Africa. The young couple have just completed training as missionaries and will work in the establishing of a leper colony in the African assignment. Mr. Knutson is an ordained minister of the Pentacostal Church, which is sending the couple on their mission. He is also an airplane pilot and will fly much of the time in the work he and his wife will do. The young couple met in school in Seattle. Both sing beautifully. Dixie is a daughter of Jo's sister, and was raised on a Montana ranch. Jo says the girl goes forth with happy confidence to her difficult mission. We wish her God speed and safe return with her valiant young husband.
