Pentagon Not Wanted! FWY OPEN JULY 15

Questions, laughs and applause marked the biggest meeting so far of the Town Council Friday night in Fuller Hall with Ben Polak, president pro-tem, in the chair.

The audience of about 40 interested residents heard two educators give both sides of the school unification question, then answer questions. From applause, it was indicated that the public went along with the local school board as not

If all goes as slated and no heavy rain slows work, Interstate 8 will be open on July 15 from Harritt Road to Dunbar Lane, the highway office told the Sun Wednesday.

Presently a detour over the new roadway allows traffic to curve around Hwy 80 from the Canyon road to Dunbar Lane, giving motorists an idea of how nice it will be when ready. The C. W. McGrath Co., is working at top speed to make the target date, which at first was thought to be July 1.

SAM RANDAZZO has big grin for Sun lensman Celeste Irvine at their auction that proved successful even though it couldn't be held. People came from all over to get bargains. EDITORIAL

Americanism is not State or US Control.

Last Friday night at the lively meeting of the Town Council during the question period, one man arose and said "I do not want to ask a question, but I think unification is unAmerican, taking control away from the people and giving it to the state or federal government".

He received a round of applause. Likewise the consensus of the school board here, and others too, is that we, the people, want to retain control of our own affairs which we know more about than any distant bureaucratic office in Sacramento or Washington. County control from San Diego is bad enough!

Lucid evidence of this was when a woman asked the speaker why none from Alpine was running for the Gross-mont unified board. Chas. Campbell, member, replied in a few words; "Because this board is not for unification so why should anyone run for office on something we do not believe in?"

Many today think that too much is being taken away from we, the people, turned over to highly paid commissioners, board members, directors and so on, who create big, expensive staffs to make up new rules, forms and a blizzard of paper work which has bogged down business all over the nation.

If we want to retain our freedom, we must get busy and work or fight! -CI

Bank's 3d Anniversary

On May 10, 1963, the attractive new Security First National Bank's Alpine Branch opened, the first between El Centro and El Cajon. Thus it just observed its third birthday with a growing business that proved the wisdom of establishment.

Three employees who were there, are still with the institution; Manager Ross Mallette and two tellers, Eve Peterson and Virginia Spires. Don Gardner and Peggy Hughes were since transferred. Replacing them is Carl Nentwick and Ginger Weseloh.

Tuesday the Sun called the mainoffice to congratulate the bank on the birthday and Vice President J.R. Ketchum said that business increase "is at a modest pace up to the projection set for it. We believe that the freeway will aid progress and more will be living here which will make the branch meet the projection. More growth is unquestionably due for Alpine".

NEW SECURITY BANK PLAN

A new idea in handling checks to merchants has just been developed by Security First National Bank called Check Guarantee Card which stands behind them up to $100. It is not another credit card, but a new and unique service. Only requirement, approved credit and a personal checking account at any of the many Southland banks of Security. The new program was launched by Lloyd L. Austin of LA chairman of the board.

"This program is the result of many months of extensive market research", he said, "and it is not just another identification card, for no other bank 'guarantees' payment to all retailers and businessmen who accept the checks; in short the bank customer's checks are as good as cash". The new card plan starts on June 1.

INTEREST IN RECREATION GROWS

Ed Torgersen, owner of Stallion Oaks Ranch, Boulder Creek Rd., told the Sun that the last week-end attendance for dance hall, riding and swimming brought out a larger crowd than the New Year's Eve doings. They had a group of advertising folks down from LA, Torgersen being in that profession.

His new trailer park of 25 spaces is about ready to start building, and work is progressing on poolside facilities.

It is better to take things as they come than to try to catch them as they go.

Anyone interested in buying two donkeys, a jenny and a jack? They only want $25 each for them and Mrs. Van Vechten, who owns them, would like to have the pair go to one owner. Call 444-0692 if you are interested.

June and Frank Sortino came over Saturday to see our new little filly and thought she was "just beautiful". They had to tranquilize their mare Dolly in order to move her and their filly, they named Shalimar, up to their new home on Victoria Drive. Dolly didn't want anyone to touch her colt and even though she was drugged she still put up a fight, but is now happy in her new corral.

Rosalind Cooley is back in school after the mishap on the horse belonging to Margo Scolari's horse. She spent 10 days in the hospital with a torn ligament in her sacroiliac.

Sunday McCall's Ranch School is holding their annual horse show at 2 pm at their ring on South Grade Road. Anna Hamilton Rhinehart has been instructing the students and Bob Alcorn will be the judge. This show is always very nice so anyone interested in watching it can go over and see what Anna can do with riders that were real green to begin with.

Sherri Bingham has her 2½ year old mare up for sale. It is an off white and an excellent horse for an experienced rider. She lives at the top of Eltinge Drive so go and see her if you are interested.

CELESTE'S picture of Mrs. Rash's new horse colt shows the baby just several hours old. It is silver with black mane and tail and a real beauty. So far they haven't come up with a name but will let us know when they select a good one.

We had a nice letter from Terri Packard Wheeler last Thursday and she told us she had bought a registered quarter horse a year old and his name is Paul's Cookie. Her husband Marvin is going to help her train him.

Wilma Peters is so happy her mare Sassy is in foal. The vet confirmed it last week, and now she is marking the calendar like the rest of us, only she has longer to wait.

Jim King, Alpine's pioneer painter of interior and exterior work, is on a long job refurbishing the home of Mrs. Pauline Oeser, Alpine Heights Road.

Mrs. Bowlus in Hospital

As she was about to enter her car in an EC shopping center Monday afternoon, Mrs. Muriel Bowlus, Marshall Road, turned her heel, fell to the pavement, had to be assisted into the car. She and Miss Ruth Burdett had been shopping. Although she was in pain, she drove home, using her left hand as her right elbow was hurting and she had extreme pain in the right hip.

She was later taken to an EC hospital, where Wednesday it was reported she is in good condition, but with a fractured elbow and hip.

"A strange thing is that two weeks ago she told me", Miss Burdett said, "If I ever have to go to the hospital, there's a packed suitcase in my closet which should go with me. So Mrs. Like took it to her later that day, but I know she had no idea that anything was going to happen to her".

RUTH BURDETT, Alpine's popular piano teacher, snapped by Celeste at her annual recital Saturday night.

MCCALL'S ELATED

Mr. and Mrs. Carl McCall of the Ranch School bearing their name are elated over the acceptance by PSA of their daughter Betsy, 18. She was one chosen in a group of 400. The 27 lucky ones started ground school immediately will take to the air Monday for more training after which Betsy will become a full-fledged stewardess.

Bad Boys Miss Disneyland

For weeks school youngsters have been dreaming of their coming trip to that wonderous place of amusement for all ages, Disneyland. They have been raising money to pay for it, but there are a few boys that are now very, very sorry they went on a petty thieving trip around town, for the school has denied them the trip with these words "We cannot take boys that we cannot trust".

RERUN ORSON WELLES' THRILLER

Millions may have been startled out of their wits back in 1939 when the young, talented actor Orson Welles broadcast his thrilling "War of the Worlds". This radio classic, taped from the original disc, is now a collector's item, which many fans will tape for themselves from this rerun.

DOUBLE TALK

By Cecile & Celeste Irvine

Friday night Danny Rash had an unlucky accident when he fell off of his bike and broke his left arm. This is the second time he has broken the same arm.

Another bit of unfortunate newshappened to Nancy Sockwell Friday when she fell off of the bench during PE and slit a gash in her chin that requires six stitches. She was lucky it was under her chin.

Mrs. Colby came by last week to see our neighbors and she said her granddaughter Karen Kilpatrick was working down at Sea World and just loved it.

Kenny Freedman and his dad left yesterday to look over the campus at Arizona State where he has been accepted. He chose that college because of their business courses.

Pam Axsom's brother Mickey got married Friday night and only his immediate family was there.

Darlene and Beverly Smyth came up to us at the Glenview calf drawing and gave us some good news. Their goat Lilly had twins that they named Flag and Spot.

Doug Payne had Bob Peters on the back of his Honda when the front wheel locked throwing both to the pavement. Doug skinned his face and Bob got a bruised shoulder. Doug has had to have treatments as he got dirt and gravel in the wound which became infected. This week his family is moving closer to Alpine but still on Willows Road in the old Dutch Anderson house. It has two stories and a creek runs the year around so they won't have to water their stock. They are going to sell the other house as it was too small for their family.

WINNER of the annual Glenview Feed Store calf drawing Saturday was Dennis Dart, 9308 Lakeview Rd., Lakeside. Here he is accepting "Old Silver" from Mr. Palmer, store owner. Dennis said he will raise the animal for beef & ordered 20 copies of the Sun with his picture by Cynthia in it.

Cynthia took Libby Wake, Paula Anderson, April Mansfield, Celeste and myself to help her pick out her Prom dress and accessories. The Senior Prom is held May 28th at the US Grant with the after-prom party at Parkway Bowl. They all may go to Disneyland afterward but plans haven't shaped up for that yet.

Mrs. Sockwell told Mama Saturday that Rickey had written her saying he was right next to the Cambodia border and fighting in the thickest jungle he ever saw.

being interested in unification.

For the measure was Harold Hughes, pioneer educator, deputy superintendent of Grossmont HS District, also of Grossmont JC District. Opposing was Chas. Skidmore, superintendent of Santee School District.

Hughes' contention is that unification will yield better education than fragmented control, saying that finances was not the most important point. He said the state has been moving toward this for 20 years.

Skidmore plainly said the main reason is that the state does not want so many people to argue with when they ask for things and "their ultimate plan is to eliminate all districts-- fight now or later, or not at all". He asked where the pentagon would be to house all the state officials on education?

One woman asked why no member of the local board had filed for the Grossmont board if unified. Charles Campbell replied, "Because none on our board wants unification".

PAUL ANDERSON TO HOSPITAL

new dwelling they will build on this choice site. They came here for health reasons, having heard of Alpine's salubrious climate as they lived for some time in the Imperial Valley. He was a friend of Malcolm Huey who told of the fine climate here which helps asthma and bronchial troubles.

Russell is a retired service station builder and operator, has five places he just leased for long terms in the north. He sees a great future for this area with the coming of the freeway.

Tuesday Fred Rushing started leveling the site and building will start shortly. Seller was M.P. Deyling, former owner of Shadyrock Ranch, now of SD who is having sewer and water run to this and other lots he owns on Eltinge, where he built two houses recently.

The dwelling will have two bedrooms and 1½ baths, with 2 car garage. The deal was handled by Lillian Barrett of Smith Realty here, who reports increasing interest in Alpine property of late.

Carl Strauch is home on a two weeks furlough before being sent overseas. His dad drove up to LA last Sat. and picked him up, will leave May 20th for England. Carl was recently married to Collette Elliott and as both are airmen 3/C she will try to get a transfer to be with him, as he will be stationed there for three years.

How's Your Tension?

The modern life we live is one of constant demands. This has created some problems-- one of which is tension, a common everyday muscular habit. Let's briefly consider muscle control. Do we have the ability to relax naturally or are we slaves to muscular tension? The number of muscles in the human body total 792 which average about one-half the body weight. When some of these muscles are tight-- especially the back of the neck and shoulder areas-- the body doesn't function as efficiently as it might. What is the usual solution for this condition? Drugs! Right! These only dull the nerves so they won't register pain and do not eliminate the underlying cause which is primarily the basis for the tension. When we learn to relax normally, the body automatically adjusts to its environment and we manage our lives more effectively. You're always at your best in any situation when you are relaxed.

Here's to better health the natural way.
