LET US PLANT TREES

Several times we have urged residents of this arid section to start a campaign of tree planting to help conserve moisture, but as usual, little planting was ever done.

The value of this was shown in recent news from New Zealand where a large pulp and paper mill in June starts the harvest of wealth from the largest planting in the world, the Kaingaroa State Forest.

When I was a traveling U.P. writer and lecturer in that delightful little country 'down under', in the late 20's, I was taken by officials to see the wastelands planted by prison labor, mostly conscientious objectors from WWI. Now, 28 years later, the government's idea is bearing fruit in that 20-by-50 mile forest for a $44,800,000 plant is to yield pulp, paper and timber worth some $20 million. The country spent $36,400,000 on a huge new port at Kawarau on the Rarawera River. This will be its fourth industry after meat, butter, wool.

The UN is about to plant 3 million mimosas atop the infertile dunes of Gaza where Arab farmers will eventually be able to reap harvests from the sandy hummocks which today are windblown wastes.

Planting trees around S.D. county, especially in our own community, would not pay in millions of dollars, but it could help yield more water, beautify the landscape and give employment and pleasure to many.

So why not plan right now to put in two or three trees every year around your place. A tree is God's beautiful gift to mankind. -C.I.

BUCHMILLER BOY LOSES DOG

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Buchmiller are worried because their son Terry is all upset over the disappearance of his short haired English pointer Rip. 'We'd like to know what happened to Rip' says Norman, 'so we offer a reward for him dead or alive'. Rip was a good pet, always waited for Terry at the bus stop, and was liked by all. If you have any information, call HI5-2382.

ALPINE IN NEWS AGAIN

Sunday week the S.D. Union ran a beautiful 3-column photo and story on the Community Church in its Fine Arts section. It was well written by Geo. S. Sorenson, chairman, Fine Arts division, S.D. State College.

He gives an enlightening sketch of early church architectural history, winds up with Alpine's 'small, intimate, community church... conceived in the spirit of the small, early, Gothic-English panel church, not in imitation, but rather to have the Gothic sense of reverence and aspiration in a modern setting.'

Note- Regardless of your faith, it is always interesting- and inspiring- to visit different edifices. I have always enjoyed while traveling in foreign countries, the opportunity of entering such edifices not only to see the beauty of architecture, but also to meditate where the presence of One God, surely must be found, and I indeed found it in mighty cathedral or lowliest chapel. Try it sometime. - C.I.

NEW MEMBERS IN CHURCH

At the coffee hour following service Sunday at Community Church, several newcomers were welcomed into membership; Miss La Verne Chenoweth, East S.D.; Mr. and Mrs. Ralph T. Thompson, L.A. They were greeted afterwards at the coffee hour.

Frank Ball is home visiting his parents from USC where he is taking his medical training.

NUTRITION WEEK IS HERE

'To make the public more conscious of the relationship between nutrition and health' says Dr. J.B. Askew, director of public health, is the objective of Nutrition Week, Feb. 13-19. Slogan is 'Food First for Fitness', to help point up the importance of an adequate diet in building healthy bodies and promoting health in all phases of life. This is the season to eat a good breakfast, is its sound advice, to live well a d long. Incidentally, S.D. County has one of the lowest death rates in the U.S., only 7.5 per 1000 population, for 1954, less than 1953.

E.C. CHAMBER AIMS HIGH

The annual installation dinner of the El Cajon Chamber of Commerce was a lively event at Casper's last week with many city and county notables and newsmen on hand.

Objectives, which will help all the back country, include the fine new golf course at Gillespie, expanding work opportunities, industry, building and retail development. Parking and zoning were also highlighted by incoming president Jack Atkinson, of Dorman's.

Talks were made by many, including Carlyle Reed, chamber manager and former newsman. C. Rupert Linley was emcee. Outgoing president F. Jos. Doerr, son of the Alpine Doerrs, told of the work the body had done last season, received a handsome plaque.

Also installed as vice-presidents were Wm. York and Wm. Mariner; new directors; W.R. Carroll, R.C. Hale, Ray Johnson, Felix Landis, Forrest McKinley, Ed Tobin and Wm. Rank.

Note- As S.D. and its fast-sprouting satellite El Cajon, grow, so grows the back country, of which Alpine is a fast enlarging part. The future lies in mutual help and cooperation. We hope Alpine marches along. C.I.

Durbin, a resident of Japatul, says some have reduced feed costs from 10 to 20%, a big item today, with this ingredient called Stilbestrol, which is in Ful-O-Pep Pro-Sweet Supplement put out by the Quaker Oats people.

McKIE BOOSTS ALPINE

Although he now has an office at 3741 Fifth, S.D., Henry McKie, jr., realtor formerly of Alpine, called the Sun to say he has had many calls on his ad, found many visitors have heard of this area and are interested in buying up here. 'We need listings' says Henry, 'so let us have them, CY6-2137'.

JEWELRY AT HARDWARE STORE

Since taking over Alpine Hardware, Gene and Ann Sauter have followed calls for certain goods so that today they term it a department store, and rightly so, for every week they add new lines. Latest is costume jewelry, which they say makes a fine valentine gift. They report steady increase in trade.

HONOR CAMP GETS CHAPEL

Many better men will leave Alpine's Viejas Honor Camp because they will have had the opportunity to improve through the inspirational work of the chaplain, the Rev. Ralph D. Bonacker, for his efforts, with the aid of the men themselves, gave the camp a chapel, dedicated Sunday at 4 p.m. Several hundred came to aid, along with two supervisors and other notables.

Christ Chapel in-the-Mountains, is a rustic building in which the Episcopal County & City Mission Society of S.D. furnished the appointments and services. The inmates did all the work, even erected an attractive stone fireplace.

The dedication followed the Evensong and welcome from the chaplain. Ray Belnap, head of the county honor camps gave greetings with Wayne A. Neal, of the S.D. area Council of Churches. Supervisor James Robbins was main speaker, telling how the camps made better men. He praised Belnap for his new ideas, which are being copied by other counties. Thus there are fewer repeaters and these men go out to earn a living, take care of their families and so on.

Features of the quiet little chapel is the hanging cross, altar, and accessories, all carved by Lt. Comdr. Fred A. Payne, USN retd. of S.D. The battered piano was given a good tuneup by L.E. Watson. Many others aided in completing the chapel, virtually 'a dream come true and a prayer answered' said one speaker.

The choir from All Saints Parish sang. Many men of the camp attended, and seemed proud of their chapel.

As a great Christian mystic wrote many years ago, 'He who seeks God has already found Him', so this chapel in the beautiful hills of Alpine may help other seekers who find themselves in this position, where help from the Father is at hand.

The chaplain's program thanked the administration of honor camps, Ray Belnap, Geo. Jamieson and John Peshel, also these for help and providing items: Miss Sarah Brock, Mmes. Lewis Thornburgh, Paul Stewart, Violet Bartlett, Geo. Burnett, Roger S. Taylor and the Rev. Paul G. Satrang.

TAVERN STAYS OPEN DAILY

In the last two issues Alpine Tavern advertised that a new spring policy of remaining closed during the week, but, says Wm. S. Lethbridge, owner, 'so many called to express their disappointment that we just had to go back to the full week schedule, however we will not serve luncheon, except to clubs by reservation'. Hours for dinner, 5 to 8; Sundays and Holidays 12 to 8.

TAVERN ROAD COMPLETED

All that remains to finish the widening of Tavern Road from South Grade to Dehesa Road, is oiling, county roadmakers having opened the new cutoff with solid graveltop. It is a fine improvement.
