JONES BOOSTS ALPINE

Corky Jones, owner of Alpine Oaks Mobile Estates has just received a large order of attractive folders. It was photographed and printed by Ralph Ames, Escondido, extolls the beauties, climate and location of Alpine, which Jones sends out to pro-spective residents. It is a fine piece of publicity.

What a relief not to have to watch our money any more. The government gets it before we even have a chance to look at it.

EDITORIAL

You are Responsible for Prevention, Control of Fires.

Due to the terrific dry season, worst in 110 years of recorded weather history, we thought that this editorial from last July, when Alpine escaped a major fire disaster, might be well worth repeating. Remember, when lightning starts a fire, that's an accident but if man starts one, that's carelessness! -CI

Last week this community narrowly missed what might have been a disastrous brush fire. Luckily it was contained with no building loss.

But that should only enliven prevention of fires, for government fire fighting crews are not stationed out in the hills to save your home, but to preserve forests and watersheds.

Ed G. Heilman, district ranger at Descanso, says that "Although the forest service will attempt control of structural fires, it is trained, equipped, and legally responsible for watershed fire protection."

An example of this responsibility would be the case where a burning building had caused fire to spread into surrounding watershed. Assuming no risk of life was involved, the service would have to control the watershed fire before attempting control of the building fire. Communities desiring more intensified fire protection have formed fire districts or volunteer fire departments to supplement this watershed protection.

That is why residents of Alpine back in 1946 chipped in pro-rata on assessed tax values, and instituted the first fire department, forming a district, which today has a splendid building, equipment and a lively crew of volunteers who serve the community in the finest manner, always cooperating with government men.

But that does not excuse each resident from helping prevent fires by observing burning rules, handling of fire and incinerators, and in general being ever watchful for fire in this very dry season.-CI

Ray Daley has replaced Ed Heilman as district ranger at Descanso reports S.T. Stevenson, Cleveland Forest supervisor. Daley comes from Los Padres, Heilman goes to Redding.

"Mighty Fine"

(OUR MR. SCRUGGS)

By George Monta

So much a part of what he was Was mirrored from his mind When he would wave his hand And smiling say, 'Mighty Fine'

With dignity and home-spun warmth He went his daily way, And where he went and what he did Reminds us every day That what he gave was what he was, The image of his mind Reflected in that phrase of his 'Mighty Fine'

So many times from old red truck He'd shout a greeting warm, Or stop and in his friendly way Would talk about a storm... Or wells or water tanks too low That always kept him on the go In search of leaks he'd always find To make La Cresta 'Mighty Fine'

He gave his kind, his friendly self To everyone who needed help; He worked, he labored every day; And when in pain, he'd stop and pray For strength, for grace, for quiet rest To help him stand through roughest test, And strength when given made him shine-His peace with God was 'Mighty Fine'

We'll miss him, miss his gentle heart; We'll cherish memories — he was a part; Generous, thoughtful all the time, His life, his soul was 'Mighty Fine'

Yes, now he's in a brighter place Where smiling into God's own face He'll stand and thrill to hear God say-"You're home my son; you're right on time; The life you lived was 'Mighty Fine'

Patriotism on Upturn

Since starting her campaign to put new 50-star US flags in homes, Mrs. Thos. Biggert, Victoria Dr., reports she has placed nearly 350 in the county, including nearby cities. Sale of these flags at cost, took another spurt after the Sun editorial last issue.

Note-We are mighty proud of Alpine's many patriotic folk who display Old Glory regularly. All should know flag etiquette, how to hang one, and above all, to take the Colors in at sunset. Never let the flag remain out all night!-CI
