OKAY LOS COCHES INTERCHANGE

At longlast Glenview, where Los Cochés Road comes into Old Hwy 80, is to get its access to the freeway, as told in a report from the Calif. Division of Highways.

They are calling for bids for ramps, grading for which was done in 1965. This will permit direct access between the Lakeside area, Glenview and Interstate 8. Bids will be opened in LA on Dec. 21, and if OK, work would start in 30 days, completion by spring of 1968.

DINOSAURS MAKE BIG AIRWAVES!

Wednesday the Sun had a call from Hollywood about the 3 dinosaurs that Capital Services have offered to give to anyone who would move them out of the park to make room for building the 243-space trailer park. It was Mike Greywitt of CBS News, verifying the story, which the Sun promptly did, giving him the number of the firm in SD, so he called Christopher Sickles, made an appointment for the interview, bringing more publicity to Alpine.

ALPINE STAGES A NEEDED FIRST

What is believed to be the first session of its kind took place in the school auditorium last week when 3 inmates from Barrett Honor Camp sat in and answered questions of 8th graders on the use and abuse-- and horrible dangers-- of drugs.

The trio were users and handlers of such items as marijuana, LSD and others, but have learned their lesson and will soon be released. They were introduced as Mike, Frank and Michael, by Robt.

VALLEY MAN OPENS FRUIT STAND

Ed Vaughn, of El Centro, a 22-year pioneer in Imperial Valley and experienced in the fruit and vegetable business for many years, has just opened the A.P. Fruit Stand, 2721 Hwy 80, next to Alpine Home Bakery. He operates a line of trucks from the valley to the Coast, thought that Alpine could do with such a shop, so opened it here, with Mrs. Carolyn Beaver in charge. She lives at the Willows, has two children, Terry, 4½, and Wanda 5½, in kindergarten here.

NEW SUN MAP SHOWS FREEWAY

In the middle of this issue you will find the Sun's new map of Alpine from Dunbar Interchange up to the Willows Interchange and showing the new Interstate 8 Freeway.

Open the staple, remove the map and put it up for future reference. It shows all the new streets, including Alpine Blvd. which supplants Hwy 80 when the route is opened at 1968 year's end.

George Grube, owner of Alpine Home Bakery took the back pages of the map and the panel for advertising which helped the Sun finance this project, a public service which it has offered for many years.

Grube is taking 2000 extra maps and putting the Sun's Yellow Pages with his ads, and giving them to visitors. The chamber of commerce bought 1000 for inquirers. Alpine Realty took 1000, as did Pierce Realty, for same distribution, a good boost for this area. Smith Realty, Henry McKie, N.M Grieco and Tony Misuraca, also bought a supply. Good boosters, all.

WHOA, NOT SO MANY KILLED

Last issue the story of Richard Lee Cox, grandson of the C. C. Sherburnes, who is fighting in Vietnam, had a note to the news saying that he "had seen whole divisions killed". That might be several thousand men. What he did see must have been whole platoons.

Allie Vigneault, Alpine Oaks Trailer Park, flew to Memphis, Tenn. last week to be at the bedside of her sick sister Lorie Lutz who is in St. Joseph's Hospital there. Allie's mother, Mrs. Wm. Taylor of Pine Bluff, Ark., is making her home here and husband Blackie is looking after her and their pet siamese cat.

"We have done very well since opening the shop", says owner Ed Vaughn of new A.P. Fruit Stand, 2721 Hwy 80. Here he and Mrs. Beaver, who runs the shop, bring in a load of ripe Valley Cantaloupes, which are fast nearing end of season.

Tonight members of Baptist Church of the Willows will enjoy their annual Thanksgiving Dinner starting at 6:30. Mrs. Larry Delong and Mrs. Paul Thorp are hostesses for the affair and it is open to members and their guests.

June Smith and her family, Tavern Road, have been entertaining her mother and father Mr. and Mrs. Jim Milton of Santee. They will be there one more week before leaving on a retirement trip.

Steamers could eliminate smog menace?

It is surprising to many to know that some 100 steam automobile fans silently sped to San Clemente last weekend for a conclave of the Steam Power Club. And they left no stinky fumes to pollute the once pristine fresh air of San Diego County.

All you heard was a swoosh-woosh, as the 50-year old cars, once kings of speed, concentrated on the beautiful coast city for their get-together. As a boy I polished brass on the old Stanley and White steamers, once in a while got to ride in one, saw many of them on the highways.

Wayne Nutting of the club remarked that "one of these days if the public gets mad enough about the foul air it breathes, gas driven cars will be banned. Then Detroit will have to turn to steamers".

Members of this unique club, showing off their old steamers, believe this car will sooner or later stage a comeback, for they are silent, fast, have no transmission--just a throttle like a locomotive--are easy on fuel, kerosene which burns under the average 6-gallon boiler which reuses much of the steam, and they have more power and speed than gas cars, and of course practically no fumes.

Strangely enough the first "road wagon" was built by a Frenchman, in about 1770, and propelled by a steam engine mounted on the single front wheel, with 2 wheels aft over which the driver sat. Its speed was only 2½ mph, and it had to stop about every 100' to regain pressure! In 1787 an American came out with a steam vehicle, as did others in England, but inventors soon developed the internal combustion powerplant which superceded the steamers.

The only other alternative to the pollution-making gas cars is the electric which is today being developed by several manufacturers. According to medical science and meteorologists, the entire world is today fast being enveloped in a death-dealing smoke--not fog, misnamed smog--which can take off thousands in a day!

Perhaps this is more of a problem than Vietnam, or cancer! C1

If ye shall ask anything in my name, I will do it. -John 14:14

'GAS CHAMBER' FOR TERMITES

Last week, before escrow closed on the Archer house, Eltinge Dr., a pest control firm placed a tent over and around the entire building, turned on the gas and left it for overnight. In photo Al Wensel is unpinning the fabric and letting it fall. On next page are he and Jerry Aggson removing long sandbags which held down the tent bottom prior to unpinning the sections.

Cost is around $480. for the job, which uses deadly poison Vikane sulfuryl fluoride gas. Danger signs were placed all around the building by Columbia Pest Control of LM, who did the job for Cartwright Termite Control. Gas was permeating from 3 p. m. to 8 a. m., but none could enter the house till after 4 p. m.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Clark, Tavern Road, were on hand Wednesday morning when Lake Murray opened for Trout fishing. They caught 6 nice ones and brought them home to enjoy.

Although Smiley's Motel had its front taken off by the freeway, its amiable and enterprising owner, is again busying himself in his hobby shop building all kinds of attractive wooden novelties as he has done in years past.

His work is perfection itself and he puts a lot of ideas into the many items he produces such as coffee tables, clocks, lamps and so on, and will make anything to order. He has a completely equipped shop at 3905 Hwy 80, and spends many leisure hours there at work.

HORSE TALK

By Cynthia Irvine McTaggart

Tomorrow Frontier Riders are having a fun show at Tumbleweed Ring starting at 9 am with Katie Carpenter judging. Entry fees are 75¢ a class with trophy and ribbons thru 5 th place. Don't know of anyone going from here for this show but it sounds like a nice one.

Nancy Sockwell Tompson is going to keep her horse Babe and as soon as her baby is born and she is strong enough to ride she will start riding again. 9 months sure is an awful long time to be off a horse, that is, if you really like to ride.

sored by Alpine Riding Club was real nice with Linda Rushing ahead with 38 points, Mike Scully, 36, Eileen Dun, 34, Julie Adams, 24, Tommy Judd, 22, and Pam Weisbach 7. There is still one more to go before winners are announced for the trophies that will be given out at the Dec. 9th potluck picnic.

Election of officers for the new year will be selected at the Dec. 5th business meeting and all members and prospective ones are urged to attend.

A lot of Alpine Riding Club members were put out last week when they found someone had taken the bathtub they used for watering their thirsty horses. Also they had to borrow stakes for the show as somebody took off with 4 of them. This isn't the first time Alpine Riding Club has had to replace their property. It's too bad that things like this have to happen.

George Archer sold his palomino gelding to Mc Calls Ranch, along with all the tack, 3 bathtubs and equipment. They are really thrilled with him.

Now it the time to check your horse for bots as the little insects have been busy laying their eggs on your horses mane, legs, tail, and stomach. They are little yellow eggs and the horses bit at them getting them in their stomach and intestines. If you are following a carefully guided preventative medication program for your horse, you needn't worry but if you are not, this is the time to have him checked over by a vet and wormed. The vet's cost is small and he does a thorough job. It is a very sad day when you realize what dreadful damage can be done by this murderous parasite as we have read of several horses being lost due to the bot fly.

JERRY KLIPP

Funeral was last Friday in Encinitas Mortuary for Gerard L. "Jerry" Klipp, 46, of 3703 Manchester, Encinitas. Burial was in Rancho Santa Fe Valley.

Klipp, formerly of Harbison Canyon, had been a trustee of Alpine School, was a distributor for the 7-up Co., later, with his wife, owned Big Oak Ranch.

EC COUPLE WEDDED HERE

Saturday at 3:30 a lovely wedding took place in the First Baptist Church of Alpine, Tavern and Arnold, when the Rev. French P. Blevins united Joe Allen Holland 21, and Treva Dianne Lambert, 16. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Holland of Traxton, Wash., and she is the daughter of Mrs. Thelma Dianne Lambert, of EC., shown in middle of photo, with the maid of honor and the best man.

Organist was Miss Frieda Abram and there were 3 bridesmaids and three ushers, for the double-ring service. The newlyweds left for Catalina on a honeymoon, will reside in EC.

Wives are a lot like fisherman. They brag about the ones that got away and complain about the ones they caught.

GENE ADAMS HOME

A two weeks vacation was enjoyed by Mr. and Mrs. Gene Adams, the Willows, and 3 friends, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Dobson and Tom Durchanin. They drove to the western part of Colorado and went deer hunting. They got the limit there and then on to Durango where they bagged two more and came home with four.

Mrs. Martha Cottrell arrived Tuesday from Cerritos, near LA, to spend Thanksgiving with her daughter, Mrs. Violet Durham, and to be here for the opening today and tomorrow of the Durham's new Alpine Hobby & Rock Shop.

DOUBLE TALK

By Cecile and Celeste Irvine

We were in luck Friday afternoon, Celeste's drama teacher said she didn't have to rehearse Saturday so we jumped in the car and came on home. After breakfast we packed an overnight bag and drove down to Brawley to attend the Cattle Call Rodeo. Doug McClure who plays Trampas in "The Virginian" led the parade with Earl Allen and after the big barbecue Doug entered the rodeo and got quite a few cheers. I took Celeste's picture standing beside him on his horse but won't have it for a week or two as my camera has 30 shots and it takes time to run them all off. He was real nice and very friendly. We had a good time and saw Barbara Presley and her cousin there and said hello.

If you think there is no water in Alpine--- natural underground water that is---you have another guess coming, for this week they had to install a pump to remove flowing water from the lower end excavation for a large culvert off W. Victoria. Photo shows worker standing where water had been before it was pumped out. They have to do that every day. This trickle fed the creek into old Peacock Ranch where they had several ponds.

FORDNEY'S HOME FROM PA,

Mr. and Mrs. George Fordney, the Willows, just missed being snowed in Saturday night. They left New Castle, Pa. that morning with her mother, Mrs. Pearl Smith for Alpine and later 24 inches of white stuff covered the area. They spent 5 weeks on the trip, had a wonderful visit and are happy to be home.

HOLIDAY FRUIT BALLS

During the holidays most of us seem to get more than our share of sweets. One way to cut down on the consumption of commercial sugar is to substitute dried fruits. Here we offer a suggestion in the form of fruit balls made exclusively from natural foods.

We use unsulphured prunes, raisins, figs, (optional) apricots and dates, about 1½ pounds, after seeds and stems have been removed. Put into food grinder along with one cup of shelled walnuts. Add 4 tbsp. orange juice, mix and let stand in refrigerator several hours for easier handling. Then shape into balls the size of a large filbert and roll in ground coconut. Store in cans---these fruit gems get more mel-low with age---if you can keep them around that long.

FREAK SHOCK BREAKS WINDOW

Friday they let go with a solid granite blast for the freeway in the W. Victoria area and the vibration probably following a solid rock formation southward to Hwy 80" said a spokesman, cracked a large plate glass window in Florence's Market. Owner Jerry Harmer had to tape both sides of the zigzag crack, cut a finger in the process. Insurance covers the loss. They have had few such troubles on this big job.

BANK GROWS, ADDS TO STAFF

Security First National Bank's Branch is making steady growth, reports Manager Luther Mohr, is adding to its staff for the first time in 2 years, with the engagement of Mrs. Judy L. Ellis, of Japatul Rd. She will be proof operator. She lives on their ranch with her husband Arthur Jay, who is attending Grossmont College. He was with the forestry service for 10 years. Judy is a native of Sioux City, Ia. They have 2 children.

Ginger Weseloh will now be full time on escrow work, which has increased in recent months, says Mohr. "We are getting a NCR 450 proof machine soon, to take care of our own work right here", he adds.

3 MORE GROUPS OK GH BONDS

Ralph Kulk, Citizens Committee head, reports that 3 more groups have just endorsed the Grossmont Hospital bonds for $8 million. They are the realty board and the Exchange Club of LM, and the Kiwanians of Lake Murray.

The bonds would finance a new 300-bed wing plus 9 new operating rooms and several other needed facilities. Vote will be on Nov. 28.

Will Kellogg, realtor of LM, formerly of the McCoy Co., here, reports that he has only one 2-bedroom apartment left in the new 10-unit building on Arnold Way. His 3 units have 25 apartments.

"No, we will not be building any more for some time", he told the Sun Wednesday, "as money is too tight, and getting worse now. So we will get the whole area landscaped and improved.

Three elderly men were having fun discussing the ideal way of leaving this world. The first one thought being hit by a car would be the best. The 2nd suggested a jump from a plane.

"My idea is the best," smiled the 3rd, "I'd rather be shot by a jealous husband."

DUNS ENTERTAIN NEPHEW

After an interesting two weeks in Alpine, William Carr, nephew of Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Dun, Victoria Drive, drove to Las Vegas. June Dun, Peggy Moran, the Dun's married daughter, Helen Hayden and Mrs. Dun drove in Peggy's car to Nevada with him and from there Mrs. Dun and daughter June flew with him to Toledo to visit her sister Mrs. Nellie Carr. She said "the weather was beautiful and we all had just the best time." The others drove home after having a vacation in Nevada.

WOODRUFF BEGINES 8TH YEAR

Dave & Naomi Woodruff, who own, edit and publish the Mt. Empire Chronicle, started their 8th year last Friday with Vol. 8, No. 1. Their first little paper came out on Oct. 21, 1960, in only 8 pages and 6" by 9". It has covered the back country well and today is full tabloid size in 8 pages.

Like the Alpine Sun, now completing its 16th year, the Chronicle is a genuine grassroots newspaper with the ideal of helping promote its area. Hearty congratulations, Dave, Naomi and daughter Cheryl.

NO WAR SERVICE ON VETS' DAY

Although Alpine has observed Armistice Day--now Veterans' Day--for many years, this season none took part, says Cdr. Bert Fuller, USN ret'd, who usually conducted the memorial service. There is no VFW or Legion Post here and not much activity to warrant it.
