ALPINE ECHO MERGING WITH ALPINE SUN

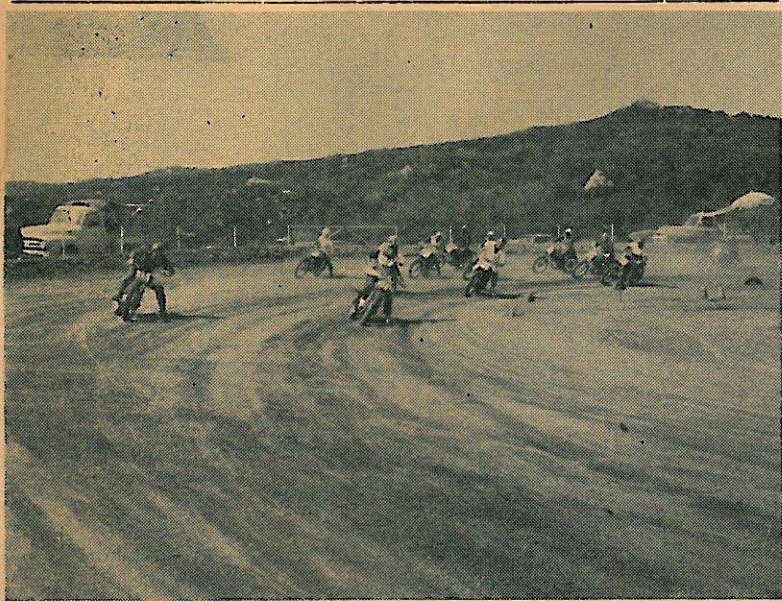

ECHO BEING ACQUIRED OCTOBER 1 BY RECENT PURCHASERS OF SUN

Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Van Til, formerly of San Jose, who recently purchased the Alpine Sun from its former owner and founder, Clarke Irvine, have completed negotiations for the purchase of the Alpine Echo.

The new owners plan to combine the two papers into one publication to be of tabloid size, the present size of the Echo, and to be published weekly on Thursday.

The Alpine Echo was established in October 1958 by Dr. and Mrs. Earl Woodall who were publisher and editor until January, 1960, when the time necessary for him to devote to his medical practice required that he give up the paper. From that date until January, 1962, the Echo was edited and published by Edgar S. Welty, a former resident of Alpine. The Echo was then acquired by E. L. Freeland and Margaret Lowthian

MOTORCYCLE RACES DRAWING MANY ENTRIES AND SPECTATORS

The motorcycle races being held at the Alpine Speedway most Sunday afternoons are growing in interest both of the participants and the spectators.

Last Sunday afternoon a crowd of approximately 300 persons turned out to watch the thrilling races over the rugged track in Alpine. This track has proved to be one of the most popular tracks for the racers with its hairpin turns and steep up and down course. From the point of view of the spectators it is popular as there is an unobstructed view of the complete course, and provides many thrilling spectacles

The high school students will meet each Tuesday and Thursday evening from 7:00 to 10:00.

INTIMATE GLIMPSSES

By BEA La FORCE

Last night two big speckled owls talked to each other for a long while from opposite sides of the house. One was perched on a rafter in the front patio, while the other sat silhouetted against the moonlit sky on a corner of the car porte out back. The patio percher had the deeper voice. When he spoke big drum tones tumbled over the roof. The answering voice of the other was less resonant—more like a small fog horn. I suspect they were conferring on the problem of how to catch the bats zig-zagging through the moonlight all around the place. Or perhaps they planned to corner one of the numerous pack-rats. Both birds were visible in the light of the full moon. Their round eyes looked very large emphasized by the three or four graduated circles of lighter feathers which surround them. The owl's plumage blending shades of tan and brown and white makes a perfect camouflage costume for night hunting. This plumage is very soft which is one reason the bird's flight is noiseless.

Once in the night, hearing the ducks complaining of danger, I went out, found them frightened of a cat peering in their wire door. Returning to the house, I glimpsed what a first looked like a thin snake winding through the dust towards the garden. Looking closer, I discovered a colony of ants moving. A steady stream, they tore along going in both directions, the ones going East loaded with a tiny white object, the West

Alpine C of C Dinner Tickets on Sale

The tickets for the Alpine Chamber of Commerce annual Installation Dinner are on sale at the Chamber office and at various business establishments in Alpine.

Committee members, Mrs. Jo Robinson and Mr. Orville Palmer, report that the deadline for purchasing dinner tickets will be Monday, Oct. 5. A very few tickets will be available for purchase at the door because of the necessity to make a guarantee to the caterers. The committee, therefore, urges everyone interested to purchase their dinner tickets prior to Oct. 5. Dinner tickets are $2.50.

Supervisor David W. Bird will be the guest speaker at the Installation Dinner and will conduct the installation ceremonies. Mr. Larry Freeman, representative of the Union Tribune in El Cajon, will be Master of Ceremonies.

A mass presentation of colors by the Alpine Girl Scouts, Boy Scouts, Cub Scouts, 4-H and Civil Air Patrol will be one of the features of the evening.

Bakery Goods Arriving in Alpine

This Saturday, in Jack Wilson's old store on Highway 80, the 4-H Club members of Alpine are having a display of 4-H projects to celebrate 4-H Club week and a bake-sale to sweetened their treasury.

Brian Pierce and his committee have been hard at work this week getting the display ready. The time is 10 a.m., Saturday morning, Sept. 26. Drop in before you do your marketing and purchase a delicious pie or some homemade

SUPERVISOR DAVID W. BIRD

Rally Planned for Supervisor Bird

A giant luau and dance "Rally for Dave Bird" will be held Sept. 30, in the Bronze Room in La Mesa.

Ralph Chapman, campaign manager for incumbent County Supervisor David W. Bird made the announcement.

A free buffet dinner will be served at 5 p.m. Continuous dance music will be provided by some of the finest musical talents in San Diego county.

"This is an opportunity for all the people who are working so hard to re-elect Dave Bird to relax and rally for the coming month of intensive campaign action," said Chapman.

"Also," he said, "there are many people working for Dave who know him by his record but have not met him informally. This rally will give them that opportunity."

Chapman said he expects 300 to 400 people to attend.

Rabies Quarantine Continued for Year

The State Department of Public Health has extended the rabies quarantine in San Diego and Imperial counties for another year. The quarantine has been in existence for the past three years.

The extension was made because of the large number of rabies cases that have been found along the Mexican border and in other parts of the two counties during the past few months.

The health authorities and other persons interested in the rabies situation are endeavoring to have constructed by the Mexican and American authorities a dog-proof fence along the border. The County health authorities state that the lack of such a fence makes it

SPECIAL NOTICE Burning Permits Suspended

The Echo has been advised by the La Mesa office of the State Division of Forestry that Gov. Edmund G. Brown, yesterday, issued an emergency proclamation effective immediately suspending, until further notice, all State burning permits throughout the State within the areas under the jurisdiction of the State Division of Forestry.

Also, that the Federal Forest Service has suspended, until further notice, all burning permits throughout the State within the areas under their jurisdiction.

The suspension applies to any outside burning, including open burning and burning in incinerators.

This action was brought about on account of the large number of destructive fires now raging in a number of locations within the State.

The details regarding the enforcement of this emergency proclamation and penalties for its violation are not available as we go to press. If the emergency continues, the Echo will publish the information in this regard.

Fire Commissioners Making Study of Burning Regulations

The Fire Commissioners of the Alpine Local Fire District, at their monthly meeting last Monday night, were informed by District Fire Marshal LeRoy Wedel that the burning regulations of the State Division of Forestry contains provisions regarding the requirement of obtaining permits for doing any burning, including burning within incinerators, and that the State Division of Forestry may have jurisdiction over the area within the Alpine Local Fire District.

Such provisions would be contrary to the provisions of the burning regulation ordinance recently passed by the Local Fire District.

Mr. Wedel also stated that he had been informed that the County of San Diego was in the process

Mayo Stamp Dream Started in Alpine

One of the cherished dreams of Clarence Stearns, late Alpinier, came to pass on Sept. 11, in Rochester, Minn. On that day, two weeks ago, the United States Post Office Department officially released the initial issue of the Commemorative Mayo Brothers postage stamp honoring Dr. W. J. Mayo, the famous medical team who founded the great Mayo Brothers Clinic in Rochester.

It was Clarence Stearns, long-time Rochester resident and nationally known photographer who first conceived the idea for the commemorative stamp for his lifelong friends, Drs. William and Charlie Mayo. On May 12, 1957, while living in Alpine, Mr. Stearns submitted a suggestion to the Post Office Department at Washington, D.C., that such a stamp be issued honoring the Drs. Mayo.

Mr. Stearns was not given much encouragement at first, but he persisted despite this fact. Carrying on an extensive correspondence he succeeded in generating interest and enthusiasm among many well-known people in government, medicine, and business. His efforts lead to the forming of a committee in 1959 which reads like a list of who's who among civic and medical leaders of the nation. President Lyndon B. Johnson, then a senator, accepted appointment to the active committee obtaining endorsements from a cross section of American life.

Regrettably, Mr. Stearns did not live to see the project completed, nevertheless the work he had started was carried on by the committee and early in 1964 the Post Office Department announced that a stamp honoring the Mayo brothers of Rochester, Minn. had been approved.

Airman 1st Class Robert Fransway, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Fransway of 337 Lento Lane, was married Sept. 14 to Miss Betty Gray of Salem, Ore. The young couple had postponed their wedding because of Frank's illness and recent open-heart surgery. Fransway was so seriously ill that the Red Cross sent his other son, S/Sgt. William Fransway home from the Air Force in Germany on an emergency 30-day leave to be with his father. Frank came home Saturday, and Odie says he is doing fine, improving daily. He required 12 pints of blood to see him through, and eight of the Crest Fire Department, who were on the Hill, went down Saturday, en masse, to replace the blood. Odie wants to express the deep appreciation of the whole Fransway family for this warm-hearted gesture. Four pints of blood are still needed. Anyone wishing to donate, can go to the Blood Bank in San Diego.

CREST FIREMEN GO NAVY

By Jane Mon Dragon

The United States Naval Fleet Training Center Fire Fighting School is located at the Naval Training Center, San Diego.

Lieutenant M. C. Berg is the Fire Fighting Officer in charge of the special two-day course which graduates

15-19,000 recruits a year. The course is designed to train Naval personnel in the techniques effective against fires peculiar to shipboard. Accent is placed on suppressing the normal fear of fire, inherent in every human being, and on gaining experience with "smoke-fires" (oil, etc).

Jack Dyer of the Crest Volunteer Fire Department decided this would be good training to have, so on September 10 and 11, with the assistance of Naval Fire Fighting Instructors Ross, Gonzales, Bryant and Gullick, eight members of the Crest Fire Department went through the gruelling course.

The boys were junior firemen Tony Caprio, 15; Jim Drogo, 14; Tommy Reynolds, 15; John Younghusband, 15; Norman Younghusband, 14; Rick Vance, 15, and senior firemen Joe Drogo and Jack Dyer.

The first day, the boys were taught the nature and chemistry of shipboard fires, and saw film of the standard Naval fire fighting techniques. Then they went out into the field, where they actually used the hoses and pumping equipment. The second day things "got rough." The boys donned O.B.A. Continued on Page 6

Property Tax Laws May Be Revised

A prediction that the 1965 California Legislature will consider more major property tax issues than any Legislature in the last generation was made by Richard Nevin, Southern California Member of the Board of Equalization, in his greeting to the Conference of County Assessors of California and the State Board of Equalization meeting at the Hotel El Dorado in Sacramento.

"Legislative Interim Committees have under way studies which may result in far reaching recommendations to abolish household personal property from the tax base, to reduce or abolish the tax on business inventories, and to provide property tax relief for the aged," Nevin stated.

"A statewide standard ratio of assessed value to market value, revision of welfare and charitable exemptions, and revision of the veterans exemption are also being Continued on Page 6

The course includes such subject matters as meteorology, navigation, radio navigation, FAA regulations, flight computer, aircraft engine pre-flight and operation. Interesting trips are planned to Miramar Flight Control Center and the Weather Bureau. Course is $25.

ECHOES OF THE PAST

Travel has always been a hobby with some Alpiners, among them Mrs. Lars Carlson, whom we see here in the picture on the left in a delightful Scandinavian costume. Pictured at her side, right of the photograph, is Mary Ansell, wearing another of the costumes Marie brought home from an around the world tour she took in 1938. When she returned Marie told the Alpine Woman's Club about her trip for one of their programs and she and Mary wore the costumes for the event. Such costumes are seldom available any more in the foreign countries we visit. Replicas only, can be purchased, and these are cheaply made for the tourist trade.

Pictured with the column today is the new barn being built by Howard Barrett on the property he purchased last spring at the corner of Tavern Road and South Grade Road.

When completed the barn will contain three box stalls and a tack room on the ground floor with a hayloft overhead. Howard is building the barn for his fine Quarterhorse gelding, Bar Mac, and his companion, the black mare, Bobbie. The horses are enjoying the large pasture around the barn during the nice weather, but come winter, they will appreciate their new accommodations.

By PAT MARTIN

Descanso school principal, Mr. Darnall, reports an enrollment of 90 pupils to begin this year. This is the same amount as last year. Several new families are represented in the school this year, including the Gene Thurlby family from San Diego; the Raymond Kirkpatrick family from San Lucas, Calif.; the Cleto Fracchiolla family from National City; the Tangy family from Falls Church, Virginia; the Eugene Jenkins family from Hawaiian Gardens, California, and the Arlo Erickson family. The children from the Elson, Schultz and Shearer families from Pine Valley are also attending Descanso School. We have a new bus driver this year, Mr. Ray Craig, who lives in Campo.

The PTA plans to have their first hot dog day this Thursday, September 24, and will continue every week throughout the year. Notices will be sent home from school with the details. If any mothers would like to help with this, please contact Mrs. Elva Rehdorf at 445-3835 or Mrs. Ethel White at 445-2892.

Our sympathy goes to Nellie White in the loss of her mother, Mrs. Mamie Maxwell, who passed away recently. Tony and Nellie drove back to Onowa, Iowa with Nellie's brother from Los Angeles to attend the funeral services. They arrived home last Friday.

Leonard and Myrna White and daughter Kim and new baby, Leonard Shiloh, spent the night Sunday at the home of Mel and Ethel White.

The Sunday School of the Chapel of the Hills is having a picnic on Saturday, Sept. 26 at the Pine Valley Park, starting at 3 p.m. Bring your own dessert and salad. The church will furnish hot dogs and punch. There will be games for the adults as well as the children.

Several members of the WSCS are planning to attend a WSCS workshop on Friday at the Park Boulevard Methodist Church in San Diego.

Bird Questions His Opponent's Claims

David W. Bird, incumbent County Supervisor from the Second District, says that his opponent should fire his high-paid advisors because they are giving their boss incomplete advice.

Bird spoke both at the Community Hall in Spring Valley and at the Vista Square School in Chula Vista last week.

Bird said, "My opponent is crying that the county budget is getting larger. Well, it is. But my opponent's high-paid advisors put their boss in a terribly embarrassing situation by failing to tell him that the county tax is not going up.

"That makes my opponent look awfully misinformed. How can the county budget get bigger while the county tax rate does not?"

"It is no secret. My opponent doesn't have to buy my advice," said Bird, "I'll tell him free of charge how this happens. The answer is that the County Board of Supervisors is accepting grants of state and federal money.

"San Diego County citizens pay more than their share of state and federal taxes," Bird said. "I feel that it is my duty to bring as much of that tax money as I can back into San Diego County.

"Now, the state and federal governments will not give the county this money unless the Board of Supervisors budgets to spend the money," explained Bird, "so we put it in the budget to be spent. This makes our budget larger but keeps our county tax rate down." Bird said that nobody in the unincorporated areas had ever called his office and demanded that state and federal money for projects in the district not be accepted.

"The voting record of the other Supervisors tells me that the same

Dulzura - Barrett Junction

By GENNIE WALKER

The Dulzura School looked mighty happy to have 24 children in the class room. Mrs. Henderson has 14 in her class and Mrs. Maitland has only ten, but no matter how small, we are quite proud of them. We lost Tosca and Neal Di Scala to Potrero as they moved up there to live (where there is water) and David and Danny Cardenas are going to Catholic school in town. We keep our hopes up always to get more children for our school so as to keep it in our own community. We are mighty pleased with the new children in our vicinity as follows: Larry and Robert Tripp, Paul Netherton, and these two little girls from Tecate, Elizabeth Gutierrez and Luz Marie Pinto. Every little one helps.

The Dulzura Home Department's meeting was a very sad affair as very few attended the meeting, any way, many thanks to those that came. Included on the day was a Stanley Party conducted by May Lester from El Cajon. Maggie Page brought her sister from Ft. Stockton, Tex. to say hello and to get acquainted with the ladies (Mrs. Lennox). Also present was her little grandson from Buena Park, Calif. You ladies missed a good potluck lunch.

Lillian Camp is home from the hospital and doing as best as she can. Mrs. Lee is taking care of her. For some odd reason it seems like everyone is taking their turn about getting real sick or having attacks of some sort as Katherine Lindsay ended up in the hospital a few days ago with a slight stroke. She was stricken at a store in town and Mr. Blake's mother had to be taken to the hospital with a heart attack. We've certainly had our share of illness among the people

HEAR YE! HEAR YE!

The founders of our country recognized the basic need of not only freedom of speech but also freedom of the press. These rights are contained in our Constitution. This provision insures that the dissemination of information, education and news, both orally and in print cannot legally be suppressed by the Government or any individual.

In our colonial days when people were very conscious of preserving their liberty and freedom of speech, the news was disseminated by the Town Crier. He would walk the streets and paths of the community shouting "Hear Ye! Hear Ye!" and then cry out the news, be it the notice of a town meeting, or of a birth, a death, a wedding, the arrival of a ship, the wrecking of a ship, the activities of the Indians, or whatever news was of interest to the inhabitants of the community. As progress improved the art of printing, the Town Crier was replaced by the newspaper.

Every community is entitled to a good newspaper that will provide the publication of news of the community and general news that is of interest to its inhabitants. However, a good newspaper is also entitled to the support of the community which it serves by subscriptions from the inhabitants and advertising from merchants and those having services to offer. Without this support, a newspaper cannot succeed and the residents will cease being a well-informed public.

The value of a newspaper, whether it be a large metropolitan daily or a small rural weekly, is in the furnishing to the people the information of what is happening in their community, what is happening in the country in general that has an effect on their lives, and what is happening internationally that might have an effect on our country. Also, the dissemination of such news makes possible the preservation of liberty and the maintenance of justice and equity. The Alpine Echo, which is now in its seventh year of publication, and the Alpine Sun, which is in its thirteenth year of publication, have each in their way been endeavoring to provide these services.

These two newspapers are now being combined into one publication which we feel confident, under the editorship of the new owners, will be a newspaper of a character that will deserve full support.

U.S. Court Rejects School Trustees Rights Act Section Recall Carries

A Federal Court composed of three judges in Birmingham, Alabama, held that the public accommodations section of the Civil Rights Act recently passed by Congress is unconstitutional in connection with a Birmingham restaurant case.

Previously in Atlanta, Georgia, a Federal Court had ruled that this section was constitutional in regard to a restaurant case in Atlanta.

In the Atlanta case the question was of segregation in a restaurant which was located adjacent to a transcontinental highway where a large portion of the patrons of the restaurant were interstate travelers. In the Birmingham case, the restaurant was situated in an outlying section and received most of its trade from the local residents.

The Atlanta case is now being appealed by the owner of the restaurant and the Federal attorneys in the Birmingham case state that the Government will appeal that ruling.

The voters in the La Mesa-Spring Valley School District at a special election held last Tuesday, recalled by approximately 600 majority three of the present members of the School Board and elected to their positions three new members. The unofficial number of votes cast was 17,335 or approximately 49% of the 35,227 registered voters.

Those recalled are Mrs. Margaret Burnett, Robert Andreen and William Johnston. Elected to their positions are Rev. Lewis Ginn, Mrs. Geraldine Gill, and Dr. William McCandless.

The recall election was called over the issue of having teacher-led prayers in the District's classrooms. Those recalled were in favor of voluntary prayers by the pupils and were following the advice of the San Diego County Counsel's office in ruling that teacher-led prayers were unconstitutional. The new members elected to office were elected on a pledge that they would return the teacher-led prayers in the classrooms.

bound ones racing back empty handed from the new location for another load. They crashed into each other, side-stepped and hurried on, intent on one thing only—the survival of the colony. Their trail was crooked and rough as if they'd struck out in desperate haste and direct need. Their frenzied rush in the shadow silence had the grim look of escape reminding me of stories of war-inhabited countries where streams of refugees make their hazardous way across alien territory in the darkness in search of safety.

I traced the ants back to the hill from which they were moving, then followed their trail to the new location near a fence post in the garden. Their old city had been sprayed, bombed-out, that day and the inhabitants apparently destroyed since many dead lay shriveled round the entrance and no more activity was apparent. They had simply stayed deep under ground until nightfall when they hastily evacuated their city and built a new one. This morning the trail they'd taken in the night was very hard to trace. Most of it had somehow been obliterated. Maybe this does not prove that the ants have intelligence, but I think most of us could use much more of whatever it is.

Nearby the ant's trail last night sat a toad as big as my fist. He was the biggest, fattest toad I've ever seen around her. Fact is, I've never seen any toads at all here except the horned toads. This one was probably having a late snack of ants. Hopping unhurriedly away as I stepped near him, the toad joined a pair of smaller ones sitting on a big rhubarb leaf. A fat spider swung in her big cart wheel web beside the garden gate, a good catch of insects tangled in her sticky silk threads. Two cats sat on a rail of the fence, the yellow one looking ghostly in the moonlight, the grey one blending with the shadows, four bright eyes watching for pilfering rodents in the vegetable rows. On the screen door, as I went back inside, there sat a long splinter of a bug which looks to me like a praying mantis although some local experts say it is not. Anyhow he was daintily eating a moth held in his two clever hands.

The owls started talking again confidentially. A coyote yipped out on the mesa. I went back to bed feeling that the night shift was really on the job.

who have been the publishers to the present time.

Bea LaForce, Feature Editor of the Echo, will continue to write feature articles including her "Intimate Glimpses" column for the new combined publication. Also, under the purchase arrangements, E. L. Freeland and Margaret Lowthian will assist in the reporting of the news.

Mr. and Mrs. Van Til state that the new publication will be an independent newspaper dedicated to providing the local news of the areas now being served by the Alpine Echo and the Alpine Sun, and news of general interest to these areas.

The new owners plan to publish the first issue of the combined publication on Thursday, Oct. 1, 1964, under the name of "Alpine Echo and Alpine Sun."

Mr. and Mrs. Van Til are establishing residence in Alpine, and have rented the home on Lilac Lane recently purchased by Mr. and Mrs. Angus of China Lake. They moved into the house last week and are busy getting settled.

This program is being offered in answer to the request of a number of persons in the area, and approximately 20 persons have already signed up for the class. It is open to any adult in the area, and further information regarding registration, etc., may be obtained at the Alpine School.

FASHION SHOW OPENS ALPINE WOMAN'S CLUB 1964-65 SEASON

The Alpine Woman's Club opened its 1964-65 year with a meeting last Tuesday afternoon at which a potluck luncheon and a fashion show were featured.

The luncheon commenced at noon with the usual heavily laden buffet table of wonderful food brought by the individual members. The potluck luncheons offered by the ladies of the Woman's Club are very well attended as everyone brings their favorite, special dishes.

Mrs. Goldie Vancil, new President of the Club, presided at a short business meeting following the luncheon. In her acceptance speech to the members Mrs. Vancil stressed that next month, October, marks the Fiftieth Anniversary of the Alpine Woman's Club, and that in honor of this auspicious occasion her theme as President of the Club this year is "Golden Key to Achievement."

The new officers were introduced by Mrs. Vancil. They are: First Vice-President, Mrs. Pete Putnam; Second Vice-President, Mrs. T. E. Hill, Jr.; Third Vice-President, Mrs. Paul Clay; Recording Secretary, Mrs. Marcus Schaeffer, Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. E. J. Orbom; Treasurer, Mrs. LeRoy Simmons; Parliamentarian, Mrs. Harry Colby; House Chairman and Assistant Treasurer, Mrs. H. W. Johnson, and Hospitality Hostess, Mrs. Orville Palmer.

A fashion show conducted by Marthel's of El Cajon was presented for the enjoyment of the members and their guests. The models showed an interesting selection of casual, semi-casual and evening wear from the newest fall collection and in the radiant new fashion colors. The models, all of whom are members of the Woman's Club, were Nellie Keller, Renee Adams, Lona Schaeffer, Elna Bratt, Leta Judd and Elizabeth Kenevan.

The drawing gift donated by Marthel's was won by Club President, Mrs. Goldie Vancil.

The Alpine Kiwanis Club will take approximately 250 kids from the Alpine area on a tour of a U. S. Navy Task Force and a ferry ride around San Diego Bay. All kids between the ages of 8 and 13 in the area are invited to go on the tour which will start from the Alpine School at 8:30 a.m. on Saturday, Sept. 26.

The Gamma Gamma Sorority members and their guests enjoyed a barn dance and box social last Saturday evening. The party was held in the barn at the home of Ginny and Jim Zeigler on Tavern Road.

The first fry given by Red and Ethel Andrews at the Casino Inn for all their friends and customers last night was attended by about 200 persons. This was one of Red's famous free fish fries and Red did all the cooking. He fried over 100 pounds of Tutava, marlin and breem, which was served with baked beans, potato salad, cole slaw and relishes. Everyone had a wonderful time and thoroughly enjoyed the fine food.

Two Polynesian dancers, a pretty lady monologist, noted for her comedy roles, a pantomimist, and a man whose "heavy" and "comedy" roles have given him much favorable notice in San Diego and Heartland areas. These are all members of the Heartland Players group, and include Betty Lissanti, Harvey Sampson, and Walt Starr.

Mare and Foal class with his mare, Zama's Friendly, and her foal, and Zama's Friendly won a good third in the Mares of 1960 and Before class. The Whitten's current year colt, Ibn Altair, took a fifth in a large class for his age group.

The Half-Arabian colt, Rommell's Gray Tuck, owned by Mabel and Hugh Waller, was second in a big class of combined Half-Arabian colts and fillies.

The young Arabian mare, Dajani, owned by Dennis and Gail Allen of Lakeside, placed second in the half mile race, and fifth in the 3/4 mile race. This was the first time this young mare has been raced, and the Allen's are thinking about putting her in training at the track at Ramona.

The Champion Stallion of the show was Zarabo, owned by the Moehlman's 3M Ranch of Newhall, and the Champion Mare was Sahara Queen owned by Mrs. and Mrs. Frank McCoy of Chino.

A total of 359 Arabians and Half-Arabians were entered in this annual Arabian show held every September by the Desert Arabian Association.

Local horses are getting ready for the one-day show which will be held at the Pine Valley Stables ring next Sunday, Sept. 27. The ring and the parking areas have been improved tremendously at this attractive stable, and the show promises to be a good one.

Randy Adams, riding her Appaloosa mare, Chiquita, rode in our front gate this afternoon (Tuesday) to pay us a short visit. Chiquita loves to visit here but would love to go on back and visit the other horses rather than say hello to me. She seems to remember that this is where all her old friends are and if Randy doesn't stop her, she wanders around to the gate.

We visited Eddie Fordyce's young Appaloosa colt, Patches, last Sunday to take the colored pictures required to get him registered. Patches will have no trouble qualifying as an Appaloosa. He is getting white spots all over his body in addition to the large patches of white on his rump with which he was born. Eddie has given him a very appropriate name.

Hope to see you all at Pine Valley next Sunday—and hope you are enjoying the beautiful riding weather we are having these days.

"Our boys seem to graduate from high school, and then either go into military service or the Forestry." Well, they could go to a lot worse places! The Forestry is a fine group, and it couldn't happen to a nicer bunch of fellows. The boys, and their stations, are: Scott Newman, La Mesa; Mike Biagini, La Mesa; John May, Dulzura; Paul Mon Dragon, Valley Center; Joe Drogo, Potrero; Jim Megerle, Warners; and Don Coleman, Helix. Kenny Schuettenhelm was released from Valley Center on Sept. 1, in order to enter State College. More power to them.

Mrs. Dolly Berlinguette has now completely recovered from a recent major operation. She is the wife of the assistant pastor at the Crest Community Church.

The Herbert Kearney family has had more than its share of trips to the hospital of late. Patrick, 11, recently had his tonsils out at El Cajon Valley Hospital, and Muriel, 10, tripped over a water pipe, broke off a tooth, and sustained a cut on her lip which required six stitches to close.

William Nash of 910 Mountain View Rd., started his summer vacation and decided to spend the time home working on his house. He figured that he would get more accomplished, if he were alone, and the kids "out of his hair," so he sent Mrs. Nash and their three children to Phoenix, Ariz. They had been there two days, when Mr. Nash phoned from the bus depot, "Come and get me." He got so lonesome, he had to join his family! So they all stayed some days in Pheonix, and spent the last of their two weeks at Disneyland. They visited Mr. Nash's parents in Glendale on the way home.

Mrs. Beatrice Merrifield, Richard Povenmire, and Julia Ann Jump spent Sunday on a picnic in the Lagunas. Trixie says the weather and scenery were beautiful, but they were forced to stay near the main roads, as the woods were over run with deer hunters, and guns were going off in all directions.

The Behrens clan all got together for Sunday breakfast at the Pancake House, Sept. 20. Present were George and Evelyn, Evelyn's children, Carl and Ruth Cummins and their children from Allied Gardens, Wade and Sue Cummins from Spring Valley, and Evelyn's brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Walter King of La Mesa.

Reverend and Mrs. Gerald Woodhouse spent a recent week at Yeosomite Park, hiking and exploring and viewing the granduers. Their second week of vacation they spent at home, taking a different day-long trip each day, to points of local interest and pleasure.

Doctor Dale McClain will be guest speaker at the 10:55 a.m. service Sunday morning, September 27, at the Crest Community Church. Doctor McClain is the Director of Schools and Missions in Hong-Kong, China. At the 7 p.m. Sunday evening service, the Teenagers will take complete charge, with singing, special music, and preaching. Everyone welcome.

Mrs. Del Conway and children, Julee and Danny, spent a week at Otay Lake. The following week Mr. Conway joined them, and they drove to Holtville and then to Big Bear. When they left home, it was 110, and when they got to Big Bear, it was 50. The golf course was frozen.

"Breathers" (Oxygen Breathing Apparatus), and were required to find their way down three deck levels of a mock-up of a ship's compartments, through completely blinding smoke from oil and rubber fires. From there, very relieved to reach open air, the trainees went on to fight oil fires in open tanks, and simulated boiler and engine room fires. They were then given a time-test on rigging pumps and hoses, starting the pumps, and putting out the fires.

The Crest boys made it in two minutes and 45 seconds, and Lieut. Berg said, "Anything under three minutes is considered excellent time. I have known grown men to take 12 minutes to complete this test." Berg went on, "We were a little leery of this deal. Because of their extreme youth, we were afraid these boys would treat the whole thing as a lark. But I have never seen a more serious group, or one more attentive to instruction. They were like a bunch of rabbit ears, and they retained and applied what they were told."

Lieut. Berg, who came to the Crest firehouse Wednesday night to present the certificates for the course, said, "You boys have every right to be very proud. You did a wonderful job, and I would be pleased to see you all again, when you reach Navy age. You will be welcome."

The certificates read, "Training Command, United States Pacific Fleet, Fleet Training Center, San Diego, California. This certifies that (name) has successfully completed a prescribed course in ship-board fire fighting at the Fleet Training Center, San Diego, California, this 11th day of September, 1964. Signed, W. R. Crenshaw, Captain U.S.N. Commanding Officer.

thing is true in their districts. I can only conclude that the people of San Diego County are willing to accept state and federal funds to help finance some of our more expensive projects.

"It is true that some people want state and federal legislators to cut state and federal taxes. This would lower our budget, but if people continue to want the services required in a growing area, then the county tax rate will go up," Bird said.

"I will do what the voters in the Second District ask me to do, and that includes serving the next four years as their Supervisor."

Bird said that if the people wanted him to vote against accepting state and federal money, he will. "However," Bird concluded, "the voting record of the Supervisors shows they won't go along with me. They know, as well as I do, that if San Diego County doesn't accept the money, that county to the north will."

considered. "It is obvious," the Board Member pointed out, "that other revenue sources will have to be developed to compensate for any reduction of the property tax base."

Nevins stated that the Assessors and the State Board of Equalization have cooperated with the Legislative Interim Committees in their investigation period. He stressed the need for continued cooperation with the Legislature so that responsible decisions can be made for the benefit of all the people of California.

ALPINE GARDENER

By JEAN McCULLOUGH

This is bulb planting time of the year and you know if you wanted to learn something of the history of bulbs you would need to go back into antiquity. The Pharaohs used lilies and narcissus in funeral wreaths, and anemones and other bulbs were grown in their gardens.

Greeks used crocuses, hyacinths and lilies in ceremonial crowns, saffron crocus and squills were used in medicines, and saffron crocus was also used as a perfume and dye.

Dutch explorers of South Africa sent a great many varieties of bulbs back to Europe and around the Mediterranean, and of course, the Dutch homeland went in for bulb growing in a big way, and even ate tulip bulbs during World War II.

If you plan on planting tulips or some of the others, the gophers love them, so protect them with little wire baskets or wire netting of some kind. These pests do not seem to like daffodils and there are many varieties of them. The large King Alfred, Yellow Trumpet, Large Cup, Fortune, etc., and others not quite so large but still

A last reminder about the spaghetti (rigatoni) dinner St. Pius X Church of Jamul is planned for Saturday, Sept. 26, at 4 to 8 p.m. Adults, $1.25, children 75c. Top Italian chefs from the San Bernardino area, we're told, will make the sauce. You're all invited. Place, the Church hall.

Jamul voters said No at the polls at Monday's Sept. 14 bond election.

The 4-H Gold Star dinner was held at the Tiki Hut, Town and Country Hotel Thursday evening at 6:30, Sept. 10. Its purpose was to give recognition to members who have reached Gold Star rank, highest rank possible next to All-Star, a State-level rank (Diamond Star's National). Dinner featured rib steaks and a program followed. Last year's Gold Stars were in attendance, as were All-Stars for 1963 and 1964. Slides of the 1963 and 1964 conference were shown. Paul Kistrup was awarded the Guy Nobel Prize, awarded to only two people in the county every year, for outstanding 4-H work. He was presented with a set of sterling silverware. Several Kiwanis clubs and the North Park San Diego Poultry Coop. Assn. sponsored the dinner.

Some readers wondered if I were the T. Egan who contributed to a recent Heloise column. I am not. I have contributed in the past, and once received a postcard from Heloise in Hawaii.

Mrs. Gladys R. Egan, mother of Joe and Paul Egan, passed away Wednesday morning in her Glendale apartment. Tentative cause of death was a heart attack. For some years she had suffered from Parkinson's Disease and heart trouble. She recently had returned from six weeks in Washington. Other sons are Robert C. Egan of Horizon, Wash. and Charles H. Egan of La Crescenta. She had 10 grandchildren. Funeral services were held at her church in Glendale.

beautiful, Trevithian poeticus (one of my favorites). White with small yellow cup edged with a fine red line. Also Sierra Gold, Firetail and others. There are shorter stemmed ones suitable for rock gardens—Agnes Harvey, Thalia jonquilla, Orange Queen, the list goes on and on. There are the species which have a cluster of small blossoms which come in a variety of combinations—all white, all yellow, and white with yellow cup.

Daffodils need fertilizing just like other plants. Use bone meal worked into the ground before you plant the bulbs. Water it well, then plant the bulbs in the manner you have decided on, in a bed or rock garden. Plant large bulbs five to six inches deep. Medium size four to five inches, and small ones correspondingly shallower. It would be well to set bulbs on a little pad of sand for better drainage, then press them down well to eliminate air pockets. Water well and in a few days loosen the soil which may have become packed. I'll try to find out something about lilies in the near future.

I should have added to give the bulbs a spring feeding high in nitrogen with a little bone meal. Then spread a thin layer of compost to help keep the soil cool and moist. After the blooms fade, give them another feeding of phosphorus and potash. These feedings help the newly forming buds for next year. Have a gay garden.

Mayo Stamp

chester, on Sept. 11, the U.S. Postmaster-General, John Gronouski, was the keynote speaker at the affair by more than 350 persons, among them many national figures in government and medicine. Said Mr. Gronouski, "... only people, places and events of the highest cultural and historical significance appear on our stamps. We reserve our stamps for men and events that have left an imprint on our society. Certainly the Drs. Mayo have done this." These words would have greatly pleased our neighbor whose unselfish effort made the stamp possible. In the news releases in the East, Mr. Stearns was praised for his part in the drama of the stamp. They stated that "almost singlehandedly, Mr. Stearns carried on the project for years..."

120,000,000 of the stamps were run off in this initial issue. They went on sale in Rochester on Friday, Sept. 11 and in the rest of the nation on Saturday the 12th.

We have the story of this triumph from Mr. Stearns' widow, Inez, who still lives in Alpine. She feels much satisfaction and pride in the five-cent stamp which will travel the world bearing the likeness of the Mayo brothers and the ideals of her husband.

of Dulzura. Maybe we're doomed. Huh?

Well what do you know. Our reporter got herself a real good steady position. She's on the school board now to replace Luella Reid. She's none other than La Verne Powell. I always knew she could do it. Luella resigned as a board member so she could be free for the "mop up job" after the activity of our youngsters. I certainly don't envy her work.

pital with minor surgery, she's home now and all's well. We're looking forward to seeing you all soon again. P.S. I'll bet Joey really enjoys cleaning his dad's room, making his bed, serving his meals and washing his dishes.

Visiting their respective ranches this past Sunday were Mrs. Marta Krause and Mr. and Mrs. Otto Becker and their children, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Hagan. Mrs. Becker and Mrs. Krause were kept busy relating their experiences to their friends and neighbors on the Hill concerning their recent trip to Europe. Welcome back from us all.

To the best of our knowledge, no deer or hunters were gotten up this way this past weekend.

CAMPO

By FAY FARRIS

People who do not live in our mountains often ask what we do for entertainment, and if they had been with us last week they would have found out. One of the most unusual things we did was going to "Roaring 20's" in Fletcher Hills. There were 21 of us including members of Mt. Empire Woman's Club (sponsor of the party), Homemakers and Lake Morena Woman's Club, and others. We enjoyed a delicious buffet dinner and an evening of entertainment, consisting of singing, dancing, and comedy, including community singing of old-time songs, and at the end a shower of balloons. It was great fun.

Also last week was a Cooper Party at the home of Evelyn Fors, at which there were 22 people. A sandwich luncheon was served, and the hostess received many lovely copper gifts due to the large amount of sales. Babe Johnson received the door prize.

On Wednesday of last week the Lake Morena Combo Club was invited to luncheon and cards at the home of Dell Nielsen in San Diego. We were glad to see how comfortable she was in her new home. Phoebe Thompson remained with her to spend the rest of the week, and the six other members returned home the same day.

Mrs. Lulu Spencer, mother of Lucille Martens, spent last week in San Diego with friends. Jack Martens brought her home on Thursday of this week, but first he took her to lunch at the Town and Country House. Not many men are so nice to their mother-in-law.

The flu bug is making its rounds in our community and has stopped off at a couple of homes. Pat Brown was ill last week with it. Danny Mischler was taken to the hospital for a time and they finally diagnosed his problem as the flu. Mrs. Mischler, son, Bobby, and her father, Albert Sanders, have also had a bout with it.

Betty Jean Brown took ill last Tuesday and was unable to act as flower girl at her sister, Wanda's wedding, but another sister, Debbie came to the rescue and did a fine job, I hear. Hope you are up and around again, Betty Jean.

Mrs. Sue Whitman spent a couple of days in El Cajon Valley Hospital, last week, having ingrown toenails removed, and is now hobbling around home recuperating.

Chuck Jines has one of his arms in a sling, having fallen and come up with a broken arm.

Jean Leedy suffered an accident to her leg, last Monday, from a fall, at her home, and is confined to bed, for a time.

The Pat Presley family were dinner guests at the Dwight Palmer home in Spring Valley on Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Grayson enjoyed Sunday drop-in guests, Nina's mother and friend, Mrs. Hazel Gibbs and Mrs. Hazel Curry of Chula Vista, also Mr. and Mrs. Louis Strahan of National City and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Lester of Chula Vista.

Betty Dickey of San Diego and David Charrey of Camp Pendleton were weekend guests in the Glenn Carpenter home. David then left for his home in Saginaw, Mich., and a 20-day leave after which he will be stationed at the base in Memphis, Tenn. where Ken Carpenter is now stationed. On Sunday morning, Mr. and Mrs. George Williams (Betty's mom and dad) of N. Edwards, Calif., called and announced they would be driving down, and after a nice visit, they returned home on Tuesday.

Sam Grayson left Monday for Agua Caliente Hot Springs where he will live it up in the sun and take advantage of the mineral baths offered by this resort, returning on Sunday.

Mrs. Henrietta Sanford has returned from a trip to Hasting, Neb. where she went to attend her grandmother's funeral. She was accompanied by her brother, Leonard Lightner of National City, and sister, Mrs. Russell Girard of Riverside.

Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Lindemood of Harbison Canyon Road left Thursday for San Francisco and from there they will fly to Hawaii, where they will make their home for the next eight months.

Mrs. Pauline Scheutz and Ben Horner who became Mr. and Mrs. Ben Horner, Saturday, in El Cajon, were surprised guests of honor at a reception at the Community Church on Sunday evening. The new bride and groom were recipients of many lovely gifts.

Joyce Boston has been on a bridal shower go-round for the past couple of weeks. Her aunts, Mrs. Mildred and Geneva Barnett were shower hostesses on Sept. 10, the adults of the First Baptist Church of El Cajon on Sept. 19, and the teen group of the same church hosted another. At last report, Joyce had received many beautiful gifts.

The Community Church's sewing group has resumed its meetings on Thursday of each week from 10 a.m. until 12 noon. An invitation to join in the fun and doings of this group is extended to one and all. Coffee is furnished, but you are asked to supply your own sandwich or what-have-you.

CAP meeting will be held at the Youth Center in Alpine beginning Saturday, Sept. 26 between 9 and 12 noon. Mrs. Hilda Naylor will be in charge and wishes to extend an invitation to all who are eligible to meet with them.

The church potluck held on Sunday, Sept. 20, was a grand success. With rackets gracing each table as decoration, the space theme was further accented while Mrs. Shirley Nies counted down to the accompaniment of the church bells to "blast off" a wonderful evening. Tempting dishes proved the mountain has good cooks to the dismay of the calorie counters. Mrs. Shirley Nies conducted a "sing along" mountain style and then presented Clay Stuart who proceeded with promotion ceremonies. Traditional graduation hats were presented the children with certificates showing the class level of each. Bibles were given Freddie Kuhn, Pamela Millsap, and Darcie Tredway. Others promoted were Terry Rome, Allen and Alvin Kuhn, Vida Rome, Shirley Kuhn, Terry Tredway, Ed-die Millsap, Freddie Kuhn, Darcie Tredway, Pamela Millsap, Susan McEvoy, Tina and Terri Holmes, Donna Huntington and Vera Holmes. Guests of the evening, Mrs. Willadean Hopkins sketched, as the audience marveled, a chalk scene done in fluorescent colors. soft hymns played while the lovely sketch was created before the eyes of the audience. Colored lights were then focused on the sketch, giving illusions of sunset and night-fall. A deeply impressed audience added many oh's and ah's as the lighting changes highlighted Mrs. Hopkins' drawing. The painting was donated to the Sunday School kindergarten class by Mrs. Hopkins and proudly accepted by class teachers, Mrs. Rome and Mrs. Kuhn.

First football game of the season will be played at Campo on Friday, Sept. 25 at 8 p.m. Mountain Empire versus San Diego Military is the scheduled opener. Best of luck, team. Preceding the game, at 7 p.m. sharp, pie and coffee will be served during an informal "hello teachers." Pie and Cake is needed, if you can bring one or more, but come anyway and meet the people who influence your children during their school years.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Webber who own a home in Vista have purchased the Jassaud residence in the burnt Rancheria tract at Mount Laguna. The Webbers expect to enjoy a lot of mountain living in their new home.

A formal dining-in was held at the 751st Radar Squadron in honor of new Commander Major Harlie Johnson. Rev. Addison Moore gave the invocation. Guest speaker of the evening, Clay Stuart spoke on the mountain area. Lt. Col. H. A. Van Fleet was also among the guests present. Held in the dining hall of the 751st the group honored age old tradition and enjoyed a most enjoyable evening.

Bowlers take heed. The first game of the Snow Bunnies Women's Winter Bowling League takes place on Sept. 28. The 25-week series has six teams of three ladies each competing. Best of luck to all the competitors and, of course, may the best team win.

Birthdays this week we'd like to mention are Pat McEvoy from the Laguna Mountain Lodge, Terri Holmes and Donna Huntington. Many happy returns to all.

We'd like to point out the addition of a book store at the Campo Campus. This handy store will make available student needs, such as pencils, pens, paper, locks, etc. Also a variety of novelty pins and pep items for the game fans can be purchased. Located in the rear of the cafeteria for the convenience of all. A new art room and audio visual (that's "fer movin'") pitchers' room have been set up for the junior high students. Just goes to show that improvements are being made whenever finances and space permit.

PINE VALLEY

By LADONNA MUHLHAUSER

Lou and Cecil Herring have just returned from a short visit to San Bernardino where they visited with Cecil's mother, who was in much better health than Cecil expected.

It is with much happiness that we can report Mary Gowdy is once more at home. Dail has taken a week off work to care for her and our informant reports that Dail is doing a wonderful job with the cooking, dishwashing and what have you. The Gowdy's are planning on making Pine Valley their permanent address instead of just week enders.

"Jonsey" Herter has just returned from El Centro where she spent a week with the Bob Garin family.

If you have seen the little notice on the bulletin board at the store, you may be very curious about a "Lost Tree" sign. It seems that Olive Wallace bought a 3-inch pine tree about seven years ago and has pampered it and even got a baby sitter for same while she spends the next few months in Brawley but lo and behold some one like a thief in the night made off with her tree. If anyone knows its whereabouts please return to owner as she is grieving over the tree and does hope whoever has it will care for it as she has done. At the time of its disappearance it was in a wooden tub and almost three feet tall.

Mrs. Griffing Bancroft arrived last Friday for a three-week visit with her sisters at Corde Madera Ranch.

In case you missed it, our ex-beautician Ann Wilson appeared with a nice article in the Monday morning paper. Complete with a picture and an article on her work as a lookout on Los Pinos.

Several weeks ago in the Sunday paper Babe (Bertha) Johnson of La Posta was also given a nice write up but the follow up was the most interesting feature. Babe received several letters from women her age telling her of their interesting past, and one in particular who was in her seventies reported that she was leaving the next morning for a fishing trip in Utah.

Met a most interesting person Saturday evening. She is Miss Mary Holsinger, niece of John and Edie Straub. Miss Holsinger has just returned after five years in Ethiopia where she worked as a registered nurse. When she arrived in Addis that was the easy part of her trip for facing her was a five hour trip by mule to arrive at her station, Bulki. Miss Holsinger was to have a doctor visit once a month but in the five years saw a doctor only a few times. She did say she had a beautiful garden and had strawberries the year around and a house man to take care of the house and garden and while she enjoyed the people and good work she was doing is most happy to be home for a year's furlough.

On Sunday, September 27th a Horse Show is planned at the Pine Valley Stables on Highway 80 just west of the Pine Creek Bridge. Ken Jeffrey manager of the Stables told me they are planning to open the show at 9 a.m. with children's classes in the morning. At noon there will be a free barbecue for all who participate in the show. Beginning at 2 the show will continue with the adult classes. As I am no horsewoman and know nothing about horses will try to tell the straight of the story but if I am mistaken it is because of my ignorance concerning horse flesh. The afternoon classes will include trail horses, registered Appaloosas, Morgans, Quarter horses and Western Pleasure. The judge is Gaylord Parks, Charles Robinson, ringmaster and James Irving, show chairman. This sounds like a real good show and there is ample parking and a very good arena and am sure it will be enjoyed by all.

of preparing a County ordinance to regulate burning within the unincorporated areas of the County which he felt would be similar to the State requirements.

The Commissioners in discussing this problem felt that the Local District should issue regulations in compliance with the State and County regulations and determine whether it was the Local District's responsibility or the County's or the State's responsibility to enforce these regulations.

President Al Hinkle appointed a committee to confer with the County Counsel's office to obtain information from them regarding the proper procedure to follow.

The Commissioners also received a report from a special committee which had been appointed to prepare detailed specifications for a pumper. The Commissioners are contemplating the purchase of such a piece of equipment and were advised by the committee that the specifications had been written after conferring with representatives of other fire departments in the County who are operating this type of equipment at the present time.

The Commissioners will study the specifications individually and make a determination regarding the purchase of a pumper at an adjourned meeting to be held next Monday evening.

impossible to control the spread of rabies in this county since dogs, coyotes and other animals can cross the boundary at numerous places.

The rabies quarantine requires that all persons keep their dogs and other pets confined in a manner that they will not be subject to contact with wandering animals that may be rabid.
