UNIQUE WEDDING WAS BEAUTIFUL

Saturday afternoon as the gentle Alpine sunshine bathed the field on the old Tavern property, owned by Ruth Minnick, and trickled through the ancient oak trees, some 200 young people gathered to witness an unusual wedding of two charming young people.

Photo shows the oak under which the ceremony took place while the many guests reclined on the grass, sat in chairs, even stood. It was a religious affair, but unorthodox and without de-

SCHOOL BUDGET GETS OK

At Monday's session the board approved the budget with a few minor changes, reports Supt. W. Edward Browning.

He screened architects for the new building from 10 down to three who will now be interviewed by the board. Site has not yet been chosen.

Re-roofing of two elementary buildings is complete, he reported, and new lighting has been installed in the two auditoriums and carpet will soon be laid therein.

nomination. It seemed as if time had retrogressed to the early, simple, natural days when the white house in the background, built by Benjamin Arnold, as the residence of Alpine's first minister, seemed to look benignly on the simple ceremony.

NORRIS SPEAKS TOMORROW AT 7

In the Rosecrucian Fellowship, Oceanside, Arthur Norris, who has lived here many years, moving to CV last week, is giving an illustrated talk on "The Starry Universe". No charge. It is illustrated with color slides he made.

GOOD NEIGHBOR DALLY KILLED

Edward Lane Dally, 64, of 502 Glen Oaks Drive, a retired Pacific Telephone repairman, who was beloved by all his neighbors down in that area for his friendly help in all kinds of problems, is being mourned by the neighborhood, for he was electrocuted Sunday.

He had gone over to Ethel Ballinger's place, 525 South Grade Road, to get her well pump started. Later at 6:15 Dally's wife, Edith, found him lying beside the pump. A neighbor tried to revive him with oral resuscitation till Alpine fire-

YOUNG VISITOR LOVES ALPINE

Her first trip away from home has been an enjoyable one, relates little Miss Renee Lewis, 9, who is visiting

Miss Lewis comes from Yorba Linda, went to 1st grade in President Nixon's school. She was born in Akron, Ohio. Louise Lewis, her mother, is the daughter of Mrs. Haines. Her Daddy, Gerald, is sales manager in the LA area for Goodyear, covering the western states.

"Alpine is beautiful and I love to eat breakfast outdoors, and see the sunset, and go to Community Church", she avers. She also enjoyed the big pool at the village.

Mrs. Jean McCullough is convalescing from surgery at the Magnolia Rest Home, 635 S. Magnolia, EC. She has been a resident here for many years, resides with her sister, Miss Edith Cromarty, on South Grade Road.

BOSTONIANS ENJOYING VISIT

Mr. and Mrs. Darrel Broke of Monterey place who are entertaining her sister, report all having a wonderful time, just back from Lake Arrowhead.

EDITORIAL

INVISIBLE GOVERNMENT LEADS TO TYRANNY!

This week your editor was browsing through old issues of the Sun to pick up something of interest for Early Days in Alpine. The editorial of May 11, 1962 fits into today's situation, which we thought worth reprinting:

An astute subscriber who has time to do a lot of reading, told me he appreciated the "swindle" editorial in the last issue.

"It comes from those Keynesian (Fabian) leftists who hold power in Washington with bureaucracies which are manned by bureaucrats under civil service protection. They operate as self-socialized forms moving leftward regardless of the desires of voters or their duly elected representatives".

He pointed out that their scheme is a huge national debt, which we now have spiraling, and continued inflation, which we have, plus colossal internal and foreign aid commitments, which insure the continuance of such policy for many years, regardless of what party is in power!

"The only alternative would be drastic political surgery with reorganization and abolishment of the greatest part of federal bureaus which they use for running the government and the people", he adds.

This is borne out by our own congressman Utt, who says we are rapidly approaching the point where a complete change of elected officials, including Congress and the White House, means little change in policy.

"Thus you are governed more and more by people for whom you have never voted" he says "for whom you never will vote, whom you have never seen, and whom you cannot recall by your vote... this is a form of invisible government and can lead to the most oppressive type of tyranny".

Yes, if we fail to retain our diminishing freedom, for which America's founders fought so valiantly, we had better start looking at the situation today--- and doing something about it!-CI

FIRE TRAINING DUE SUNDAY

There may be 100 to 200 firemen here Sunday at the school and the Youth Center to engage in an annual training session reports Chief Dale Bennett. It is under the Fire Training Service of the Calif. Industrial Education office. Alpine is host.

Class starts in the school at 8:30, then lunch and at 1:30 they will work at the YC with inflammable liquids.

"There will be a fireball go up over 100' in the air", says Bennett. Firemen from all around the county will be there. Video tapes will be made to show men afterwards just how they worked. Channel 8 TV is slated to be on hand for the news.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Wm. Clark, of Tavern Road, celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary last Tuesday with a nice party. Their niece from Laguna Beach, Mrs. Paul Duval and 3 children, June, Charles and Billy drove up to help celebrate. At the party also was their granddaughter from EC, Diann Castle and 2 children, Donny and Sandy. Also there was Mrs. Clark's longtime friend Thelma Lewis of Spring Valley. All report a delightful time.

PARADE PHOTOS STILL AVAILABLE

If you were in the Viejas Days parade and want to get a print from one of the many pictures made by Bill McEwen, you can drop in to the Alpine C of C office 2121 Alpine Blvd. and Marie Featherstone will show you proofs from which to choose. Prints in 8x10 are obtainable for only $1.50, including postage and tax.

SCOUTING GIVEN A SPURT HERE

The Cub Scout program, recently re-activated here, is fast becoming one of the many successful youth groups in this community.

The monthly pack meeting was last Friday night at Fuller Hall. The meeting was well attended by Cub Scouts and their parents. A potluck dinner preceded the business session.

Much credit is due Bill Bowler, pack committee chairman, Richard Peterson, cubmaster and Fritz Arndt, asst. Cubmaster, for their leadership.

These Cubs received the Bobcat award: Ronnie Sinyard, Darrin Price, Howard Lamson, Donald Dyer, Gary Brinegar, Greg Rocco, Paul Arndt, Brian Peterson, Vaughn Francis, Kurt Jellison and Steve Bingham.

A Webelos Den for 10-year old boys is in the planning stage and will have as Webelos den leader, Guy Falkerson. He recently moved to Alpine from Indiana, brings with him leadership experience in both Cub and Boy Scouting.

SET DATE FOR CANYON BBQ

The Harbison Canyon & Dehesa firemen are staging a joint benefit barbecue and day of fun at Big Oak Ranch on Sunday, Aug. 16, from 12 noon till??

Barbecuemaster is Doug Fordyce, well known for his expertise in this field. There will be swimming, recreation, entertainment, a bake sale, bazaar tables, a cakewalk and door prizes. Tab is $2. for it all, kids, $1.

HORSE TALK

By The Double C's

Alpine Riding Club met Sunday at 9 am in the Youth Center for a reorganization meeting and breakfast. Those that did attend had a delicious breakfast and made plans for some interesting events later this month. The first will be a 2-hour trail ride and barbecue later on this month. Will have details as the committee makes more plans. We are glad this group has decided to start up again and with a little more cooperation from members and horse lovers, there isn't any reason why it can't grow into a real live club.

About 25 horse enthusiasts left Alpine Sunday afternoon for Los Caballas to spend a week of camping and riding. We know Maureen Carrell, George's son and family and JoAnn Villa went from here. Bet they have a wonderful, exciting week.

Dick Brotherton's barn is sure shaping up into something enviable. Last week they put the floor in, will soon have it in operation and ready for hay.

Dutch and Jan Van Dierendonck moved horses, dogs and themselves to Ramona where he hopes to start a training and boarding stable. He had been boarding out his horses here, said he was going in for English exclusively.

Charles Miller is boarding a nice quarter horse for a friend, has gotten interested in riding. If he can find a nice gentle horse, would be willing to buy it and give riding a whirl.

Because the Sloan kids are moving to Mississippi the end of this month, they have to sell their Shetland mare who is due to foal anytime. If interested, give them a call, 445-2000.

Eddie Schwenck's nice mare has had a case of mange he has been trying to clear up. Mites usually cause this problem so it isn't too difficult to clear up and we wish him luck.

FORMER ALPINERS MOVE TO DESERT

Ted and Nellie Keller, former residents of the Highlands, have moved permanently to California City to make their home. After having been 20 years with the Navy at North Island, Ted has retired, will do a lot of loafing and fishing from now on.

Their nephew Gene Egger arrived from Vietnam Sunday and they met him in LA, took him to their new mobile home in the desert. He lives in Indianapolis, will fly home after a short visit with the Kellers.

Here are 22 of the 24 gals that spent a delightful Saturday afternoon at the lovely new home of Sgt/Maj. Betty Noble, USMC, ret., on Willows Road. She hosted the party with M/Sgt. Bettye Hollis, also retired, who is Alpine's new rural mail carrier.

Of the two dozen that enjoyed the swim and buffet, seven are still on active duty.

The girls came from all over the Southland, even as far away as 29 Palms.

The group as a whole had served a total of 438 years of active duty in the Corps, had much to talk about as some had not seen one another for several years.

FLORENCE'S OPEN AGAIN

Closed since Monday of last week due to the sudden death of its owner, Florence's Market, 2262 Alpine Blvd., was reopened Wednesday, with a son, Mike Harmer, as manager.

Funeral was in Paris Mortuary Monday, with interment in Greenwood Mausoleum. Due to the suddenness, an error was made in the announcement of the funeral, data for which had to be gotten from the family while at the mortuary. It was announced as private, but such was not the case which might have kept some friends away.

Mrs. Harmer will still be on duty as will friendly Alice Villa, as assistant. Gary Gaw, of the USN, who has been working as meat-cutter, has been transferred with his wife and infant to Iceland with the Navy, so another man will be on duty.

Dick Harmer who came from Arcata with his wife for the services, is returning to his business there. Mike is well known, having worked in the store with his parents for some time several years ago. The market has been serving Alpine and the back country since 1948. (See last issue).

Del Mar Councilman Richard Rypinski will be guest speaker at the Alpine Historical and Conservation Society's public program at 8 pm Friday, August 14, at the Women's Club.

In an address entitled "Is Bigger Better?" Rypinski, who is also president of the SD chapter of the Sierra Club, will give his audience proven ways in which communities can preserve and protect a rural ecology.

Del Mar's conservationists have fought hard to preserve the area's natural charm and Alpiners will benefit from this experience as he offers successful formulas for home and community lobbying.

The popular councilman was a featured speaker at a recent ecology workshop offered by UCSD, and his contribution met with such an enthusiastic response that he was asked to repeat it in Alpine by Doris Fuller. She was the society's representative at the workshop.

"Concerned residents who feel that the individual is helpless in a fight to preserve his environment are urged to attend the program and learn what others have done and what we can do", says President Richard Zuelke.

MUCH INTEREST IN SUNBATHING

In the current issue of Swallow Tales, the award winning best ASA (American Sunbathing Assn), paper for 1969, is a story of how over 7000 leaflets about nudism and the Swallows, 1631 HC Rd., were distributed to the public. Bill and Sue Cobbs, editors, were interviewed on KFMB Radio. Nearly 100 cards have been received seeking further information on this unique club down in the Canyon.

HOW LIVES ARE SAVED

During the jolly Luau last week at Alpine Village, Mgr. Duane Cracola, and Robert Nelson, assistant Chief, demonstrated the latest new E & J resuscitator which was just delivered.

It was bought through the generosity of residents of the village who had set $500 as their goal, then ran up a total of over $600, which will allow purchase of added accessories.

This machine can be used in close heart massage also. It has a 15' hose and a 25' one is coming so rescuers can get into tight places, under cars and so on.

Nelson is with the state forestry in SD, is a trainer of volunteer firemen, has had many years experience in rescue work.

DALLY DEATH STORY From I

men arrived. But their resuscitator did not bring him to with closed heart massage, so he was rushed to EC Valley Hospital, was DOA, according to Deputy Coroner S.J. Thomas.

Dally, standing in 3" of water, apparently had touched the switch which gave him the shock, said Thomas.

He had been with the phone firm for 34 years, was a native of Fairbury, Ill., had lived 27 years in the county. He was a member of Tarbolton Masonic Lodge 351, of Fairbury. Funeral was Wednesday under auspices of S. W. Hackett Masonic Lodge of SD, in Paris Mortuary, which handled arrangements.

TIPS FOR TRAILERING

Because of the terrific interest in horses and shows, more animals are on the road than ever before, so here are a few tips for trailering them long distances, which may be of real help.

In most states you have to obtain a health and brand certificate for traveling through states. It is best to check before you leave and wise to carry registration or something to prove ownership of the animal.

Plan your overnight stops before you leave. You can write ahead to the chamber for names and places for keeping horses overnight. If you are caught without checking, try fairgrounds, sales yards or animal clinics. These places usually have room for a horse.

Make your trailer as comfortable as possible. You can pad the parts with foam rubber covered with burlap at parts of contact, especially the chest, knees and hocks.

Be sure to take your horse from the trailer every five or six hours and walk him around. This is most important because many cannot and will not urinate in a trailer, consequently kidney trouble could result.

Use caution in exercising the horse after a long haul. The blood vessels constrict, reducing circulation. Walk him slowly or put him in a stall for half an hour until they return to normal. Exercising a horse immediately or even letting him run and play can cause founder.

Make sure your horse will drink from a bucket. Many won't so take along a tub or container.

Most of all be sure to check your trailer and hitch to be sure they are in good condition. Take it easy on the turns, stops and rough stretches. These few hints will make traveling much easier and safer for you and your horse.

A South American was describing his country to an American woman.

"Our most popular sport is bullfighting," he told her.

"Isn't it revolting?" she asked.

"No," he said, "that's the second most popular sport."

ANCIENT OAK FALLS ON HOUSE

An oak tree over 100 years old at the home of Agnes McGuffie, owner of McGuffie's Sundries, 2363 Alpine Blvd., gave way for no explainable reason.

"The tree was perfectly health according to Agnes, as there wasn't a thing wrong with it.

Wednesday morning she heard a terrific noise and saw the limb crash to the ground missing the kitchen window. One week later, the second limb fell, splitting the trunk down the middle.

The tree was one that watched the children and grand-children grow up, was a part of the family.

AR-TEASE-TIKS!

By Betty Moore

August Art at the chalet consists of a first showing of any media or a sharing of something near and dear. The public display of something cherished is the involvement of one with another, the reaching out to a neighbor and saying "hi".

There is a nook for your wood carving or even a bonzai tree, and that is what makes the August showing something special for the month.

Mr. and Mrs. John Titus have had their two daughters visiting them during last month. Mrs. Susan Braasch and Mrs. Bastian of Phoenix and Santa Ana. Mrs. Braasch who is an artist following her mother's talents, worked at the Art Chalet while visiting. She has several fine pictures on display.

This being snapshot season, don't forget that you may learn to process your own films in the fine darkroom of the chalet. Ask Mr. Titus for details.

Note on Wells Park. Art representation as covered by Erna Earl, Dale Bates, Lavena Carpenter and Betty Kuphaldt. Not mentioned in former article but represented in absentia. Apologies from yours truly.

SCHOOL SALARIES GET INCREASE

Supt. W. Edward Browning reports that the board Monday night approved a raise in teacher salaries from $7,000 to $14,300, for a 5.2% increase. All classified personnel gets a 5% rise also.

Next month a part time speech therapist will go on duty, paid for by state and county funds.

80 FEAST AT PIT BARBECUE

Members and friends of the Noble and Knight families gathered over the weekend at the home of Mrs. Doris Noble Fuller, Alpine Terrace Road, for an annual family pit bar becue.

A large group joined in the work and fun of packaging the meat and placing it in the pit. Saturday night.

Over 80 were on hand to enjoy a delicious potluck dinner Sunday afternoon. Group in photo includes some of the older members and many of the children. They ate outside under the trees enjoying Alpine's fine climate.

The Noble Family Assn., an informal group of Southland descendants of Daniel and Millicent Noble, early day pioneers in Madison County, Mont., meet annually. Lloyd Noble of LA is president and Mrs. Fuller is family historian and genealogist.

The Knight families in this area who are descendants of the late Weldon Knight of Sheridan, Ill., and Chula Vista, have joined in the reunions since the marriage last year of June Fuller and Jon Knight. Missing from 1970's festivities were the Jim Knights, formerly of Dunbar Lane, who moved to Cardiff, Wales, last Fall.

Through generous hospitality in the use of their swimming pool, the Ken Fawcetts, neighbors on Alpine Terrace, provided a special treat for the younger members.

A surprise came in the form of an announcement of the engagement of Dan Noble, formerly residing with Dr. Roger Larson here, to Miss Lynn Elmquist of La Mesa. Both were students at Grossmont College last year, will be attending UCSD in the fall. The wedding will take place in Community Church after Dr. Larson returns from his trip around the world, in late September.
