Home of Guiding Hands

SUITS STARTS

Ground breaking ceremonies for the $2.2 million residential facility for retarded children, The Home of Guiding Hands, were held Sunday, July 17th at the building construction site on Los Ranchitas Road at Lakeside, California.

Presiding at the event was Ray Wilson, president, Honorable Clair W. Burgener, a vice president of the National Association for Retarded Children, was featured speaker. City and county officials, as well as leaders in Public Health and Education participated.

This project has been developed by the Lutheran Association for Retarded Children, Wilson said, to serve the handicapped through out the entire community. It will provide care, training, education and rehabilitation for 192 retarded residents three years old and older. More than 200 applications for admittance are already on file, with more than 100 more in the hands of parents, said Wilson.

Construction of the modern home designed by architects Des Lauriers-Sigurdson of La Mesa will be completed within 10 months after construction is started. E.A. Ries Construction Company was awarded the contract.

The first phase of construction will include eight living units for 24 residents each, an administration building, dispensary, central kitchen and training unit.

SAN DIEGO — Jury selection started Tuesday in the trial of a condemnation suit brought against Alpine land owners for the right-of-way for Interstate Eight.

The trial was scheduled to begin Monday but was delayed because no court was available. It opened Tuesday before Superior Court Judge William A. Glen.

Of 19 defendants originally named, only two are involved in the current case. They are Stanley Chambers and Elizabeth C. Fordney, owners of property near The Willows. The severance damages they previously demanded have been dropped. They are seeking nearly $40,000 for their property.

Two of the original defendants, Earle T. Robinson and Chester Boni, have died since the suit was filed. Robinson's property is in probate. The State still is negotiating with Mrs. Emilia Boni.

Negotiations are continuing with several other property owners, whose suit still may go to court. A number of others named in the original suit have settled out of court, according to the State's attorneys.

Setback Explained

SAN DIEGO — Real Estate activity is suffering a selective setback which can be almost entirely laid at the door of money conditions. Looking at both the statistics of the latest month and of the first six months of 1966, it is obvious that the "brakes" which were deliberately applied last fall by many authorities have proved most effective in slowing down the level of real estate's participation in the nation's general prosperity.

Two major factors that are responsible for the sales decline in San Diego County are first, the sharp drop in new construction, especially in the field of housing, and, second, the increased resistance to current prices by investors in income property. Whereas we do not look for an early resumption of high volume construction in the housing field, price adjustments on income property will tend to make them more attractive sometime within the next few months."

"Real estate sales recorded for the County, South Central, which includes Jamul, Dehesa, Alpine and Cuyamaca, for the month of June, increased with 94 sales as compared to 63 recorded the previous month and 73 recorded in June a year ago."

HIGHWAY PATROL SURVEY TOLD

"Nine out of ten motorists who have commented by survey card about the passenger vehicle inspection program of the California Highway Patrol have expressed favor," Bradford M. Crittenden, California Highway Patrol Commissioner, said today.

"In the first two months of the program's operation 5,082 survey cards were returned."

Junior Program Success

There are Candy Strippers or junior volunteers in many hospitals, but nowhere are they more apparent or more appreciated that at Edgemoor Geriatric Hospital where the patients' average age is 77.

This is the third year for the junior program at Edgemoor and twenty-four girls are working regularly at wheeling patients and assisting them with games and entertainment under the direction of the Auxiliary Junior Chairman, Mrs. Lloyd J. Stevens.

Returning for their second year of volunteer work are Kathy Bauman, Elaine Cochler, Terry Dunnell, Pat Lean, Mary Morris, Laurie Sather, and Donna Walker.

New Candy Strippers trained this year are Mary Ann Brown, Candace Butler, Coleen Gannon, Shirley Hall, Lyn Dell Holman, Ninya Darnel, Barbara Huddleston, Teri Lerma, Anita Morris, Teri McGauley, Stella Richard, Kathy Stern, Georgia Strine, Barbara Winress, Daralyn Wood, Cecelia Wooten, and Gloria Zick.

All Around Alpine

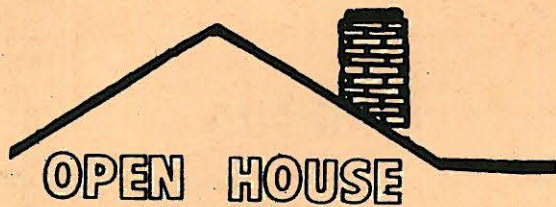

It is always interesting to hear the comments about the errors in our paper. We try to catch them all but naturally some of them get by. Our first comment about the two errors in one caption in last week's newspaper was from Mansfield Mills, El Cajon attorney, who called to say he just wanted to prove he reads every word we write. This is gratifying and we do like to have you reading us, mistakes included.

The Paul Clays have been thoroughly enjoying the visit of their two grandsons, Kent and Brent. They will just be here for another week and the Clays are making the most of the time they have with them.

The beach has been a popular place for the youngsters and we even understand that "Grandpa" Clay has taken the boys fishing. No doubt these two youngsters will be missed by the Clay family when they leave for the northern part of the state.

Sylvia Brodrick, daughter of Dorothy Michel of Willowside Terrace, was down from Sherman Oaks recently for a visit.

By RUTH FULLER

MY BEAUTIFUL BLONDE sister said severely: "It is high time you got rid of some of those puppies!" And I said soothingly, "Of course, you are perfectly right. . . ." "I'M NOT KIDDING," she interrupted, "I mean it. Every day that goes by, you become more and more attached to them, and it gets harder to do. Think of the food bills! Think of the welfare of the puppies! Think of. . . ." ALWAYS QUICK-WITTED, I changed the subject. "Your hair looks just beautiful today - what did you do to it? I really love that style. . . ." "DON'T CHANGE THE subject," she said coldly. "Next time I come over I want to see this place clear of puppies." "ALL EXCEPT GEORGE," I pleaded. "I simply cannot part with little George. He is so sweet. . . ." "WELL---" SHE RELENDED, "one exception, and the rest -----OUT!" I KNOW SHE is right, but that doesn't make it any easier. Yesterday Robert said he had found a good home for our little snow-white puppy. She is very sweet, gentle, lovable and a sturdy little dog and we took her in the car and delivered her to the small girl and boy who wanted her. "PLEASE," I said, "feed her well - here is her diet - be good to her and. . ." but they were not listening, they were petting the puppy who seemed to be enjoying it thoroughly and I wept all the way home. THE LADY DOWN the hill wants our fluffy, part-poodle, who stands engagingly on her hind legs to beg for dog biscuits and not-so-engagingly chews up all Robert's socks. Whenever I see the lady down the hill start up toward our house I hide the puppy under the bed and lock all the doors. I never answer the bell and eventually she goes away. ONE OF THE student workers in the library where I am employed has a grandmother who wants little Liza, the entirely black puppy who looks so much like a miniature greyhound and is the smartest of all the dogs, but whenever the subject of delivery to grandmother comes up I am evasive and say it will not be long now. I HAVE A small relative visiting us this summer from far away and I conceived a diabolical scheme. I would make a present of a puppy to my visitor and since his father had said firmly he could not take it with him, I would be in a position to keep the dog until such time if ever his father should relent. But when I saw the small boy in a corner with his arm around the neck of amiable four-year old Mr. Sam, one of our elder dogs and heard him whispering that he loved Mr. Sam and would be glad to take him home, except that Father said he couldn't bring him: with him, I was ashamed of my deviousness. THERE HAS GOT to be a solution. My sister is coming over in a day or two. I think I will tell Robert to make the delivery of our pets to their new owners and I will go away for the day - shopping, movies, maybe a trip to the dentist, and when I come home it will all be over and the puppies will be in their new homes. ALL BUT LITTLE George, of course.

We are sorry to report that Dr. Mildred Bredeesen's father died last week. Dr. Bredeesen has been in Florida for two and one-half months during his illness. We have no further details just now, but hope to have more next week. Dr. Bredeesen will not be home for several weeks, we understand, as there is much to do in settling affairs.

The old "Hardy Simpson" house on Willows Rd. has been sold by O.J. Schumacher to Mr. and Mrs. Barnhill and their three children. We welcome them to Alpine.

B.J. Smith, whom we reported as returning home from the hospital last week had to stay for a few more days. He hopefully will return home this week.

Orville Palmer had a new occupation for the weekend. He built a play house for his grandchildren! The youngsters live in Anaheim on a cul-de-sac and there are a lot of children that will enjoy the house that Mr. Palmer built!

Willows Road residents were startled to find a cow peering in their window one day last week. Seems she wandered all over the neighborhood with her two half-grown calves before meandering home.

It is wonderful to have our splendid librarian, Mrs. Elizabeth West home from vacation. She was gone for three and one-half weeks.

One of her stops was Denver at her nephews home. Another stop was St. Paul where she spent time with her daughter and family. They spent time swimming and had a lot of fun with a round fiberglass boat with a four horse power engine.

From that point, Mrs. West flew on to Calgary, Alberta. There she visited her sister and family and traveled 700 miles to Dawson Creek where the Alaskan Highway begins. (Incidentally, for those who are interested in this most unusual road, there is an interesting piece in the July Reader's Digest concerning it.)

Lake Louise and the Columbia Ice fields were also a part of the trip. Of special interest to Alpiners was the visit to the R. C. Creaglie family who now live in the Eureka area - Trinidad, to be exact. They have three acres there.

Mrs. West was most fortunate to avoid problems with the air strike because of the date of her vacation.

One particular thing that impressed her, was a sunset she observed, while flying from St. Paul to Calgary.

While Mrs. West took a well earned rest, Jo Ellen Svensson filled in for her at the library.

Another vacation trip was reported - that of the Zane Dana family. The Dana family took their usual leisurely drive and as always, had a wonderful time - not hurrying.

Their destination was the West and Northwest states and some of the places visited were Nevada, Idaho, Wyoming, Montana, Washington, Oregon, the Grand Tetons - you name it - they were there.

They had a wonderful time seeing the wild moose and feeding the bears. The gysers and paint pots were fascinating to the whole family.

They saw the salmon near Seattle, the Grand Coolee Dam and then took route 96 where they saw the aftermath of the terrible floods.

All in all, the Dana had a really wonderful vacation.

Houseguests of the William Duffields and the Ray Partidges have been Mr. and Mrs. Randy Whitman from Horsehead, New York. With them had been Joanne who is a student in college at Elmira, New York, and also a nephew Jim.

To the Editor:

"Little mother, you and your husband know more about this disease than I do because you live with it every day". These words were actually spoken by a pediatrician to the mother a cystic fibrosis child only a few years ago. Small comfort they were to distraught parents who were dealing with a virtually unknown ailment for which there was no cure and for which life expectancy was then approximately three years!

Fortunately, during the intervening period, doctors have learned much more about cystic fibrosis and its treatment, and the future for C/F children grows ever more encouraging. It is still a disease, however, about which the general public knows very little, despite the fact that the National Institute of Health refers to it in Public Health Service Publication No. 1077 as "one of the most common health menaces of childhood."

The same publication states that "it kills more victims than some of the better known maladies such as rheumatic fever, diabetes, and poliomyelitis."

At this time of year many clubs, service organizations, and educational units are making up program schedules for the coming months. They might like to consider a new 13 1/2 minutes color film, entitled "Song of the Night Lark," which tells the story of Cystic Fibrosis. It is available through the San Diego Chapter of the National Cystic Fibrosis Research Foundation, 3676 Fifth Avenue, 295-1346.

BIBLE BREAD CRUMBS
By Ed Whitford, pastor, Tecate Mission

"He knew all men, and because He did not need any one to bear witness concerning man for He Himself knew what was in Man."

John 2.25 (NASB)

You may think you put something over yesterday — but remember Jesus knew then what was in man and MAN hasn't changed.

ALPINE COMMUNITY

The Scripture Lesson was read from the Epistle of Paul of the Philippians, and the Sermon text was from Chapter 4. — "Finally, brethren, whatsoever things are true, whatsoever things are honorable, whatsoever things are just, whatsoever things are pure, whatsoever things are lovely, whatsoever things are of good report, if there be any virtue, and if there be any praise, think on these things."

This Sunday Dr. Larson talked of another hymn and hymn writer, Howard A. Walter, 1883-1918, a young minister, who sent to his mother, a poem, "I would be true."

This in turn, she sent to Harper's Magazine which published it under the title "My Creed." Later the poem was set to music, becoming a favorite hymn of young people.

Next Sunday, July 24, will be Confirmation Sunday and Holy Communion. Several young people will be confirmed into church membership.

Pilgrim Fellowship met at the church at 1:30 and went to Coronado for a beach party.

The church was happy to welcome several strangers at the morning service.

SAN DIEGO — The 1966 North Island Benefit Carnival will be held at the Naval Air Station here, July 21-24.

The Carnival, held for the past 11 years, supports the Navy Relief Society, a Christmas party for children of deceased Navy and Marine Corps personnel and other locally and nationally recognized charities.

This year's Carnival has the support of the San Diego County Board of Supervisors who issued a resolution urging San Diegans to participate and the city of Coronado where Mayor A.J. Overton issued a proclamation naming July 21-24 "North Island Benefit Carnival Days" in Coronado.

Last year about 65,000 San Diegans attended and the Carnival netted $30,000.

The hours of this year's Carnival are:

- Thurs., Fri., July 21, 22 — 5 p.m. to midnight.
- Sat., Sun., July 23, 24 — noon to midnight.

S.J.M. Fiesta Shows will provide the midway and associated game booths again this year.

"The Sky Dancers" — Betty and Benny Fox, have also been booked for the Carnival. . . . They waltz, watusi and skip rope on an 18-inch disc atop a 125-foot pole.

Navy aircraft will also be on display along with commercial booths and tents.

Miss North Island 1966 will be selected on the opening night of the Carnival. She will be chosen from a field of ten finalists. Twenty-two San Diego girls entered the contest.

Miss North Island reigns over the Carnival, represents the air station throughout the coming year and receives cash and merchandise prizes including a 32-week modeling course and a weekend trip to Lake Arrowhead.

Don Howard, local radio personality will M.C. the Miss North Island Contest for the eight straight year.

Prizes, including new cars, a camper, color television and stereo sets and trips to Las Vegas will also be awarded. Persons making contributions to the Carnival Committee receive Donation Receipts which are used to determine the prize winners.

Admission and parking are free. The foot ferry from San Diego will land at the quay wall by the aircraft carriers and adjacent to the Carnival grounds.

Excitement and Fun at Ramona Raceway

RAMONA - Rated as one of the top four "supreme drag racers in the world," according to Tach, a leading trade magazine, J.D. Zink, who drives "Untouchable," the world's fastest and quickest fet dragster, both thrilled and chilled an electrified audience at the San Diego Drag-way, at Ramona, Saturday night (July 16th) during three sensational runs, the last blast-through at a blazing 241.93 mph, and an e.t.
(elapsed time) of 7.11 seconds.

The packed stands reacted variously. One 19-year old student fell out of his seat to the ground (uninjured), a young matron shrieked with emotion, a sedate gentlemen jumped up and down with excitement; the general reaction was one of applause and cheers for an exceptional exhibition of scorching speed, from roaring line, through the quarter-mile lights down the course, until the beautiful finale of billowing giant parachutes braking the impressive vehicle to a stop. J.D. Zink, driving with deliberate caution, made his first two runs at 201.79 and 207.85 respectively, to "feel out" the track.

Thereafter, having established his safety factors, he let loose for his better than 240 mph, final run in a scintillating performance.

An unassuming and modest math major, young college student Zink captivated the crowd with his display of calculated coolness and ability, and already many requests are being received for his early return.

The jet performances were sandwiched between the regular program of events, which was impressive in itself. No.
1 Top Elimination event was captured by the Travis & Killalea dragster, "Superstition," with an 8.59 e.t. (elapsed time) and 180 mph flat, with Larry Reed piloting. Tom Bowlin's outstanding "Confusion II" met with disaster when the engine blew up totally, while trying for 190 mph., or better. During qualifying runs, the Bowlin bomber had run an 8.49 e.t.

and 187.11 mph. Runnerup in this event was Coffin-Hardman, with an 8.82 e.t. and 152.58.

Concentration on No. 1 Top Eliminators, at Ramona, is attracting many new participants and adding excitement to each successive meet.

The large number of events extended the meet to well beyond the usual closing time,
but an enthusiastic audience
remained to the very end.
All brackets had many rooters supporting their efforts.
