Murray Muncill's idea of having a "Babes Birthday Party" in his Log Cabin Cafe each month for those whose natal day is in that month, is attracting much attention.

This month the party will be Tues. June 16, at 7 p.m. Already 16 have signed the list posted in the lounge, which must be done if you wish to enjoy the affair.

EDITORIAL

MEMORIAL DAY MEANS FUTURE, NOT PAST.

Guest Editorial by Roger Larson, Ph.D.

Memorial Day is observed in Northern states on May 30. There is a legend that it dates back to a German-born soldier in the Grand Army of the Republic who said the Germans place flowers on the graves of fallen soldiers. Americans took to the idea and began decorating graves during the Civil War. We do not know whether or not that German soldier was the one who planted the seed of this day, but while the war was still going on it became a practice in Southern states for mothers and widows of fallen soldiers to decorate the graves of their loved ones.

In the North this date was set in 1868 when Gen. Logan issued an order designating May 30 to decorate graves of their comrades who had died in the defense of the country during the late rebellion, and whose bodies now lie in almost every city, village or hamlet churchyard. It is the purpose of the commander-in-chief to inaugurate this observance with the hope that it will be kept up from year to year while survivors of the war remain to honor the memory of the departed. The date was made legal first in Rhode Island in 1874. Now it is recognized in all but some of the Southern states. First it was called Decoration Day but later that was felt inadequate to express the ideas and feelings of the occasion so it became Memorial Day. At first it recognized Civil War veterans, later included all of them.

We have Memorial Day because we have history. We have a history because we build, and depend on what people in the past have done.

Animals have no Memorial Days because they have no history. It makes no difference to them what other animals did before them. Their lives are the same anyhow.

This is not true of people. It makes a difference to us what those of the past have done, and it will make a difference to future generations what we do. We progress because we can inherit the contribution of people before us, and add to it, and sometimes subtract from it.

Therefore we honor those who have been here before us. We honor those who have given us our country and who have developed it and improved it as well as preserved it. We honor the fallen who gave their lives for it, both those who died for it and those who lived for it. We have Memorial Day because we

SILVER ANNIVERSARY FOR 'FAIREST'

Thursday, June 11, will be a big day for Miss Alpine-- Lenore Brereton-- and the 24 other lovelies competing for the glory of being Fairest of the Fair for the 1970 Expo in Del Mar. It is at the Scottish Rite Memorial in Mission Valley starting at 1:30 pm., final judging to be at 7:30, open to the public.

The Fairest will reign at the great Expo, June 24-July 5, assisting that perennial hero, Don Diego-- Tommy Hernandez-- in his 22nd year as symbol of the fair.

Unique highlight is that the past 24 fairest queens have been invited to this pageant where those present will be introduced and slides of them when they were the fairest, will be shown.

It is not known whether the 1958 winner, Raquel Welch (Tejada), of La Jolla, will be on hand, but she should, for the event sparked her into fame. Pretty Carolee Meachum, the 1969 winner, will be there for sure.

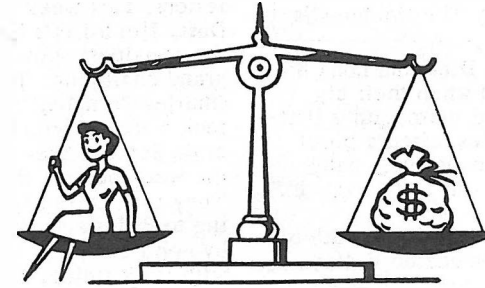

COUNTY TO AID ELDERLY

Some 21,000 senior citizens who live in the unincorporated areas of SD County, part of the county's 108,000 oldsters over 65, may be helped by a new officer of SC affairs, first proposed last October by Henry Boney, supervisor chairman.

It will be a referral center and information center for those seeking assistance, employment, housing, health care and similar matters. It will give data, replacing dozens of phone calls and personal trips to different agencies. It will open around Nov. 1, says Boney.

A minister looked at one of his parishioners coldly. "I hear you went to a ball game Sunday instead of coming to church."

"That's a lie," the man said "and I have the fish to prove it."

HOW MUCH MONEY IS A WIFE WORTH?

Obviously, the value of a wife, mother and homemaker can't be measured in terms of dollars and cents. But many a husband overlooks the impact that the death of his wife could have on the family's financial picture.

For example, if the wife dies, her husband's net income is reduced because he loses out on joint income splitting on his tax return. If she has assets, her husband might have to pay inheritance taxes on her estate. Then there are final expenses plus the fact that the husband might have to hire help to care for children and the home.

"Wife Insurance" based on New York Life's Whole Life insurance can help offset these problems by providing cash for the husband's added expenses. And while the wife lives, it builds cash values available for an emergency . . . can even pay her a lifetime income later on. What's more, Whole Life's premiums are lower for women as their "insurance age" is 3 years younger than men.

HORSE TALK

By The Double C's

Tuesday morning Dick and Lona Brotherton were thrilled when their big white mare presented them with a little sorrel filly. Our horses raised a bit of a fuss, guess they thought the baby should have been on our side of the fence.

Mark Keeter entered his 3-month old quarter colt in the Escondido Valley Riders Show Sunday, took first place, got the blue ribbon and a beautiful trophy. He certainly was thrilled.

Even though Sleepy Hollow Ranch is for sale Dick DeMatteis is still in business there training horses and giving lessons. Last week he entered Speckle Dust, Jim Biller's beautiful stallion in the appaloosa show in Chino and took grand champion. Tracy King rode Charles Campbell's Crown Jewel and took a second with her. At the California Boarder Show in Rancho California the week before, they won 5 trophies. They took Crown Jewel, Rinky, belonging to Biller and Skip Scamp, owned by Bob Petrovich. Skip won 3 classes with Dick riding, the others took two beautiful trophies. Sounds like Dick is working hard with these winners.

Ellen Hood has Tyger Tail for sale. He has turned out to be a fantastic jumper, can clear every standard jump set up for him. Bet our filly she bought from us will be good at it too as her mother was Alpine's best for quite a few years.

If you want to go riding and haven't a horse, Stallion Oaks in Descanso now has 24 riding horses in their stable, with beautiful trails in all directions. Ed Torgersen is still owner, invites all to come up and visit the ranch.

RICHFIELD HAS MORE DELAYS

It seems that hard luck is hounding that fine new Atlantic Richfield Station at Monterey Place & Tavern offramp west where G. H. Hilderbrand is getting ready to open as dealer.

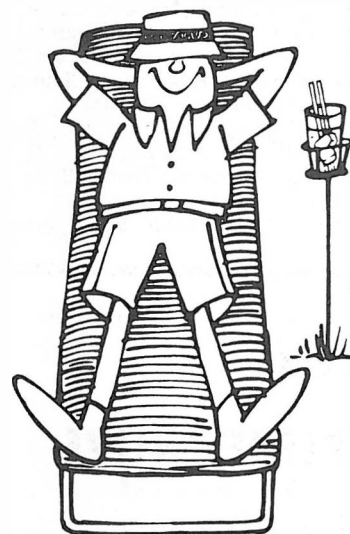

Picture shows Chuck Winkler on one hot day last week digging into the concrete so that added pipelines may be installed. He is with Western Service & Equipment Co. of SD. Valentine Gaudian was in charge. Still delayed is the water connection which has to come across inside the Tavern Road bridge structure. No opening date has as yet been set.

FIREMEN SAVE BOY'S LIFE

A fast 3-minute run from the fire station up to the forestry station on Alpine Blvd., and quick work with the resuscitator and oxygen, saved the life of 18-month old David, son of Allen and Sunnie Bond, Thursday of last week.

The child had undergone a throat operation and the tracheal tube through which he breathed, a new one, somehow came out, and he started to suffocate. They worked for 58 minutes, reported Chief Dale Bennett.

The firemen treated the boy and today he is all right. The Bonds came here from the Japatul station to be nearer doctors and a hospital as the child is in constant danger. Bond is foreman at the station opened on June 1 for the season. He has one helper, says the fire hazard is growing daily in the back country.

"I wish to thank those volunteers for their fine work in helping us out with the boy", declared Bond, and Bennett said he appreciated the quick response of the 10 volunteers who answered the call.

FUTURE BRIGHT SAYS SICKLES

The modern new 125-space mobile-home park the Los Coches, east of EC near the I-8 Los Coches offramp, will be open next month, reports Christopher D. Sickles, president of Medical Growth Industries, which owns the fine 151-space Vista Alpine here. The new project is valued at $700,000.

Sickles' group known as MGI, for the 3-month period ended Mar. 31, showed a gross revenue from all its projects of $3,215,237, against $1,388,827 for the same 1969 period.

THEIR GOLDEN WEDDING SUNDAY

Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Coppock will be honored on their 50th wedding anniversary Sunday, June 7, in the Woman's Club between 3 & 5 p. m.

The affair will be hosted by Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Peterson. He is the happy couple's nephew. Also assisting will be friends, Mmes. Francis Lyman, Douglas Schacht, Lloyd Norse, Daniel Westfall, Emil Sachse and Vernon Rood.

Mr. and Mrs. Coppock have lived in Alpine 14 years, coming from Indianapolis, where Coppock retired from the Water Company. He is a graduate of Indiana University where he studied law. They were married in Seattle, where he was employed at the Puget Sound Navy Yard and Mrs. Coppock at the Bremerton Postoffice.

They are members of the First Baptist Church of the Willows, Acacia Club and Lively Oaks.

They will be happy to welcome their many friends of Alpine.

The big dog licked the child's face and the youngster screamed.

Mary Fitzgerald was in the bike brigade Sunday to show how citizens can get around on bikes instead of cars. Several hundred took part and we saw it on TV. Mary just bought a new '70 Datsun station wagon to go on long trips with but will use her bike for short jaunts and save our air. She and her friend Vicki Keeler of Honolulu, who flew out to visit Mary last week for a month, left Monday for a nice trip up the coast to visit Vicki's many relatives. Her father is a professor at the U of Hawaii and she hasn't been in California since they left here over 8 years ago, so is thoroughly enjoying her stay here with Mary.

Hey, Kids, here is a chance to get free ice cream if you are planning on attending the zoo Wed. June 10. You have to be 15 or under and will be handed out the goody at the concession stand in the picnic area near the Children's Zoo. It is to celebrate Dairy month during June.

Rodney Clark's dad Gorden Wick broke his finger at work. Luckily he had on a heavy glove or he would have lost the finger completely.

Dutch and Jan, our neighbors, who were away Friday, came home to find their black cat had presented them with 4 darling kittens. All are black except one who has a bit of white on him. If you want one, am sure they would be very happy to have you have it in a few weeks when they are weaned.

Betty Brooks is also in the market for a nice family who would like to have a part German shepherd pup. Her mother had 10 last week. She has found homes for 4 but still has the rest.

Dink and Ginney Frey's grandparents who live here, left Friday for Oregon City, Ore. to be there in time for Dink's graduation from high school, will then spend the rest of the summer there.

June Smith has a kitten and its mother to give away, says it is even house-broken. Call 445-4367 if you can have them.

CONTROL BURN NEARLY TOOK OFF

Saturday a week ago when Harold Lutz and Tom Dyke, owners of a tract across Monterey Place from the new Richfield Station, were working on a control burn, permitted by the forestry, the east wind dropped some sparks across the road so Alpine firemen had to run in to help control it with three units.

About 15 acres were seared south of Monterey Place, an area outside the Alpine fire protection district, reports Chief Bennett.

Saturday Alpiners coming in from Tavern Road offramp were mystified by some large blue vans, SD police and CHP cars, and several other machines with men doing various things.

Two fishermen sitting on a bridge, made a bet as to who would catch the first fish. One got a bite and became so excited he fell off the bridge. "Oh, well," said the other, "if you are going to dive for them, the bet's off."

Enjoying almost similar May birthdays at the Log Cabin party were Lucy Cooley, born on a May 19, and jolly Andy Anderson, who scored a lively 81 on May 20. Lucy is the cook who turns out so many delectable dishes in the famed cafe with the tree growing up inside it.

Mrs. Beth Kepner of EC is enjoying her 11th season as head of the home-making show, an important part of the big So. Calif. Expo in Del Mar, June 24-July 5. This year looks like a hummer for her staff of 20 with 27 judges.

The monthly potluck for the Boosters Club has been moved up to Saturday, June 20 so as to not conflict with the recital on the 19th. It will be the first Saturday and new faces are expected. Bring a covered dish for 12 and your own service. No charge. Minors must be with an adult. Come and enjoy the oldtime community fellowship and dancing.

The Scouts are going to have a "dime a dunk" water box at the fair and need plywood to make the container. Leave word at the store if you have any.

At last Descanso is to have RFD mail and everybody seems to be preparing. Perkins Store has a supply of official boxes and the profits will be passed on to the town hall. Who won't miss stopping by the postoffice and picking up the mail? There are many folks that one just would never get to see if he didn't have to stop there every day.

Norm and Jeane Salter have their camp scheduled to open soon. That explains why Norm has been walking around talking to himself for the last few weeks. One job is enough for most but Norm works in town and tries to do a full day at the camp, too, each day.

If hard work and perseverance are the keys to success then the Salters should have a fine camp going soon.

It was the first day of school and the teacher was explaining to the class of kindergartners that if anyone had to go to the bathroom, he should hold up two fingers.

After a moment's thought, a little boy inquired, "Teacher, how's that gonna help?"

have a history and want to honor those who made that history.

But we, too, must carry on that memory by fulfilling the ideas for which the country stands. Judge James W. Lapsley once declared in a Memorial Day address "as a basis for permanently satisfactory results of the war, we should recognize the claims of justice and equal rights for all classes and sections."

Our flag stands for liberty and justice for all. We have not yet completely fulfilled that ideal, though we have made important progress. This, then, is our responsibility for the future. The greatness of our country depends on the extent of our liberty and justice for people of all races and classes, not just to whites or the rich, but to all.

As we achieve these goals we become worthy of those whom we memorialize. If we add to their contributions, so that when we are gone, we will leave a better country than they gave us, just as they left a better country than they received, they will not have lived or died in vain. So Memorial Day relates not only to the past which we remember, but for the future which we hope to create. We are here for the short present, but we too can make a better future.

CANADIANS ENJOY VISIT HERE

Mr. and Mrs. Vic Adams of Vancouver, B.C., were guests for the past two weeks of the Allen Ingalls family of Arnold Way.

This was the first trip for the couple and the Ingalls endeavored to show them points of interest in the area, including a trip to Disneyland. Two days were spent on the desert floor soaking up California sunshine.

Adams has been a postman for 20 years in Vancouver, while his Mrs. works as an assistant to a local optometrist in the Vancouver area.

They were very impressed with the area, especially of Alpine's rural atmosphere and lovely climate.

STOP FOR RED LIGHT, SIREN

Capt. V.J. Herz, SD area head of the CHP warns that "When you see a red light behind you, move to the right of the road at once, using your signal lamps, and stop, never in the median strip, and you don't need to wait for the sound of a siren-- get over and stop".

TEACHING YOUR COLT TO TIE

Now that you have halter-broken your colt and taught him to lead, now is the time to teach him to tie. This will be one of the most important lessons you can give him. You can use a tree or some type of post. Be sure that there is nothing he can get into or get his foot over or through. Always tie him above the withers so he won't be able to get his foot over the rope.

A good idea is to take an old inner tube and wire it to the post or tree. Check your halter and rope to make sure it is sturdy and that there are no weak spots because you don't want anything to break at this time. Be sure to use a knot that you can jerk loose right away in case he gets down. You can leave a bit of the rope slack so he can move around a bit.

Leave the colt there as long as he fights it. By tying him high he can't hurt his neck, and the inner tube will also stretch a little. Since there is nothing he can get hurt on, it is wise to leave him there for a while. When he quits fighting, you can pet him to show that nothing is going to hurt him. He should stand and be good before you untie him and do this every day until he does it without any trouble.

Leave your colt tied for about half an hour, after this reward him with a bit of grain so he will know that he is doing what you expect him to do.

The first tying-up is one part of your colt's training that will set a pattern for all of his future training. If you untie him before he is convinced that he must stand tied, you might never get him to stand properly. If you do these things while they are young, you will have a good, well trained animal when it is older and one that will make you much happier.

It can be quite boring when new parents talk on and on about their baby. Your only hope is that they'll have to get up and change the subject.

ALPINE LUTHERAN CHURCH NEWS

The congregation were most grateful to learn that their first full-time resident pastor will be arriving soon.

Pastor Robert Hellmann is from Burlington, Wisc. a recent graduate of the Wisconsin Synod's Theological Seminary in Mequon, Wisc. He plans to begin his work in mid-July.

Vicar Lawrence Retberg will be returning to the seminary for his final year before graduation. Another California vicar has been assigned, this time to serve with Pastor Robert Hochmuth at Santa Clara and Alameda County.

A Mountaineer on his first visit to a city scraped his feet on the asphalt street and remarked to his boy: "Well, I can't blame 'em for building a town here. The ground's too hard to plow, anyhow!"

While damage to the eustachian tube which causes impaired hearing, from cigaret smoking, is cumulative, not affecting the young, but those over 50
according to Dr. Wm. Weiss of Penn-

the severity of chronic respiratory symp-

Men smokers are decreasing and teenagers are beginning to drop off, a study shows, but women are smoking more and they are dying faster from chronic bronchitis and emphysema, doubling in the last 10 years.
