By RUTH FULLER

I'VE ALWAYS CLAIMED that if you wait long enough you can outlive any fashion oddity you dislike and things will get back to normal — that is, back to the way you like them. Skirts, for instance. I do not like them short and so I am suffering right now, but I'd be willing to wager any amount that all those things which are hanging in my closet because they're unfashionably long will someday be ready to put back on again when the trend is down. Skirts are bad enough, but lipstick shades have really been bothering me.

I'VE STUCK PRETTY much to my own favorite shade until recently when I used up the last of my supply and I said to my-self, "I will just stop off and pick up a re-fill on my way to work," I took along the empty case and presented it without a qualm to the gorgeous blonde behind the counter—incidentally, to digress—why are all blondes gorgeous? A law of nature, perhaps, or do they (idle speculation) owe it all to bleaches and dyes? This one recoiled with obvious loathing from my proffered container—you'd have thought it was a poisonous serpent. She gazed at me with horror and she said, "But Madame, no one, absolutely NO ONE is wearing RED this season! Do let me show you some of our better colors—the newer shades—Frosted Spanish Gold, or Beige Gossamer—there is Stained Glass and Mocha or would you perhaps care

I AM EASILY intimidated so I murmered apologies and thrust my miserably out-dated unfashionable cosmetic back into my purse and crept miserably out of the store with my face averted so no one would see my unpardonably red lipstick color. But then I got to thinking. Just what is wrong with red? Why (and I quote from some of the way-out fashion magazines) is "an overcoat of pistachio green cooling to a soft beigey flash tone" preferable to a natural red? "An undercoat of tan makes dusky cocoa," and "sun yellow toner lends an irridescent glow." I don't want sun yellow lips? If you're suffering from jaundice, that is a different matter. "Experiment with white pearl," says the magazine — "be an artist!" White pearl lips would convince the innocent bystander that the wearer was about to give up the ghost! Remember Robert Herrick's famous lines:

Some asked me where the rubies grew?
And nothing did I say,
But with my finger pointed to
The lips of Julia!

AND I ASK you, who are we to argue with Robert Herrick? He liked red. Then there was Shakespeare. "Thy lips, those kissing cherries, tempting grow." That's from Midsammer Night's Dream. And in Richard III he said, "Their lips were four red roses on a stalk, which in their summer beauty kiss'd each other." One last quote from Robert Greene, and if you don't know who Robert Greene was, shame on you. He said, "Her lips are roses overwashed with dew." And I don't think he meant yellow roses, either.

LAST WEEK I happened to thumb through three current magazines and in each of them appeared an ad which made me cheer loudly and I am clipping the ad to flourish in front of my gorgeous blonde clerk. What did the ad say? I quote once more: "Now they're here! The NEW REDS!! Dazzling as real reds should be. . . . " You see, all you have to do is wait!

'GROWING PAINS!'

The El Cajon Valley continues its steady pace in growth, as evidenced by the increase in telephones, through September of this year.

1,168 new services have been added since January 1966, realizing a new high of 30,416 telephone subscribers in the

All of the communities have contributed to this gain as you may note below:

% Increase	Community	Jan. 66	Sept. 66	Actual Gain
105%	Alpine	1,568	1,650	82
108%	Campo	327	352	25

Around Alpine

It was such a pleasure to have Rick Sockwell, home on leave, help us out in our mailing of the paper. He had some very interesting comments concerning the war in Viet Nam. We always find that the boys who have come back from over there have a different view from those of us here at home. Rick has five more months to serve and is awaiting orders.

Harold Johnson just came back from a two-week fishing and hunting trip at Sommes Bar. His companion was Ted Keeler, a friend. The country was too rough for deer but they enjoyed catching a few trout. Harold caught the biggest steelhead that was ever caught in that area.

The Hems on Victoria are having as visitors for a month, Mr. and Mrs. H.W. Hem Sr. from Toledo, Ohio.

Shirley Widmer is a newcomer to Alpine. She is also a newcomer to oil paints. However, patrons of the library are viewing her work and enjoying it very much. She is the local artist who is exhibiting her work at the library this month.

Shirley and her husband, Lee have four children, David 11, Dale 8, Susan 6 and Donald 3. All of the family enjoys Alpine.

Marie Kramer has left for a week to help out her relatives in Arizona. There is a new baby in the family and she is needed there. That is one thing about Marie - she is always where she is needed, and we know the family appreciates her help at this time.

Clyde Gillies and his wife have rented their home to Mr. Bunnell and will not be coming to Alpine as much as they have in the past. They will be missed but we know they will be back occasionally.

Hazel Foster and Jean Danzell kept our Telephone Co. manager busy at the C of C dinner last Saturday. They found him a very charming man, as we all did and we are all looking forward to his appearance at the next Chamber of Commerce membership meeting. Oh, he is Scott McKenzie.

A wonderful party was given by the board of directors of the San Diego Symphony last Friday night and your editor and publisher attended. They enjoyed seeing old friends. Carl Welti, publicity manager for the San Diego Gas and Electric Co., a director, was at the party as were many other friends of the symphony and good music in this area. One of the most enjoyable conversations that your editor and publisher had was with Lew Scarr, telented columnist for the San Diego Union and Tribune, whom they had not had the opportunity to meet before. The symphony program for this year looks exciting and all music lovers will want to avail themselves of the opportunity to go as often as possible.

Dear Editor:

Recently I had the occasion of making a tour of the East County. I would like to compliment the fine citizens of this community for the patriotism and love of country shown by the displaying of the American flag. Never before have I seen so many flags displayed in a community of this size.

Most flags were displayed properly and in a respectful manner however, I did witness several flags that were displayed in bad taste or were soiled and tattered.

For those citizens who are interested in knowing the history of our flag; where, when, and how to display it; and how to respect it, I have an excellent booklet which can be obtained, free of charge by stopping by my office at 354 N. Magnolia Ave., El Cajon, Calif. or calling 444-5794.

Sincerely yours, M. A. (Mike) Hawkes USMC Marine Recruiter

A number of responsible and informed Californians have serious doubts about Proposition 16. They are convinced that the state Supreme Court will almost certainly find it unconstitutional, even as it did Propositions 14 and 15. They consider it a "shotgun approach to pornography."

A reading of the amendment points up its weaknesses and dangers. It would permit a law enforcement officer to seize obscene.

H. BAILEY GALLISON

Appointment of H. Bailey Gallison, advertising manager of the San Diego division of Security First National Bank as business chairman of the 50th Annual Christmas Seal Campaign was just announced jointly by Mark W. Kerby, Alpine area chairman and Dr. Karl Sturckow, Lakeside area chairman of the Tuberculosis and Health Association of San Diego County.

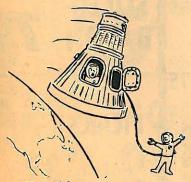

The campaign, conducted almost entirely by mail, will open Nov. 15.

Gallison is a graduate of the University of Missouri and was executive manager of the La Jolla Town Council for 10 years before joining the bank as community relations manager in 1963.

He has been president, officer, director and fund raiser for many civic and service organizations in San Diego and La Jolla.

According to both of the chairmen, Gallison's assignment is to increase participation in the anti-tuberculosis fund raising effort on the part of business and industrial concerns.

"We feel this may be a field we have tended to overlook in the past. We are approaching business concerns because many of them are immediate beneficiaries of medical advances in the field of acute respiratory diseases. which are the major cause of time lost from work and school," Kerby and Dr. Sturckow both said.

YOUR HANDWRITING SECRETS

Charlie Cole

The earth is made so various that the mind of desultory man, studious of change and pleased with novelty, might be indulged." - Cowper.

M. E. C. (F-29-R), the writer of today's script, seems to enjoy variety and took considerable pains to write in a variety of ways for her Check Chart analysis.

It is true that most of us write differently at different times and when we are in different moods. Many people have what they call a business hand for writing business letters or business notes and an ordinary or everyday hand that they use for writing friends, relatives and notes to themselves.

It is for this reason that the analyst likes samples of writing done over a period of time, and it is also for this reason a page and a half or more of script is required to do an accurate depth analysis.

It has been found that most of us write a certain way because that fits our personality the best, and as we are human and our personality changes with our moods, it is to be expected that we will change our writing as our moods

M. E. C. tells us that she sometimes writes great big when she is in a big hurry, which is to be expected, as people then are anxious to cover a lot of ground in a limited amount of time; hence, by writing big they fill up the page a good deal faster.

She goes on to say that sometimes writes very small and she doesn't know why. As a rule, we write small when we concentrate on things and it is a proven fact that people who are used to concentrating and enjoy doing so will write small most of the time. The rest of us only write small when we have some particular thing we are concentrating on or if we have a limited amount of space. For instance, writing on post cards causes us to concentrate to get all that we want on one; hence, we will write small.

M. E. C. further states that she even writes backhand at times, which indicates to the graphologist that during those times she has some fear or reluctance to go ahead, as most backhanded writers do have some fear, and that fear is either conscious or subconscious, causing them to hold back in their communications.

The bottom line of this small sample is a result of M.E.C. writing with her left hand instead of her usual right. It is obvious that this was done with considerable effort and due to the fact that she did less than a full line this shows it is not a way of writing that she enjoys and certainly from the formation of the letters it is not a way that she has spent a great deal of time on.

The rest of this lady's script indicates that she enjoys doing many things in a variety of ways and also that she has a great many interests. She has lots of imagination and enjoys a good bit of day-dreaming. Undoubtedly she is a person that enjoys creating a bit of mystery about her activities and has enough showmanship to be entertaining with her evasiveness.

On Tuesday, Oct. 25, the Alpine Woman's Club will hold their annual fashion show and potluck luncheon for the members and their guests. The affair will start at twelve noon. There will be a charge of one dollar per person. This will entitle the ladies to a lovely door prize. There will also be a drawing for a twenty-five dollar gift certificate.

The fashion show will be given by Mary's Apparel of Alpine. Fashions for fall will be shown in dresses, handbags and jewelry. Hair styles will be by Paul and Norine. Models will be club members Mmes. Alex Adams, John C. Rule, Paul Parsons, William Lewiston and Donal Kene-

Hostess for the day will be Mrs. Vernon Rood, assisted by Mrs. Francis Lyman, Alvin Stenbach and Harry Colby.

Mrs.Katherine Black is in charge of the fashion show. She is Ways and Means Chairman.

ATTENTION ARTISTS!

The Alpine Chamber of Commerce is looking for a local artist who will design another prizewinning float for the community to be entered in the Mother Goose and North Park Parades.

The designer who so capably designed past floats is unable to help this year.

Many volunteers are waiting to help on this community project but a designer is necessary. A committee will decide which design will be used.

If you are interested, contact any member of the Board or call the office secretary in the Chamber of Commerce office. Tuesday through Friday, 1 until 4 p. m. or call 445-2722.

Adoption Services of the San Diego County has re-cently added staff to the Metropolitan District located at 1140 Union Street, Mrs. Jane Redwine, Chief of Adoption Services, in announcing the new appointments said that reorganization within the Agency has resulted in another unit being created to work with families wishing to adopt children.

The agency has also com-pleted remodeling of its quarters to serve the public better. Adoption Services of San Diego County provides a complete adoption service to the community. Services are provided for parents wishing to make an adoption plan for their child, and those families wishing to adopt a child.

Miss Redwine said that although 434 children were placed by the Agency during the last fiscal year, there is currently a backlog of children available for adoption. Most of these children are healthy, happy Caucasian babies under 18 months of age. Homes are especially needed for boys in the 9-18 month age groups. There is also a need for homes for Negro children of all ages.

A telephone call to Adoption Services of San Diego County - 234-8871 - starts the adoption process.

ALPINE SCHOOL

The kids in Mrs. Fletcher's room have been studying about early Indians. On Oct. 21st they are going to eat acorn meal and play games the Indians did. They will have an Indian house and a sweat house.

Mrs Garrett's fourth grade is working on a chart of the California Indians for the bulletin board. The fifth grade is continuing its study of the Pilgrims and early settlers of America. Today they saw the "Adventures of Huckleberry Finn." The class is writing the story this afternoon. They have been doing lots of creative writing and like it very much.

On Friday, Oct. 14, Room four had an animal day. The kids brought their pets to school with them. They had two cats, one rat, one dog, one rooster, one rabbit, three chickens and one California quail. The kids that brought animals were Mike San Soucie, Beverly Miller, Donna Osborn, Susan Kyle, Debbie Hoffmann, Billy Ingalls, Debra Stanley and Kathy Bingham. Mrs. McQueen and Mrs. Garrett went to see their animals.

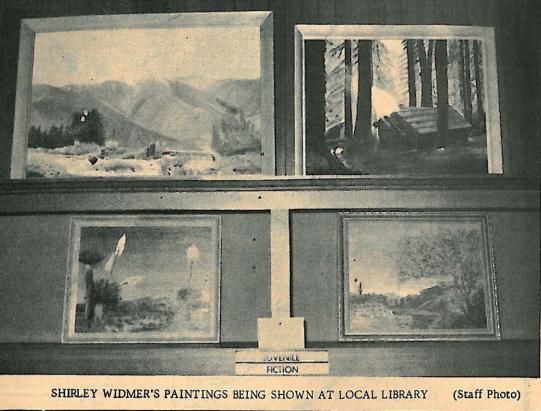

The eighth grade picked their planning committee and have started their money making projects. The first one is selling candy. These projects are for earning money so we can take a graduation trip to Disneyland so please help us out.

Visiting Mr. and Mrs. Charles Jarman on Wednesday, October 12th was JIMMY WILCOX who is home on leave from the Army. Jimmy will be stationed at White Sands, New Mexico after his leave is over.

JACK VEACH, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Veach has just finished basic training at NTC, San Diego and expects to be stationed at Pensacola, Florida.

FRED KUHNER, son of Mr. and Mrs. W.R. Kuhner, has gone on active duty with the Navy. Fred and his wife have moved to an apartment in El Cajon.

RONALD VAN HORN, nephew of Mrs. Cecil L. Williams is in Viet Nam with the Air Force.

PFC CHARLES HASKELL, brother of Mrs. Odis Owens of Lakeside, is now in Korea. He hopes to be home for the Christmas holidays.

We heard again last week from one of our "Boys" just how much the news from home means to them. Especially do they enjoy reading this column and finding out where their various friends are stationed. Now, they can't do that unless you — their friends and relatives — tell us where they are. We are glad to print anything and everything that we can get about our servicemen. This column gets priority and nothing will ever be left out. All we need is YOUR cooperation. The young man turned to this column in the paper and said, "This is the best thing in your paper!" Won't you help us make this column "the best thing in the paper" every week by sending in news of your serviceman for the large group of boys who receive this paper weekly. Just call 445-3133 or 443-3839.

Back-To-School Safety

Children will soon be heading back to school. Parents should take certain precautions to safeguard their youngsters' health and safety while they are at school and during those hours when they are traveling to and from school.

As an aid to parents, Sentry Insurance offers several tips: · Make certain each child has received a complete health examination and booster shots to prevent polio, smallpox, diphtheria, whooping cough and tetanus.

 Children riding bicycles to school should be drilled in all the rules of the road. In addition, their bikes must be in top mechanical condition. A basket or carrier should be standard equipment to carry books and lunches.

 Your youngster should be taught to accept the authority and obey those people hired to protect him-his teachers, the crossing guard, the driver of the school bus.

· Warn school children never, never to accept a ride from a stranger. Hitchhiking should be explicitly forbidden.

Always remember that the responsibility for a child's safety ultimately rests with his parents. Make certain your youngsters' school days are "good old golden rule days."

LAURIER REALTY is once again in on the action. They handled the sale of the home at 9257 Carita Rd., Santee which was purchased by Mr. and Mrs. William Hassard. The escrow was handled by the Security First National Bank of Lakeside, according to LAURIER REALTY.

APEX REALTY of San Diego has been doing a lot of business in the East County. They recently sold 20 acres in Boulevard; also Hodes Ranch, 455 acres in Boulevard to Scott Campbell. Another sale made by APEX REALTY was the lot below the Alpine Convalescent Home. Escrow recently closed on that property and it was sold to Dr. Arvin Klein. Dr. Klein has considered various plans for this Alpine property.
